NARRATIVE SUMMARY

I. COMMAND, OPERATIONS AND TRAINING

A. During this reporting period enemy activity continued to increase involving the Combined Action Platoons. Contact with enemy forces resulted in 16 VC/NVA KIA (one of which was a VC/NVA WIA POW who died of wounds en-route to the hospital), and 11 individual weapons and three crew served weapons captured. One of the contacts alone resulted in nine NVA KIA, and seven AK-47 rifles and one RPG-2 captured with no friendly casualties sustained. Also during this period, seven Rome plows were put to work in CAP 3-3-6's area of operations. The results of these plows have been significant. By the end of the month three bunkers were destroyed and 800 pounds of rice were found and redistributed to the PFs and villagers. The plows have been particularly important to the CAP members, as the area is infested with surprise firing devices.

B. The CAP leaders seminar continues to function as an opportunity for reemphasis on military subjects and a little socializing with contemporaries. Seminars were held on 8 and 22 June and the topics covered included; artillery support, rules of engagement, leadership as it applies to the CAP leader, and explosive ordnance disposal. Following each seminar, the CAP leaders attended a specially prepared lunch prior to returning to the field. At the seminars scheduled for next month, the CAP leaders will be encouraged to bring along another member of their CAP.

C. The S-3 Mobile Training Team continued to conduct formal classes for the CAPs. The classes were conducted on 5, 7, 25, 26 and 29 June and were attended by 54 Marines and 82 Popular Forces soldiers from the platoons associated with the CAPs. In addition, eight Marines attended NCO Leadership School at the First Marine Division, and five Marines attended Vietnamese Language School at Danang.

D. On 24, 25 and 26 June, a USO show was held at each of the CACO Headquarters and a final show at 3d CAG Headquarters. Each CAP left a security element at its day position and all the other Marines and some PF Trung-Si's were transported to the CACO Headquarters.

E. A summary of activities by CACO is as follows:

1. CACO 3-1

a. Activity in Houg Thuy District continued to increase and on 18 June 1970, CAP 3-1-3 suffered one USMC KIA, one PF KIA, one USMC WIA, and five PFs WIA.

b. On 13 June 1970, CAP 3-1-1 spotted 12 VC/NVA and killed three. The starlight scope was particularly instrumental in this contact.

c. On 16 June 1970, the District Chief decorated two USMC and three PFCs for their parts in the contacts on 24 May and 18 June 1970.

2. CACO 3-2

a. During this reporting period, CACO 3-2 continued utilizing its PSID's along the shore line of Cau Hai Bay.

b. CAPs from CACO 3-2 continued to conduct long range patrols on the outer boundaries of their TAOCs. One such activity was specifically assigned the task of capturing a leading VC official. Because of increased friendly activity in the area, however, the effort had to be abandoned after two days.

3. CACO 3-3

a. Activity in Phu Thu District remained relatively quiet. The Rome plows transported to CAP 3-3-6 on 26 June 1970 have uncovered numerous bunkers, caches and surprise firing devices.

b. Road construction by both Vietnamese and Americans continues in Phu Thu.

4. CACO 3-4

a. Rockets were again received in the vicinity of CACO 3-4 Headquarters; however, none of them landed within the headquarters perimeter.

b. The company's training program continues to place emphasis on the PF platoons. During one training session, a serious wound was incurred by the company gunnery sergeant when he attempted to collapse an M-72 (L). Three fingers and part of his palm on the left hand had to be amputated and he is presently in the hospital in Japan.

5. CACO 3-5

a. CACO 3-5 continues to have most of the contact in 3d CAG. CAP 3-5-1 had a particularly large contact on 16 June killing nine NVA.

b. The area between Phu Loc and Huong Thuy Districts seems to remain the major route of enemy approach to the lowlands.

F. During the month of June, the 3d CAG armorer made four visits to the CAPs in the field to inspect and make minor repairs to weapons.

G. On 21 June 1970, The 101st Airborne Division held a two mile cross country race and Sgt D. POWELL, from 3d CAG, came in second.

H. On 18 June 1970, 3d CAG was visited by Col METZGER, CAF Commanding Officer and Sgt Major WIGGINS, the CAF Sgt Major.

PART III

SEQUENTIAL LISTING OF SIGNIFICANT EVENTS.

1. On 6 June 1970 at YD 663272, a unit of approximately 15 VC/NVA initiated contact with CAP 3-4-4 at YD 663272 with AK-47 fire and three rounds of M-79 fire. One Marine received very minor fragmentation wounds in the left leg. The enemy was located approximately 150 meters north of the Marines in the hamlet of Van Xa. CAP 3-4-4 returned fire with small arms. An initial sweep under organic illumination produced one VC KIA and one AK-47 rifle. A follow up sweep at first light revealed one AK-47 magazine, one 1/4 lb block of TNT and one M-26 fragmentation grenade. The enemy 1X KIA was wearing camouflage face paint.
2. On 7 June 1970, while set in an ambush at YD 916108, CAP 3-5-1 observed one NVA carrying a weapon and approaching the ambush site from the west. The CAP initiated contact from approximately 20 meters with automatic weapons fire and claymores. The NVA fled to the east. The CAP swept the area with negative results. Later, while moving to an alternate ambush site, CAP 3-5-1 observed six NVA with weapons 100 meters to the southwest. The CAP initiated contact with small arms fire. A sweep of the area produced one NVA KIA, one AK-47 rifle with magazine, one pack, one watch, and one wallet.
3. On 8 June 1970, while CAP 3-5-1 was in its day harbor site at YD 916107, the hamlet chief of Can Tam Hamlet brought in one NVA belt and stated that he knew the whereabouts of the body of one NVA in the area of the CAP's earlier contact of 7 June 1970. A patrol was dispatched to the area and found the body of one NVA KIA. Location of the body was approximately 30 meters from where the claymores were activated during the initial contact the preceding night.
4. On 13 June 1970, CAP 3-1-1, while set in an ambush site at YD 787166, observed 12 NVA with packs and weapons through a starlight scope. The CAP initiated contact from approximately 30 meters with claymores, M-79 and small arms fire. The enemy fled in all directions, but generally to the northwest. The enemy returned fire with one B-40 round that failed to detonate. A sweep of the area produced three NVA KIA, one AK-47, two RPG-7 rocket launchers, eight B-40 rockets and one satchel charge.
5. On 14 June 1970, CAP 3-5-5, while set in an ambush site at YD 977048, observed two NVA carrying AK-47 rifles moving southeast. The CAP initiated contact with claymores and small arms fire. The enemy returned fire with two B-40 rockets and fled to the west. A sweep of the area produced one NVA KIA wearing a khaki uniform, one AK-47 rifle, and one pair of binoculars.
6. On 16 June 1970, CAP 3-5-1, while set in an ambush site at YD 916108, observed 20 NVA carrying weapons and moving in a column formation in an easterly direction. At a distance of ten meters the CAP initiated contact with claymores and small arms fire. The NVA returned fire with AK-47 fire and approximately 12 B-40 rockets. The enemy then fled to the southwest. A sweep of the area produced eight NVA KIA, one NVA WIA(POW), seven AK-47 rifles, one RPG-2, three B-40 rockets, 12 AK-47 magazines, miscellaneous documents, assorted web gear, and medical supplies. The NVA WIA(POW) died of wounds enroute to the hospital, bringing the number of KIA to nine.

7. On 26 June 1970 at approximately 0150H, CACO 3-5 Headquarters received eight B-40 rounds and small arms fire, all of which impacted outside the perimeter. Fire was received from the west and the south and an USMC was observed approaching the perimeter from the north. The enemy was taken under fire with M-79 fire at approximately 50 meters with unknown results. There were no friendly casualties.
