Dear Barry,

It's a good thing for them to give you awards - we are very proud for you and for your parents - however, with or without official recognition - we are for you.

Dee and the girls are in Buenos Aires - having an interesting time, I hope.

The day after Annie's Birthday - after all the excitement died down, she was visiting with me and informed me that when she is 10 years old she will marry her Daddy. Dee had saved her best present for last - a Charm bracelet from you. It meant so much to her. Funny, little girl is really old and wise for 4 yrs. I really think she will have a much happier life than Beth cause Annie lets go and Beth holds so much

inside and is seldom
really gay as a child usually is. They are both charmers tho. He will miss them when it is time to leave. I hope all your plans work out right and you can get here - don't worry about money for the return trip - we can take care of it easily, and it would give us pleasure. It's lots more fun to help than to receive. Dee has done a good job - she has loneley days - hides it beautifully for the children and tries to keep really busy with them. I hope it has been an easier year for her than it would have been otherwise. At least, it was different.

Beth made this for you before she left so I will enclose.

Take care of you for Dee and the girls.

Trondly,
