DEAR MRS. JOHNSON

We have just been advised of a TV news program that may interest you. To make sure that you have sufficient planning time to view this program, we are sending this separate correspondence rather than waiting for the regular newsletter.

The ABC network plans to show a documentary on 14 September related to prisoner of war matters. It will be called "POW NEXT OF KIN" and will be shown on the "Now" series at 10:30 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time.

The program will be a documentary of filmed interviews with families of men missing or captured in Southeast Asia, returned prisoners of war, government officials, and other interested citizens.

If your local ABC affiliated station normally carries the "Now" series, there is a good chance that this program will be shown. In all cases, you should check with your local stations to determine the exact date and time for the program in your respective area.

We are attempting to obtain a film of this program. This will enable us to send it to those of you living in areas where there is no ABC affiliate for your viewing at a later date.

Sincerely

J. G. Luther
