C. Weather and Terrain

- 1. Weather. Throughout the month the weather was generally overcast and mild. Monsoonal rain showers brought the total rainfall for the month to 19.5 inches.
- 2. Terrain. The terrain within the battalion TAOR consists primarily of rice paddies, low sand hills, and many small streams and waterways. Due to heavy rains, movement within the TAOR was limited.

D. Surveillance and Reconnaissance.

- 1. Surveillance. Continued use of the AN/TPS-21 Surveillance Radar in conjunction with artillery fires has greatly reduced enemy movement within the TAOR.
- 2. Reconnaissance. Extensive aerial reconnaissance, consisting of helicopter flights, aerial observers, and hand held photography, was used during December.

SECTION IV. OPERATIONS/TRAINING

A. Operations

1. Summary. The battalion continued to perform its assigned mission within its TAOR of the Danang Combat Base. Protection of the Danang and Marble Mountain air bases from mortar attacks and establishing security of the key bridges, roads, and waterways in our TAOR were accomplished while the battalion continued conducting aggressive operations and patrols against communist guerrilla elements. The necessity of maintaining security in our abandoned CP near Marble Mountain has curtailed our offensive capability by limiting the amount of men available for operations.

2. Company and Battalion Operations

- (a) On 4 December the battalion reacted to a highly reliable intelligence report establishing a new element of a Viet Cong unit working in our TAOR. Company K was dispatched at 041300H to BT 040673 to conduct a sweep and search south the following day. Late in the afternoon of 4 December one platoon of Company M was moved to a blocking position at BT 051655 while Company G, 2d Battalion, 1st Marines blocked from BT 025675 to BT 028684 along the Song Vinh Dien, and one platoon of Company F, 2d Battalion, 1st Marines blocked in the area of BT 0364. Company K received intermittent fire the aftermoon of 4 December and that evening Company M's platoon made contact moving into position, receiving heavy machine gun and automatic weapons fire for about fifteen minutes. As Company K swept the objective area south on 5 December there were negligible results. However, increased enemy activity in the 2d Battalion, 1st Marines TAOR indicated that enemy forces had moved across the river. One platoon of Company M reverted to operational control of the 2d Battalion, 1st Marines and formed a block on the east bank of the Song Vinh Dien from BT 057634 to BT 050640. A final sweep on the east side of the river produced no significant results. There were four USMC WIA!s sustained. largery (was barreer in a company who could be considered back
- (b) Operation GLENN was conducted by this battalion from 17 December to 21 December in the Tu Cau and Ngan Trung hamlets (BT 0365, 0465, 0564, and 0563). H&S Company, Company I, Company L, and Company M, with support from tanks, LVT's, LVT-H's, and Ontos, participated in this search and destroy operation. Enemy contact was reduced to occasional smiper fire and anti-personnel mines in the objective area where prior contacts have been strong. Final results were three VC KIA (Confirmed) and two VC KIA (Probable). There were eleven marines WIA, one of which died of wounds. The Operation GLENN After Action Report, which is attached to this chronology, gives details of this action.

- (c) During December this battalion conducted two County Fairs in conjunction with Vietnamese forces:
- (1) County Fair 1-26 was conducted on 6 and 7 December in the hamlet of Tra Khe (2) in the vicinity of BT 0768. Company M and Company K participated with the Vietnamese forces being supplied by Hoa Vang District. The County Fair ended at 071600H with two VC KIA, one captured, and no USMC casualties. During the County Fair a second Combined Action unit was established at BT 065678 where it has continued to protect the MSR and the hamlet from enemy harassment.
- (2) County Fair 1-27 was conducted on 22 and 23 December in the hamlet of Tra Lo in the vicinity of BT 0868. There was no enemy contact and only one VCS was apprehended. There were no USMC casualties. Vietnamese forces were not available for this operation due to commitments elsewhere.
- 3. Small Unit Actions. Units of squad and platoon size conducted 1294 patrols and 119 ambushes. Of the total, 1081, or seventy-six percent, were during the hours of darkness. Although the rains continued to cause flooding of many areas which reduced trafficability, patrolling activities continued to adjust well.
- 4. Security of Communications Lines. The Main Supply Route to the battalion OP and one bridge on the route at BT 071702 is our one artery connecting our CP with the rear. No major incidents of VC attack occurred during the month, although some anti-vehicular mines were discovered. The security of this route and bridge were maintained by a combined action unit located at the bridge and a newly established unit approximately one-half the distance from the bridge to our CP at BT 065578. Future plans are being implimented to establish another combined action unit on the MSR to assist in maintaining proper security for the villagers using the new Vietnamese bus transportation service to their market areas.
- 5. Air Base Defense. Company K assumed control of the mortar belt defense positions on 16 December occupied previously by Company L. Also becoming OPCON to Company K were the battalion's outposts and observation tower manned by artillery FO's and/or 106mm recoilless rifles. Target acquisition drills were conducted on simulated VC mortar positions to increase the effectiveness of our reactionary defense. The use of the AN/TPS-21 surveillance radar proved highly effective in spotting movement of enemy after darkness and during periods of reduced visibility.

B. Training

- Battalion Training. All companies conducted extensive on the job training. Rifle companies gave emphasis to weapons and scouting and patrolling techniques. A one week sniper school was completed under the supervision of the S-2 chief. Six marines completed the course. The Communications Officer continued to provide instruction on communications matters. The battalion continued to broaden existing training with a Command Information and Troop Indoctrination Program for marines presently serving and newly arrived in the Republic of Viet Nam. Special emphasis was focused on those regulations which govern the actions of individuals, unusual conditions under which they must serve, and the goals and missions of this battalion.
- 2. In Country Training. A three day formal school on mine warfare for infantry unit leaders (Company Commanders to fire team leaders) was attended by seventy members of this command. The school conducted by 3d Engineer Battalion, placed special emphasis on land mine, booby-trap, and demolitions training.
- formal out of country Training. Six members of the battalion attended formal out of country schools; one officer and two enlisted attended the Vietnamese Language School (Okinawa), two enlisted attended the Basic Ammo Tech Course (Okinawa), and one enlisted attended the Infantry Weapons Repair Course (Okinawa).
 - C. Chronological Narrative of Significant Events.

December

- 1. At 011630H, vicinity BT 053715, Company L platoon position observed and apprehended three VCS hiding in bushes. An additional VCS broke from the treeline and was taken under fire resulting in one VC WIA.
- 2 At 021100H, vicinity BT 079635, Company M sweep force apprehended seven VCS. Upon interrogation it was revealed that one was a VCC, three were VCS, and the remaining three were released.
- 3 At 030800H, vicinity BT 051715, Company L squad patrol discovered and destroyed a ChiCom granade rigged as a mine.
 - At 031130H, vicinity BT 060678, Company L squad patrol took one VC under fire who was attempting to flee. VC was seen to fall and blood trail indicated one VC KIA (Probable).

At 031530H, vicinity BT 072622, Company M squad patrol received SAF from one VC. The patrol returned SAF resulting in one VC WIA (Confirmed).

At 032030H, vicinity BT 086698, Company L platoon position observed one VC and took under fire with SAF. The VC was seen to stumble and fall, resulting in one VC KIA (Probable).

- At 041800H, vicinity BT 045655, Company M patrol received SAF from an unknown number of VC resulting in one USMC WIA (NonEvac). The patrol returned 3.5 inch rockets and SAF causing the VC to break contact.
- At 051105H, vicinity BT 082689, Company L squad patrol received M-79 and SAF from unknown number of VC resulting in two USMC WIA (MEDEVAC). The patrol returned SAF and searched the area apprehending two VCS for interrogation.

At 051225H, vicinity BT 046657, Company K patrol received SAF from approximately three VC resulting in one USMC WIA (MEDEVAC). The patrol returned SAF and searched area with inconclusive results.

SECTION V. LOGISTICS

A. Significant Events

- 1. During the period, the average supported strength of the battalion was 1050 men.
- 2. Construction in the new battalion command post has begun. All hardback structures that needed tin-roofing have been covered. However, the remaining plywood decks have not all been covered due to the lack of General Purpose Tents available to this battalion.
- 3. Construction of the new combat operations center bunker has been completed except for waterproofing and sand-bagging.

B. Supply

1. General

- (a) Battalion Supply moved its operational facilities during December. The total extent of the move covered a time lapse of one week. During that period the organic operations were reduced to a minimum. The inability to secure support vehicle transportation hindered the operational capabilities of this section during that time. Records, stocks, and general data were kept intact and effectively moved under the adverse conditions.
- (b) The requisitioning and fiscal section was inspected by the Comptroller's Office during this period. It was found that the financial data was in excellent state at the time. Minor adjustments in procedure were made.
- (c) Close cooperation between Battalion Supply and the Regimental S-4 (Supply) has produced intensive improvements during the period. Supply procedures (intent) have been revamped for more accurate control and usage data. The increase of qualified MOS's 3041 and interest shown by Division Supply has helped to alleviate a portion of the workload placed on this section.

2. Current Projects

(a) A total revamping of the formal account is being conducted. Erroneous postings are being constantly checked and an up to date system initiated. Investigations are underway for any gear astray within the battalion.

CONFIDENTIAL

- (b) The informal account has shown signs of definite improvement over the past month. Excesses have been eliminated, usage data refined, and general over-all knowledge of the 708 card system improved to a high degree.
 - 3. Critical shortages still exist in the following items:
 - (a) All types of 782 gear
 - (b) Rifles
 - 4. Critical problem areas exist in the following areas:
 - (a) Operational stock gear low level of 46 percent of total
 - (b) Lack of qualified personnel in battalion armory
 - (c) Lack of support from FLSG.
- (d) High rate of message traffic and reporting incomprehensible with sound supply management.

C. Transportation

for the contract of the

1. Organic

- (a) During this period, organic vehicles were utilized to provide support within their capabilities to the battalion.
- (b) The number of M-274, Light Infantry Weapons Carrier (LIWC), deadlined due to engine trouble and transmission trouble has risen to fifteen. At the end of this reporting period twelve are available for service.
- (6) Three M-422A1 Mighty-Mite's are deadlined. Two are on 3d echelon deadline with transmission and transfer assembly repairs. Oneils on 2d echelon awaiting parts.

2. Support Vehicles

(a) Support from the 7th and 9th Motor Transport Battalions has been good. However, lack of support from the Division Motor Transport Office: during the past reporting period caused great delay in the move from the old battalion command post to the new battalion command post. It has been requested that seven trucks be attached to this battalion on a weekly basis. So far, there has been no confirmation or denial to this request.

- (b) LVT's were used primarily for resupply during Operation GLENN. Also, Otters were used to re-supply positions inaccessible to other track or wheeled vehicles.
- (c) Helicopter support utilized to resupply the battalion observation post has been satisfactory.
- D. Maintenance. First and second echelon maintenance is being performed expeditiously with certain problems; namely lack of repair parts and school-trained personnel.

SECTION VI. COMMUNICATIONS

A. General. During December the communications platoon improved the wire system within the new Battalion Command Post, while completing the move from the old C. P. A four-pair cable was buried from Nui Kim Son to MCB-6 to provide telephone communications to Company C, First Tank Battalion and additional external circuits. The multi-channel radio relay equipment (TRC-27) was moved from the old C. P. to the new C. P. to provide backup radio relay to the existing MRC-62 system to the First Marines Command Post.

B. Equipment

- 1. As of 31 December all T/E Communications equipment was on hand or on order.

E. Operating/Training

- 1. Operations. Radio, Wire, and Message Center communications for daily combat operations, within the Battalion TAOR, were generally satisfactory throughout the month. The communications platoon participated in Operation Glenn and a County Fair held by the Battalion during the month. With the exception of the KY-8 overheating after extensive use and not operating until it cooled down, no major problems were encountered.
- 2. Training. No training was accomplished due to the split command posts and the move to the new C. P.

SECTION VALIA. ATR SUPPORT-DEFENSE

A. Air Support

- 1. In December, the battalion was supported by fixed wing flare ships; observation aircraft were used for resupply, medical evacuation, aerial reconnaissance, and troop lifts. Medical evacuations increased three hundred percent over November. The average time required for completion of the fourteen emergency MEDEVACS was forty-four minutes; the six priority MEDEVACS averaged thirty-one minutes; while the four routine MEDEVACS averaged fifty-one minutes each. One Sparrow Hawk troop insert was made this month. The time required to complete the insert after the mission was called in was fifty-five minutes. Four F-4's under the control of an aerial observer were used to support the squad after the insert was made.
- 2. The excessive delays in emergency MEDEVACS have become a concern to this command and has effected the morale of the fighting marine. The reaction time of the Sparrow Hawk helicopters must be decreased to become an effective exploitation force. At present Sparrow Hawk and emergency MEDEVAC reaction time is considered unsatisfactory.

SECTION X. CIVIL AFFAIRS

A. General. The civic action programs within the battalion TAOR continued to utilize resources from MEDCAP, U. S. government and non-governmental agencies. Due to the relocation of the CP and operational committments, civic action projects were primarily limited to the mortar belt area in the northern part of the TAOR.

B. Significant Events.

- 1. MEDCAP. See Section IX.
- 2. Medical/Dental Assistance. Twelve cases of emergency medical treatment were rendered to Vietnamese civilians by BAS. All persons were given first-aid locally, and subsequently taken to USOM hospital in Danang. Fifteen cases of dental treatment were administered.

3. County Fair Support

- (a) On 6 8 December, 600 pounds of rice and six cases of ham were consumed. MEDCAP and DENTCAP were held. The Hoa Vang District Headquarters provided a Census/Grievance committee. Their participation and success was limited. A CAC unit was formed consisting of ten USMC and thirteen Popular Force personnel. They remained in the area of Tra Khe (2), Hoa Hai, Hoa Vang (BT 071683).
- ONE LAWN (b) On 22-23 December, 700 pounds of rice and three cases of ham were consumed, and a MEDCAP was conducted. Hoa Vang Headquarters provided, in lieu of the Census/Grievance Committee, two men from their S-2 and one National Policeman. Their ability to perform the tasks of such a committee was not demonstrated. It is considered that a responsible and responsive Census/Grievance Committee is a valuable tool in the pacification program and its members must be highly qualified.
- 4. Operation GLENN. In support of this operation, 500 pounds of rice and five cases of ham were consumed. A MEDCAP was held. The state of the s
- 5. On 25 December two groups of people from Than Thuy, Dien Ban (BT 0664) delivered to the battalion two decorated Christmas trees. The people were very friendly and were dresged in their holiday clothes. The second secon
- 6. On 27 December the first civilian vehicle in years transited the MSR from Mui Kim Son (BT 071704) to this battalion's CP (BT 071656), and has continued to do so, It is hoped that its continuance will help pave the way to a daily scheduled bus service for the people. they harvested their rice and repaired their graves. They were informed that they would be protected, that the battalion was trying to provide the people with scheduled bus service, and would be more than happy to participate in cooperation with any project. The reaction was outstanding. The people clapped and joked with the marines present.

7. On 27 December 500 handouts were distributed to the rifle companies. The handouts were passed out to the people met during patrol activities. The handouts informed the people that a reward is available to those who show marines the location of booby traps, punji pits, and stakes, and mines.

A. Summary. The battalion continued to employ psy/war as an integral part of its tactical operations, and as a tool in furthering its civic action programs. Emphasis was placed on face to face communications. one leaflet drop was conducted, but primary means of distribution was again hand to hand. Distributed leaflets played up themes on mining the MSR by VC, booby traps maiming VN Nationals, family's concern over the welfare of the Viet Cong, and Chieu Hoi (Open Arms) passes.

B. Significant Events

- 1. On 1 December a leaflet drop consisting of 4,000 leaflets was conducted. The leaflets were distributed throughout the battalion TAOR. Themes were Chieu Hoi passes, family's concern, and VC mining of MSR.
- 2. On 4 December the inhabitants of Binh Ky (1), Hoa Phung, Hoa Vang, Quang Nam (BT 055698) were assembled and explained the purpose of the USMC in their area with emphasis on mortar belt mission. They were warned that immediate response by Marine air, artillery, mortars, 106mm recoilless rifles, and small arms fire would be directed on the spot of any VC mortar attack. A MEDCAP was held. As the psy/war team departed the people waved friendly goodbys.
- 3. On 6 through 8 December the Kit Carson scouts performed psy/war activities to the people of Tra Khe (2), Hoa Hai, Hoa Vang (BT 071683) during a County Fair. Reaction was poor.
- 4. On 12 December selected individuals passing near the position of the first platoon of Company K (BT 052688) were lectured on harboring of VC in their homes. Such acts normally result in innocents being wounded in VC/USMC cross-fires. It was emphasized that marines never fire into houses unless they recieve fire therefrom.
- 5. On 22 through 23 December the 244th Psy/War Company, U. S. Army, provided an audio/visual team to assist in the County Fair at Tra Lo, Hoa Hai, Hoa Vang (BT 083684). Movies were shown, music played, and magazines on improved farming techniques were distributed. The Kit Carson scouts mixed with the people and were recieved openly.
- 6. On 25 December a group of 130 men, women, and children from the vicinity of Ngan Cau (1), Dien Ban, Quang Nam (BT 066649) presented the battalion with a Christmas tree. They also asked for protection when

- d. Tanks. Company C (-), 1st Tank Battalion provided direct support throughout the operation. The objective area was hamlets surrounded by rice paddies, but encompassed by desert sand. Tanks were virtually restricted to the periphery of the operation objective.
- e. Anti-Tanks. Company A, 1st Anti-Tank Battalion provided a light section in direct support of the battalion. These participated in the blocking force, the battalion's command post perimeter defense, and in supporting the flanks of the sweep elements.
- f. Armored Amphibian Tractors. The 1st Platoon, 3d Armored Amphibian Company, 11th Marines provided two LVTH-6's in direct support. The western boundary of the operational objective was a river and these vehicles provided excellent support as a river patrol and as suppressing fire against snipers on our western flank.
- g. Amphibian Tractors. Company A, 3d Amphibian Tractor Battalion provided one platoon for direct support. They were utilized in support. of both the maneuvering elements and the blooking forces. Each company was assigned two tractors in direct support for movement of troops and resupply missions. The Commanding Officer used a tractor as his command vehicle for movement and coordination with the company commanders.

7. Intelligence

a. Enemy Forces Anticipated in the Objective Area. The enemy force anticipated in the objective area was one local force company consisting of sixty to seventy men.

b. Enemy Forces Actually Encountered

- (1) During the operation, contacts were light and usually consisted of sniper fire from two to three guerrillas.
- (2) Approximately 300 Vietnamese were screened, resulting in seven VCC and eight VCS.

a. Energy Force chicom grandes the Objective Area. The enemy force enticipated in the objective area was one local force company consisting of sixty to seven 2 M-79 rounds

b. Enemy Force assorted documents

- (4) Mines and Booby Traps. A total of fifteen mines and booby traps were discovered during the operation, one of which was detonated causing casualties.

 Approximately 300 Vietnamese were screened, resulting in seven. Terrain out VCS.
- (1) Cover and Concealment. The objective area had numerous built before the bodge rows bordering the rice paddies, which offered good concealment. Limited cover was afforded by the civilian dwellings in the area.

- (2) Critical Termain Features. The high ground in the vicinity BT 067634 to ST 060649 dominated the area and provided good observation in all directions.
- (3) (Deservation and Fields of Fire. Generally, observation and fields of fire were poor to average except on or near the high ground indicated in sub-paragraph 7.c.(2) above. At these places they were good.
- (4) Costacles. There were several man-made obstacles in the form of trench lines encountered in the vicinity BT 035164, BT 034654, BT 041651, and BT 051648. Most of these were approximately four feet in depth and ran in several directions. The Song Vinh Dien River is unfordable by foot troops, but has a usable splash point for LVT's at BT 055640.
- (5) Avenues of Approach. The huge tank trail running south from BT 055665 to BT 070635 was the main avenue of approach. Several smaller trails running east to west intersected this larger trail; all these were passible by vehicles. Also, there were numerous trails and foot paths through the objective area.
- 8. Mission. The initial mission, as set forth in reference (a), was to conduct search and destroy operations in the hamlets of Tu Cau (BT 037663, 036652, 050657, and 055649), Ngan Trung (BT 050645, BT 055639), and Ngan Cau (BT 065650) in order to capture or destroy all enemy personnel, equipment, and supplies.
- 9. Concept of Operations. The concept called for a search and destroy operation in the objective area which was divided into nine segments and bordered on the west by a wide river. Elements from one company of 2d Battalion, 1st Marines assisted in blocking Viet Cong escape routes across this river by active patrolling while three companies of this battalion commenced search operations as each simultaneously conducted patrols and ambushes at the edge of the objective area to interdict VC forces avoiding the search operations. Upon contact with a significant VC force, all elements would be committed to destroy the VC forces.

10. Execution

a. 11 December. At OSCOH representatives of all participating units were briefed on Operation GLENN at the Command Post (BT 071656) by the Battalion Commander. Operation Order 379-66 was issued.

b. 16 December

- (1) At 1000H all attachments and detachments were effective.
- (2) At More Company I departed the bautalion CP by tactical, vehicles and arrived in their objective area at 13991.
- (3) / 505H, Company M departed the battalion CP by tactical vehicles and arrived in their objective area at 1630H.

c. 17 December

- (1) At 0905H, the battalion command group and Company L departed the battalion command post by tactical vehicles enroute to the objective area.
- (2) At 1000H the battalion CP was established at BT 066643. Companies established patrol bases as indicated below, and commenced continuous patrols and ambushes in patrol zones assigned.
 - (a) Company I BT 050671
 - (b) Company L BT 066643
 - (c) Company M BT 065630
- (3) At 1030H, vicinity BT 040677, Company I platoon patrol received SAF from one VC sniper. The patrol returned M-79 and SAF resulting in one VC KIA (Probable).
- (4). At 1100H. vicinity BT 035665, Company I squad patrol received SAF, from unknown number of VC. The patrol returned M-79 and SAF resulting in one VC KIA (Confirmed).
- (5) At 1115H, vicinity BT 059636, Company M discovered and destroyed two AP mines with trip wire.

- (5) At 1715H, vicinity BT 066634, Company L platoon position received sporadic SAF from three VC in a trench line. Artillery fire was directed on target with good coverage; search of area revealed one VCC WIA.
- (6) At 1800H, vicinity BT 058648, Company I patrol apprehended three VCS with improper identification.

g. 21 December

- (i) At 1050H, vicinity BT 034684, Company I discovered and destroyed one large punji pit.
 - (2) At 1200H, Operation GLENN terminated.
- 11. Results. Operation GLENN accounted for three VC KIA (Confirmed), two VC KIA (Probable), two VC WIA, seven VCC, and eight VCS were also apprehended. See paragraph 7.b.(3) for complete list of captured equipment. Friendly casualties were: No KIA, ten WIA, and one BOW. No friendly major items of equipment were lost.

a. Supply Requirements and Resupply. The battalion initially carried four meals and one-half gallon of water per man. Supply requirements were submitted to Battalion Supply through the Battalion S-4. All supplies were micked up by the requesting units with attached LVT's.

b. Equipment and Ammunition.

- (i) Contain selected items of equipment organic to an infantry battalion were not utilized. Included in these items were 106mm recoilless rifles. Organic equipment carried or utilized included: 81mm Mortars, 40mm May grenade launchers, 7.62 May 60 machine guns, 3.5 inch rocket launchers, flame throwers, and motor transport equipment.
- (2) Ammunition initially carried consisted of a basic allowance, per individual. Resupply of expended ammunitious and explosives were provided as requested.
- c. Maintenance and Salvage. First and second schelon maintenance was performed in the battalion command post by battalion personnel.

 Items requiring a higher echelon of maintenance were evacuated to FLSC-A.

d. Treatment of Casualties and Evacuation and Hospitalization

- (1) Casualties. There were eleven friendly battle casualties on Operation GAMEN, none of which were KIA. Howeve WIA were not evacuated but were meated at the Battalion Aid Station in the field and returned to duty. The remaining casualties were evacuated.
- (2) Evacuation. All evacuated personnel were evacuated to the Naval Support Activity, Danaug, by helicopter or vehicle.
- (3) Hospitalization. Personnel requiring hospitalization were treated initially by the Naval Support Activity, Dense, and when required, were evacuated to other designated facilities. One WIA evacuated to MSA was DOW after arrival.
- e. Medical Evaluation, General. There were no redical problems encountered during the operation. Company corpsmen and the Battalion Surgeon were able to handle all minor injuries, not requiring evacuation, effectively.
- 1. Inaceportation. Vehicular transportation of twoops was accomplished by LVT's and tanks. Resupply transportation has been discussed in paragraph 12.2.

- (1) General. There were no major communications problems encountered on Operation GLEME. Specific problems are discussed below.
- (2) Personnel. With radio the primary means of internal and external communications, the radio section plus two wirenen were the only communications personnel employed.
- (3) Regionant. Radio was the primary means of communication, both internally and externally. Radio communications worked efficiently throughout the operation. A limited problem was encountered when the KY-8 Crypto devices everheated after periods of continued use and would not function properly until it had cooled. The cooling off time was mormally between thirty and forty-five minutes.
- (4) Wire. A wire loop was laid in the command post between the key staff sections. He difficulties were encountered.
- (5) Resupply and Maintenance. No difficulties were experienced in the areas of supply and maintenance.
- (6) Interference. During the first two days of the operation, some interference was encountered on the Battalion Tactical Net (40.6) in the form of Vietnamese music. This interference lasted for about ten minutes. Each of the instances were between 1400-1500 each day. The interference aid not effect the quality of communications.
- (7) Special Communications. The M-109 and the KY-8 were employed within the battalion command post to pass classified traffic back and forth between battalion and regiment. With the exception of the problem of overheating discussed in paragraph g.(3) above, no difficulties were encountered.
- 13. Special Equipment and Techniques. The operational objective area was bordered on the west by a large river. A small force was available to patrol the opposite bank so the battalion employed two LWTH-6's to reinforce the patrol of the river escape routes.

14. Commander's Analysis

contact. Contact consisted only of spenadic sniper fire and antipersonnel mines and traps. The absence of larger scale contact in an area where units previously had received heavy volumes of fire, including .50 caliber, can be attributed to the following:

- (1) Throops moved toward the objective area in increments, possibly warning the Vict Cong of the impending objective.
- (2) Lack of a larger and better coordinated blocking force on the opposite bank of the river to the west enabled any larger enemy force to infiltrate out of the objective area as the friendly forces built up in numbers and sealed the east, south, and north.
- b. Psy War. The main theme of the psy war effort revolved around the Chieu Hoi program. Appeals were made, stories told, and life with the VC were prepented by Kit Carson Scouts. No positive results were attributed to this effort; however, four separate engagements with VC elements were encountered during presentations. An audio/visual team of the 244th Psy War Company, U. S. Army, was employed. The four speaker, back-packed system enables the psy/war effort to be carried to close proximity of the VC. People were approached and asked of their feeling toward the VC. GON, market places, bus transportation, etc. Farming magazines were distributed.
- c. Civil Affairs. In the Ngan Trung (3) area approximately 250 people were provided shelter and a safe area within Marine positions. A MEDCAP was conducted treating seventy-three people. Another collection point was subsequently established in the Tu Cau (2) area. The people were cleaner, healthier, and better dressed than the average people within this TAOR. One small child with sores was bathed using soap and water. There was much interest in these proceedings and all were explained of the benefits of soap. Eight cases of ham and 700 pounds of rice were consumed. Twenty-five gallons of Kool-Aid, which had been supplied by individual Marines over the months, was thoroughly enjoyed by young and old alike.

 - f. Sone.

g. Commander's Evaluation: The operation was considered successful in that, through the use of the Pay Ops team and the Kit Carsons, we were able to reach the people with pro-GVB and anti-VC propagands, as well as determine that they had no complaints with respect to local government forces or Marines in the area. However, the overall operation could have been more successful if Regional or RVM forces had been made available to conduct a census, screen the people, and provide a sace. force for the objective area. With their present commitments, however, their monavailability was understandable.
