Michael,

I hope my translation, done rather quickly and on borrowed time, gives an accurate account of what the articles say. I ran into some problems in the second translation, the article with the photograph of Le Dinh. You will see why. Can these articles, dated 1979, be of some help to you? I suppose you would want to locate some of these vietnamese who claim they saw the prisoners that were left behind.

Since you don't read french, I won't send you my book on Vietnam, the war, the aftermath, the POW's, the MIA's. Actually it's a novel (not a big american book, only 129 pages) and it came out in the book stores last february. I send you the 2 reviews (rather good) that came out in Montreal's major newspapers (more should come) and that are proof of my concern for the issue you are devoting so much time to.

keep the faith
