6. New Tactics Used.

3rd Platoon reports one consideration when employing Ontos with Tanks: Liaison between the Tank Commander and Ontos Commander to the effect that the Ontos cannot attain and maintain the speed a tank does over difficult terrain; therefore, the tank must yield to this disadvantage of the Ontos in order to maintain tactical integrity.

- lst Platoon reports a new patrolling procedure; a light section covered by fires from the heavy section along the matrol route. Procedure is as follows:
- a. Indirect fires are preplanned along the petrol route and coordinated with the infantry commander.
- b. One vehicle is prepared to fire on each objective while one vehicle is prepared to fire on the high ground overlooking the patrol route.

- c. Locations by check points are called in to the Flatoon C. P. as the patrol progresses. Acting as an FDC, the Platoon C.P. shifts concentration to the next preplanned concentration. Adjustments are made on the Ontos to coincide with the patrol movements.
  - d. Concentrations are numerically designated to facilitate reference.

Considering the problems ARVN units have with communications (PRC-10) and the problem of obtaining timely artillery support, it is believed this patrolling procedure can be effectively employed.
