On 24 Nov 70, Source was captured by an unidentified ROK unit in DIEN AN Village, DIEN BAN District, QUANG NAM Province, RVN. Source was found in the house of a VC guerrilla named PHUNG (FUNGH), recuperating from a wound sustained three months earlier. US helicopters supporting the ROK operation fired on the house, wounding Source, shortly before the ROK troops reached the village and captured him. g. Significant Activities. From 1956 to 1965, Source attended school in DUY XUYEN District, QUANG NAM Province. From 1965 to 1967, he attended the HOI AN City School in QUANG NAM Province. In Nov 67, Source joined the VC and was assigned to the Armed Propaganda Unit, Propaganda Subsection, Troops and Enemy Proselyting Section, QUANG DA (VC) Province Committee, Central Zone 5, COSVN, located in LOC SON Village, DAI LOC District, QUANG NAM Province. He received no military training and only a little political training. In Apr 69, Source was sent to a Korean language school located near a mountain (exact location unknown) in QUANG NGAI Province, RVN. In Feb 70, he returned to his old unit, and the school was disbanded. In late 1969, the QUANG DA (VC) Province Committee had moved to SON THUONG Mountain (vic BR074426), QUE SON District, QUANG NAM Province, RVN. (Interrogator's Note: SON THUONG Mountain was the VC name for DUONG KIEU Mountain.) After his return, Source's propaganda activities were directed against the ROK units operating in QUANG DA (VC) Province, RVN. On 5 Aug 70, en route to DIEN THANG Village, DIEN BAN District, QUANG NAM Province, RVN, on a rice procurement mission, Source and two members of his unit were ambushed by an unidentified Korean unit; Source was wounded. His companions helped him escape to the house of a VC guerrilla in DIEN AN Village, DIEN BAN District, QUANG NAM Province, RVN. He received treatment and remained at the house until his DOC. h. 2. (C) VCI of QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee, Central Zone 5, COSVN (For an organizational chart of this committee, see page 15.):

a. General. The QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee, composed of eight sections, had the mission of organizing and controlling DUY XUYEN, DAI LOC, DIEN BAN, HOI AN, HOA VANG 1, HOA
 VANG 2, HOA VANG 3, and DA NANG (VC) Districts. Since Nov 67, Source worked for the Troops and Enemy Proselyting Section, QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee. He knew the organizations and activities of the Communist infrastructure, in spite of the fact that he never held a high position within the Party Committee.

b. Committees:

(1) QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee:

(a) History. Source did not know when the QUANG DA
 (VC) Province Party Committee was formed. Since Source joined the unit, no sections had been deactivated or new sections added.

(b) Subordination. The QUANG DA (VC) Province Party
 Committee was directly subordinate to the Current Affairs Committee, Central Zone 5, COSVN.

(c) Identification. Source had no information regarding the system for assigning cover designations to the elements of Central Zone 5 or the QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee. Source said the code name for Central Zone 5 was VINH QUANG, and the code name for the QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee was TUONO LAI.

(d) Strength. Source did not know the total strength of the Party Committee. There was a secretary, a deputy secretary, eight section chiefs, and an unknown number of members.

(e) Mission. The mission of the QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee was to coordinate the military and political operations within the province in order to gain control of both the population and territory. Source had no knowledge of the methods of operation of this committee.

(f) Effectiveness. Source felt that the QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee was effective in its task of organizing and arranging for the execution of orders, because the subordinate units were always aware of their current orders. Source indicated the Party Committee was in control of three-fourths of the province area and one-tenth of the population.

(g) Barriers to Effectiveness. Source believed that the greatest barriers to the operation of the committee were the operations of the Allied units in the province and the GVN Pacification Program, which had moved a large proportion of the population into strategic hamlets, where they were not susceptible to proselyting and tax collection. Since the US forces left in 1970, the committee had had more success in its operations.

(h) Personalities:

Secretary: HO PHUOC (HOOL, FUOWCS); concurrently a member of the QUANG DA (VC) Province Current Affairs Committee; age 50, 1.60m, 60kg, light complexion, wore glasses, VC

Deputy Secretary: DANG (DANGS); concurrently a member of the QUANG DA (VC) Province Current Affairs Committee; age 45, 1.60m, 55kg, light complexion, VC

Member: HOANG VAN LAI (HOANGL, VEAN LAI); concurrently chief of the Security Section; age 40, 1.55m, 45kg, light complexion, VC

Member: TUYET MAI (TUYEETS, MAI); concurrently chief of Civilian Proselyting Section

Member XUAN HA (XUAAN, HAV); concurrently chief of Training and Propaganda Section

Member: TAN (TAAN); concurrently chief of the Political Section; age 45, 1.64m, 50kg, dark complexion, VC

Member: LE QUAN (LEE, QAN); concurrently chief of Troops and Enemy Proselyting Section; age 45, 1.60m, 50kg, light complexion, regroupee

(2) Current Affairs Committee, QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee:

(a) Subordination. The Current Affairs Committee was directly subordinate to the QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee. Source did not know the exact number of members in this committee.

(b) Mission. The mission of the Current Affairs Committee was to manage the operation of the sections subordinate to the QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee and to supervise all party activity in the region. The code number of the Current Affairs Committee was AK-200, and the LBN was 1102 TL.

(c) Effectiveness. Source felt that this committee was very effective because it was aware of the activities of all the sections and closely supervised them. Source indicated that the committee could supply information about large-scale Allied operations 10 days prior to the operations (NFI). Source did not know of any barriers to the effectiveness of this committee.

(d) Personalities:

Member: HO PHUOC (HOOL, FJOWCS); concurrently Secretary, QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee

Member: DANG (DANGS); concurrently Deputy Secretary, QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee

c. Sections:

(1) Finance Section:

(a) Subordination. The Finance Section was directly subordinate to the Current Affairs Committee. Source did not know the LBN or code number for the Finance Section.

(b) Strength. Source had no information on the strength of the Finance Section.

(c) Mission. The mission of the Finance Section was to secure money and distribute it to the sections and military units subordinate to the QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee.

(d) Methods of Operation. Money for the use of the QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee was obtained in two ways: the collection of taxes at village and district levels, and the allocation of money from Central Zone 5. Source did not know how the money was collected.

(e) Effectiveness. Source considered the Finance Section to be effective because there was enough money to buy food and supplies.

(f) Barriers to Effectiveness. The primary barrier to the effectiveness of the Finance Section was the GVN Pacification Program, which placed villagers in strategic hamlets, where the people were unavailable for taxation.

(2) Economy Section:

(a) Subordination. The Economy Section was directly subordinate to the Current Affairs Committee.

(b) Strength. Source did not know the strength of the Economy Section.

(c) Mission. The mission of the Economy Section was to purchase food and goods for the subordinate sections of the QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee with the money collected by the Finance Section.

(d) Effectiveness. Source indicated that the sections always had the supplies they needed and enough food to feed all the men.

(e) Methods of Operation. Source did not know how the food and supplies were purchased. Source had been on one rice procurement mission, but had been ambushed on the way, and subsequently captured.

(3) Political Section:

(a) Subordination. The Political Section was directly subordinate to the Current Affairs Committee.

(b) Strength. Source did not know the strength of the Political Section.

(c) Mission. Source could not provide detailed information concerning the mission of the Political Section.

(d) Personalities:

Chief: TAN (TAAN); concurrently a member of the QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee

(4) Organization Section:

(a) Subordination. The Organization Section was directly subordinate to the Current Affairs Committee.

(b) Strength. Source could not give any information on the strength of the Organization Section.

 concurrently a member of the QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee

(5) Security Section:

(a) Subordination. The Security Section was directly subordinate to the Current Affairs Committee. The code number of the Security Section was AK-500, and the LBN was 1105TL.

(b) Organization. The Security Section was composed of the Armed Security Subsection, the Secret Security Subsection, and the Spy Subsection (NFI).

(c) Strength. Source could not provide information on the strength of the Security Section.

(d) Mission. Collectively, the mission of the Security Section was to check identification papers of civilians passing through VC-controlled areas. The Security Section was responsible for assassinating selected civilians and ARVN personnel. The Czechoslovakian K-6 automatic sniper rifle gun was used in the assassination operation. The weapon was 20 centimeters long and was highly effective at 100 meters (NFI). The Security Section also had an individual who censored outgoing mail. All letters were censored, then marked with a large stamped "K". Incoming mail was not censored because it had already been censored before arriving (NFI). The Security Section also sent agents to collect information from ARVN and GVN personnel. Source could not elaborate on the methods of operation.

(e) Personalities:

Chief: HOANG VAN LAI (HOANGL, VEAN LAI);
 concurrently a member of the QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee

(6) Civilian Proselyting Section:

(a) Subordination. The Civilian Proselyting Section was directly subordinate to the Current Affairs Committee. Source did not know the section's LBN or code number.

2 PW Subsection:

a Strength. The PW Subsection had five members and 15 security guards.

b Mission. The mission of the PW Subsection was to administer and re-educate Allied PWs. Whenever PWs were brought in, the members of the subsection would conduct general interrogations. They asked the PW's rank, name, unit, unit plans, and family history. All information that was gathered was sent to the Office Subsection, where it was studied. The members of the PW Subsection conducted political training and indoctrination classes for the PWs in hope that they would switch over to the Communist cause. Source stated that in 1968 the subsection had three American PWs who were all sent to PLEIKU (NFI).

3 Internal Agent Subsection:

a Strength. The Internal Agent Subsection had 40 members.

b Organization. The Internal Agent Subsection was composed of E15A, E15B, and E16 elements.

c Mission. The mission of the Internal Agent Subsection was to send agents to work for the ARVN and GVN, where they propagandized and collected information for the QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee. The agents of E15A element infiltrated the 51st ARVN Regt; the agents of E15B element infiltrated an unidentified armored ARVN unit in QUANG DA (VC) Province, while the agents of E16 element worked among the ARVN officers in all units in QUANG DA (VC) Province.

d Effectiveness. Source felt that the Internal Agent Subsection was very successful, because the QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee always had at least 10 days prior warning of large scale Allied operations in QUANG DA (VC) Province.

e Personalities:

3' Mission. The mission of the Armed Propaganda Unit was to broadcast messages to Allied troops in QUANG DA (VC) Province. The men would travel during the day and broadcast at night. They set up the two loudspeakers within 500 meters of the outpost and read messages from a handwritten booklet each man carried. They utilized 12 1.5-volt batteries to power the loudspeakers. The three men only worked in DIEN BAN, DUY XUYEN, and HOI AN Districts because the other District Party Committee subordinate to the QUANG DA (VC) Province Party Committee had enough personnel to conduct their own proselyting. Whenever Source and the other two men reached an ARVN outpost, they would go to the nearest village unit chief with a letter of introduction. The village unit chief would then provide the three men with security and anything else they needed. The three men also dropped leaflets along trails and in village streets. Source had studied Korean and did his broadcasting in Korean.

b Research Leaflet Production Unit:

1' Subordination. The Research Leaflet Production Unit was directly subordinate to the chief of the Propaganda Subsection.

2' Strength. The strength of the Research Leaflet Production Unit was two members.

3' Mission. The mission of the Research Leaflet Production Unit was to study captured documents and Allied leaflets so that they could write leaflets to be dropped along roads and trails, as well as distributed among villagers. Most of the captured documents were from Central Zone 5. The two men each had a SONY (JAPAN) radio. They listened to BBC, Voice of America, and SAIGON stations, where they would hear news stories for the leaflets they wrote. The written leaflets were sent to the Office Subsection and then forwarded to the Printing Unit for publication.
