- one ground mounted -

called it Super Gun

had don mad minute on perimeter gun - upside down on a M-60 tripod

Smalley

front leg sand bagged down traversed right to left and raised the elevation keep going - mounted to buffers -

aluminum channel

butterfly trigger

activated a

spring loaded

toggle switch

that worked

the relays

under the

aluminum

ch

in other words -

a system that would

a short burst

fire only so many

rounds and then

to cool the barrels

Keep on running but would spit fire rounds

and the turning barrels

cooled it

it was the first ground mounted mini in the country - ^{in Vietnam} Miller said

Super Gun" (5 rounds)

Cam on

designed the mount
