Lieutenant General Walter J. Woolwine

Lieutenant General Woolwine was born on 26 January 1919 in Bluefield, West Virginia, and was commissioned second lieutenant in the Quartermaster Corps following graduation from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1941.

General Woolwine served in The Office of the Quartermaster General in Washington, the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, and the Assistant Secretary of the Army for Installations and Logistics. He was a company commander in the 84th Infantry Division during World War II, and at the end of the war became Chief of the Procurement Division in the European Theater Headquarters. In 1965 he went to Thailand as Commanding Officer of the 9th Logistical Command. After a tour of duty with the Army Materiel Command in Washington, he returned to the Far East in 1970. Initially assigned as Commanding General of the 1st Logistical Command - the largest single unit in Vietnam - he was later designated Assistant Deputy Commanding General, United States Army, Vietnam. After his promotion to Lieutenant General in August 1971, he was named Director of Logistics (J-4), Joint Chiefs of Staff. In his last assignment before retirement in 1975 he was Commandant of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces in Washington.

During his distinguished 34-year career which included participation in three wars-World War II, Korea, and Vietnam-General Woolwine served in every phase of Quartermaster activities, at every level, with unsurpassed ability and achieved lasting results throughout the realm of military logistics.

Major General Emmett W. Bowers

MG Bowers was born on 19 July 1926 in Fulton County, Georgia. He graduated as an ROTC honor graduate from Mercer University in 1951 and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Quartermaster Corps. During the early years in his career, he was detailed to the Artillery Corps. Serving in Korea with the 2nd Division Artillery, he was wounded in action in 1952 during the Second Korean Winter Campaign.

General Bowers taught Financial Management at the Quartermaster School both in Germany and at Fort Lee. Important staff assignments during his distinguished career include: Chief of the Budget and Accounting Branch in the Quartermaster Market Center System, US Army, Europe; Chief, Analysis and Statistics Branch, Management Division, Southern Area Command, US Army, Europe; Coordinator of the Stock Fund, Army Supply and Maintenance Agency, US Army, Europe; Chief of the Procedures and Performance Branch, DCSLOG; Executive Officer to the Comptroller, Defense Logistics Agency, Staff Officer in the Logistics Directorate, Joint Chiefs of Staff. Some of his principal commands included: Commander, 9th Supply and Transportation Battalion, 9th Infantry Division, Vietnam; Commander, 593rd Support Group, Fort Lewis, WA; Commander, US Army Troop Support Agency, Fort Lee; and Commander, Defense Personnel Support Center, Philadelphia, PA.

Among his many lasting contributions, General Bowers expedited movement of the COMZ from France to Germany, Belgium, and Luxembourg which was key to NATO success over the last two decades. Plus he conducted a thorough study of DOD commissary operations which led to many reforms.

Major General Henry G. Skeen

Major General Skeen was born in Dale County, Alabama, on 26 May 1933. He entered the Air Force in 1949, transferred to the US Army in 1953, and upon completion of Officer Candidate School that year was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Infantry. After serving as platoon leader in various infantry and airborne companies, he was awarded a Regular Army commission as a Quartermaster First Lieutenant in 1958.

During most of his career General Skeen held important Quartermaster mission related command and staff positions. Key staff assignments included: Director, Supply and Maintenance in the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics; Secretary of General Staff, US Army Computer Systems Command; and Assistant Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, US Army Europe and Seventh Army; Secretary to the General Staff, US Army Computer Systems Command, Fort Belvoir, VA. Important commands included: Commander, US Army Troop Support Command, St. Louis, MO; Commander, Defense Industrial Supply Center, Philadelphia, PA; Commander, Defense Reutilization and Marketing Service, Battle Creek, MI; Commander, 88th Supply and Service Battalion, Vietnam; Commander, Regional Support Activity, Military Region II, Vietnam; Commander, US Army Logistics Evaluation Agency at New Cumberland Army Depot; and Commander, Burtonwood Army Depot, England.

General Skeen played a pivotal role in launching the Quartermaster Corps into the automation era in the 1960s and 70s, and later lent major support to the establishment of the Army Supply Excellence Award and the Army Supply Master Plan.

Chief Warrant Officer Four Michael Z. Smith

Chief Warrant Officer Smith - the current Honorary Warrant Officer of the Quartermaster Regiment - was born on 22 October 1948, in Canton, North Carolina. He began his military career as an enlisted infantryman at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, in November 1966. He transferred to the Quartermaster in 1971 and was commissioned a Warrant Officer in 1976.

Chief Warrant Officer Smith has held a variety of significant staff positions in his career, including: Chief Quartermaster School representative on the US Army Strategic Logistics Agency to define functional logistics requirements; Chief, Materiel Control Training Division, Supply Department, Fort Lee, Virginia; Subject Matter Expert with the Department of State, Washington, DC, on the automated and manual supply systems; and Assistant Branch Chief and Instructor Writer DS4 with the Material Control Training Division, Fort Lee, Virginia. He also served as Assistant Branch Chief and Instructor/Writer for DS4; Advisor to The Quartermaster General, designed and implemented Supply Excellence Award Program; Supply Management Division, Fort Lee, Virginia, served as course coordinator and DSU/DS4 instructor; Class IX Supply Management Officer, 3d DMMC, 3d Infantry Division; Brigade Property Book Officer with the 2d Training Brigade, USA Training Center, Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri; Battery Commander for 5 months and the Battalion S4 and the Property Book Officer for 2d Battalion, 5th Field Artillery, 42nd Field Artillery Group, V Corps.

Since his retirement from active duty in 1991, Chief Warrant Officer Smith has continued to contribute to the logistics community as civilian Director for Research and Studies, Office of the Deputy Under Secretary of Defense (Logistics).

Command Sergeant Major Charles Getreu

Command Sergeant Major Getreu was born on 9 June 1924 in Washington, DC. He graduated from Gaithersburg High School in Gaithersburg, Maryland in 1942, and was drafted into the Army in 1943. He took basic training and Advanced Infantry Training at Fort Benning, Georgia, where he also graduated from the Airborne Jump School. He served on active duty from 1943 to 1969 - through World War II, Korea, and Vietnam - and was permanently retired in 1974.

During his distinguished 26-year career, CSM Getreu held a wide variety of logistics administrative, command and staff positions to include: NCO in charge of Central Issue Facility, 82d Replacement Company; Regimental Supply Sergeant, 187th Regimental Combat Team; Chief Clerk, G-4 Section, 101st Airborne Division; Sergeant Major, Command and Control Battalion, 101st Airborne Division; Chief Supply Sergeant, G-4 Section, 8th Infantry Division, Airborne Brigade; Chief Clerk, G-4 Section, 8th Infantry Division, Airborne Brigade; Brigade Sergeant Major, 8th Infantry Division, Airborne Brigade; Chief Clerk, G-4 Section, Fort Ord, California; Sergeant Major, 503rd S & T Battalion, 3rd Armored Division, Germany; and Sergeant Major, 1st S & T Battalion, 1st Infantry Division, Vietnam.
