The 1997 AIR AMERICA REUNION was held at The Holiday Inn Cocoa Beach Oceanfront Resort in Cocoa Beach, Florida from May 30 to June 1.

As usual, people began showing up three days ahead of time, and the good times were off to an early start.

Looking out the front door of the hotel, we spot Emmet Sullivan driving up in a red sports car. We started us speculating on how a helicopter pilot could afford a car like that. But on with the narrative.....

Soon the guest began arriving by the car load.

Debbie Pirkle, the reunion host this year, is on hand to explain to two "kickers", Tom Butler and Cliff Hamilton, how to use the automatic door. (Sorry, that wasn't Tom.)

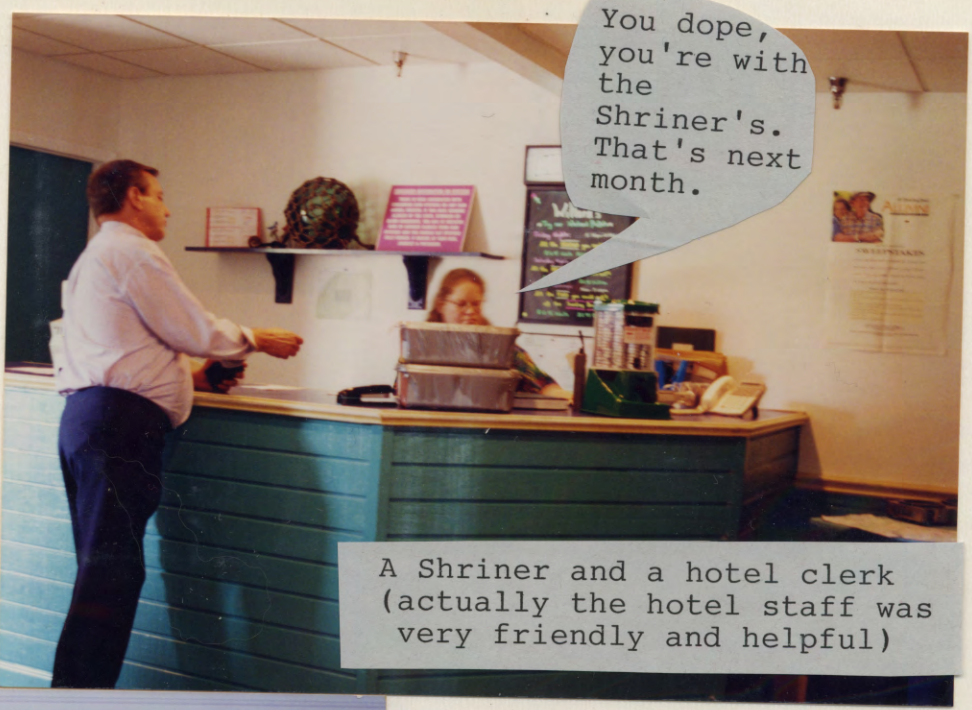

Everyone was quickly registered by the courteous hotel clerks, and then proceeded to the AIR AMERICA desk.

Alright already keep your shirt on. I'm working as fast as I can, Buddy.

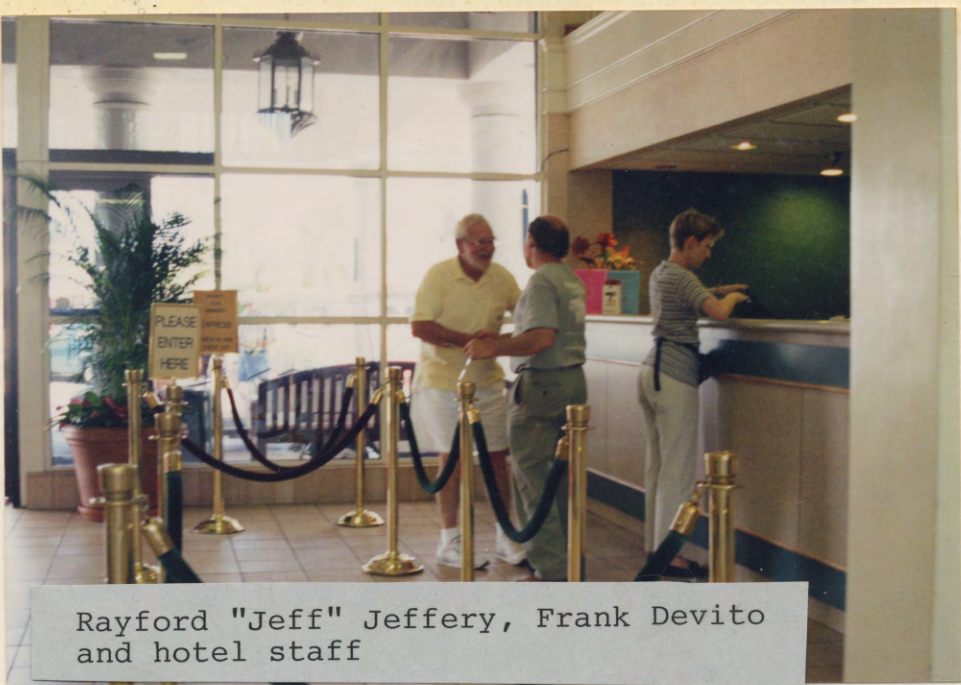

Emmet Sullivan

You dope, you're with the Shriner's. That's next month.

A Shriner and a hotel clerk (actually the hotel staff was very friendly and helpful)

Rayford "Jeff" Jeffery, Frank Devito and hotel staff

Stan "Stash" Waite with unknown friend

AND who is that way at the back of the lobby?

I hope they have all their paper work in order so I don't have to scream again.

Who else but Sylvia Boehme and Norma Green your friendly registration girls (that's John Shine to the right)

Sylvia Boehme and Norma Green Register Frank Devito

There was a little mix-up on the room count, but we have a solution. The first two people to reach the desk get the last two rooms. On your mark,.....

A view of the large motel complex.

Hi, Jack!

Never say that when a pilot has his back turned.

Duane Keele, Jack Slager, Larry Stadulis, and Debbie Pirkle

Wish I had my Special Forces compass.

Larry Stadulis, Debbie Pirkle, Duane Keele, and Jack Slager

Wish I could.

See you later, Jack. Gotta go to my room.

Jack Slager, Kippi Densley, Duane Keele, Larry Stadulis, and Debbie Pirkle

Sorry, Jack, I haven't seen room 10222.

Jack Slager and Larry Stadulis

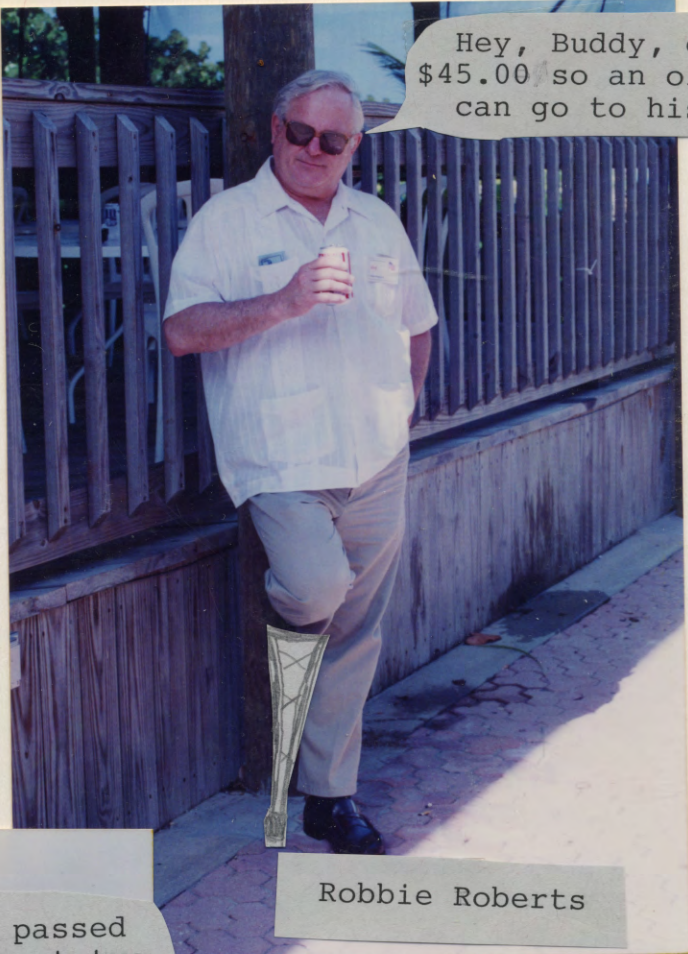

10222

Too hell with my room. If I can pick this lock I saw a good looking blond go in here.

Jack Slager

Motel parking

Hey, Buddy, can you spare $45.00 so an old war veteran can go to his reunion?

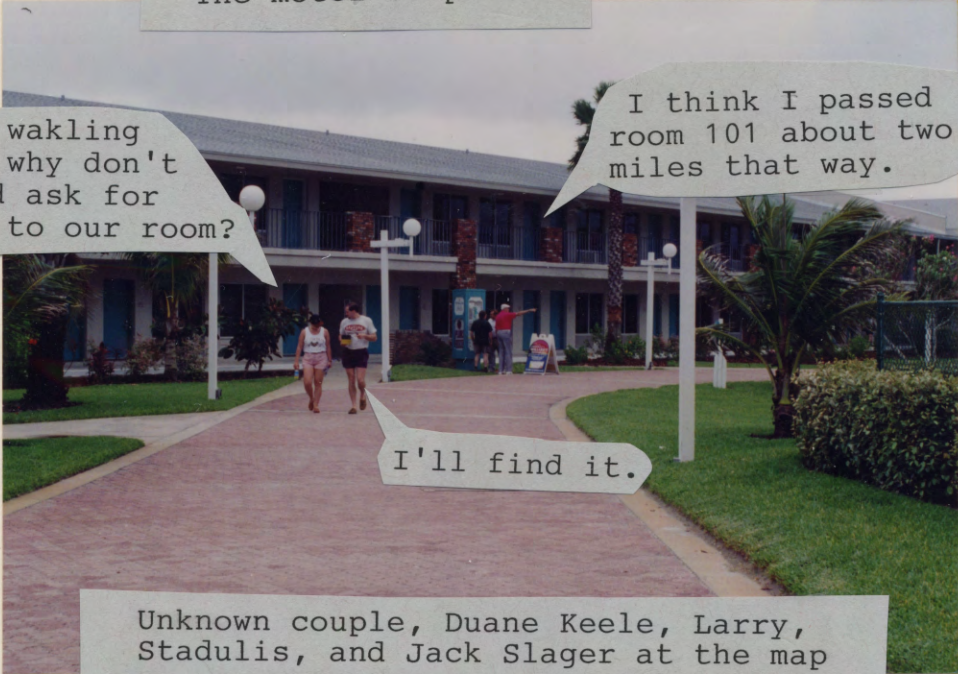

Robbie Roberts

The motel complex-

We've been wakling for hours, why don't we stop and ask for directions to our room?

I think I passed room 101 about two miles that way.

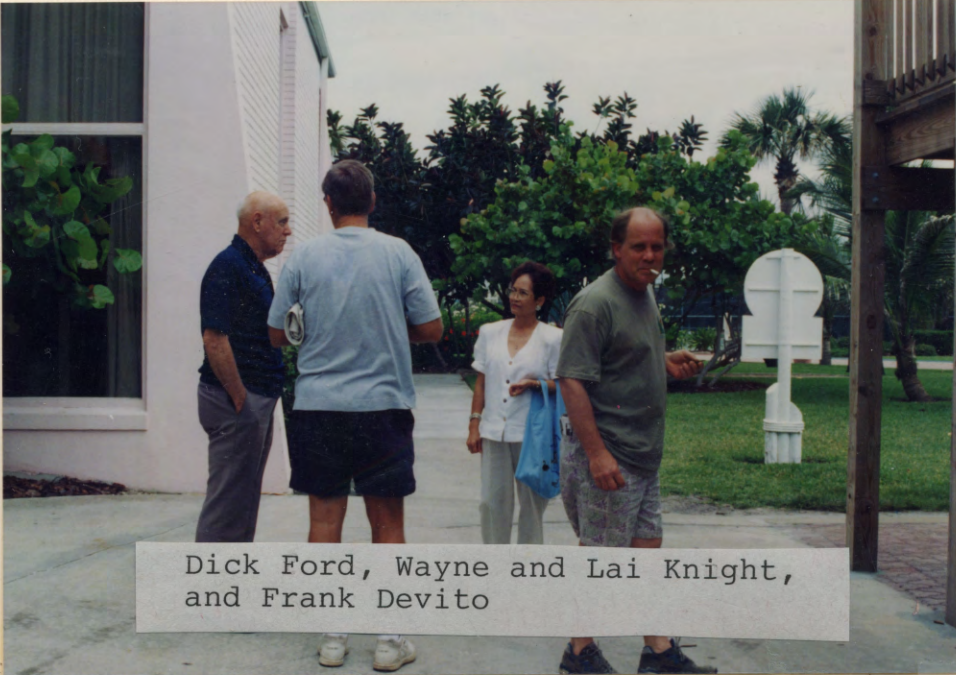

I'll find it.

Unknown couple, Duane Keele, Larry, Stadulis, and Jack Slager at the map

Joe Hazen, Frank Devito, Jeff Jeffrey, and John Shine

Dick Ford, Wayne and Lai Knight, and Frank Devito

As soon as every one settles into their room their first move is to locate the action, and the action is where?

The hospitality suite----

The bar is probably the site of the hardest, most intense activity of the four or five days of the reunion. Fortunately many people pitch in to keep it going.

Setting up the bar is the first major job-

Peggy Keele, Scott Pirkle, Debbie Pirkle, and Martha Gentz

Debbie and Scott Pirkle

Norma Green joins Chuck Green for her second job of selling chit books. At right is Dan Parker son of Pete Parker

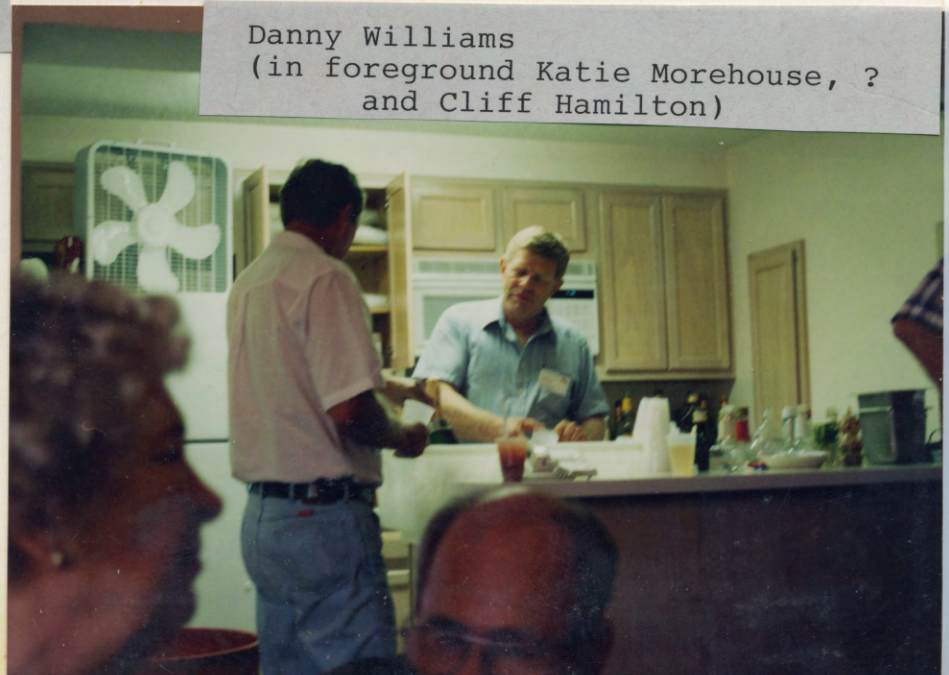

Some of the help behind the bar was supplied by:

Cliff Hamilton, Willie Parker, Ed Leonard

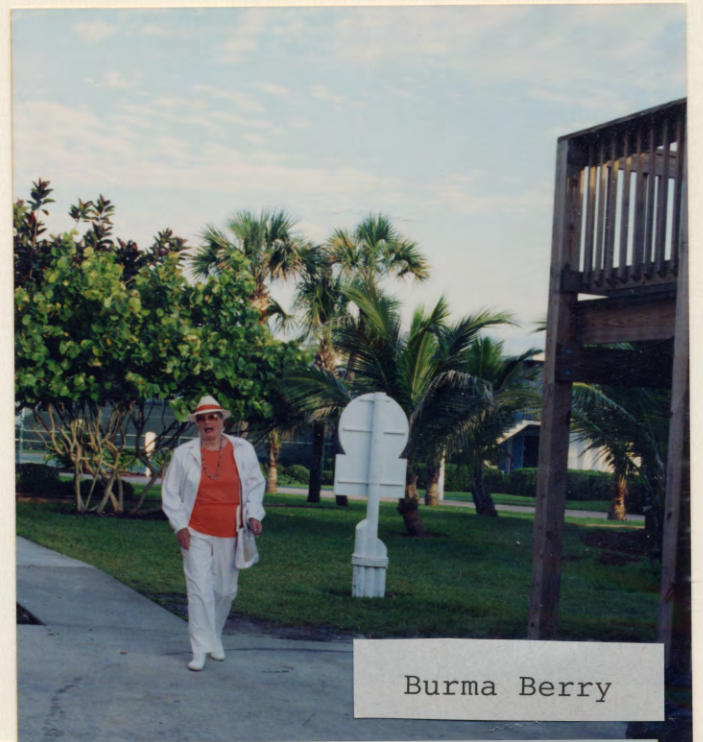

Danny Williams

and Cliff Hamilton)

"Build it and they will come."

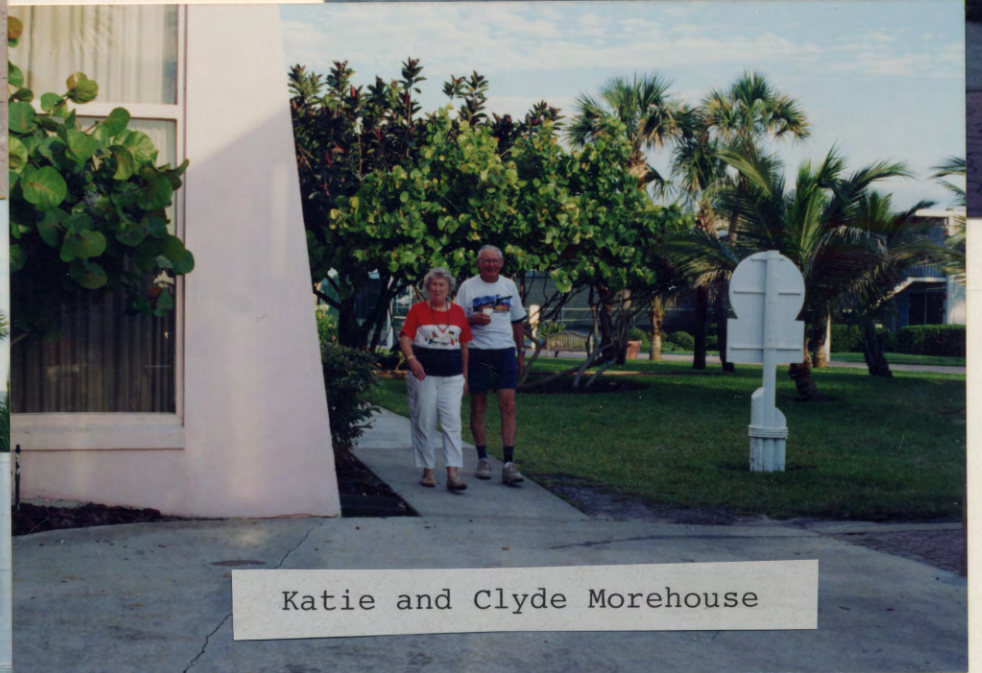

Terry Fraser
(unknown in background)

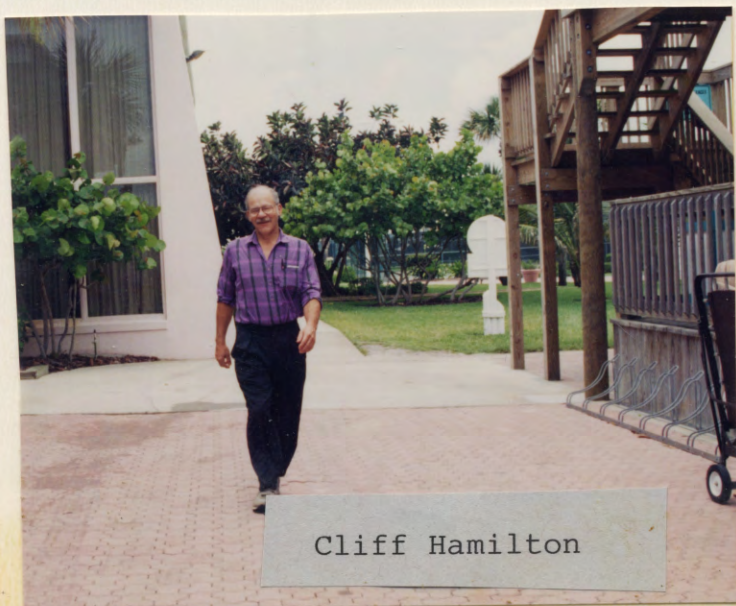

Burma Berry

Wayne Knight and Chuck Taylor

Katie and Clyde Morehouse

Cliff Hamilton

This little pavilion did not come with the reunion package; however, we soon annexed it and put it to good use during our stay.

We were forced to share it Sunday with a wet "T" shirt contest, but we were good sports about it and did not complain.

As in the years past, our Stock Room Sales Committee Chairperson, Dan Gamlin and his committee. Ed Leonard set up for the onslaught of souvenir buyers.

No one ever ask, but I am going to tell you the secret of getting more pictures in the picture album.

- 1.) You do the albums and have your wife take the pictures
- 2.) You take hundreds of pictures of yourself and the others at the reunion and send them to me (I am always desperate for pictures.)

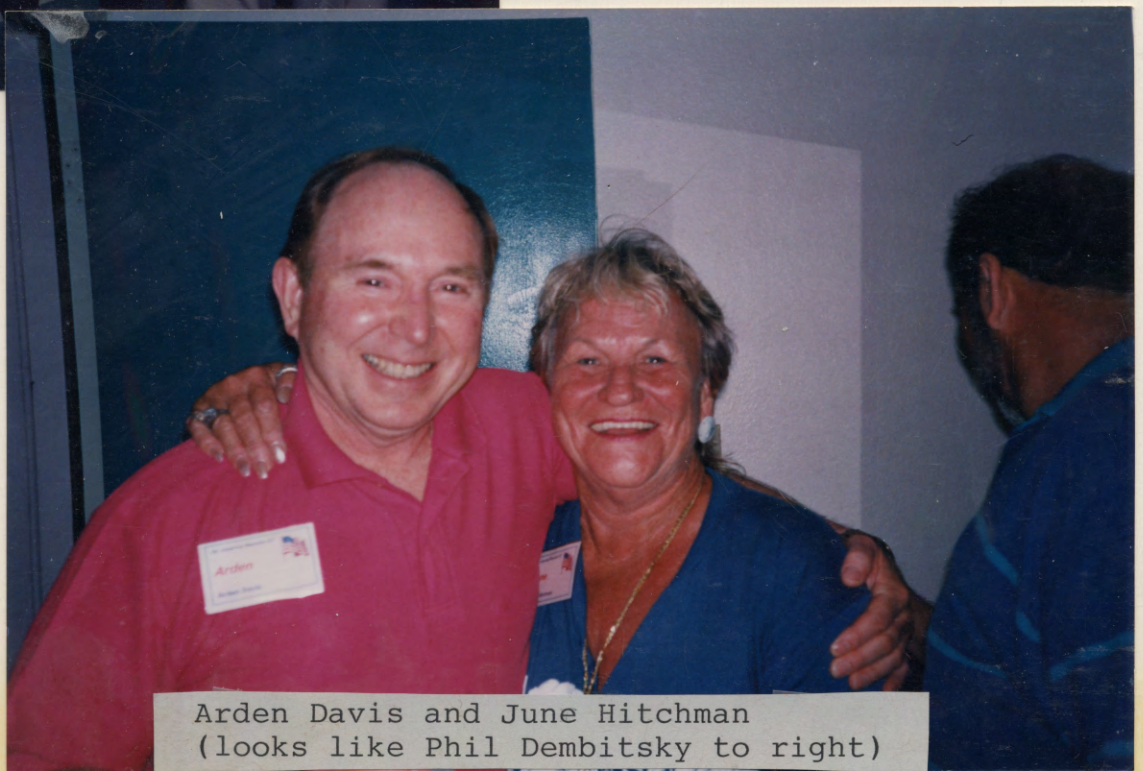

An example of both methods are contained in this album. A example of method 2 follows on the next four pages.

Some of the favorite party games were-

- 1.) Grease the bar stool rungs
- 2.) Kick Jack Knotts walking cane while he tried to jitterbug
- 3.) Stick a broom handle in Mike Seale's wheel chair spokes when he was coming full speed down the handicap ramp.

Same results for all three games. The party always went wild with laughter.

It's Tuesday morning, Sir.
We must insist that you
clear out of the hospitality suite.

On the final pages I always try to remember a few old friends from the past reunions and bid them a last farewell. I hope these reunions made your life a little brighter. That what they were intended to do!
