Source provides firsthand information of the discovery and burial of an American body in Quang Ngai Province.

Source indicates that while on a military operation (time not specified, but between 1968 and April 75), his team discovered the remains of an American soldier "near the ocean at Ba Tan Giang in Quang Ngai Province". (Note: Possibly Batangan, aka Mui Ba Lang An, BS 7886). The remains were buried at the site of discovery, and Source believes the remains are still at that location.

Source is willing to assist in the recovery of the remains in exchange for assistance in departure from Vietnam for himself and family.
