

going to be easy for g where they do,"
nmented. "But now
e people have a per-
in Trung Lap's fu-
eir leaders are men on't quit. I think in a Trung Lap has the look how far they've dy."

Mind Find

their own idea of e was however, and
ling off at a 45-
le to the direction
anted to go.
we were" said
with a pair of dumb
terminated to take us
home. We coaxed
cursed them, but an
we were still stuck
le place."

emate finally was
en the battalion's
rode up to investi-
radioed the news
some's predicament
e company and re-
mission to bring the n? They were left to a tree, dining on t they had been haul-

re picked up the next
y their owner who ing a newly-issued

AHHH YES—This lovely young thing is Ann-Margret. You know, the one our gate is named after? Any resemblance is purely accidental.

FALL 1967
Sept - Oct -
THIS IS RIGHT WHERE THAT V.C. BASE CAMP WAS NOTICE HOW CLOSE IT WAS TO DAUTIE.

gs being evacuated 100 tons discovered
by SP4 Gary Gatliff

For Viet Cong

Giggling Unhealthy

DAU TIENG — Eight Viet Cong who were laughing and giggling to themselves as they ran from their mortar positions were killed by a 3rd Bde, 25th Div, ambush patrol 8 kms southwest of Dau Tieng recently.

The enemy mortar squad had lobbed 29 rounds into a night position of the 2nd Bn (Mech), 22nd Inf, and were fleeing their position when they ran into the ambush led by SP4 Arnold Farlow of Sophia, N.C., 100 meters away.

"I could see the flash from the tubes as the mortar rounds were fired," related PFC Austin Kreeger of York, Pa., a member of the patrol which was set along one of the trails leading through the dense jungle.

Before the first round of the 29 had hit the ground, the VC broke down the mortar and started out of the area.

SP4 Eugene Buhr of Sumner, Iowa, said, "I rolled over to my machine gun and took it off safety." Led by a VC with a flashlight, the enemy rounded some bushes and ran down the trail towards the ambush. "They were grouped up and were talking and giggling to themselves," remarked Buhr. "When they ran into the kill zone, I opened up."

Buhr downed five with the first burst of his M-60 machine gun. There were no friendly casualties. One AK-47 assault rifle and the mortar bipod were captured.

WE WERE CAMPED HERE WHEN THE MORTARS CAME IN