Bryan Grigsby

Dear Bryan,

Thanks very much for the photos. There are some very good images, and I'm holding a dozen prints and 7 slides for further consideration. Actually, I'm returning the 7 slides for caption data, along with a copy of the print of the weeping woman, also for caption data.

As I mentioned before, I'd also like some of your thoughts on your experience as a combat photographer in Vietnam. For example, what was going on with the weeping woman? What was your involvement? How did you feel then, or how do you feel now, about that picture? Also, what were your feelings about being in the middle of the May, 1968 offensive in Saigon? If you could set down a few thoughts I'd really appreciate it.

Please return the slides and the caption material as soon as possible, and I'll keep you posted on the progress of the book. Thanks again for your contribution.

Regards,

Nick Mills
