SECTION B
INTRODUCTION1. NAPOLÉON/SALINE AO

A. WEATHER. August weather in the NAPOLÉON/SALINE area consisted of extended periods of very hot and relatively clear weather. The days were usually characterized by a broken/scattered cloud cover with an average visibility of 6 miles plus. Rain was infrequent, but some rain showers were intense. Total rainfall for the month of August was 4.7 inches. The average high temperature was 96 degrees: The average low temperature was 78 degrees: The mean humidity was 78%. Weather during August was generally suitable for helicopter operations and favorable for infantry operations.

B. TERRAIN. The terrain in the area of operations is characterized by four (4) segments. These segments generally run parallel to the Gulf of Tonkin coast line and to each other. Moving inland from the gulf, the terrain changes from gently rolling sand beaches and dunes to a rice cultivation area, to a second flat sandy area and finally another strip of rice cultivation. The relief in the area is negligible. Elevations are generally less than 10 meters in the rice cultivation area. The ground in the rice cultivation area is rough and separated by streams with steep banks, canals, and irrigation and drainage ditches. The most prominent terrain in the rice cultivation area is Hill 46, with an elevation of 46 meters vic YD 214743. Drainage is a problem. Principle drainage is supplied by the BEN HAI, CUA VIET, and BEN NGU (JONES' CREEK) rivers. Rice cultivation is the primary source of vegetation in the NAPOLÉON/SALINE AO. Trafficability is a problem, as the sand dune area is soft, while the lowlands are always wet and flooded. Observation and fields of fire are generally good to fair. Concealment from aerial observation is negligible, however the sand dune area provides good cover and concealment from ground observation and flat trajectory fire. Drinking water is plentiful throughout the area, even in the sandy desert-like area. By digging down 2 to 3 feet water is clear and drinkable.

C. ENEMY. There are no known enemy units in the NAPOLEON/SALINE AO. During the month there were many sightings of from 4 to 50 personnel moving through the area. It is believed that the JONES' CREEK is a primary infiltration route from the DMZ area south. Mine and booby trap incidents were light, but still a constant threat, with the enemy using everything from home-made devices to 105mm rounds. During this period of time there were two incidents of the CUA VIBT river being mined. This was believed to be the work of the 126th Naval Sapper Unit. One major find was made by G/2/1 at YD 256671 on the second of August, when they discovered an enemy rocket site capable of holding 50 rockets, with one 140mm rocket still in firing position. The only major contact was on 11 August when a squad (which was G/2/1 spotted 20-25 VC. The squad took the VC under fire resulting in 6 VC KIA's and 3 weapons being captured. All areas in the NAPOLEON/SALINE AO are subject to enemy artillery fire, of which most is from the enemy's 130mm artillery pieces north of the DMZ.

2. KENTUCKY AO

A. WEATHER. August weather in the KENTUCKY AO was comparable to that of the NAPOLEON/SALINE AO. Generally extremely hot and humid days, cooling in the evenings. Mornings characterized by a broken/scattered cloud cover with an average visibility of 6 miles plus. Rains were usually in the early morning hours or in the early evenings. Rainfall was infrequent, but some rain showers were intense. Total rainfall for the month of August was 4.7 inches. The average high temperature was 96 degrees. The average low temperature was 78 degrees. The mean humidity was 79%. The month of August was suitable for helicopter operations and favorable for infantry operations.

B. TERRAIN. Terrain in the KENTUCKY AO progresses from the light undergrowth and low rolling hills on the East, to the dry, open areas and rice paddies in the central portion stretching south into the CAM LO area, and finally the southwest portion is characterized by a multi-canopied, dense undergrowth area. In general it is suitable for all modes of cross country mobility, and at best foot movement is poor. In the Central and Southwest portion available drinking water is scarce. Fields of fire in the area are generally excellent except in the thick undergrowth of the Southwestern portion. Cover and concealment is excellent except for the Central open areas.

C. ENEMY. Enemy activity in the KENTUCKY AO was moderate. Electronic devices at A-3 and at A-4 picked up enemy movement everyday during the month of August. Most movement was of from 5 to 15 personnel moving in a Southeast direction. Patrols and sweeps in the KENTUCKY area discovered over 260 bunkers, 3 bunker complexes and one bunker complex with a hospital unit. All were destroyed, but a check 5 to 7 days later would show that the enemy was in the process of rebuilding the destroyed bunkers.

MAJOR CONTACTS

On the 6th of August, F/2/9 at YD 171673 observed 30 NVA. F/2/9 engaged the enemy with small arms, mortars, artillery, and air strikes resulting in 11 NVA KIA's and 7 AK's, 2 AK-50's being captured.

On the 12th of August, NGUEN DUC VINH, Sgt, 1st sqd, 1st plt, 4th company, 7th bn, 64th regt, 320th div, rallied to 1st Bn, 1st Marines at YD 126690.

On the 20th of August GJH/2/9 at YD 144733 made contact with an enemy platoon, who were supported with 60mm mortars and also 130mm artillery from north of the DMZ. Results of this action was 20 NVA KIA's, 3 LMG's, 5 AK-47's, and 2 RFG-2's being captured.

On 25 and 26 August B/1/1 at YD 165699 recieved a total of 241 incoming rounds of medium artillery within a six (6) hour period.

Also on the 26th of August C/1/1 at YD 193700 took 15 to 18 NVA under fire and then lost contact and sight. Sent two squads to check area. Squads found the following: 13 NVA KIA's, 2 AK-50's, 2 AK-47's, 2 SKS's, and 1 B-40 rocket launcher.

3. Artillery and Naval Gun Fire.

a. Artillery

(1) General. Artillery support during the majority of the month was in support of the Kentucky and Napoleon/Saline AO's. The last day of the month was devoted to establishing artillery and fire support coordination procedures in the 1st Marines TAOR at Da Nang. Special emphasis was placed on reviewing the rules of engagement in order to avoid the possibility of inflicting casualties among innocent civilians and on counter rocket doctrine to insure expeditious counter battery fire for all fire support personnel.

(2) Operation Napoleon/Saline II. On 131200H August the Napoleon/Saline AO was chopped and control of all artillery units came under the OPCON of CTG 79.4. On 211600H August, 1st Marines assumed control of Napoleon/Saline AO from CTG 79.4 and 1st Bn 11th Marines assumed OPCON of the following units: A/1/11 at YD 277665, W/1/11 at YD 278666 and 3d Plat, 1st Amph Co at YD 344698. On 231200H August, A/1/11 and W/1/11 displaced to Da Nang. On 261200H August, the Regimental FSOC displaced to Da Nang.

(3) Operation Kentucky. On 261200H August the forward Regimental FSOC displaced from Dong Ha Combat Base to Da Nang. On 261800H August, B/1/11 and two tubes of W/1/11 displaced to Da Nang and at 261900 August W/1/12 passed to 2d Bn 12th Marines.

(4) Da Nang. On 311200H August, 1st Bn 11th Marines assumed OPCON of the following units in the Da Nang TAOR:

A/1/11	BT 070656
B/1/11	BT 012626
W/1/11	BT 012628

b. Naval Gunfire

(1) General. 1st Marines employed Naval Gunfire primarily in the Napoleon/Saline AO for observed and unobserved intelligence targets. Naval Gunfire Spot teams were employed at C-4 and the Oceanview OP.

(2) In support of the 1st Marines during the month of August the following Naval Gunfire Support Ships were on station for the periods indicated:

USS BOSTON	(CAG-1)	1-4 August
USS EDSON	(DD 946)	1-14 August
HMS HORNET	(D 39)	2-11 August
USS TURNER JOY	(DD 951)	16-23 August
USS ARNOLD J. ISBELL	(DD 870)	18-22 August
USS BLANDY	(DD 943)	24-26 August

4. Air Support and Defense.

a. General. The 1st Marines continued to employ air support to the maximum during the month of August. It must be noted, however, that the overall usage of Air Support declined due to the repositioning of this unit into a new EMOR.

LOGISTICS

DECLASSIFIED

1. Supply. FLSG-B was the source for all classes of supply until 22 August. Pending relocation to present position, during embarkation period, resupply of all classes was suspended and on-hand-supply was depleted. Shortages during the period continued to be jungle utilities and some 782 gear.
2. Transportation. Movement of personnel from KENTUCKY AO and NAPOLEON/SALINE II AO to DANANG was accomplished by C-130 A/C. Equipment and attendant personnel were moved by LCU type boats and in one incident, LST-1141. Transportation from POE to present position was adequately provided for by Division MTO. No significant transportation problems occurred prior to commencement of embarkation during the reporting period.
3. Maintenance. Actual maintenance is currently on schedule. Maintenance records have been progressing towards up-to-date status. Generator Maintenance at CUA VIET failed to prevent the breakdown of the 30KW cantonment power source. However, back up of 10KW generator from Det. 1st SP Bn, provided essential power supply until the unit departed.
4. Messing. In the NAPOLEON/SALINE AO it was possible to feed a minimum of one hot meal to all hands daily with three meals available to most. Hot meals were also available at all Positions in the KENTUCKY AO.
5. Exchange. Exchange service was available in DONG HA and CUA VIET.
6. Medical. Medical facilities were adequate at all locations. "D" Medical Company at DONG HA furnished Medical support for battle casualties.

COMMUNICATIONS

1. The Regimental Communication Platoon continued to maintain an eight man section at Phu Bai throughout the month to provide wire, radio, and message center communications for the Regimental Rear. In addition, two tactical CP's were continuously manned until 24 August, and for a two day period, a ~~third~~ Regimental tactical CP ("Jump CP") was manned at Con Thien.
2. During the latter part of the month, primary emphasis was devoted to maintaining adequate communications for the control of the two AO's assigned in the 3d Marine Division TAOR, while preparing for the takeover of the 27th Marines TAOR in the Da Nang area.
3. From 1-26 August, all battalions operating under the OPCON of the 1st Marines in the KENTUCKY AO were provided a KY-38 capability, which materially enhanced the speed and security with which classified or sensitive tactical information passed between battalion and regiment.
4. At the end of the month, 1st Marines had taken over all communications functions in the newly assigned Da Nang TAOR.

COMMUNICATIONS

- 1 Aug 68 - At the beginning of the month, the Regiment was manning communication facilities at three CP's; the Rear at Phu Bai; the main CP at Cua Viet; and the Forward CP at Dong Ha. The latter two were both tactical CP's requiring radio, radio relay, message center, wire, and an electronic equipment repair capability.
- 3 Aug 68 - 2/9 came under the operational control of 1st Marines. Conducted operation in Leatherneck Square using KY-38 for secure speech radio communications with Regiment. Results with KY-38 in this difficult environment were very successful.
- 10 Aug 68 - One additional dial trunkline installed at 1st Marines switchboard Dong Ha, terminating in the 3d MarDiv AN/TTC-28 switching central.
- 14 Aug 68 - Regimental Communication Platoon provided Public Address System for Regimental change of command ceremonies.
- 18 Aug 68 - Communication detail dispatched to Con Thien to establish communication for Regimental "Jump CP" for the conduct of operation in the DMZ on 19 August.
- 19 Aug 68 - Jump CP at Con Thien established; operation with 2/1 commenced. All communication with 2/1 while in the DMZ was by radio, including KY-38. Again KY-38 proved very reliable and provided a significant tactical capability for the battalion while operating in a severe tactical environment.
- 21 Aug 68 - Regimental CommO made liaison visit to 27th Marines and 1st Marine Division in preparation for move of Regiment to Da Nang.
- 24 Aug 68 - All Regimental communications at Cua Viet were secured; personnel and equipment embarked aboard Navy shipping for Da Nang.
- 25 Aug 68 - Communications Advance Party arrived at 27th Marines CP Da Nang and commenced 1st Marines takeover of communication functions within the CP.
