NARRATIVE

On 14 February 1968, a Navy AlH aircraft, serial number 134449, was shot down by a MiG-17 aircraft when it strayed into China's airspace. The wingman observed the aircraft going down and saw the pilot, LT(JG) Joseph P. Dunn in a fully deployed parachute. An emergency beeper signal was also heard. The wingman was forced to leave the area because of the MiG threat. Later, search aircraft determined the incident location to be off the east coast of Hainan island, in the vicinity coordinates DL.5171, not off the Vietnam coast as initially thought.
