Sick call was held by the corpsmen of Btry M at the dispensary in the village of PHU LOUNG (YD 861161). This village is made up from the 3 refugee hamlets.

Talked to the village chief and the head teacher at the refugee school. Discussed what the school needed and what other assistance we could give them.

Took the first 2 refugees hired to work today at the ARMY camp. The clearance of the twelve has already started and 5 more were going to fill out their applications.

Preparations are being made to have the Battalions laundry done in town. The villagers are very pleased with this. It will give them a chance to help the Marines and still make money.

One 3/4-ton truck load of scrap lumber was taken to the village for fire-wood.

The Battalion Civil Affairs Team visited the hamlet of Xom Da Me this morning. This visit marked the begining of a new civil affairs undertaking for this battalion. The people of the hamlet were glad to receive the assistance provided by the Civil Affairs team, but they were reluctant to assist in transporting supplies to the hamlet site. This reluctence is the first problem that the Civil Affairs team is planning to overcome.

The battalion continues to employ seventy Vietnamese nationals for work in the Da Nang area.

Subj: Status Report on Non Nuoc and Ap Thuy Hamlets

1. The hamlets of Non Nuoc (BT 073702) and Ap Thuy (BT 075708) form the nucleus for the community known as Marble Mountain. Though the hamlets are within a short distance of each other, and in one area overlap there are certain distinct differences contained in each.

2. Non Nuoc is mainly a trading cite where farmers from the outlying villages market their produce for shipment to the city of Da Nang. A heavy duty asphalt covered road connects the hamlet with Da Nang thus providing transportation, through a Da Nang based bus line, and communication. In August 1965 a sixty-ton bridge was opened at (BT 072701) which connected the hamlet with the farm areas to the south. Since August 1965 the local economy has risen greatly through a combination of an increase in trading between the farmers and the presence of U.S. M.C. forces.

3. The population of Non Nuoc is approximately seven hundred. The villagers are farmers, shopkeepers and tradesman. Clothing, farm implements and utensils are made for bartering with the rice farmers. Marble Mountain Marble is quarried here at one of the mountains (BT 074705) and trucked to Da Nang. There are two schools located in the vicinity of Non Nuoc; the hamlet school has an enrollment of eighty-five students under one teacher supported by the villagers. There is a small school located at (BT 070704) with an enrollment of sixty students and one teacher. This school is supported by the G.V.N.

4. The dominant religion is Buddhism with a small number of Catholics. There is no visible political organization or hamlet council. VC activity has been sporadic because a platoon of Marines is camped at the south end of the hamlet.

5. Ap Thuy is a fishing and artisan hamlet, where the marble quarried from the adjoining mountains is carved into religious articles and art pieces for sale in Da Nang. A small artery of the main road from Da Nang serves as the main street of Ap Thuy. The local economy depends directly on the marketing of the marble objects produced in the hamlet. The economy has greatly increased since the arrival of U.S.M.C. forces. The population of Ap Thuy is approximately five hundred. There are no schools in the hamlet all local students attend the schools in Non Nuoc. The dominant religion is Buddhism. Approximately forty Catholics live in the hamlets of Ap Thuy and Non Nuoc. There is a monastery and religious shrine located on Marble Mountain (BT 075709). A Catholic church is located at (BT 073708). There is no visible political organization or hamlet council. VC activity, if any, has been covert.

6. These two hamlets are part of Hoa Long village. The village chief is a Mr. Suu who controls eight Popular Force Troops, who form more of a body guard than a local defense force. (The area is ripe for the development of political cadre.) An ARVN public health and psychological warfare team could be of use in the pacification of these hamlets. The most important requirement is that the representative of the government live in the village and develop an infrastructure to represent the G.V.N. and a popular force to defend the local populace.

2. The following results have been accrued or can be anticipated with the continuing expansion of the civil affairs effort in heretofore lightly developed areas.

a. The local economy in the area of Marble Mountain continually gains strength as the security of the area is more firmly established.

b. A market place and a Buddhist temple in the area of Ngan Trung (3) BT 064643 have been reopened for use by the populace. Today, Headquarters Battery, medically evacuated a young girl from the Hamlet of Da Son (AT963766) to USOM Hospital Da Nang for a humanitary operation on her hip. The girl, NGUYEN THI NHI, was brought to this commands attention by the Hamlet Chief, Mr. PHAN VAN TCH, about (3) months ago.

The young girl had initially injured her hip as a child, but lack of proper medical attention caused it to not heal properly. An accident about (4) months ago re-damaged the hip to the point that only by surgery could she regain use of her leg.

After many unfortunate delays the operation will be performed on 8 February by Lt.Cmdr. SPENCE from the Da Nang East Hospital.

Battery "A"(-) permitted four (4) Vietnamese to harvest the potatoes and cut bamboo inside their perimeter. The people appreciated the chance to be able to harvest the crops they had planted prior to the Battery's arrival.

Her parents are extremely poor and never would be able to send her to such a school. We are still contributing $9/week for the support of her and her grandmother as well as the refugee family who is caring for her.

Company A, 1st Bn. 7th Marines continues to maintain a platoon size patrol quartered in the Vinh An/Mai Ninh complex (614015). They maintain a daily sick-call with the help of VN health worker trainees. They distributed 245 vitamins for medicinal purposes during sick call. The Bn. Surgeon holds a sickcall weekly to care for serious cases.

They have established a laundry service and barber shop for the comfort of Marines in the hamlet. They have procured school kits and induced the villagers to clean up the school house so that classes may begin. A dispensary built by the villagers is almost completed. The Marines provided corrugated tin for the roof of the dispensary. The engineers completed building roads connecting the hamlet with other population centers near by. Also a concrete bridge was built. The Marines found an old steel girder and fashioned a foot bridge for the villagers. The villagers on their own inititive have built a building for the Marines to relax in. Trade has increased in the market place and new shops have opened. Vietnamese movies were shown by a team from District headquarters and were very successfull. The support by District has increased greatly and is very helpfull to the civic action effort in the area.

The patrol leader was invited to attend a card party and made the following observations: "On the evening of the 20th my plt. sgt. and myself were invited to attend a hamlet "card party", or so it was called to the best of our understanding. The two of us did go and brought along a large box of mince meat pie given us by our company galley. A canopy was set up in one villagers yard under which sat about 50 villagers around a table. To our gratification we received a warm welcome as well as ring side seats. The card game turned out tobbe be almost identical to our game of bingo. You purchase a card for 20 piastres and are given a piece of white chalk. (The card is rectangular with three horizontal lines and 6 vertical lines forming 21 boxes about two thirds of which have numbers from 1 to 99). One person handled the drawing of the numbers from a bag which he held over his head. As each number is drawn and announced, it is placed on a master board drawn with chalk. The object for the participants is to get a series of numbers filled across one of the three horizontals. The actual drawing is done through songs. The person holding the bag of numbers begins a very rhythmic song repeating a certain chorus just before he places the picked number on the master board. As he does this he adds to the end of his line song the number. As more numbers are picked the tempo of the song (which is accompanied by a beating of sticks) increases until towards the end, when perhaps a dozen or so people only need one more number to win, the game becomes quite exciting. We were told this game is held because it is the end of Tet. Neither of us won but we were both struck by the levity of the occasion and by the wonderful capacity for fun these people do have."

The program in Vinh An/Mai Ninh continues to be very successfull. Health and sanitation have improved noticeably. The people cooperate willingly with the Marines and more projects are becoming possible to improve living conditions in the hamlets.

A total of 297 Vietnamese civilians received medical assistance from Marine Med Cap Patrols. The Vietnamese people continue to look to the Marines for assistance.

Three desks were built by Co M for the AN TRACH (1) (AT972662) school to provide desks for the new students who are arriving daily. A total of 39 children attended school during this reporting period. It is evident that a maximum effort should be made on a higher level to provide the AN TRACH (1) complex the money or the material to improve the building now being used for a school.

A daily church service is being held in AN TRACH (1) by a local [redacted]. Attendance at daily church services has increased from an average of 6 to an average of 30 daily. The Vietnamese especially enjoy the services and say that they feel secure in attending church services since the presence of the Marines keeps the VC from harassing them.

A total of 143 indeginous personnel utilized the foot bridge (AT 962660). Most of the foot bridge traffic was to and from the AN TRACH (1) market.

The Marines at Ba HAN (BS 055755) delivered 20 bags of cement to the village chief to have some of the houses put in cement decks. 50 assorted boards were also delivered to repair some of the houses. The villagers are becoming more friendly towards the Marines, and seem quite pleased with the gifts being received. Although sick call is officially held only on Thursdays, many of the children come to the Marines with any type of small injury. Most of these are taken care of by either the Marines or Corpsmen.

20 Marines had a guided tour of two Buddhist pagodas, KIM TIEN and BAO QUOC, in HUE (YD 7523). At the first pagoda they met the 1st ARVN Buddhist Chaplin and he invited the Marines to go to the second pagoda to see a bronze Buddha being made. The Buddha was just being taken out of the mold. It will be sent to an outlying village upon completion. The Marines were served currant candy and lotus MIX blossoms and tea at both pagodas. The Buddhist Chaplin was quite pleased that the Marines were interested and would take the time to view the pagodas and the surrounding grounds.

Upon completion of the guided tour, the Marines went to the orphanage at HUE (YD 7523) where they distributed 30 gallons cooking oil, 1 sack of flour, 36 bottles of vitamins, 200 large bars of soap, 85 lbs of candy and about 300 balloons (all blown up by the Marines present). There are about 300 children at the orphanage. All were filled will glee to receive the unexpected party.

Two 2½-ton truck loads of scrap wood was delivered to the village of PHU LOUNG (YD 861161) to be used by the refugees as fire wood.
