PART IINARRATIVE SUMMARY

During the first days of February, 3d Marines continued with its concept of conducting battalion operations on an alternating basis, employing the two battalions under the operational control of the 3d Marines. This concept evolved in an attempt to prevent the enemy from moving in troops and supplies prior to TET and was also directed toward leaving the enemy in the least advantageous position prior to TET. Operations were conducted on the basis of intelligence sightings and reconnaissance patrol reports. In addition to large scale operations, the 3d Marines area of operations was otherwise covered by aggressive patrolling and patrol base activities. During TET all infantry and reconnaissance activities were limited to intelligence gathering efforts. Following TET the alternating battalion-sized operations were again commenced, however, the emphasis was initially on locating the results of enemy activities during TET and preventing attacks on fixed installations as a result of the probable TET buildup by enemy forces. A company sized reconnaissance in force north of CAM LO on 27 February resulted in the location of a major NVA force.

As a result of the engagements on 27-28 February a new phase of operations began for the 3d Marines. As larger enemy forces were encountered, it was necessary to commit additional Marine forces. Employing two or three battalions at a time, 3d Marines attempted to counter enemy infiltration and buildup in the area north of the CAM LO River and to prevent possible massing for ground attacks against fixed installations in the CAM LO District. As the enemy still refused to stand and fight on most occasions, Marine units were required to cover as much area as possible in an attempt to ensnare the enemy and force him to fight. All multi-battalion operations were conducted north of CAM LO River and were employed as the situation developed. Units were employed either to counter enemy movements or in anticipation of same. The area of primary contact, from CAM LO to CON THIEN, was covered on four separate occasions with contact, on each occasion ranging from small units up to battalion size in strength. All units permanently within the 3d Marines area of operations and those battalions brought into the PRAIRIE area as a result of the increased activity were employed on an alternating basis allowing recently engaged units to rest and to refit. Units not operating in the main area of contact north of CAM LO were required to defend key installations and conduct continuous patrol activity in the remainder of the PRAIRIE area of Operations. Four to five battalions were OPCON to the 3d Marines during a major part of the period covered.

On the morning of 27 February, a reconnaissance patrol, in the process of moving by foot into its assigned recon area, sighted four NVA northwest of CAM LO. Setting up a hasty ambush the patrol subsequently discovered that it was in contact with a much larger force, an estimated 100 NVA. The recon patrol broke contact and went under cover. L/3/4(-) and a platoon of tanks on a patrol mission north of CAM LO were ordered to proceed west to the vicinity of the recon unit. Progress, however, was slow, as the relief elements moved through heavy brush on the northern bank of the CAM LO River. Division Forward sought other means to reinforce the engaged patrol. A relief from 3d Marines was requested; and, in accordance with regimental contingency plans, a company size force was deployed to link up with the recon patrol and exploit the contact. Company G, 2/3 was designated as the relief unit at 271225H and commenced movement at 271335H from Camp CARROLL to a point northwest of CAM LO on the southern side of Hill 124 (YD 075623), where the recon patrol was then located.

At approximately the same time that G/2/3 departed Camp CARROLL, L/3/4 made contact with a large sized enemy force east of the engaged recon unit and almost directly north of CAM LO. After a heavy fire fight in which L/3/4 suffered light casualties while killing three enemy (conf), the company and the tanks commenced movement again toward the recon patrol, however, the tanks were unable to proceed much further due to densely foliated terrain. At 271610H, 2/3 assumed OPCON of L/3/4 and ordered them to set up nighttime positions at the point of furthest penetration westward (YD 102616). It was planned that G/2/3 would link up with the recon team and then move to the L/3/4 perimeter for the night.

After moving across the CAM LO River, G/2/3 found the terrain difficult to negotiate while moving north toward the recon patrol and did not link up until 272342H. Because of the time, plans for G/2/3 and recon to link up with L/3/4 during the night were cancelled, and the company set up nighttime positions with recon.

It was also decided on the night of 27 February to commit another company and the battalion command group from 2/3 on the following morning, to conduct a search and destroy operation in the area of contact. It was further planned that L/3/4 and the tanks were to return to 3/4 via CAM LO when relieved by elements of 2/3 on 28 February.

At 280630H, L/3/4 came under enemy small arms fire and 60mm and 81/82mm mortar attack in its nighttime position. In addition to the casualties suffered by L/3/4, two of the tanks were damaged by enemy fire. One of the two damaged tanks was unable to move as a result of a hit received from a rocket-propelled grenade, though it was still capable of firing. Countermortar fire was returned by artillery and by the weapons within L/3/4's perimeter. Enemy fire was suppressed after L/3/4 had received approximately 150 incoming rounds. Again at 280710H and 280830H L/3/4 came under attack, receiving a total of 70 additional rounds. In conjunction with the latter mortar attack, L/3/4's lines were also probed. Enemy efforts ceased on every occasion only after heavy countermortar fire. Friendly casualties were 3 KIA and 18 WIA for the three attacks; enemy casualties were 15 KIA (prob).

As a result of these three attacks, 2/3 was ordered to link up with L/3/4, and to stabilize the situation in that area. Further,

L/3/4 was to be joined by its remaining platoon, which had been left in C&M IO, and by a heavy section of tanks for the purpose of extracting the two damaged tanks as soon as the situation permitted. G/2/3 was ordered to move north to Hill 124, search out the area, and set up blocking positions toward which 2/3 was to move after linking up with L/3/4. By 281025H the 2/3 command group and Company F, after fording the C&M IO River, had linked up with L/3/4. Events, however, had already begun to alter the picture.

At 280955H, G/2/3 received small arms fire while moving north to Hill 124. The enemy, however, broke contact and fled to the north immediately after the company returned fire. Continuing north, G/2/3 was again taken under fire at 281030H, this time by enemy troops in well-camouflaged defensive positions. As the company moved forward, enemy resistance stiffened. The company had to withdraw under fire in order to call in supporting arms to neutralize the resistance. The company suffered 7 KIA, including the company commander, and 18 WIA as a result of this engagement. Many of the casualties were suffered during repeated attempts to recover those casualties taken initially. Supporting arms were called in, while the casualties were recovered and medic-evacuated.

During late morning of the 28th, it was decided to commit another company to the north of Hill 124 to cut off any enemy withdrawing from G/2/3's contact and to relieve pressure on the engaged company. M/3/4 was designated as the unit to be committed and was to be helilifted onto Hill 162 (YD 070635). Commencing at 281338H, M/3/4 chopped to 2/3 and was lifted into the operating area. The lift was completed by 281404H. Although no enemy resistance was encountered in the landing zone, several mines/booby traps were detonated, resulting in 1 KIA and 11 WIA. M/3/4 then began movement south toward Hill 124 and G/2/3.

During the early afternoon of the 28th, 2/3 reported sporadic contact in the vicinity of L/3/4's position. In addition, L/3/4's third platoon arrived with the heavy section of tanks to extract the two damaged tanks.

At approximately 281430H, the 2/3 command group and F/2/3 commenced movement to link up with G/2/3 in order to prosecute the action in that area and continue the operation. However, after moving approximately 400 meters northwest of their starting point and previous positions, these units were engaged by heavy enemy small arms and 60mm mortar fire from three sides. Company F and the command group suffered numerous casualties during the initial encounter and while withdrawing to call in supporting arms. Included among the initial casualties was the Battalion Commander, Lieutenant Colonel V. OHANESIAN who was mortally wounded, and died later that evening. After LtCol OHANESIAN had suffered his initial wounds, the command of the battalion passed to the S-3, Major R. F. SHERIDAN, who was also wounded. A withdrawal was completed back to the former position where L/3/4 and the tanks were still located, and artillery was called in all around the position.

The Regimental Commander, Colonel J. P. LANIGAN, upon learning of the casualties suffered within the 2/3 command group at 1630H ordered Lieutenant Colonel E. R. DELONG, then Regimental Executive Officer, to proceed to the 2/3 command group and take command. In addition, an operation being conducted by 3/3 in the vicinity of the "RAZORBACK" was terminated, and 3/3 was alerted for commitment to the operation: F/2/9, which was in DONG HA as the result of a ROUGH RIDER that day, was committed also. F/2/9, was chopped to 2/3 at 281730H and moved by truck from DONG HA to CAM LO. LtCol DELONG, after failing in an attempt to reach 2/3 by helo because of incoming mortar rounds and small arms fire in the landing zone, landed near CAM LO and linked up with F/2/9, to move in by foot with that unit to the 2/3 position.

The 2/3 elements and L/3/4 continued to receive mortar fire sporadically for the remainder of the afternoon. Late in the day, as attempts were made to bring in med-evac helicopters, enemy fire increased, forcing the helicopters away from the LZ, thus preventing the evacuation of dead and wounded. Enemy troops also probed the perimeter and made several grenade attacks during this time. One Gunship was hit and made a force landing near the CAM LO River. One 46 was hit with two crew members WIA. Contact ceased about 281930H.

At 281835H, 3/3, having been committed, moved out with a command group and Companies I and L for positions north and east of 2/3. By 282345H all units arrived at positions north of CAM LO along the road leading north from the CAM LO Bridge. Movement by foot then commenced into the objective area and was completed by 010230H March.

That night F/2/9 and the new Battalion Commander of 2/3 moved by foot across the CAM LO River and north to link up with 2/3. At 010340H March, this movement was completed, and 2/3 completed consolidation of its nighttime position. G/2/3 and M/3/4, which had been unable to link up during the day, were both ordered to proceed separately to 2/3's main position on the evening of 28 February; however, due to the distance and terrain, they were ordered to secure nighttime positions in their separate locations and complete the link up on 1 March.

Med-evac of casualties was commenced at 010700H and completed by 0745H. 2/3 passed the remainder of the day in position with the new CO reorganizing the battalion, compiling accurate friendly and enemy casualty reports, and consolidating Companies G/2/3 and M/3/4. M/3/4 arrived at 010945H; G/2/3 arrived at approximately 011150H. F/2/9 linked up with two squads from F/2/3 which had been separated from the main body and had spent the night on Hill 84 (YD 092618), searched out the area, and returned to 2/3's primary position by 011300H. L/3/4 moved into the area in which the main elements of 2/3 had been hit on the preceding day and recovered the bodies of two friendly KIA's at 011400H. In addition, the area surrounding 2/3's primary position was thoroughly searched out and the position expanded with company and platoon outposts on surrounding key terrain features.

At 011405H, F/2/9 commenced movement to CAM LO for return to 2/9. The situation had stabilized sufficiently to allow the withdrawal of this company, and at 011537H F/2/9 arrived in the vicinity of the CAM LO Bridge and chopped to 2/9. M/3/4 was designated to move to support 3/3 to the north, and at 011622H chopped to 3/3 and commenced movement by foot. However, after proceeding approximately 500 meters, M/3/4 encountered several enemy in the area and became engaged in a fire fight. At 011707H, M/3/4 chopped back to 2/3, which was better able to support the company. The company returned to 2/3's primary position after pursuing the contact and set up nighttime positions in the area. During the night of 1-2 March, 2/3 made contact with the enemy on two occasions inflicting 10 KIA (C) and 21 KIA (P) on enemy units.

3/3 having arrived in the objective area at 010230H, commenced a sweep to the southwest at 010920H. On 1 March, 3/3 made contact with NVA units on two separate occasions while moving west. At 011840H, I/3/3 captured one enemy, PH (NVA), carrying a radio; the man and the radio were evacuated to ITT. 3/3 set up nighttime position in the vicinity of (YD 103630). By this time the scheme of maneuver had changed.

On the morning of 1 March, as a result of increased contact and sightings made on the preceding day and because of the necessity of withdrawing 2/3 for its previously scheduled rotation to Okinawa, it was decided to commit another battalion to the operation. To provide adequate fire support to units who were now at the maximum range of 105mm howitzer support from Camp CARROLL, A/1/40 was moved from DONG HA to a position in the (YD 0657) grid square. At 011500H, 1/9 arrived in DONG HA from PHU BAI, having been designated as the battalion to be committed. At 011555H, the first wave of 1/9 touched down on Hill 162 (YD 070635), and the battalion chopped to 3d Marines. The helilift was completed by 011832H, and 1/9 set up nighttime positions in that vicinity.

The new scheme of maneuver envisioned 1/9 and 3/3 moving north along parallel axes to seize Regimental Objectives 1-5 (085633, 100665, for 3/3; 050636, 070657, 080665 for 1/9). 2/3 was to return to its rear at Camp CARROLL on 2 March for rotation to Okinawa. M/3/4, which had been scheduled to chop to 3/3 late on 1 March but had returned to 2/3 because of enemy activity enroute, was to be helilifted to 3/3 on the morning of 2 March. L/3/4 and the tanks were to return to CAM LO with the disabled tank on 2 March. ARVN Ranger units were to be moved into blocking position to the north of the two attacking battalions.

On the morning of 2 March, Division Forward and 3d Marines requested that 2/3 be allowed to remain in the operation area for an additional two days to continue the operation rather than depart for Okinawa. Division and higher headquarters approved this request and 2/3 set out to the west toward Hill 124 to recover the bodies of two Marines believed to be left in that area from G/2/3's contact on 28 Feb and to search out that area. M/3/4 was to remain with 2/3 for this movement. L/3/4 commenced movement with tanks for the CAM LO Bridge at 020800H and arrived at 021203H, chopping to 3/4 at that time. At noon on 2 March, it was decided that M/3/4 would be chopped to 3/3 in order to give this 2 company battalion a maneuver element, and the company was helilifted to positions in the vicinity of the 3/3 CP. At 021310H, the helilift commenced, and M/3/4 chopped to 3/3. 2/3 was then given the abbreviated mission of recovering the two bodies and searching out the area south of Hill 124. The battalion was to return to Camp CARROLL at the completion of this mission to allow enough lead time for proper preparation for rotation to Okinawa. At 021815H, 2/3 recovered the two bodies that had been left in the area of G/2/3's firefight on 28 Feb and movement commenced shortly thereafter to CAM LO for pick up by trucks and movement to Camp CARROLL. 2/3 arrived at CAM LO at 030205H and boarded trucks, the battalion arrived at Camp CARROLL at 030305H terminating its portion of the operation.

On the morning of 2 March, 3/3 set out for Obj. 1 (YD 085633) with I/3/3 in the lead. About midday, I/3/3 made contact with enemy forces at two separate locations to the east of Obj. 1. 3/3 continued on to seize Objective 1, during the course of the afternoon and swung north toward Obj. 2 (YD 100665) with L/3/3 in the lead. Contact continued during the course of the day, with L/3/3 encountering most of the resistance during the afternoon. On the evening of 2 March, L/3/3 received an estimated 75 81/82mm mortar rounds at 1720H, this attack was followed by another at 1730H and another at 1820H. The latter attack also included small arms fire. There were a total of 13 KIA and 12 WIA from these three attacks. 3/3 set up night positions south of Obj. 2. During the night, L/3/3 received an additional 25 rounds of 81/82mm mortar fire at 030445H in their nighttime position.

At 020745H, A/1/9, prior to moving out in accordance with the days planned operations, received approximately 70 60mm mortar rounds from the northwest. Fire was returned with 60mm mortars and 155mm howitzers causing the enemy fire to cease. The attack resulted in 2 friendly WIA. At 020805H, 1/9 commenced movement to the north toward Obj. 4 (YD 070657).

At 021240H the 1/9 command group and C/1/9 received 20 rounds of 81/82mm mortar fire, at 021340H, 24 additional mortar rounds were received. On the afternoon of 2 March, Obj. 4 was seized and nighttime positions were set up in that area. Again that evening at 091915H the 1/9 CP was hit by mortar fire, receiving 20 81/82mm mortar rounds. At 030425H the 1/9 CP received another 21 incoming mortar rounds.

On 3 March, 3/3 moved north toward Obj. 2 (YD 100665) arriving at positions just to the south of it during the night. During the course of the day, only sporadic contact was encountered. At 031900H, however, L/3/3 received an estimated 10 rounds of mortar fire as well as sniper fire. Fire was returned resulting in 12 enemy KIA (C). The incident occurred at (YD 109659). L/3/3 set up nighttime positions to the south of the objective. Nighttime contact was minimal.

On 3 March, 1/9 moved north from Obj. 4 (YD 070657) to Obj. 5 (YD 080665) encountering enemy units throughout the day. At 030720H, an AO sighted three groups of approximately 250 enemy troops each in the area in which 1/9 was operating (YD 055668, 071668, 083662). Artillery and air were called in. 1/9 subsequently conducted a sweep of the area discovering enemy dead and making contact with small groups (up to 30-40) of enemy trying to flee the area. Numerous enemy were killed as a result. During the afternoon and evening, the 1/9 command group was mortared three times with a total of 180 rounds received, resulting in 1 KIA and 23 WIA. A/1/9 was mortared during the day also. Nighttime positions were set up to the west of Obj. 5. 1/9 had one probing incident during the night.

During the course of the day, a helicopter was shot down at (YD 089665) and a platoon from C/1/9 was moved into the area to protect the downed helicopter after the crew and passengers had been extracted.

On the night of 3 March plans were made for the following two days. Commencing 4 March, 1/9 was to continue northeast through Obj. 5 to Obj. 6 (YD 095683) then east to intermediate Obj. A THON TRUNG AN (YD 121683), then on to Obj. 7 PHU PHUONG (vic YD 148681), then southeast to the final objective at (YD 165641), returning to DONG HA on order. 3/3 was to continue through Obj. 2 swinging east to the vicinity of (YD 110665), then sweeping southwest to (YD 088627), then southeast to (YD 119611). The 39th Ranger Battalion was to screen to the north and east along the exposed flank of 1/9. All movement of Marine units was contingent upon the extraction of the downed helicopter on 4 March.

The helicopter was lifted out at 041200H, and the battalions commenced the attack at 1230H. After seizing Obj. 5, 1/9 commenced movement toward Obj. 6 (YD 095683). At 041310H, while enroute, the battalion received 5 well placed enemy mortar rounds within the march column. These rounds were followed shortly thereafter by an additional 150 enemy 81/82mm mortar rounds which landed beyond the march column inflicting no casualties. Air and artillery support was called in on the suspected enemy mortar positions. Total friendly casualties were 3 WIA.

Contact during the day for 1/9 was continuous but not heavy, excluding the mortar attack. At 1600H, 3/3 requested that 1/9 hold in the blocking position as L/3/3 drove north after a fleeing contact. 1/9 held for 90 minutes with no contact. The battalion then moved to the western edge of intermediate Obj. A and set up nighttime positions. Also, a platoon from D/1/9 was sent to 3/3 to move two M42 dual 40mm's and one tank back to 1/9's positions as these vehicles had been placed under the operational control of that battalion. Only two minor incidents were reported by 1/9 during the night.

On the afternoon of 4 March, after the completed seizure of Obj. 2, L/3/3, which had been given the mission of moving into THON BAI Hamlet at (YD 117665), encountered heavy resistance at that location at 041500H. One tank was destroyed during this encounter by a rocket-propelled grenade. Mortar and small arms fire was received as the company swept into the village and then wheeled north to crush the enemy between the attacking forces and a hasty blocking position set up by elements of 1/9 to the north. After pursuing the enemy until the contact dissipated, 1/3/3 reversed step and swept back to the south through the hamlet, setting up nighttime positions on the southern edge with 1/3/3 and the battalion command group.

11/3/4, which had replaced the platoon from C/1/9 as security for the downed helicopter remained south of the remainder of 3/3 after the aircraft had been extracted at 041200H. Night positions were set up at (YD 083644), and the company's only contact of the day occurred at 042210H when a lone NVA was killed while trying to infiltrate the perimeter.

On the afternoon of 4 March, A/1/40 (USA) displaced from grid square (YD 0657) to grid square (YD 1359) in the vicinity of CAM LO, to support the operation to the north from a closer firing position.

On 5 March, 1/9 encountered heavy harassing and delaying action by the enemy as it advanced east toward Regimental Objective 7 (vic 148681). With two companies forward, Company D to the north and Company C to the south, and Company A to the rear as security for the Command Group, the battalion was continually in contact with small elements of the enemy. At 051630H, Company D encountered the heaviest contact of the day with 40-50 enemy (YD 136673), receiving 50-60 incoming mortar (60mm) rounds in addition to heavy small arms fire. During the same period, Company C received 25 incoming 81/82mm mortar rounds. Artillery was brought to bear on the enemy and suppressed the enemy mortar fire; however, small arms fire continued. Enemy fire continued to originate from the hamlet between Company C and the remainder of the battalion and was effectively silenced only after artillery was walked into the intervening area. Medevac was unable to be completed that night, and Company D linked up with the command group and Company A to set up nighttime positions at the northern end of THIEN AN. Company C spent the night at the southern end of the hamlet. Heavy defensive fires and TDQ's were conducted during the night and 1/9 passed the night of 5 March uneventfully.

On 5 March, 3/3 swept southwest to link up with 11/3/4, which had passed the previous night in a separate position, and continued on to the vicinity of (YD 083627). The battalion then swept east to (YD 117606) where nighttime positions were set up. There was only one minor contact during the entire day and night.

Because of a boundary change with ARVN units to the east of 1/9, Regimental Objective 7 was eliminated. Also, it was decided to have 3/3 seize THIEN CHANH (YD 166641) instead of 1/9. 3/3 was to be resupplied early on 6 March and provide security for the resupply column continuing on to 1/9. 1/9 was to march south to link up with the resupply column, then continue on to DONG HA.

3/3 linked up with the resupply column early on the morning of 6 March and commenced movement north with resupply for 1/9 at 061100H.

1/9 swept through THU AN while Company C blocked to the south and then moved south to link up with 3/3 for resupply. Linkup was completed at 1400H, whereupon 3/3 swept southeast to seize THIEN CHANH. 1/9 continued on to the CAM LO Bridge where the battalion boarded trucks and commenced movement to DONG HA. 1/9 chopped to Division Forward at 061850H. 3/3 completed its sweep through THIEN CHANH and also moved to the CAM LO Bridge to await transportation to the battalion permanent position south of THON SON LAM. M/3/4 chopped back to 3/4 at 062030H. All units had returned to their permanent positions by 062125H and the operation was terminated.

Total enemy casualties for the portion of FRAIRIE II including 27 Feb-6 Mar, as inflicted by the 3d Marines, were 365 KIA (C), 192 KIA (F), 10 PW (NVA) and 1 PW (VC).

During the course of the multi-battalion operation to the north of CAM LO, 2/3 which had returned to Camp CARROLL early on 3 March, was relieved of responsibility for the eastern half of the 3d Marines area of operation by 3/9 at 031315H. Departing for DONG HA shortly thereafter, 2/3 completed final preparations for rotation to Okinawa. On the day preceding the relief, at 021800H, K/3/9 relieved H/2/3 at BA LONG and chopped to the 3d Marines. On 6 March, 3/9 was ready for operational commitments. At 061335H March, as the multi-battalion operation was terminating north of CAM LO, 3/9 was chopped to Division (Fwd) and moved to DONG HA to participate in an operation in the vicinity of GIO LINH. With a command group and Companies L and M, 3/9 departed leaving a platoon from Company I and portions of H&S as the sole remaining infantry units at Camp CARROLL. In addition, there was another platoon from I/3/9 at the KHE GIA Bridge and a platoon from K/3/3 at the D-5 Outpost. By that evening, 3/3 completed movement into its own area of operations, but the remaining I/3/9 platoon which had been providing security for the THON SON LAM base camp was not scheduled to return to Camp CARROLL until 7 March. Thus, the Camp CARROLL area of operations had one infantry company to defend the area on the night of 6-7 March.

At 062358H March, enemy units to the north commenced a mortar and rocket attack on Camp CARROLL which lasted about one hour. Counter-mortar fire commenced at 070005H and continued until enemy fire was suppressed. Again at 070407H, Camp CARROLL was attacked with mortars and rockets. The second attack lasted approximately thirty minutes and was again suppressed by countermortar fire from the plateau. At 070630H, the third and final attack commenced and was suppressed after approximately twenty minutes. 346 mortar/rocket rounds, by crater count, fell on the Camp during the three attacks. Friendly casualties were 6 KIA and 41 WIA, plus extensive superficial damage to tents and vehicles at the northern end of the perimeter. Only one artillery weapon, a 175mm howitzer, was damaged and that was not severe. Most of the damaged equipment was repaired by second echelon maintenance. Most of the rounds fell at the northern end of the perimeter.

On the morning of 7 March, aerial observers to the north of DONG

HA Mountain spotted several fleeing enemy and called in artillery strikes, resulting in several enemy killed. The enemy were seen to be carrying rocket tubes. During the day, patrols were conducted to the south of CAM LO River, and the southern slope of the DONG HA/DONG MA Mountain complex was covered with heavy direct fire brought to bear by tanks, ontos, dual 40mm's and quad 50's. In addition, at 071705H, K/3/4 chopped to the 3d Marines to provide additional security for Camp CARROLL during the absence of 3/9. Plans were also made to conduct an operation north of the CAM LO River in the vicinity of the enemy mortar sites to destroy them and prevent the enemy from reoccupying the area. In the meantime, Camp CARROLL commenced repairing the damage.

On 6 March, M/3/3 commenced a systemized search of the area to the west of DONG HA Mountain in the valley just south of "MUTTER" Ridge. This company-sized patrol base was to be coordinated with the battalion-sized operation to the east; however, the latter operation was delayed several days as more forces were made available. On 8 March, direct fire weapons again hammered the southern slopes of the DONG HA/DONG MA Mountain complex in order to prevent enemy units from moving into possible mortar positions prior to nightfall. Extensive H&I's were conducted throughout the night.

At 081300H, 3d Marines assumed operational control of 2/26 which had been moved into the PRAIRIE area from DA NANG. 2/26 set up a base camp south of the CAM LO River (vic YD 085575) in preparation for the operation to the north.

At 091121H, the 3/9 command group and Companies L and M returned to the OTCOF of 3d Marines from Division Forward, and K/3/4 returned to 3/4. The scheme of maneuver now evolved into a two battalion operation with M/3/3 operating in conjunction to the west. With Companies I and M, the 3/9 command group was to operate in the DONG HA/DONG MA Mountain complex to the north to grid line 62. 3/9 was to commence from the east and sweep in a western direction along the southern ridge line, then move north over the top of DONG HA and back in an eastern direction along the northern ridgeline. With Companies E, G, and H, the 2/26 command group was to move north across the CAM LO River to seize Objective 1 (vic YD 100625) and 2 (vic YD 105645) and move to a blocking position farther north (YD 095673 to YD 116662) to support an ARVN airborne sweep west from vicinity Route 1. Movement was to commence on 10 March. M/3/3 was to approach DONG HA Mountain from the west then swing south to the CAM LO River, then east again along the northern bank.

At 100830H March, 2/26, after outposting a company on the northern bank of the CAM LO River on the preceding day, commenced movement north into its assigned operating area. At 100930H, 3/9 commenced movement from Camp CARROLL into its assigned operating area. M/3/3 had already been inserted into its operating area on 8 March and had been conducting heavy patrolling activities in the area. In support of the operation, F/2/12 displaced from DONG HA to CAM LO on 10 March to provide artillery support.

On 10 March, operating units had no contact. G/2/26 seized Objective 1 on the afternoon of 10 March. That evening it was decided that 3/4, which had been operating to the east of 2/26, would be chopped to the 3d Marines from Division Forward on the following day and continue operations in conjunction with 2/26. 3/4 was to move from its previously held position on the Route 8B leading north from CAM LO to an objective and blocking position located in the vicinity of (YD 155630). 2/26 had its blocking position modified and shifted to a final objective and blocking position in the vicinity of (YD 113675). 3/4 was to hold up at its nighttime position of 10 March until 2/26 moved abreast, then both units were to advance north on line toward their final objectives/blocking positions. Both 3/4 and 2/26 were to hold in their blocking positions while ARVN airborne units sweep west across their fronts. 3/9 and M/3/3 were to continue their previously assigned missions.

At 110800H March, the 3d Marines assumed OFCON of 3/4. All units except 3/4 commenced movement. M/3/3 during the day advanced halfway up the western slope of DONG HA Mountain then turned south toward the CAM LO River, setting up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 008572). 3/9 continued its advance toward the top of DONG HA Mountain from the east and set up nighttime positions at (YD 025585). 2/26 in addition to moving north, left E/2/26 in the vicinity of (YD 104615) to destroy a bunker complex in that area. The remainder of the battalion moved north and Objective 2 was seized by the lead elements that afternoon, with nighttime positions being set up in that vicinity. 3/4 commenced movement on its final objective at 110915H, as 2/26 units encountered slow progress in the rough terrain to the east. 3/4 was the only unit which made contact on 11 March; however, on the two occasions in which contact was made, the enemy fled immediately thereafter. 3/4 reached its final objective on the evening of 11 March and entered with no resistance, setting up nighttime positions there. That night, 3/4 had the only contact in a brief fire fight at 120513H which resulted in 5 enemy KIA(C) and 1 KIA (I), while 3/4 sustained 1 KIA and 1 WIA.

On 12 March, all units except 3/4 continued movement. M/3/3 moved east along the northern bank of the CAM LO River to (YD 055570), where nighttime positions were established. 3/9 moved over the top of DONG HA Mountain and swung back to the east along the northern ridgeline, setting up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 039608). 2/26 moved north on its final objective. E/2/26, which had remained to the south to destroy an enemy bunker complex, completed its task and was helilifted to link up with the command group to the north. By nightfall 2/26 occupied nighttime positions in the vicinity of its final objective, preparing to sweep the village in the objective area on the following day. 3/4 remained in position and conducted local patrol activities. The only contact of the day was made by 2/26 on two separate occasions while moving north, resulting in 1 enemy KIA (C) and 1 KIA (I).

On 13 March, plans called for all units to continue previously assigned missions, except for 3/4 which was to move north and east to seize Objectives 6, 7, and 8 previously assigned to ARVN airborne units operating in that area. M/3/3 completed its assigned mission, moved south across the CAM LO River, and back to its CF by truck along Route 9, arriving there at 131310H. The command group and I/3/9 were also moved out of their operating areas on the afternoon of 13 March; the movement, by helicopter, was completed at 131410H. M/3/9 remained in the operating area to complete the sweep. At 131440H, 2/26 reached its limit of advance at road running east to west at the 688 grid line, after sweeping through the village area of its final objective. Night-time positions were set up in the vicinity of (YD 114685). At 131320H, 3/4 was ordered to move out and seize the hamlet at ARVN Objective 6 (YD 155702) which the battalion secured by 131546H. 3/4 then moved south to set up nighttime positions at (YD 155693).

On 14 March, plans called for all units to complete their assigned missions. M/3/9 was to move east and then south to Route 9 for pickup and return to Camp CARROLL; 2/26 was to continue to search its final objective area and be prepared to move to CAM LO for truck pickup or to extract by helicopter. 3/4 was to seize ARVN Objectives 7 and 8, then continue east to Route 1 for pickup and return to DONG HA, chopping to Division Forward upon pickup.

At 140730H, 3/4 moved south toward ARVN Objective 7 (YD 163700); lead elements of the battalion entered the objective at 0815H and secured it shortly thereafter. At 0859H, K/3/4 moved on toward ARVN Objective 8 and commenced sweeping the area at 0935H. At 1110H, 3/4 swept through ARVN Objective A, while moving on to the pickup point (YD 216698) at 1326H and boarded trucks for DONG HA at 1430H, chopping to Division Forward.

2/26 searched out the area of its final objective on the morning of 14 March, finding several mines and some enemy positions. At 1330H, 2/26 commenced movement by helicopter to 3/3's primary position south of THON SON LAM. By 1720H, the helilift was complete. M/3/9, which had remained in the 3/9 operating area an extra day, moved east and then south across to CAM LO River to Route 9, arriving there at 1715H. By 1905H, M/3/9 had returned to Camp CARROLL, completing the move by truck. Total enemy casualties for this operation were 7 KIA (C), 2 KIA (F), and 1 PW (NVA).

Planning called for another multi-battalion operation to follow immediately, a second phase--so to speak--to search out the area north of DONG HA Mountain and to the west of the area in which 2/26 had operated. The operation was to involve three battalions. The lead battalion was to move from an assembly area just west of CAM LO across the CAM LO River and northwest into an area known as "HELICOPTER" Valley (vic YD 035640). A second battalion was to follow in trace of the lead battalion, then sweep southwest along the valley north of DONG HA Mountain and south of "MUTTER" Ridge. The third battalion was to set up a firing position for direct fire weapons south of "MUTTER" Ridge in the valley between DONG HA Mountain and the "RAZORBACK" (vic XD 978588); this unit was to cover

"MUTTER" Ridge and the battalion moving southwest in the valley along the southern slope of "MUTTER" Ridge. The lead battalion was to move into the assembly area on D-Day, with one company outposted north of the CAM LO River and was to commence its portion of the operation on D+1. The second battalion was to move into the assembly area on D+1, with a company outposted north of the CAM LO River, and commencement on D+2. The direct fire weapons were to move into the fire support position on order. D-Day was to be 15 March.

At 151000H, 1/9 chopped to the 3d Marines, as the designated lead battalion. At 1100H, the lead company, C/1/9, departed DONG HA for the assembly area. By 1800H, the battalion command group and Companies A and D had also arrived, and C/1/9 was outposted just north of the CAM LO River. The battalion assembly area was in the vicinity of (YD 087597) 3/3, which was to follow in trace of 1/9, was preparing for relief of defensive responsibilities in the THON SON LAM area by 2/26. On the evening of 15 March, it was decided to delay the operation until 17 March in order to coordinate the timing of this operation with the employment of the SLF.

New missions were assigned to all units for the intervening time. 3/3 was to hold in place. 2/26 was to conduct a company patrol to the west of the THON SON LAM position along the KHE GIANG THOAN and the SUOI TIEN HIEN Rivers west to grid line 90 and north to grid line 55. 1/9 was to conduct extensive patrols north of the CAM LO River between grid lines 05 and 11. 3/9, which had been the reserve battalion for the forthcoming operations, was to conduct a company sweep to the southeast of the D-5 Outpost, centered along the road running east from Route 558. Fire Support for this company-sized operation was to be provided by 2 155mm howitzers from M/4/12 displacing to a firing position just south of D-5. The 3/9 company sweep was to continue until 18 March; all other activities were to be terminated with the continuation of the multi-battalion operation on 17 March.

At 160730H, 1/9 commenced its assigned patrols. At 161000H, 1/3/9, designated for the company sweep southeast of D-5, commenced movement to the objective area. At 161200H, 2/26 commenced its assigned patrols, however, the 2/26 company sized patrol was shortened because of the time factor. The only contact of the day was encountered by 1/3/9 and resulted in 1 enemy KIA (conf).

On the afternoon of 16 March, patrolling units at KHE SANH encountered heavy enemy contact, as did relief elements. As a result, 1/3/3, originally assigned to participate in the multi-battalion operation, was placed on an alert status for movement to KHE SANH. All other units concerned made preparations for continuation of the multi-battalion operation on 17 March. 2/26 was also to continue patrolling to the west and send out an additional patrol to the west of the "RAZORBACK".

At 170700H, 1/9 commenced movement northwest toward "HELICOPTER" Valley. At 171445H, 3/3, after being relieved by 2/26, commenced movement for the assembly area in the vicinity of the one previously occupied by 1/9. At approximately the same time, I/3/3 commenced helilift to KHE SANH and chopped to SOF KHE SANH. The I/3/3 helilift was completed at 171730H. Only 1/9 made light contact during the day.

1/9 set up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 058634) with one company to the west. 3/3 set up nighttime positions with the command group and Companies K and L in the vicinity of (YD 094585). Intentions for 18 March were to have 1/9 continue movement northwest and 3/3 commence movement into the objective area. 2/26 was to move a company north with direct fire weapons (tanks, ontos, and dual 40mm's) and be in position by 181000H.

At 180800H, 3/3 commenced movement across the CAM LO River. 3/3 was ordered to search out the area on the northern bank of the CAM LO River and link up with a recon patrol in contact to the northeast. The link up was completed by 1210H and the patrol was extracted to the south. 3/3 set up nighttime positions for the two companies north of the river, while the command group and security remained south of the river. At 0830H, G/2/26 departed the 2/26 primary position with direct fire weapons to establish a fire support position to the south. The units were in place in the vicinity of (XD 978588) by mid-morning. At 0837H, 1/9 commenced movement of its elements to the north and west to recon in force the surrounding areas. 1/9 moved to nighttime positions 1000 meters west of the positions held on 17 March and set up in the vicinity of (YD 046635). I/3/9 was helilifted back to Camp CARROLL on the afternoon of 18 March. There was no contact on 18 March. At 182400H, Operation PRAIRIE II concluded, and Operation PRAIRIE III commenced, as the 3d Marines continued with its multi-battalion operation north of DONG HA Mountain.

Intentions for 19 March remained the same for the operating units. All 3/3 units moved across the CAM LO River on the morning of 19 March and commenced searching out the area in the vicinity of (YD 0861). At midday, K/3/3 located a large enemy rocket site (YD 072618), presumably one of those used to attack Camp CARROLL on the night of 6-7 March. At 191440H, I/3/3 commenced helilifting from KHE SANH to the 3/3 primary position, its security mission at KHE SANH completed. The company arrived at 191552H and chopped back to 3/3; whereupon they were committed to the operation. I/3/3 moved by truck to the operating area and set up nighttime positions at (YD 095583) to the south of the CAM LO River. The remainder of the battalion remained to the north of the river.

1/9 units again searched to the west and north of their positions during the day, returning to the same nighttime positions that had been occupied on the previous night (YD 046636). At 191925H, the 1/9 position received incoming 81/82mm mortar rounds. Approximately 85-90 rounds fell on the position, having been fired from positions to the northwest. Countermortar fire was immediately brought to bear and succeeded in suppressing enemy fire. Marine casualties sustained were 6 KIA, 37 MIA. G/2/26 maintained its direct fire position south of

"MUTTER" Ridge on 19 March and conducted patrols to the east and north along the valley between the ridgeline and DONG HA Mountain. In addition, 2/26 conducted patrols to the west of the "RAZORBACK". Missions remained the same for units on 20 March, except that 3/3 was to continue to search out the area in which the rocket site had been located on 19 March, and to provide security for an EOD team which was to inspect the rocket site and blow duds.

On 20 March, 3/3 continued to search out the area for rocket sites, and 1/9 conducted heavy patrol activities north and west of its nighttime positions. On the afternoon of 20 March, plans were laid for the following two days. 1/9 was to relieve 3/3 of its search mission in the vicinity of the rocket site. In addition, the battalion was to search out the stream bed area known as KHE MAI (vic YD 065605) and move into an assembly area in grid square (YD 0956) in preparation for a helolift to the north on 22 or 23 March. 3/3, upon relief by 1/9, was to move to an assembly area to the east for the night and be prepared to attack north on 22 March following the trace of grid line 10. In accordance with these plans, 1/9 moved southeast, linking up with 3/3 and assuming its mission on the evening of 20 March. Nighttime positions were set up in the vicinity of (YD 053620). 3/3, upon relief by 1/9, moved to the vicinity of (YD 085598) and set up nighttime positions. G/2/26 was withdrawn from its direct fire position to the south and remained for the night at the permanent position at the northern base of the "ROCKFILE".

On the morning of 21 March, 3/3 was ordered to commence its sweep north along grid line 10 on the same day. The 3/3 area was bounded on the west by grid line YD 08, on the east by the road from CAM LO to PHU AN (vic grid line YD 13), and on the north by the road just south of grid line YD 69. 3/3 was to cover thoroughly the area 1500 meters to either side of the YD 10 grid line. On the afternoon of 21 March, 3/3 moved east to carry out its assigned mission and set up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 096610). 3/3 experienced the only contact on 21 March; however, the enemy broke contact immediately.

1/9 continued with its previously assigned mission, moving into the assigned assembly area at (YD 086590), south of the river, for its nighttime position. G/2/26 resumed its direct fire position at (XD 978583) on 21 March. On the morning of 21 March, M/3/9 was assigned a two day search and destroy mission in the vicinity of (YD 164619) as the result of aerial photo intelligence locating an enemy rocket site in that area. The company moved into the area by vehicle from Camp CARROLL and set up nighttime positions at (YD 146615).

On 22 March, 3/3 moved north along its axis of advance through thick terrain. Movement was exceedingly slow and nighttime positions were set up at (XD 992591) with the leading units setting in as far north as (YD 115640). 1/9 continued with assigned patrol activities. G/2/26 conducted a company-sized patrol activity along the valley between "MUTTER" Ridge and DONG HA Mountain. M/3/9 completed its search and destroy mission with negative results and returned to Camp CARROLL.

arriving at 221557H. Although a number of enemy fighting positions and camp sites had been discovered, there had been no firm contact with the enemy, except for the mortar attack on 1/9, since the commencement of the operation.

Plans for 23 March called for 1/9 to be helilifted to the vicinity of CON THIEN (GS 1069) to influence the action of the Special Landing Force (1/4) which had landed on the coast and was advancing inland to the west. 3/3 was to continue its advance north in coordination with the helilift of 1/9.

On 23 March, as 3/3 advanced north, contact with the enemy was made on several occasions, resulting in 1 KIA (conf) and 11 KIA (prob). The enemy broke contact to the north. 3/3 set up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 108658). On the afternoon of 23 March, it was decided to alter the scheme of maneuver and move 1/9 to the eastern flank of 3/3 by vehicle along Route 76. Both units were to move north abreast on the 24th, with the YD 69 grid line as the eventual limit of advance. In addition, F/2/12, which had been supporting the operation from CAN LO; was to displace north to a forward artillery position at (YD 143616), with security being provided by a provisional company formed from the 3d Marines and HQ, 12th Marines. The scheme of maneuver was still concerned with influencing the action of the SLF.

1/9 commenced movement by vehicle at 231553H to the forward artillery position at which the unit dismounted and proceeded north along Route 76 by foot. 1/9 set up nighttime positions at (YD 147625) with one company to the north. 3/3 set up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 108658). G/2/24 continued its company sized patrol in the valley south of "MUTTER" Ridge (vic XD 995584). At 240815H, 1/9 commenced movement north. During the morning and afternoon, the battalion engaged in heavy fire fights with enemy troops in well entrenched positions at several locations. The action took place in the vicinity of PHU AN (YD 134673). Results of the day's contact by 1/9 were 7 friendly KIA and 57 WIA; with 23 KIA (conf) and 43 KIA (prob) inflicted on the enemy. 1/9 set up nighttime positions to the south of PHU AN at (YD 142658).

At 240830H, 3/3 commenced movement north. At 0945H the command group and L/3/3 came under mortar attack, receiving approximately 33 rounds of 81/82mm mortar fire. The attack was suppressed after countermortar fire was delivered. Friendly casualties sustained were 3 KIA and 17 WIA. During the afternoon, 3/3 also came in contact with the enemy. The enemy was located in entrenched positions in the hamlets of TAN HOA and AN HOA and employed small arms and 60mm mortars. The enemy, however, broke contact on each occasion. Total friendly casualties sustained by 3/3 were 7 KIA and 25 WIA; casualties inflicted on the enemy were 37 KIA (conf) and 17 KIA (prob). 3/3 set up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 114676).

G/2/24 returned to its battalion position south of THON SON LAM on 24 March.

On 25 March, 3/3 continued the attack in the vicinity of of TAN HOA and AN HOA Hamlets (YD 115675). The battalion encountered resistance throughout the day, including five separate mortar attacks. By the end of the day, the battalion had approached the limit of advance and set up nighttime positions at (YD 113686) with elements remaining to the south to continue operating in that area.

During 25 March, 1/9 continued its attack on PHU AN. Moving up flame and gun tanks in the morning, the battalion assaulted through the village in the afternoon after thorough preparation fires by supporting arms. Only rear guard action was encountered; however, 10 additional enemy bodies were discovered, a PW (NVA) was taken, and numerous items of equipment were captured. 1/9 again withdrew to the south to set up nighttime positions with companies outposted north of the hamlet.

On 26 March, 3/3 moved northwest from positions on the preceding day to the vicinity of (YD 124689) where nighttime were set up. Just prior to midnight the battalion came under two mortar attacks receiving an aggregate total of 218 81/82mm mortar rounds. Marine casualties were 1 KIA and 6 WIA. 1/9 moved northwest on 26 March, setting up nighttime positions in PHU AN with companies outposted at (YD 143696) and (YD 148693). The battalion had only minor contact on 26 March.

On 27 March, 3/3 proceeded north of CON THIEN to operate in that area. 1/9 drew back to the south of PHU AN in preparation for withdrawing on the following day. Plans for 28 March were to terminate the operation by moving the two battalions south to the forward artillery position at (YD 143616) for pick up by truck.

At 260910H, 1/9 arrived at the pickup point; at 1100H the battalion arrived at Camp CARROLL to relieve 3/9. By 1300H all 3/3 units had arrived at the pickup point and commenced motor march to the THON SON LINH position, arriving there at 1545H terminating the operation. Friendly casualties for the operation were 28 KIA, 176 WIA. Enemy casualties were 93 KIA (conf), 71 KIA (prob), 2 PW (NVA), in addition to numerous items of captured equipment.

At 260800H, the 3d Marines assumed operational control of Operation BEACON HILL being conducted by 1/4. The BLT had landed on the coast and moved inland to positions west of GIO LINH and Route 1. For the purpose of coordination of the battalions operating in this area, 3d Marines was in the best position to control 1/4 effectively. On 26 March, 1/4 continued west with the lead elements reaching (YD 117722); the command group remained in the vicinity of GIO LINH for the night. During the day's activities, the lead company made contact with the enemy during the afternoon, and in the evening a medevac chopper was shot down trying to evacuate wounded from the day's contact.

On 27 March, 1/4 continued to operate in the vicinity of the previous day's activity completing the seizure of Objective A and 4. On 28 March, the battalion pulled back to the vicinity of GIO LINH. On 29 March, 1/4 detached B/1/4 to provide security for G/2/12 which had set up a forward artillery position between GIO LINH and DONG HA on Route 1. A/1/4 conducted a combined sweep with ARVN forces along the coast. The remaining two companies operated in the vicinity of GIO LINH. On 31 March, 1/4 was alerted for a helilift to the vicinity of CON THIEN to set up a blocking position for 3d Marines forces operating to the south. The command group and Companies A, C, and D were lifted into the area on the afternoon of 31 March and set up blocking positions along the road just south of grid line to the south of CON THIEN. Total friendly casualties for Operation BEACON HILL to 312400H were 33 KIA and 241 KIA WIA. Casualties inflicted upon the enemy were 351 KIA (conf), 651 KIA (prob), 1 PW (VC) and 1 PW (NVA). However, most of the contact occurred prior to the 3d Marines assumption of operational control at 260800H.

On 28 March, as 1/9 and 3/3 came out of the field, plans had been made to replace them in the field with 3/9. The battalion was to be relieved of responsibility for the defense of Camp CARROLL by 1/9 and move into the operating area by motor march. The area was bounded on the north by the road south of grid line 69, on the east by the road in the vicinity of grid line 13, and on the west by grid line 08. 3/4 was to be operating to the east under the operational control of Division Forward, and 1/4 was to operate to the north continuing with Operation BEACON HILL. 3/9's activities were to consist primarily of night ambushes.

At 280900H, E/2/26 chopped to 3/9 to participate in the operation. By 1835H, the command group, I and M/3/9, and E/2/26 had arrived in the operating area. The battalion set up nighttime ambush positions in the vicinity (YD 101630).

E/2/26 moved to nighttime positions at (YD 138615) in preparation for movement to the 2/26 command post at THON SON LAM on the following day. 2/26 was to depart for DA NANG on 30 March. At 301005H, E/2/26 departed for THON SON LAM by motor march and chopped to 2/26 at 1040H. At 301430H, the lead elements of 2/26 departed for DONG HA and the battalion chopped to 3dMarDiv(Fwd). On 30 March, 3/9 moved north in preparation for night ambush positions. On the afternoon of 30 March, M/3/9 made contact with an enemy unit of undetermined size. The enemy broke contact, fleeing east; while in pursuit, M/3/9 succeeded in killing 4 enemy (conf). At 301800H, I/3/9 reported receiving mortar fire in the vicinity of (YD - 104654). In the resulting action, the enemy walked mortars across the I/3/9 command group and second platoon, then assaulted twice, succeeding in overrunning the position on the second attempt. The first and third platoons, upon learning of the action, moved to assist the remainder of the company and were ambushed by the enemy from a hasty ambush position as they moved into the area. With the arrival of UH1E Gunships, the company succeeded in driving off the enemy. Total friendly casualties for the incident were 15 KIA, including the company commander, the executive officer and the battalion air officer, and 47 WIA. Reported enemy casualties were 41 KIA (conf) and 35 KIA (prob); however, additional bodies were found in the battle area for several days thereafter.

As a result of the fierceness of this encounter, 3/4 (command group and K and L/3/4) operating to the west was chopped to 3d Marines, to be moved west to assist 3/9 if necessary. In addition, L/3/3 was designated to join 3/9 and moved by convoy from the 3/3 position at THON SON LAM into the operating area, arriving in the vicinity of (YD 141631) at 3010050H. L/3/3 chopped to 3/9 at 310200H. L/3/3 was to link up with 3/9 in the following morning.

The scheme of maneuver for 31 March, was for 3/4 to sweep THON BAI AN (YD 119669) to the north of the battle area. 3/9 was to search out the battle area, and to the northwest. 1/4, conducting Operation BEACON HILL, was to be lifted to CON THIEN to set up blocking positions on the road south of the 69 grid line.

Units proceeded with their assigned missions on 31 March. 3/9 set up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 102658). 3/4 swept through its objective and set up nighttime positions at (YD 118668). 1/4 completed its helilift and moved into its assigned blocking positions for the night. As March ended, the operation was still continuing. Enemy casualties for the 3/9 operation up to the end of March were 53 KIA (conf), 41 KIA (prob), and 2 PW (NVA).

Total enemy casualties during March for Operation PRAIRIE II and III were: 503 KIA (conf), 239 KIA (prob), 15 PW (NVA), 1 PW (VC). Total friendly casualties for March for Operation PRAIRIE II and III were: 94 KIA, 390 WIA (USMC), 7 WIA (USA).

In the field of logistics, three major operations occurred during March. From 1-3 March, 2d Bn, 3d Marines was relieved by 3d Bn, 9th Marines. In addition to the movement of men and supplies, this transfer of responsibility included the orderly and efficient exchange of Class II encampment and garrison items and Class I and V items on hand. Secondly, during March, 11th Engineers completed work on the section of Route 9 between CA LU and KHE SANH. This effort represented the largest single activity undertaken by the engineers within the 3d Marines area of operations and required security support of two platoons from the CA LU Outpost. As a result of the completion and opening of Route 9 to KHE SANH, a ROUGH RIDER carrying supplies and equipment was run down Route 9 to KHE SANH. 3d Marines controlled the convoy during the period it was within the area of operations. In addition to these three logistics efforts, 3d Marines conducted 21 vehicular tactical troop movements, transporting troops to and from the battle area.

Major efforts at Camp CARROLL as a result of the mortar attack on 6-7 March were made to fortify with bunker material or sandbags the entire cantonment area. Five COC bunkers were delivered to major unit commands within the camp, after they had been on order since October 1966. Fighting holes, which did not already possess overhead cover, were provided such cover. Protective holes within all living areas were completed, and the damage suffered from the mortar attack was repaired primarily by second echelon maintenance.

The Civil Affairs program within the area of operations continued in an orderly fashion, somewhat limited by the heavy operational commitments of the infantry units. A CAC unit formed from 3d Marines assets has undertaken an active patrolling role in the CUA Valley area in an effort to become acquainted with the people with which and the area in which the CAC unit will be operating. At the end of March a major assistance effort was undertaken in the CUA Valley to aid the people of CAM NEGIA whose village had been ravaged by fire. Food, clothing and building materials were afforded the people as part of the assistance program.

Psychological Operations during March primarily emphasized the aircraft drop method of distributing propaganda leaflets both to the enemy and the civilian population. In addition, portable speakers were employed to broadcast messages to the enemy during operations in attempts to bring in ralliers. Broadcasts were also made to the civilian populations in CAM LO and CUA Valley emphasizing support for the government.

As the month drew to a close, operations north of CAM LO continued to require the maximum emphasis and effort from the 3d Marines. Other programs will remain secondary until this effort is resolved or stabilized.

B. Significant Operations Conducted.

(1) 27 February - 6 March 1967

On the morning of 27 February, a reconnaissance patrol, in the process of moving by foot into its assigned recon area, sighted four NVAs northwest of CAM LO. Setting up a hasty ambush, the patrol subsequently discovered that it was in contact with a much larger force, an estimated 100 NVA. The recon patrol broke contact and went under cover. L/3/4 (-) and a platoon of tanks, on a patrol mission north of CAM LO were ordered to proceed west to the vicinity of the recon unit. Progress, however was slow, as the relief elements moved through heavy brush on the north bank of the CAM LO River. Division Forward sought other means to reinforce the engaged patrol. A relief force from 3d Marines was requested; and, in accordance with regimental contingency plans, a company size force was deployed to link up with the recon patrol and exploit the contact. Company G, 2/3 was designated as the relief unit at 271225H and commenced movement at 271335H from Camp CARROLL to a point northwest of CAM LO on the southern side of Hill 124 (YD 075623), where the recon patrol was then located.

At approximately the same time that G/2/3 departed from Camp CARROLL, L/3/4 made contact with a large sized enemy force east of the engaged recon unit and almost directly north of CAM LO. After a heavy fire fight in which L/3/4 suffered light casualties while killing three enemy (conf), that company and the tanks commenced movement again toward the recon patrol, however the tanks were unable to proceed much further due to the densely foliated terrain. At 271610H, 2/3 assumed OPCON of L/3/4 and the tanks and ordered them to set up night time positions at the point of furthest penetration westward (YD 102616). It was planned that G/2/3 would link up with the recon team and then move to the L/3/4 perimeter for the night.

After moving across the CAM LO River, G/2/3 found the terrain difficult to negotiate while moving north toward the recon patrol and did not link up until 272342H. Because of the time, plans for G/2/3 and recon to link up with L/3/4 during the night were cancelled, and the company set up nighttime positions with recon.

It was also decided on the night of 27 February to commit another company and the battalion command group from 2/3 on the following morning, to conduct a search and destroy operation in the area of contact. It was further planned that L/3/4 and the tanks were to return to 3/4 via CAM LO when relieved by elements of 2/3 on 28 February.

At 280630H, L/3/4 came under enemy small arms fire and 60mm and 81/82mm mortar attack in its nighttime position. In addition to the casualties suffered by L/3/4, two of the tanks were damaged by enemy fire. One of the two damaged tanks was unable to move as a result of a hit received from a rocket-propelled grenade, though it was still capable of firing. Counter-mortar fire was returned by artillery and by the weapons within L/3/4's perimeter. Enemy fire was suppressed after L/3/4 had received approximately 150 incoming rounds. Again at 280710H, L/3/4 came under attack, receiving a total of 70 additional rounds. In conjunction with the latter mortar attack, L/3/4's lines were also probed. Enemy efforts ceased on every occasion only after heavy countermortar fire. Friendly casualties were 3 KIA and 18 WIA for the three attacks; enemy casualties were 15 KIA (prob).

As a result of these three attacks, the fresh 2/3 units were ordered to link up with L/3/4, instead of G/2/3 as originally planned on the preceding night, until the situation was stabilized. Furthermore, L/3/4 was to be joined by its remaining platoon, which had been left in CAM LO, and by a heavy section of tanks for the purpose of extracting the two damaged tanks as soon as the situation permitted. G/2/3 was ordered to move north to Hill 124, search out the area, and set up blocking positions toward which 2/3 was to move after linking up with L/3/4. By 281025H, the 2/3 command group and Company F, after fording the CAM LO River, had linked up with L/3/4. Events, however, had already begun to alter the picture.

At 280955H, G/2/3 received small arms fire while moving north to Hill 124. The enemy, however, broke contact and fled to the north immediately after the company returned fire. Continuing north, G/2/3 was again taken under fire at 281030H, this time by enemy troops in well-camouflaged defensive positions. As the company moved forward, enemy resistance stiffened. The company had to withdraw under fire in order to call in supporting arms to neutralize the resistance. The company suffered 7 KIA, including the company commander, and 18 WIA as a result of this engagement. Many of the casualties were suffered during repeated attempts to recover those casualties taken initially. Supporting arms were called in, while the casualties were recovered and med-evaced.

During late morning on the 28th, it was decided to commit another company to the north of Hill 124 to cut off any enemy withdrawing from G/2/3's contact and to relieve pressure on the engaged company. M/3/4 was designated as the unit to be committed and was to be helilifted to Hill 162 (YD 070635). Commencing at 281338H, M/3/4 chopped to 2/3 and was lifted into the operating area. The lift was completed by 281404H. Although no enemy resistance was encountered in the landing zone, several mines/booby traps were detonated, resulting in 1 KIA and 11 WIA. M/3/4 then began movement south toward Hill 124 and G/2/3.

During the early afternoon of the 28th, 2/3 reported sporadic contact in the vicinity of L/3/4's position. In addition, L/3/4's third platoon arrived with the heavy section of tanks to extract the two damaged tanks. Plans called for L/3/4 and the tanks to retire from that area later that day.

At approximately 281430H, the 2/3 command group and F/2/3 commenced movement to link up with G/2/3 in order to prosecute the action in that area and continue the operation. However, after moving approximately 400 meters northeast of their starting point and previous positions, these units were engaged by heavy enemy small arms fire and 60mm mortar fire from three sides. Company F and the command group suffered numerous casualties during the initial encounter and while withdrawing to call in supporting arms.

Included among the initial casualties was the Battalion Commander, Lieutenant Colonel V. OHLNESIAN, who was mortally wounded. After LtCol OHLNESIAN suffered his initial wounds, the command of the battalion passed to the S-3 Major R. F. SHERIDAN, who was also wounded. A withdrawal was completed back to the former position where L/3/4 and the tanks were still located, and artillery was called in all around the position.

The Regimental Commander, Colonel J. P. L. NIGAN, upon learning of the casualties suffered within the 2/3 command group, at 1630H ordered Lieutenant Colonel E. R. DELONG, then Regimental Executive Officer, to proceed to the 2/3 command group and take command. In addition, the operation being conducted by 3/3 in the vicinity of the "R. ZOMB. CK" was terminated, and 3/3 was alerted for commitment to the operation. F/2/9, which was in DONG HA as a result of a ROUGH RIDER that day, was committed also. F/2/9, chopped to 2/3 at 281730H and moved by truck from DONG HA to CAM LO. LtCol DELONG, after failing in an attempt to reach 2/3 by helo because of incoming mortar rounds and small arms fire in the landing zone landed near CAM LO and linked up with F/2/9, to move in by foot with that unit to the 2/3 position.

The 2/3 elements and L/3/4 continued to receive mortar fire sporadically for the remainder of the afternoon. Late in the day, as attempts were made to bring in med-evac helicopters, enemy fire increased, forcing the helicopters away from the LZ, thus preventing the evacuation of dead and wounded. Enemy troops also probed the perimeter and made several grenade attacks during this time. Contact ceased about 281930H.

At 281835H, 3/3, having been committed, moved out with a command group and Companies I and L for positions north and east of 2/3. By 282345H, all units arrived at positions north of CAM LO along the road leading north from the CAM LO Bridge. Movement by foot then commenced into the objective area and was completed by 010230H March.

That night, F/2/9 and the new Battalion Commander of 2/3 moved by foot across the CAM LO River and north to link up with 2/3. At 010340H this movement was completed, and 2/3 completed consolidation of its nighttime position. G/2/3 and M/3/4, which had been unable to link up during the day, were both ordered to proceed separately to 2/3's main position on the evening of 28 February; however, due to the distance and terrain, they were ordered to secure nighttime positions in their separate locations and complete the link up on 1 March.

On 1 March, 2/3 passed the entire day in position with the new CO reorganizing the battalion, compiling accurate friendly and enemy casualty reports, consolidating Companies G/2/3 and M/3/4, and med-evacating previously inflicted casualties. Med-evac of the casualties was commenced at 010700H and completed at 0745H. M/3/4 arrived at 010945H; G/2/3 arrived at approximately 1150H. F/2/9 linked up with two squads from F/2/3 which had been separated from the main body and spent the night on Hill 84 (YD 092618), searched out the area, and returned to 2/3's primary position by 011300H. L/3/4 moved into the area in which the main elements of 2/3 had been ambushed on the preceding day and recovered the bodies of two friendly KIA's at 011400H.

In addition, the area surrounding 2/3's primary position was thoroughly searched and the position expanded with company and platoon outposts on surrounding key terrain features.

At 011405H, F/2/9 commenced movement to C&M LO for return to 2/9. The situation had stabilized sufficiently to allow the withdrawal of this company, and at 011537H F/2/9 arrived in the vicinity of C&M LO Bridge and chopped to 2/9. M/3/4 was designated to move to support 3/3 to the north, and at 011622H chopped to 3/3 and commenced movement by foot. However, after proceeding approximately 500 meters, M/3/4 encountered several enemy in the area and became engaged in a fire fight. At 011707H, M/3/4 chopped back to 2/3, which was better able to support the company. The company returned to 2/3's primary position after pursuing the contact and set up nighttime positions in the area. During the night of 1-2 March, 2/3 made contact with the enemy on two occasions inflicting 10 KIA (C) and 21 KIA (P) on enemy units.

3/3 having arrived in the objective area at 010230H, commenced a sweep to the southwest at 010920H. On 1 March, 3/3 made contact with NVN units on two separate occasions while moving west. At 011840H 1/3/3 captured one enemy carrying a radio; the man and the radio were evacuated to ITT. 3/3 set up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 103630). By this time the scheme of maneuver had changed.

On the morning of 1 March, as a result of increased contact and sightings made on the previous day and because of the necessity of withdrawing 2/3 for its scheduled rotation to Okinawa, it was decided to commit another battalion to the operation. To provide adequate fire support to units who were now at the maximum range of 105mm howitzer support from Camp CARROLL, A/1/40 was moved from DONG HA to a position in the (YD 0657) grid square. At 011500H 1/9 arrived in DONG HA from PHU BAI, having been designated as the battalion to be committed. At 011555H the first wave of 1/9 touched down on Hill 162 (YD 070635), and the battalion chopped to 3d Marines. The helolift was completed by 011832H, and 1/9 set up nighttime positions in that vicinity.

The new scheme of maneuver envisioned 1/9 and 3/3 moving north along parallel axes to seize Objectives 1-5 (085633, 100665 for 3/3); (050636, 070657, 080665 for 1/9). 2/3 was to return to its rear at Camp CARROLL on 2 March for rotation to Okinawa. M/3/4, which had been scheduled to chop to 3/3 late on 1 March but had returned to 2/3 because of enemy activity enroute, was to be helolifted to 3/3 on the morning of 2 March. L/3/4 and the tanks were to return to C&M LO with the disabled tank on 2 March. ARVN Ranger units were to be moved into blocking positions to the north of the two attacking battalions.

On the morning of 2 March, Division Forward and 3d Marines requested that 2/3 be allowed to remain in the operation area for an additional two days to continue the operation rather than depart for Okinawa. Division and higher headquarters approved the request and 2/3 set out to the west toward Hill 124 to recover the bodies of two Marines believed to be left in that area from G/2/3's contact on 28 Feb and to search out that area.

M/3/4 was to remain with 2/3 for this movement. L/3/4 commenced movement with tanks for the C&M LO Bridge at 020800H and arrived at 021230H, chopping to 3/4 at that time. At noon on 2 March, it was decided that M/3/4 could be better employed by 3/3 rather than 2/3, and the company was helilifted to positions in the vicinity of the 3/3 CP. At 021310H the helilift commenced and M/3/4 chopped to 3/3. 2/3 was then given the abbreviated mission of recovering the two bodies and searching out the area south of Hill 124. The battalion was to return to Camp CARROLL at the completion of this mission to allow enough lead time for proper preparation for rotation to Okinawa. At 021815H 2/3 recovered the two bodies that had been left in the area of G/2/3's firefight on 28 Feb and movement commenced shortly thereafter to C&M LO for pickup by trucks and movement to Camp CARROLL. 2/3 arrived at C&M LO at 030205H and boarded trucks and the battalion arrived at Camp CARROLL at 030305H terminating its portion of the operation.

On the morning of 2 March 3/3 set out for Objective 1 (YD 085633) with I/3/3 in the lead. About midday I/3/3 made contact with enemy forces at two separate locations to the east of Objective 1. 3/3 continued on to seize Objective 1. During the course of the afternoon the objective was taken and 3/3 swung north toward Objective 2 (YD 100665) with I/3/3 in the lead. Contact continued during the course of the day with I/3/3 encountering most of the resistance during the afternoon. On the evening of 2 March, I/3/3 received an estimated 75 81/82mm mortar rounds at 1720H, this attack was followed by another at 1730H and another at 1820H. The latter attack also included small arms fire. There were a total of 13 KL and 12 WL from these three attacks. 3/3 set up night positions south of Objective 2. During the night I/3/3 received an additional 25 rounds of 81/82mm mortar fire at 030445H in their nighttime position.

At 020745H L/1/9, prior to moving out in accordance with the days planned operations, received approximately 70 60mm mortar rounds from the northwest. Fire was returned with 60mm mortars and 155mm howitzers causing the enemy fire to cease. The attack resulted in 2 friendly WL. At 020805H L/1/9 commenced movement to the north toward Objective 4 (YD 070657).

At 021240H the L/1/9 command group and C/1/9 received 20 rounds of 81/82mm mortar fire at 021340H 24 additional mortar rounds were received. On the afternoon of 2 March Objective 4 was seized and nighttime positions were set up in that area. Again that evening at 021915H the L/1/9 CP was hit by mortar fire, receiving 20 81/82mm rounds. At 030425H the L/1/9 CP received another 21 incoming rounds.

On 3 March 3/3 moved north toward Objective 2 (YD 100665) arriving at positions just to the south of it during the night. During the course of the day only sporadic contact was encountered. At 031900H, however, I/3/3 received an estimated 10 rounds of mortar fire as well as sniper fire. Fire was returned resulting in 12 enemy KL (C). The incident occurred at (YD 109659). L/3/3 set up nighttime positions to the south of the objective. Nighttime contact was minimal.

On 3 March 1/9 moved north from Objective 4 (YD 070657) to Objective 5 (YD 080665) encountering enemy units throughout the day. At 030720H on 4 March 1/9 sighted three groups of approximately 250 enemy troops each in the area in which 1/9 was operating (YD 055668, 071668, 083662). Artillery and air were called in. 1/9 subsequently conducted a sweep of the area discovering enemy dead and making contact with small groups (up to 30-40) of enemy trying to flee the area. Numerous enemy were killed as a result. During the afternoon and evening the 1/9 command group was mortared three times with a total of 180 rounds received, resulting in 1 KIA and 23 W/L. 1/9 was mortared during the day also. Nighttime positions were set up to the west of Objective 5. 1/9 had one probing incident during the night.

During the course of the day a helicopter was shot down at (YD 089-665) and a platoon from C/1/9 was moved into the area to protect the downed helicopter after the crew and passengers had been extracted.

On the night of 3 March plans were made for the following two days. Commencing 4 March, 1/9 was to continue northeast through Objective 5 to Objective 6 (YD 095683) then east to intermediate Objective 4 THON TRUNG AN (YD 121683), then on to Objective 7 PHU PHUONG (YD 148681), then southeast to the final objective at (YD 165641), returning to DONG HA on order. 3/3 was to continue through Objective 2 swinging east to the vicinity of (YD 110-665), then sweeping southwest to (YD 088627), then southeast to (YD 119611). The 39th Ranger Battalion was to screen to the north and east along the exposed flank of 1/9. All movement of Marine units was contingent upon the extraction of the downed helicopter on 4 March.

The helicopter was lifted out at 041200H, and the battalion commenced the attack at 1230H. After seizing Objective 5, 1/9 commenced movement toward Objective 6 (YD 095683). At 041310H, while enroute, the battalion received 5 well placed mortar rounds within the march column. These rounds were followed shortly thereafter by an additional 150 enemy 81/82mm mortar rounds which landed beyond the march column inflicting no casualties. Air and artillery support was called in on the suspected enemy mortar positions. Total friendly casualties were 3 W/L.

Contact during the day for 1/9 was continuous but not heavy, excluding the mortar attack. At 1600H 3/3 requested that 1/9 hold in the blocking position as L/3/3 drove north after a fleeing contact. 1/9 held for 90 minutes with no contact. The battalion then moved to the western edge of intermediate Objective 4 and set up nighttime positions. Also a platoon from D/1/9 was sent to 3/3 to move two M-42 dual 40mm's and one tank back to 1/9's positions as these vehicles had been placed under the operational control of the battalion. Only two minor incidents were reported by 1/9 during the night.

On the afternoon of 4 March, after the completed seizure of Objective 2, L/3/3, which had been given the mission of moving into THON BAI Hamlet at (YD 117665), encountered heavy resistance at that location at 041500H. One tank was destroyed during this encounter by a rocket propelled grenade.

Mortar and small arms fire was received as the company swept into the village and then wheeled north to crush the enemy between the attacking forces as a hasty blocking position set up by elements of 1/9 to the north. After pursuing the enemy until contact dissipated, 1/3/3 reversed step and swept back to the south through the hamlet, setting up nighttime positions on the southern edge with 1/3/3 and the battalion command group.

N/3/4 which had replaced the platoon from C/1/9 as security for the downed helicopter remained south of the remainder of 3/3 after the aircraft had been extracted at 041200H. Night positions were set up at (YD 083644), and the company's only contact of the day occurred at 042210H when a lone NVL was killed while trying to infiltrate the perimeter.

On the afternoon of 4 March A/1/40 (USA) displaced from GS (YD 0657) to GS (YD 1359) in the vicinity of GML 10, to support the operation to the north from a closer position.

On 5 March, 1/9 encountered heavy harassing and delaying action by the enemy as it advanced east toward Regimental Objective 7 (vic YD 148681). With two companies forward, Company D to the north and Company C to the south, and Company A to the rear as security for the Command group, the battalion was continually in contact with small elements of the enemy. At 051630H, Company D encountered the heaviest contact of the day with 40-50 enemy at (YD 136673), receiving 50-60 incoming mortar (60mm) rounds in addition to heavy small arms fire. During the same period Company C, received 25 incoming 81/82mm mortar rounds. Artillery was brought to bear on the enemy and suppressed the enemy mortar fire; however, small arms fire continued. Enemy fire continued to originate from the hamlet between Company C and the remainder of the battalion and was effectively silenced only after artillery was walked into the intervening area. Medevac was unable to be completed that night, and Company D linked up with the command group and Company A to set up nighttime positions at the northern end of PHU AN. Company C spent the night at the southern end of the hamlet. Heavy defensive fires and TP's were conducted during the night and 1/9 passed the night of 5 March uneventfully.

On 5 March, 3/3 swept southwest to link up with N/3/4, which had passed the previous night in a separate position, and continued on to the vicinity of (YD 08627). The battalion then swept east to (YD 117606) where nighttime positions were set up. There was only no minor contact during the entire day and night.

Because of a boundary change with ARVN units to the east of 1/9, Regimental Objective 7 was eliminated. Also it was decided to have 3/3 seize THUAN CUAH (YD 166641) instead of 1/9. 3/3 was to be resupplied early on 6 March and provide security for the resupply column continuing on to 1/9. 1/9 was to march south to link up with the resupply column, then continue on to DOH 4 PM.

3/3 linked up with the resupply column early in the morning of 6 March and commenced movement north with resupply for 1/9 at 061100H. 1/9 swept through PHU AN while Company C blocking to the south and then moved south to link up with 3/3 for resupply. Link up was completed at 1400L, whereupon 3/3 swept southeast to seize THIEF Camp. 1/9 continued on to the GAM LO Bridge where the battalion boarded trucks and commenced movement to THIEF Camp. 1/9 chopped to Division Forward at 061850H. 3/3 completed its sweep through THIEF Camp and also moved to the GAM LO Bridge to await transportation to the battalion permanent position south of THIEF Camp. 1/9 chopped back to 3/4 at 062030H. All units had returned to their permanent positions by 062125H and the operation was terminated.

Total enemy casualties for the portion of PRAIRIE II including 27 February- 8 March, as inflicted by the 3d Marines, were 265 KL(O), 192 KL(P), 10 PW (MVA) and 1 PW (VC).

(2) 1-3 March. During the period 1-3 March 3/9 relieved 2/3 as Camp CARROLL defense battalion with responsibility for the eastern half of the 3d Marines AO. At 011730H 1/3/9 chopped to 3d Marines and assumed the defense of Outpost D-5, relieving 1/2/3. At 021710H, 1/3/9 chopped to the 3d Marines and relieved 2/3 of the responsibility for a portion of the perimeter at Camp CARROLL. At 021800H, 1/3/9 chopped to 3d Marines relieving 1/2/3 at BL IO. At 031315H, 3/9 relieved 2/3 of responsibility for the eastern half of the 3d Marines AO and as the Camp CARROLL defense battalion.

(3) 6-7 March. At 062358H March enemy units to the north commenced a mortar and rocket attack on Camp CARROLL which lasted one hour. Counter mortar fire commenced at 070005H and continued until enemy fire was suppressed. Again at 070407 Camp CARROLL was again attacked with mortars and rockets. The second attack lasted approximately thirty minutes and was again suppressed by counter mortar fire from the plateau. At 070630H the third and final attack commenced and was suppressed after approximately twenty minutes. 336 mortar/rocket rounds, by crater count, fell on the Camp during the three attacks. A total of over 5000 artillery rounds were fired in counter mortar fires. Friendly casualties were 6 KL and 41 WL, plus extensive superficial damage to tents and vehicles at the northern end of the perimeter. Only one artillery weapon, a 175mm howitzer, was damaged and that was not severe. Most of the damaged equipment was repaired by second echelon maintenance. The center of impact fell at the northern side of the perimeter.

On the morning of 7 March aerial observers to the north of DOG MOUNTAIN spotted several fleeing enemy and called in artillery strikes, resulting in several killed. The enemy were seen to be carrying rocket tubes. During the day, patrols were conducted to the south of GAM LO River, and the southern slope of the DOG MOUNTAIN/DOG MOUNTAIN complex was covered with heavy direct fire brought to bear by tanks, ontos, dual 40mm's and quad 50's as it was again on 8 March. In addition, at 071750H, 1/3/4 chopped to the 3d Marines to provide additional security for Camp CARROLL during the absence of 3/9, which had been chopped to Division Forward. Plans were also made to conduct an operation north of the CAM LO River in the vicinity of the enemy mortar sites to destroy them and prevent the enemy from reoccupying the area. In the meantime, Camp CARROLL commenced repairing the damage.

(4) 8-13 March. In response to the mortar attack on Camp CARROLL, M/3/3 commenced a systemized search of the area to the west of DONG HA Mountain in the valley just south of "MUTTER" Ridge. This company-sized patrol base was to be coordinated with the battalion-sized operation to the east; however, the latter operation was delayed several days as more forces were made available. On 8 March, direct fire weapons again hammered the southern slopes of the DONG HA/DONG MA Mountain complex in order to prevent enemy units from moving into possible mortar positions prior to nightfall. Extensive H&I's were conducted throughout the night.

At 081300H, 3d Marines assumed operational control of 2/26 which had been moved into the FRAIRIE area from DA NANG. 2/26 set up a base camp south of the CAM LO River (vic YD 085575) in preparation for the operation to the north.

At 091121H, the 3/9 command group and Companies L and M returned to the CFCOM of 3d Marines from Division Forward, and K/3/4 returned to 3/4. The scheme of maneuver now evolved into a two battalion operation with M/3/3 operating in conjunction to the west. With Companies I and M, the 3/9 command group was to operate in the DONG HA/DONG MA Mountain complex north to grid line 62. 3/9 was to commence from the east and sweep in a western direction along the southern ridgeline, then moved north over the top of DONG HA and back in an eastern direction along the northern ridgeline. With Companies E, G, and H, the 2/26 command group was to move north across the CAM LO River to seize Objective 1 (vic YD 100625) and 2 (vic YD 105645) and move to a blocking position farther north (YD 095673 to YD 116662) to support an ARVN airborne sweep west from vicinity Route 1. Movement was to commence on 10 March. M/3/3 was to approach DONG HA Mountain from the west then swing south to the CAM LO River, then east again along the northern bank.

At 100830H March, 2/26, after outposting a company on the northern bank of the CAM LO River on the preceding day, commenced movement north into its assigned operating area. At 100930H, 3/9 commenced movement from Camp CARROLL into its assigned operating area. M/3/3 had already been inserted into its operating area on 8 March and had been conducting heavy patrolling activities in the area. In support of the operation, F/2/12 displaced from DONG HA to CAM LO on 10 March to provide artillery support.

On 10 March, operating units had no contact. G/2/26 seized Objective 1 on the afternoon of 10 March. That evening it was decided that 3/4, which had been operating to the east of 2/26, would be chopped to the 3d Marines from Division Forward on the following day and continue operations in conjunction with 2/26. 3/4 was to move from its previously held position on Route 76 leading north from CAM LO to an objective and blocking position located in the vicinity of (YD 155680). 2/26 had its blocking position modified and shifted to a final objective and blocking position in the vicinity of (YD 113675). 3/4 was to hold up at its nighttime position of 10 March until 2/26 moved abreast, then both units were to advance north on line toward their final objectives/blocking positions. Both 3/4 and 2/26 were to hold in their blocking positions while ARVN airborne units sweep west across their fronts. 3/9 and M/3/3 were to continue their previously assigned missions.

At 010800H March, the 3d Marines assumed OFCON of 3/4. All units except 3/4 commenced movement. M/3/3 during the day advanced half-way up the western slope of DONG HA Mountain then turned south toward the CAM LO River, setting up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 008572). 3/9 continued its advance toward the top of DONG HA Mountain from the east and set up nighttime positions at (YD 025585). 2/26 in addition to moving north, left E/2/26 in the vicinity of (YD 104615) to destroy a bunker complex in that area. The remainder of the battalion moved north and Objective 2 was seized by the lead elements that afternoon, with nighttime positions being set up in that vicinity. 3/4 commenced movement on its final objective at 110915H, as 2/26 units encountered slow progress in the rough terrain to the east. 3/4 was the only unit which made contact on 11 March; however, on the two occasions in which contact was made, the enemy fled immediately thereafter. 3/4 reached its final objective on the evening of 11 March and entered with no resistance, setting up nighttime positions there. That night, 3/4 had the only contact in a brief fire fight at 120513H which resulted in 5 enemy KIA (C) and 1 KIA (F), while 3/4 sustained 1 KIA and 1 WIA.

On 12 March, all units except 3/4 continued movement. M/3/3 moved east along the northern bank of the CAM LO River to (YD 055570), where nighttime positions were established. 3/9 moved over the top of DONG HA Mountain and swung back to the east along the northern running ridgeline, setting up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 039608). 2/26 moved north on its final objective. E/2/26, which had remained to the south to destroy an enemy bunker complex, completed its task and was helilifted to link up with the command group to the north. By nightfall 2/26 occupied nighttime positions in the vicinity of its final objective area to be seized on the following day. 3/4 remained in position and conducted local patrol activities. The only contact of the day was made by 2/26 on two separate occasions while moving north, resulting in 1 enemy KIA (C) and 1 KIA (F).

On 13 March, plans called for all units to continue previously assigned missions, except for 3/4 which was to move north and east to seize Objectives 6, 7 and 8 previously assigned to ARVN airborne units operating in that area. M/3/3 completed its assigned mission, moved south across the CAM LO River, and back to its CF by truck along Route 9, arriving there at 131310H. The command group and I/3/9 were also moved out of their operating areas on the afternoon of 13 March; the movement, by helicopter, was completed at 131410H. M/3/9 remained in the operating area to complete the sweep. At 131440H, 2/26 reached its limit of advance at the road running east to west on the 698 grid line, after sweeping through the village area of its final objective. At 131320H, 3/4 was ordered to move out and seize the hamlet at ARVN Objective 6 (YD 155702).

which the battalion secured by 131546H. 3/4 then moved south to set up nighttime positions at (YD 155693).

On 14 March plans called for all units to complete their assigned missions. M/3/9 was to move east and then south to Route 9 for pickup and return to Camp CARROLL; 2/26 was to continue to search its final objective area and be prepared to move to CAM LO for truck pickup or to extract by helicopter. 3/4 was to seize ARVN Objective 7 and 8, then continue east to Route 1 for pickup and return to DONG HA, chopping to Division Forward upon pickup.

At 140730H, 3/4 moved out toward ARVN Objective 7 (YD 158700); lead elements of the battalion entered the objective at 0815H and secured it shortly thereafter. At 0859H, K/3/4 moved on toward ARVN Objective 8 and commenced sweeping the area at 0935H. At 1110H, 3/4 swept through ARVN Objective A, while moving to the pickup point (YD 216698) at 1326H and boarded trucks for DONG HA at 1430H, chopping to Division Forward.

2/26 searched out the area of its final objective on the morning of 14 March, finding several mines and some enemy positions. At 1330H, 2/26 commenced movement by helicopter to 3/3's primary position south of THON SON LAM. By 1720H, the helilift was complete. M/3/9 which had remained in the 3/9 operating area an extra day moved east and then south across to CAM LO River to Route 9, arriving there at 1715H. By 1905H, M/3/9 had returned to Camp CARROLL, completing the move by truck. Total enemy casualties for this operations were 7 KIA (C); 2 KIA (F), and 1 IW (NVA).

(5) 15-28 March. Planning called for another multi-battalion operation to follow immediately, a second phase - so to speak - to search out the area north of DONG HA Mountain and to the west of the area in which 2/26 had operated. The operation was to involve three battalions. The lead battalion was to move from an assembly area just west of CAM LO across the CAM LO River and northwest into an area known as "HELICOPTER" Valley (vic YD 035640). A second battalion was to follow in trace of the lead battalion, then sweep southwest along the valley north of DONG HA Mountain and south of "MUTTER" Ridge. The third battalion was to set up a firing position for direct fire weapons south of "MUTTER" Ridge in the valley between DONG HA Mountain and the "RAZORBACK" (vic XD 978588); this unit was to cover "MUTTER" Ridge and the battalion moving southwest in the valley along the southern slope of "MUTTER" Ridge. The lead battalion was to move into the assembly area on D-Day, with one company outposted north of the CAM LO River and was to commence its portion of the operation on D+1. The second battalion was to move into the assembly area on D+1, with a company outposted north of the CAM LO River, and commence movement on D+2. The direct fire weapons were to move into the fire support position on order. D-Day was to be 15 March.

and D had also arrived, and C/1/9 was outposted just north of the CAM LO River. The battalion assembly area was in the vicinity of (YD 087597). 3/3, which was to follow in trace of 1/9, was preparing for relief of defensive responsibilities in the THON SON LAM area by 2/26. On the evening of 15 March, it was decided to delay the operation until 17 March in order to coordinate the timing of this operation with the employment of the SLF.

New missions were assigned to all units for the intervening time. 3/3 was to hold in place. 2/26 was to conduct a company patrol to the west of the THON SON LAM position along the KHE GIANG THOAN and the SUOI TIEN HIEN Rivers west to grid line 90 and north to grid line 55. 1/9 was to conduct extensive patrols north of the CAM LO River between grid lines 05 and 11. 3/9, which had been the reserve battalion for the forthcoming operation, was to conduct a company sweep to the southeast of the D-5 Outpost, centered along the road running east from Route 558. Fire support for this company-sized operation was to be provided by 2 155mm howitzers from M/4/12 displacing to a firing position just south of D-5. The 3/9 company sweep was to continue until 18 March; all other activities were to be terminated with the continuation of the multi-battalion operation on 17 March.

At 160730H, 1/9 commenced its assigned patrols. At 161000H, I/3/9, designated for the company sweep southeast of D-5, commenced movement to the objective area. At 161200H, 2/26 commenced its assigned patrols, however, the 2/26 company sized patrol was shortened because of the time factor. The only contact of the day was encountered by I/3/9 and resulted in 1 enemy KIA (C).

On the afternoon of 16 March, patrolling units at KHE SANH encountered heavy enemy contact, as did relief elements. As a result, I/3/3, originally assigned to participate in the multi-battalion operation, was placed on an alert status for movement to KHE SANH. All other units concerned made preparations for continuation of the multi-battalion operation on 17 March. 2/26 was also to continue patrolling to the west and send out an additional patrol to the west of the "RAZORBACK".

At 170700H, 1/9 commenced movement northwest toward "HELICOPTER" Valley. At 171445H, 3/3, after being relieved by 2/26, commenced movement for the assembly area in the vicinity of the one previously occupied by 1/9. At approximately the same time, I/3/3 commenced helilift to KHE SANH and chopped to SOP KHE SANH. The I/3/3 helilift was completed at 171730H. Only 1/9 made light contact during the day.

1/9 set up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 058634) with one company to the west. 3/3 set up nighttime positions with the command group and Companies K and L in the vicinity of (YD 094585). Intentions for 18 March were to have 1/9 continue movement northwest and 3/3 commence movement into the objective area. 2/26 was to move a company north with direct fire weapons (tanks, ontos, and dual 40mm's) and be in position by 181000H.

At 130600H, 3/3 commenced movement across the CAM LO River. 3/3 was ordered to search out the area on the northern bank of the CAM LO River and link up with a recon patrol in contact to the northeast. The link up was completed by 1210H and the patrol was extracted to the south. 3/3 set up nighttime positions for the two companies north of the river, while the command group and security remained south of the river.

At 0630H, G/2/26 departed the 2/26 primary position with direct fire weapons to establish a fire support position to the south of "MUTTER" Ridge. Units were in place in the vicinity of (XD 978588) by mid-morning. A+ 0837H, 1/9 commenced a movement of its elements to the north and west to recon in force the surrounding areas. 1/9 moved to nighttime positions 1000 meters west of the positions held on 17 March and set up in the vicinity of (YD 046635). I/3/9 was helilifted back to Camp CARROLL on the afternoon of 18 March. There was no contact on 18 March. At 182400H Operation PRAIRIE II concluded, and Operation PRAIRIE III commenced, as the 3d Marines continued with its multi-battalion operation north of DONG HA Mountain.

Intentions for 19 March remained the same for the operating units. All 3/3 units moved across the CAM LO River on the morning of 19 March and commenced search of the area in the vicinity of (YD 0861). At midday K/3/3 located a large enemy rocket site (YD 072618), presumably one of those used to attack Camp CARROLL on the night of 6-7 March. At 191440H, I/3/3 commenced helilifting from KHE SANH to the 3/3 primary position, its security mission at KHE SANH completed. The company arrived at 191552H and chopped back to 3/3, whereupon it was committed to the operation. I/3/3 moved by truck to the operating area and set up nighttime positions at (YD 095583) to the south of the CAM LO River. The remainder of the battalion remained to the north of the river.

1/9 units again searched to the west and north of their positions during the day, returning to the same nighttime positions that had been occupied on the previous night (YD 046636). At 191925H the 1/9 position received incoming 81/82mm mortar rounds. Approximately 85-90 rounds fell on the position, having been fired from positions to the northwest. Countermortar fire was immediately brought to bear and succeeded in suppressing enemy fire. Marine casualties sustained were 6 KIA, 37 WIA. G/2/26 maintained its direct fire position south of "MUTTER" Ridge on 19 March and conducted patrols to the east and north along the valley between the ridgeline and DONG HA Mountain. In addition, 2/26 conducted patrols to the west of the "RAZORBACK". Missions remained the same for units on 20 March, except that 3/3 was to continue to search out the area in which the rocket site had been located on 19 March and to provide security for an EOD team which was to inspect the rocket site and blow duds.

On 20 March, 3/3 continued to search out the area of the rocket sites, and 1/9 conducted heavy patrol activities north and west of its nighttime positions. On the afternoon of 20 March, plans were laid for the following two days. 1/9 was to relieve 3/3 of its search mission in the vicinity of the rocket site. In addition, the battalion was to search out the stream bed area known as KHE MAI (vic YD 065605) and move into an assembly area in grid square (YD 0958) in preparation for a helilift to the north on 22 or 23 March. 3/3 upon relief by 1/9 was to move to an assembly area to the east for the night and be prepared to attack north on 22 March following the trace of grid line 10. In accordance with these plans 1/9 moved southeast, linking up with 3/3 and assuming its mission on the evening of 20 March. Nighttime positions were set up in the vicinity of (YD 053'20). 3/3 upon relief by 1/9 moved to the vicinity of (YD 085598) and set up nighttime positions. G/2/26 was withdrawn from its direct fire position to the south and remained for the night at the permanent position at the northern base of the "ROCKETILE".

On the morning of 21 March, 3/3 was ordered to commence its sweep north along grid line 10 on the same day. The 3/3 area was bounded on the west by grid line YD 08, on the east by the road from CAM LO to PHU AN (vic grid line YD 13), and on the north by the road just south of grid line YD 69. 3/3 was to cover thoroughly the area 1500 meters to either side of the YD 10 grid line. On the afternoon of 21 March, 3/3 moved east to carry out its assigned mission and set up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 096610). 3/3 experienced the only contact on 21 March; however, the enemy broke contact immediately.

1/9 continued with its previously assigned mission, moving into the assigned assembly area at (YD 08659), south of the river, for its nighttime position. G/2/26 resumed its direct fire position at (XD 978588) on 21 March. On the morning of 21 March, M/3/9 was assigned a two day search and destroy mission in the vicinity of (YD 164619) as the result of aerial photo intelligence locating an enemy rocket site in that area. The company moved into the area by vehicle from Camp CARROLL and set up nighttime positions at (YD 144615).

On 22 March, 3/3 moved north along its axis of advance through thick terrain. Movement was exceedingly slow and nighttime positions were set up at (XD 992591) with the leading units setting in as far north as (YD 115640). 1/9 continued with assigned patrol activities. G/2/26 conducted a company-sized patrol activity along the valley between "HUTTER" Ridge and DONG HA Mountain. M/3/9 completed its search and destroy mission with negative results and returned to Camp CARROLL arriving at 211557H. Although a number of enemy fighting positions and camp sites had been discovered, there had been no firm contact with the enemy, except for the mortar attack on 1/9, since the commencement of the operation.

Plans for 23 March called for 1/9 to be helilifted to the vicinity of CON THIEN (GS 1069) to influence the action of the Special Landing Force (1/4) which had landed on the coast and was advancing inland to the west. 3/3 was to continue its advance north in coordination with the helilift of 1/9.

On 23 March, as 3/3 advanced north, contact with the enemy was made on several occasions, resulting in 1 KIA (conf) and 11 KIA (prob). The enemy broke contact to the north. 3/3 set up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 103658). On the afternoon of 23 March it was decided to alter the scheme of maneuver and move 1/9 to the eastern flank of 3/3 by vehicle along Route 76. Both units were to move north abreast on the 24th; with the YD 69 grid line as the eventual limit of advance. In addition, F/2/12, which had been supporting the operation from CAM LO, was to displace north to a forward artillery position at (YD 143616), with security being provided by a provisional company formed from the 3d Marines units and HQ, 12th Marines. The scheme of maneuver was still concerned with influencing the action of the SLF.

1/9 commenced movement by vehicle at 231553H to the forward artillery position at which the unit dismounted and proceeded north along Route 76 by foot. 1/9 set up nighttime positions at (YD 147625) with one company to the north. 3/3 set up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 103658). G/2/26 continued its company-sized patrol in the valley south of "MUTTER" Ridge (vic XD 995504). At 240815H, 1/9 commenced movement north. During the morning and afternoon, the battalion engaged in heavy fire fights with enemy troops well entrenched positions at several locations. The action took place in the vicinity of PHU AN (YD 134673). Results of the day's contact by 1/9 were 7 friendly KIA and 57 WIA; with 23 KIA (conf) and 43 KIA (prob) inflicted on the enemy. 1/9 set up nighttime positions to the south of PHU AN at (YD 142656).

At 240830H, 3/3 commenced movement north. At 0945H, the command group and L/3/3 came under mortar attack, receiving approximately 33 rounds of 81/62mm mortar fire. The attack was suppressed after countermortar fire was delivered. Friendly casualties were 3 KIA and 17 WIA. During the afternoon 3/3 also came in contact with the enemy. The enemy was located in entrenched positions in the hamlets of TAN HOA and AN HOA and employed small arms and 60mm mortars. The enemy, however, broke contact on each occasion. Total friendly casualties sustained by 3/3 were 7 KIA and 25 WIA; casualties inflicted on the enemy were 37 KIA (conf) and 17 KIA (prob). 3/3 set up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 114676).

G/2/26 returned to its battalion position south of THON SOM LAM on 24 March.

On 25 March, 3/3 continued the attack in the vicinity of TAN HOA and AN HOA Hamlets (YD 115675). The battalion encountered resistance throughout the day, including five separate mortar attacks. By the end of the day the battalion had approached the limit of advance and set up nighttime positions at (YD 113686) with elements remaining to the south to continue operating in that area.

During 25 March, 1/9 continued its attack on PHU AN. Moving up flame and gun tanks in the morning, the battalion assaulted through the village in the afternoon after thorough preparation fires by supporting arms. Only rear guard action was encountered; however, 10 additional enemy bodies were discovered, a PW (NVA) was taken, and numerous items of equipment were captured. 1/9 again withdrew to the south to set up nighttime positions with companies outposted north of the hamlet.

On 26 March, 3/3 moved northwest from positions on the preceding day to the vicinity of (YD 124689) where nighttime position were set up. Just prior to midnight the battalion came under two mortar attacks receiving an aggregate total of 213 81/82mm mortar rounds. Marine casualties were 1 KIA and 6 WIA. 1/9 moved northwest on 26 March, setting up nighttime positions in THU AN with companies outposted at (YD 143696) and (YD 148693). The battalion had only minor contact on 26 March.

On 27 March 3/3 proceeded north of CON THIEN to operate in that area. 1/9 drew back to the south of THU AN in preparation for withdrawing on the following day. Plans for 26 March, were to terminate the operation by moving the two battalions south to the forward artillery position at (YD 143616) for pick up by truck.

At 260915H, 1/9 arrived at the pick up point; at 1100H the battalion arrived at Camp CARROLL to relieve 3/9. By 1300H all 3/3 units had arrived at the pickup point and commenced motor march to the THON SON LAM position, arriving there at 1545H terminating the operation. Friendly casualties for the operation were 28 KIA, 176 WIA. Enemy casualties were 93 KIA (conf), 71 KIA (prob), 2 PW (NVA), in addition to numerous items of captured equipment.

(6) 26-31 March (Operation BEACON HILL). At 260300H, the 3d Marines assumed operational control of Operation BEACON HILL being conducted by 1/4. The BLT had landed on the coast and moved inland to positions west of GIO LINH and Route 1. For the purpose of coordination of the battalions operating in this area, 3d Marines was in the best position to control 1/4 effectively. On 26 March, 1/4 continued west, with the lead elements reaching (YD 117722); the command group remained in the vicinity of GIO LINH for the night. During the day's activities the lead company made contact with the enemy during the afternoon, and in the evening a medevac chopper was shot down trying to evacuate wounded from the day's contact.

On 27 March, 1/4 continued to operate in the vicinity of the previous day's activity completing the seizure of Objectives A and 4. On 28 March, the battalion pulled back to the vicinity of GIO LINH. On 29 March, 1/4 detached B/1/4 to provide security for G/2/12 which had set up a forward artillery position between GIO LINH and DONG HA on Route 1. A/1/4 conducted a combined sweep with ARVN forces along the coast. The remaining two companies operated in the vicinity of GIO LINH. On 31 March, 1/4 was alerted for a helilift to the vicinity of CON THIEN to set up a blocking position for 3d Marines forces operating to the south. The command group and Companies A, C, D were lifted into the area on the afternoon of 31 March and set up blocking positions along the road just south of the 69 grid line to the south of CON THIEN. Total friendly casualties for Operation BEACON HILL to 312400H were 33 KIA and 241 MIA. Casualties inflicted upon the enemy were 351 KIA (conf), 651 KIA (prob), 1 PW (VC), 1 PW (NVA). However, most of the contact occurred prior to the 3d Marines assumption of operational control at 260300H.

(7) 27 March. A ROUGH RIDER convoy was conducted from DONG HA to KHE SANH on 27 March 1967. 3d Marines assumed OTCOM of the convoy as it entered the 3d Marines AO at checkpoint #91 at 270830H, and relinquished OTCOM when the convoy reached checkpoint #7 at 271130H. On the convoy's return trip, 3d Marines assumed OTCOM of the convoy at checkpoint #7 at 271500H and again chopped OTCOM of the convoy to 3dMarDiv(Fwd) at checkpoint #91 at 171700H.

(8) 28-31 March. On 28 March, as 1/9 and 3/3 came out of the field, plans had been made to replace them in the field with 3/9. The battalion was to be relieved of responsibility for the defense of Camp CARROLL by 1/9 and move into the operating area by motor march. The area was bounded on the north by the road south of grid line 69, on the east by the road in the vicinity of grid line 13, and on the west by grid line 06. 3/4 was to be operating to the east under the operational control of Division Forward, and 1/4 was to operate to the north continuing with Operation BEACON HILL. 3/9's activities were to consist primarily of night ambushes.

At 260900H E/2/26 chopped to 3/9 to participate in the operation. By 1835H, the command group, I and M/3/9, and E/2/26 arrived in the operating area. The battalion set up nighttime ambush positions in the vicinity of (YD 113613). On 29 March, 3/9 moved to nighttime ambush positions in the vicinity of (YD 101630).

E/2/26 moved to nighttime positions at (YD 136615) in preparation for movement to the 2/26 command post at THON SON LAM on the following day. 2/26 was to depart for DA NANG on 30 March. At 301005H, E/2/26 departed for THON SON LAM by motor march and chopped to 2/26 at 1040H. At 301130H, the lead elements of 2/26 departed for DONG HA and the battalion chopped to 3dMarDiv(Fwd). On 30 March, 3/9 moved north in preparation for night ambush positions. On the afternoon of 30 March, M/3/9 made contact with an enemy unit of undetermined size. The enemy broke contact, fleeing east; while in pursuit M/3/9 succeeded in killing 4 enemy (conf). At 301800H, I/3/9 reported receiving mortar fire in the vicinity of (YD 104654). In the resulting action, the enemy walked mortars across the I/3/9 command group and second platoon, then assaulted twice, succeeding in overrunning the position on the second attempt. The first and third platoons, upon learning of the action, moved to assist the remainder of the company and were ambushed by the enemy from a hasty ambush position as they moved into the area. With the arrival of UH1E gunships, the company succeeded in driving off the enemy. Total friendly casualties for the incident were 15 KIA, including the company commander, the executive officer and the battalion air officer, and 47 MIA.

Reported enemy casualties were 41 KIA (conf) and 35 KIA (prob); however, additional bodies were found in the battle area for several days thereafter.

As a result of this encounter, 3/4 (command group and K and L/3/4) operating to the west, was chopped to 3d Marines, to be moved west to assist 3/9 if necessary. In addition, L/3/3 was designated to join 3/9 and moved by convoy from the 3/3 position at THON SON LAM into the operating area, arriving in the vicinity of (YD 141631) at 310500H. L/3/3 chopped to 3/9 at 310200H. L/3/3 was to link up with 3/9 in the following morning.

The scheme of maneuver for 31 March, was for 3/4 to sweep THON BAI AN (YD 119669) to the north of the battle area. 3/9 was to search out the battle area, and to the northwest. 1/4, conducting Operation BEACON HILL, was to be lifted to CON THIEN to set up blocking positions on the road south of the 69 grid line.

Units proceeded with their assigned missions on 31 March. 3/9 set up nighttime positions in the vicinity of (YD 102658). 3/4 swept through its objective and set up nighttime positions at (YD 118668). 1/4 completed its helilift and moved into its assigned blocking positions for the night. As March ended, the operation was still continuing. Enemy casualties for the 3/9 operation up to the end of March were 53 KIA (conf), 41 KIA (prob) and 2 IW (NVA).

(9) 1-31 March. 3d Marines conducted the defense of Camp CARROLL. As a result of the enemy mortar attack on Camp CARROLL, defensive positions were improved. A new COC bunker was completed, which provides much greater protection than the previous COC. Individual holes with overhead cover were given top priority, and work on this project has progressed satisfactorily. Countermortar drills were conducted whenever possible and a standard alarm system developed throughout the camp.

C. Equipment

(1) General

The 3d Marine Regiment recommended no changes to the table of allowance for Marine Corps equipment during the reporting period ending 1 March 1967. Organic equipment employed was satisfactory in all respects except for 81mm mortar bipods and base plates. Third Battalion, 3d Marines submitted unsatisfactory equipment reports on these items during this period.

(2) M 700

Division granted permission to put the Remington M700 Scout Sniper Rifle into service by 3d Marine Division message 090429Z March 1967(C). This message directed units to notify division when these rifles were in service. Headquarters Company, 3d Marines, had all rifles in service by 22 March 1967. Third Marine Division message 140005Z March(C) directed that the M70 Winchester rifle formerly used be turned into division when the M700 was employed.

(3) M16E1

Infantry battalion started receiving the M16E1, 5.56mm rifle in large quantities during the last 10 days of March. School on the weapon was conducted by Division Representatives and individual units. These rifles will be employed as soon as it is ascertained that the necessary back up parts and ammunition are available in the DONG HA area.

(4) Clothes Drying Facilities

On 10 March 1967 a clothes drying facility was set up at F100 Maintenance Section in DONG HA. This facility is intended for use by the infantry units in the area. As of this date it has not been used to the fullest because the weather has permitted the drying of clothes. This facility will be a great asset during the monsoon season.

(5) M76 Amphibious Cargo Carriers (Otters)

Six Otters were attached to the 3d Marines during March. The deadline rate averaged about 50%. On 18 March, 3 Otters were sent to "H" Company, 3/3 to support an operation, but because of the rough and rocky terrain they did not work out. They have proved very satisfactory for logistic runs to the D-5 area. Two Otters have made this run almost daily during the last part of March.

H. Logistics

(1) General

(a) Message traffic and reports were handled in a routine manner during this period. An "After Action Report" for Operation PHASE II, which covered the period of 1 February to 18 March 1967, was submitted.

(b) Third Marine Division's "Letter of Instruction" (1-67) was received during the month of March. This was valuable for orienting 3d Battalion 9th Marines, which arrived in DONG HA in March and the new Supply Officer of 3d Battalion, 3d Marines.

(c) The relief of 2d Battalion, 3d Marines by 3d Battalion, 9th Marines went smoothly. Class II encampment and garrison items were signed for by the Supply Officer of 3d Battalion, 9th Marines and Class I and V items were left on position.

Ref: CO, 3d Mar 210435Z Feb 67 (S)

(2) Supply

(a) The overall supply situation in March was good, but certain items still remained critical. Metal stakes, lumber, jungle utilities, stationary items, batteries (BA386), body armor upper torso, and jungle kit components still remained critical during the period. Sundry packages were not available during the later part of the month, and as such greater reliance was placed on PX items. The PX items were taken to troops located in field positions by Marine Corps Exchange personnel.

(b) "A" Rations were excellent in quality and sufficient in quantity during the month. Units subsisting on MCI's were supplied with supplementary rations on a weekly basis. Units at D-5 (Cua Valley); "MILLIE", "AZORBACK" and BA LONG were supplied with these supplementary rations. Units at Camp CARROLL and 3d Battalion, 3d Marines Forward positions had field messes established for the serving of "A" Rations.

(c) The helicopter support teams from "C" Company, Landing Support Unit proved valuable aid in the numerous operations conducted during the period and for the support of BA LONG. No significant supply problem occurred during operations when the HST Teams accompanied the units. First Battalion, 9th Marines required a truck convoy resupply on 6 March when the weather and tactical situation did not permit the resupply by helicopter. Third Battalion, 3d Marines was resupplied by truck at the same time during this operation north of CAM LO. This was the first time Route 76 north of CAM LO had been used for military resupply of U.S. Forces in the area.

(d) Preliminary planning for a CaC unit in the D-5 (CUA Valley) was started during the month. Pending an answer from the division on the unit equipment, planning was initiated to support the unit from Headquarters Company and 3d Battalion, 9th Marines resources.

(e) During this period the Regimental S-4 Logistic Chief was sent to Okinawa for embark school.

(f) The following important logistic messages were received and acted upon during the period by Headquarters Company and OPCON battalions:

(3) Movement

(a) The 3d Battalion, 9th Marines relieved 2d Battalion, 3d Marines on 3 March 1967 as the defense battalion at Camp CARROLL. Companies of 2d Battalion, 3d Marines were also relieved at D-5 and BA LONG. Second Battalion, 3d Marines then staged in DONG HA as a BLT and backloaded on the shipping that 3d Battalion, 9th Marines utilized. All troops movement were accomplished by truck convoy except the relief of BA LONG in which helicopters were utilized. The LCU ramp at DONG HA was utilized for the staging area for 3d Battalion, 9th Marines equipment, and 2d Battalion, 3d Marines utilized the area north of the airfield in DONG HA for their staging area. "K" Company, 3/9 was hoisted from the mouth of the CAM LO River to BA LONG for the relief of "H" Company, 2/3.

(b) Tactical movements of troops by truck convoy were accomplished as follows:

Trucks from 9th Motor Transport Battalions were used for those movements.

(4) Cantonment and Camp Facilities

(a) Water consumption for units at Camp CARROLL averaged about 18,000 gallons a day for potable and shower water. A high of 24,000 gallons was reached on one day when special showers were run for troops returning from field operations.

(b) A definite improvement in defensive positions was noted after the mortar attack on Camp CARROLL on the night of 6-7 March. Five bunkers were delivered and constructed for units at Camp CARROLL during the period of 8-14 March 1967. These bunkers were constructed by the 11th Engineer Battalion. One bunker each was erected in the 3d Marines; 3d Battalion, 9th Marines; 1st Battalion, 12th Marines; 2d Battalion, 94th Field Artillery; and Battery "M", 4th Battalion, 12th Marines Command Post areas at Camp CARROLL. Similar bunkers had been on requisition since October 1966 for these units.

(c) The engineer support received after this attack was outstanding. A fleet of sand trucks and 3 bulldozers arrived at Camp CARROLL on 8 March for use by the units. On 25 March a backhopper was assigned to Camp CARROLL for digging trenches around the perimeter. The sandbag requirement for Marine units exceeded 270,000 sandbags. These sandbags were required for defensive bunkers, improvement of positions, and sandbagging of living spaces to sleeping rack height.

(d) Camp CARROLL improvements included a deck for the shower porch and a new trash pit. In addition defensive positions for tanks, Chinook, and Army 40 mm vehicles were completed.

(5) Engineers

(a) A road to Company "N", 3d Battalion, 3d Marines position in front of the "ROCKPILE" was completed in March by the 11th Engineer Battalion. This project also included a cement culvert over the CAM LO River.

(b) Route 9 to KHE SANH was completed during March. The first ROUGH RIDER convoy to KHE SANH was on 27 March 1967. This project was completed by the 11th Engineer Battalion.

ENCLOSURE (1)

(c) A tank road to D-5 (CUA Valley) was improved by 11th Engineers in late March. This road will now permit vehicular traffic during fair weather. Actual time to reach D-5 has been reduced by about one hour and it has been possible to resupply this position daily. In addition to this road 2 trash pits were dug at D-5 for use by the rifle company.

(d) As stated in paragraph (4) (c) above, the engineering effort at Camp CARROLL has been increased during March. An average of 2 bulldozers daily have worked on defensive positions since 8 March. This equipment was furnished by the 11th Engineer Battalion.

(e) The 3d Engineer Battalion has continued to furnish mine-sweep support and water point personnel for Camp CARROLL and 3/3 positions. In addition they pioneered Route 76 north from C.M LO which made possible the resupply discussed in paragraph (2) (c) above.

(5) Motor Transport

(a) Headquarters Company and OPCON battalion reported the following vehicles deadlined on 23 March:

HqCo 3dMtr	3/3	3/9
ME7441 \emptyset	2-2d Echelon 3-3d Echelon	1-3d Echelon
M422 3-3d Echelon	3-3d Echelon	\emptyset
M107 \emptyset	\emptyset	1-3d Echelon

(b) On 6 March 54 trucks from 9th Motor Transport Battalion were used to transport 3/3, 1/9, and 3/4 from the area north of C.M LO to their permanent positions. This move involved over 1200 troops and took just over 4 hours to complete.

(c) During the period in which 3/9 landed, 11-14 trucks a day were utilized to transport their equipment to positions. Second Battalion, 3d Marines utilized household trucks to stage their gear for embarkation, and motor transport attached to the ELT 2/3 transported it to the LC camp at DONG HA. See paragraph (3) (a) above.

(6) Transportation

(a) Third Marines S-4 continued to control truck transportation for Headquarters Company and OPCON battalions during the month of March. Headquarters Company, 3/3, and 3/9 utilized 2 household trucks a day, and 2/26 utilized 1 household truck a day. No serious problems were encountered with transportation during the month.

(b) Extra trucks were requested and received for transporting Montagnards, PX supplies, and other than normal resupply runs. Others were used almost exclusively for the resupply of D-5.

SECRET

B) Ordnance

(a) General

The introduction of the Remington M700 Scout Sniper Rifle, and M16E1, 5.56mm rifle were discussed in paragraph G above. Support requirements for these weapons are now available in the division supply system.

(b) EOD

Explosive ordnance demolition personnel were called upon to evaluate the mortar attack at Camp CARROLL. In cooperation with the 2d Battalion, 94th Field Artillery the impact of the rounds was plotted and probable launching sites were found and destroyed. Also during March EOD was given a radio frequency with which field units could call for assistance.

Ref: CG, 3dMarDiv 130225Z Mar67

(c) Class V

Certain types of Class V were in critical supply during March in the DONG H. area. Weekly ammunition expenditure reports were submitted for DCD AC numbers C226, L312, and L495 in accordance with CG 3dMarDiv 031447Z Mar 1967.

(9) Medical

The hypochlorination of water trailers and cans at Camp CARROLL was again accomplished. Water for bathing and washing clothes became a problem during the month for units at D-5 and B. LONG. Recent medical inspections condemned the water sources in these areas, and alternate means are now being explored.

(10) Local National Civilian Labor

Montagnards from the CAM LO District area started back to work on grass cutting along Route 9 on 17 March. Approximately 100 Montagnards may have been employed. Refugee grass cutters started back to work along Route 558 on 20 March. Approximately 80 a day have been employed in this area. Headquarters, 3d Marines directs the efforts of the Montagnards; while the rifle company at D-5 directs the efforts of the refugees.

1. Civil AffairsNARRATIVE REPORT

The month of March showed the Civil Affairs of this Regiment increasing in scope and in depth. There were definite indicators that revealed a more receptive attitude on the part of the people as well as signs of a more determined stand on their part to resist VC domination, particularly within the CUA Valley area. Each unit assigned an area in which to operate has launched a program that is aggressive and vital, although at times during the month the operational aspects overrode the Civil Affairs participation. MEDCAP was conducted weekly by the various units, and the Regimental CAC unit was formed and underwent training as well as conducting daily visits to the CUA Valley. The Regimental Surgeon treated a total of 307 cases within the CAM LO District area.

The various units made frequent liaison with their respective chiefs, and various commodities were distributed: vitamin pills, wood, soap, brown wheat, cooking oil, corn, tin, and cement. Several public improvement projects were planned: digging a new well, clearing land for farming, setting up a dispensary, and assisting in supplying materials to rebuild a burned-out village.

On 27 March 1967, the village of CAM NGHIA, CUA Valley was ravaged by fire. 281 buildings were destroyed. 600 people were without food. Two corpsmen from 3/9 were on the scene shortly afterwards to render assistance. Seven tool chests and two bundles of clothing were delivered by 3/9.

On 30 March 1967, two trucks from USAID, loaded with blankets and clothing arrived at Regimental Headquarters. 3d Marines provided two autos and CAC security for delivery to CAM NGHIA.

INTELLIGENCE

1. The enemy situation within the 3d Marines area of operations during this reporting period indicated significant contacts from small units at least estimated battalion reinforced size. Other than movement of supplies and men into the DMZ reported previously during the TET period, there were no significant reports of major enemy movements north of or within the DMZ. However, there was active enemy activity within the PRAIRIE area centered in 4 general areas; CON THIEN Outpost, CON MINH Outpost, CAM LO, and the coastal area east of DONG HA in the QUANG TRIU PHONG District.

Commencing with the initial contact with the enemy on 27 February, directly north of CAMP CARROLL in the vicinity of (YD 0862), contact with the enemy continued into the month of March as pressure was applied by elements under operational control of the 3d Marines consisting of the 2d Bn, 3d Marines and Company L, 3d Bn, 4th Marines. With forces moving into the combat area, enemy resistance intensified employing automatic weapons, small arms, mortars, grenades, and firing from trenches and camouflaged positions. Taking advantage of darkness, the enemy resorted to guerrilla tactics by probing and harassing with grenades and small arms fire. It was believed, based on interrogation reports, that this contact thwarted an attack by an estimated (NVA) battalion, reinforced by mortar and engineer elements against installations in the CAM LO area. The spoiling attack, by elements under operational control of the 3d Marines, badly mauled the enemy, forcing him to withdraw north. Surprised before he could execute his attack, the enemy fought a stubborn delaying action, skillfully employing crew served weapons and mines from previously prepared positions supported by 60mm/82mm mortars. From the attack position 3d Bn, 3d Marines commenced on 1 March a sweep to the southwest in the direction of NUI DAI BAC highground (YD 0961). 3/3 encountered light resistance from the enemy; however, the action resulted in the capture of one enemy (PW-NVA) carrying a radio. Meantime, L/3/4 discovered an enemy harboring site with a 160. mm mortar complex in the vicinity of (YD 102617) to (YD 091624). On 2 March, I/3/3 made contact with an estimated platoon size unit and recovered a base camp along with the capture of one NVA (PW) and a CW radio believed consistent with an enemy regimental size communication element.

The 1st Bn, 9th Marines was committed and helilifted onto Hill 162 (YD 0763) and commenced their attack towards objective A (YD 0463). The 1st Bn was subjected to a mortar attack from the enemy, and reacted with intermorartar and artillery fire. The enemy mortar attack ceased. The 1st Bn continued with its mission meeting sporadic to light resistance from the fleeing enemy. Based on an interrogation report, 2 battalions of NVA were positioned in the vicinity grid square (YD 0865). The area was saturated with artillery fire for the night. By 0800 on 3 March, an aerial observer reported an estimated 250 NVA troops carrying their dead and wounded heading in a northwest direction towards the DMZ vicinity (YD 0766); another 250 NVA troops at (YD 0666), and an additional 250 NVA troops at (YD 0567). Air strikes and artillery were brought to

on the fleeing enemy. 1/9 subsequently conducted a sweep of the area encountering resistance from small groups -- up to 30 or 40, discovered a mass grave (YD 060666) containing 23 bodies (NVA), and counted an additional 43 bodies (NVA) while moving through the area.

Elsewhere in the area of operations, 3/3 had advanced into the BAI AN area (YD 1166) encountering enemy activity consisting of light, scattered contacts and harassment fires. Having passed through the THON BAI AN village, 3/3 reported that the enemy was firing at the battalion rear, situated in well camouflaged holes; and at times, women were observed firing from windows of a house.

There was a total of 29 mortar attacks for the preceding action, directed against the 3d Marines elements for a total of 1,122X60mm/82mm mortar rounds. Enemy casualties were 359 KIA (C) and 192 KIA (P). Of the 18 detainees apprehended, 10 were classified PW, and 8 were released as innocent civilians. Captured weapons and equipment included radios, both 60mm and 82mm mortars, machineguns, gas masks, mines, blasting caps, TNT, and grenades. Based on captured documents and interrogation reports, it was determined that the 3d Marines had engaged elements of the 312th Regiment, 324B Division, mainly the 4th and 6th Bn during the preceding action.

Interrogation reports of a Warrant Officer captive, indicated that the enemy had a new weapon manufactured in Communist China, and were supposed to attack CAM LO. CAM LO is considered to mean generally any installation west of DONG HA. The new weapon according to interrogation reports, had a maximum range of 7 kilometers. On the night of 6-7 March CAMP CARROLL was attacked with 103X82mm mortar, 123X102mm rocket and 110 undetermined caliber rocket rounds for a total of 336. The rockets were the fin (110) and spin (123) stabilizer type. On the morning of 7 March several fleeing enemy were spotted by the AO carrying rocket tubes. Artillery fire was brought to bear on the enemy and resulted in several kills.

Agent reports, friendly reconnaissance efforts, visual sightings, and active enemy activity from within the DMZ indicated an increased amount of screening and reconnaissance throughout the northern

THE II area. Based on this information, on 10 March, 2d Bn, 26th was deployed into the area to exploit the enemy situation in light of the previous axis of advance by elements of 3/3. On 11 March, 2d Bn was also committed under the operational control of the 3d Marines. No contact with the enemy was encountered. Shortly thereafter, on about 15 March, 1/9 and 3/3 were assigned a mission to conduct an operation within the vicinity of HILL COAST VALLEY and its dominating terrain feature, Hill 208 (YD 0464) and the valley immediately north of and dominated by DONG HA Mountain (YD 0159). 1/9 discovered numerous enemy weapon positions and mortar positions with connecting trenches and bunkers. Only light sightings of the enemy were reported; however, on 19 March 1/9 was subjected to one mortar attack, a total of 90X82mm rounds, believed originating from within the DMZ. In the meantime, 3/3 continued with their aggressive search for the elusive enemy, and discovered instead launching sites, centered in the vicinity of (YD 0761)

Enclosure (1)

the 102mm rockets believed employed by the enemy on the attack last CAMP CARROLL (6-7 March). It was noted that the launching area discovered was within 7,000 meters from CAMP CARROLL. A search of the area resulted in the discovery of 121X102mm rocket rounds (expended) and 3 rocket launchers, to include a wooden cradle believed for support in positioning of the launcher. Evidence of back blast from the firing of the rockets was noted on the launching pad, characterized by a shallow trench with 10X10X4 feet dimensions. On 23 March, 1/9 relieved in place 3/3 with the mission to conduct a thorough search of the area for possible rocket rounds remaining, and to exploit the enemy situation within the vicinity.

Based on intelligence information received, at least 3 enemy battalions were deployed in the AN HOA (YD 1167) and PHU PHONG (YD 1467) area.

On 24 March, 3/3 moved into the attack position and commenced its sweep north along the axis of the north-south gridline 10 towards AN HOA to exploit the current enemy situation at the time. 1/3/3 elements engaged an estimated NVA squad size unit; however, the enemy broke contact and fled in a southeast direction. Shortly thereafter, 3/3 continued with its mission encountering graves containing NVA bodies, enemy base camps with 13 bunkers and miscellaneous gear. Meantime, 3/3 had located an additional 4X102mm rocket rounds, and several batteries (A-30) believed used to generate current for rocket motors. On 23 March, 1/9 shifted to the east and commenced, 24 March, to advance along the axis of Route 76 north towards the village of PHU PHONG.

However, the enemy was deployed in the vicinity of PHU AN (YD 1467), and stubbornly fought and delayed the advance of 1/9. The enemy force was estimated to be at least a company size NVA unit. Deployed in well prepared defensive positions, they employed every available weapon they had to include mortars, automatic weapons, machineguns, grenades and mines. 1/9 was subjected to an intermittent mortar attack for a total of 140 rounds of 60mm/82mm mortar mixed. Concentrated air, artillery, and infantry organic weapons were brought to bear on the enemy followed up with a sweep by elements of 1/9, resulted in the capture of 1 NVA-PW; 4 rounds of 60mm recoilless gun; 1 machinegun; 6 SMG; 6 boxes of 60mm fuses and miscellaneous gear. Enemy casualties were 33 KIA (C) and 40 KIA (P).

The confirmed count for this brief contact, 2 female bodies were located in NVA uniforms. Meantime, on the left flank, 3/3 had engaged an estimated 30-40 enemy units armed with automatic weapons, machineguns and well entrenched in well camouflaged bunkers reinforced with wooden beams. The enemy was also employing 60mm mortars positioned below ground level. Supporting arms were directed on the enemy position, and followed up with a ground assault by 1/3/3. The enemy broke contact and fled. The enemy sustained 28 KIA (C) and 15 KIA (P). Captured equipment was (1) ChiCon machinegun; (2) A-30; and (2) radios which had been destroyed previously by artillery fire. Throughout the rest of the day, the enemy was attempting to delay the advance of 3/3 by employing harassing mortar fires. However, 3/3 continued to move aggressively and, subsequently, engaged an estimated platoon size NVA unit fleeing in a northwest direction,

...ed to be a residual element that was in contact with 1/9 earlier. Casualties were 6 KIA (C). Pursuing the enemy, 3/3 discovered a village complex with 100 camouflaged reinforced bunkers vicinity (YD 124684), and 6 additional NVA bodies (C) as well as 1 NVA WIA. In the vicinity of (YD 105680), 1/3/3 discovered large bunker complex estimated to have accommodated a regimental size unit. The complex covered an area of 400X800 meters north to south, and connected with kept streets and trenches. The bunker complex was destroyed. There were 10 mortar attacks directed against 3/3, (from 24-26 March), for a cumulative total of 572 rounds consisting of 394X82mm, 118X82mm/120mm, and 40X60mm. Based on captured documents and interrogation reports, 3/3 and 1/9 engaged the 15th Engineer Company, an element of the 812th Regiment operating in the area of PHU AN and AN HOA. The employment of forces in the battle area, and particularly on Route 76 is consistent with an engineer element. It was also believed, based on contact with the enemy, that at least an infantry company size NVA unit was committed as a delaying force, while the main force continued with the withdrawal to the DMZ.

Activity in northeastern QUANG TRI was dominated by heavy, though inaccurate, artillery/mortar attacks against the newly established Provisional Artillery Group site (YD 1170), the GIO LING Outpost (YD 2173), the CON THIEN Outpost (YD 1170), and the TRUNG LUONG District Headquarters (YD 1948). Artillery/mortar fires were reported originating from within the DMZ and north of the BEN HAI River. Significantly, from this sanctuary the enemy employed conventional artillery pieces for the first time in this area utilizing both 105mm and 122mm tubes. Elsewhere in the eastern portion of the QUANG TRI Province, a PF platoon and RF units were attacked by overpowering enemy forces. Based on prisoners captured, it was determined that elements of the 808th VC MF and 814th NVA battalions engaged the PF and RF units. The enemy broke contact following a brief action. Friendly casualties were moderate. Enemy action appeared directed against the local GVN RD Program in a continuing attempt to disrupt the effort.

Operation BEACON HILL was conducted by the 1st Bn, 4th Marines in the vicinity of GIO LINH and CON THIEN. From the initial (20 March), 1/4 encountered activity consisting of light, sporadic contacts, harassments, and mortar attacks. Operation BEACON came under the tactical control of the 3d Marines on 26 March. The most significant contact during the operation centered in the BEN HAI (YD 1473) where an estimated battalion size enemy unit was engaged in well fortified bunkers with interconnecting trenches. The enemy position was attacked with every available supporting arms, concentrated air, and infantry organic weapons. A sweep of the area resulted in the discovery of 150 bunker complex, 90% destroyed; 550 trench, destroyed; and evidence of charred human flesh, blood stains, numerous drag marks, miscellaneous scattered gear, and hastily dug graves containing 33 bodies. Based on intelligence reports, captured documents and a captive, 1/4 had made contact with the 1st Bn, 31st 341st NVA Division. The cumulative total for the preceding action (location BEACON HILL) was 351 KIA (C) and 651 KIA (P).

On 28 March, 3/9 was introduced into the area (YD 1064) to exploit enemy activity based on sightings by friendly reconnaissance agent reports.

During the evening of 30 March, I/3/9 was in the process of being deployed into a nighttime ambush and defensive position, vicinity of (YD 090655), (YD 100644), and (YD 114654) when the company CP and the 1st Plt (YD 090655) were subjected to a 60mm/82mm mortar attack. The company walked the mortar rounds on the position (YD 1064) from the west to the east and back, then continued to the east once more followed with a ground assault by the enemy (estimated NVA Company size) from a southwest direction employing automatic weapons and grenades. The first assault was repelled, and the enemy withdrew to consolidate its forces. Shortly thereafter, the enemy assaulted for the second time and overran the position. Meantime, the 1st Plt and the 3d Plt were returning to assist the company command group and the 2d Plt; however, the enemy deployed its forces into a hasty ambush position and caught the reinforcement element in a cross fire with automatic weapons, machineguns, and the employment of 60mm mortars. A HU1E Gunship, on station, conducted airstrikes on the enemy inflicting losses while the enemy withdrew its forces toward a northwest direction. The enemy casualties were 41 KIA (C) and 35 KIA (P). Two NVA were captured along with numerous weapons (RPG-2, machinegun, ChiCom grenades, 82mm RG rounds, and AK-47 automatic weapons).

On the morning of 31 March, a translation of a document captured by 3d Recon Team on 26 March, vicinity of (YD 072650), was received indicating an enemy operation order dated 25 March 1967. The mission: "to engage the enemy at HO KHE Mountain (YD 1064)....." The concept of operation was three fold: (a) primary, to attack U.S. Forces from the south in the direction of NUI HO KHE (YD 1064), coordinated with the employment of mines, B-40 (rocket anti-tank weapon), and mortars; (b) secondary, attack from the east; (c) alternate, attack from the west. According to the captured document, this plan of attack was to commence on the 27th of March. Based on this, it was believed the plan was primarily directed towards the 3d Bn, 3d Marines fighting within the immediate vicinity of NUI HO KHE at the time. Earlier, on 28 March, 3/3 and 1/9 pulled out of the area by-passing HO KHE area moving by motor march along route 76 to the east. By 29 March, with the introduction of 3/9, I/3/9 had reached the NUI HO KHE highground. The enemy's plan of attack was then executed utilizing the alternate plan. Based on the contact and the captured document, it was determined that the enemy had adhered rigidly to his plan of attack.

The overall total of incidents for the month of March increased by 37% over the month of February. The increase in the PRAIRIE area was 315%. There were 56 mortar/rocket attacks directed against elements of the 3d Marines for a total of 2,303 rounds. Of the 2,303 rounds were 1426X82mm, 445X50mm, 199 rounds of unknown caliber mortar 125X102mm rockets, and 110 rockets of unknown caliber.

There was a sharp increase in the mines/booby trap and SA/Sniper incidents for the reporting period. Mines/booby traps incidents increased from 14 to 28; SA/Sniper incidents from 17 to 57 in the PRAIRIE area.
Cumulative enemy casualties (PRAIRIE III) for this reporting period: 146 KIA (C) NVA; 112 KIA (P) NVA, 2 KIA (P) VC; 1 WIA (C) NVA.
Of the 92 detainees, 4 were classified PW and 78 innocent civilians.

(b) At the end of the reporting period the 3d Marines are in contact with an estimated enemy battalion (unidentified) in the vicinity of BT 1064. This has been a very active reporting period with a total of 199 incidents. The enemy has accelerated his military effort and announced new objectives. Intelligence received indicates that the enemy's stated objectives are: to gain important military victories, and to sabotage the GVN Revolutionary Development program. To accomplish these objectives, the enemy is expected to continue his vigorous reconnaissance activities, small unit harassing actions, and limited-objective attacks in up to reinforced regiment strength on isolated objectives withdrawing into the sanctuary of the DMZ should the situation deteriorate to his disadvantage.

The enemy is capable of attacking south through the DMZ with up to two divisions supported by: 1 AT battalion, 1 artillery battalion, 1 AA battalion, 1 engineer battalion, 1 signal battalion, 1 transport battalion, and 1 medical battalion. Presently deployed in QUANG TRI Province to act in support of or in conjunction with the above forces are: 1 NVA battalion, 1 VC main force battalion, and 4 VC local force companies.

M. Communications

(1) General. During the month of March, the 3d Marine Regiment maintained its extended posture of outposted units while conducting two multi-battalion operations. On occasions, the Regimental Commander had the command and control of five infantry battalions under his operational control.

a. The magnitude of such an employment, plus the stations required to enter various command nets coupled with the extreme heat and prevalent dust conditions challenged the abilities and ingenuity of the communicators throughout the area of operations.

b. The AN/TRC-27B radio-relay shot from this CP to the westernmost battalion command post was replaced by the not-so-critical line of sight equipment, AN/MRC-62 Radio Relay Van. This permitted reliable telephone communications to the battalion without the need of long wire lines traversing terrain that is susceptible to enemy activity.

c. Due to the terrain features and the extended distances involved in the tactical employment of the units, two manual radio-relay stations were established at CAM 10 and atop the "ROCKPILE".

d. A noteworthy performance of the AN/PRC-25 was the fact that it provided reliable communications on a tape antenna for a distance of 12 miles.

(2) Sequential Listing of Events:

7 March - As a result of the enemy mortar attack:

- Broken power lines had to be repaired.
- Two PE-75 Generators sustained light damage from shrapnel and were replaced.
- One section of antenna RC-292 was destroyed by shrapnel and was replaced.
- The following trunk lines were severed in the attack: FERTILIZE, SWAIN, GOOSE, HEAVY FIST, SMOKE ROOM, POST #1, and AXHLENDLE.
- Antenna farm was relocated away from the COC area with all radios and locals sandbagged.
- Sandbagged and dug out parking area for AN/MRC-110.

8 March - Sandbagged and undergrounded POL area.

9 March - Wired new COC bunker with 400 cycle power and switched old COC to 60 cycle power.

12 March - All radio nets reestablished in new COC bunker
 - All wire communications reestablished in new COC bunker.

14 March - Dispatched relay team to the "ROCKPILE" to assist in radio communications for operations.

15 March - Completed 1st and 2d echelon PM on all radio gear.

16 March - Replaced CLICK to CROWD AN/MRC-62 Radio-Relay Van with AN/TRC-27B Radio-Relay Set.

- Dispatched relay team to GAM LO to assist in improved radio communications for operations.

- Attempted AN/TRC-27 shot from Hill 250 to western-most battalion CP. Line of sight no possible.

17 March - Replaced shot from western-most battalion to this CP on AN/TRC-27B Radio-Relay equipment with AN/MRC-62 Radio-Relay Van.

- Received one Generator Set PU-278/TRC-27 on Document Number 2760.

19 March - Comm. Tech Maintenance/Storage Shop in DOMA HL moved to new area.

- 25 pair cable from switchboard to COC bunker laid, installed, and undergrounded from 19 March to 21 March.

21 March - Received three Generator Sets PU-278/TRC-27 on Document Number 11880.

22 March - Relay team from GAM LO sent to Provisional Security Company north of GAM LO to assist Company Commander with radio communications.

- Received two Generator Sets AU-278/TRC-27 on Document Number 10677, thus meeting proper T/E requirements for this item.

28 March - Rewired main bust board for camp power.

- Relay team for Provisional Company returned to CP.

- Established radio contact with ROUGH RIDER convoy to

KHE SANH.

- 11th Engineer Bn. replaced camp generator PU-239.

29 March - Laid, installed, and undergrounded 5-pair cable from radio remote sites to COC bunker.

31 March - The message center had 1899 incoming and 281 outgoing messages for a total of 2,180.

N. Weather.

March is the transitional month from the northeast monsoon to the southwest monsoon. The area was still under the influence of the northeast monsoon for the first half of the month. For the first ten days of the month typical "crachin" weather prevailed, i.e., complete cloud cover, low ceiling, fog, and drizzle. About mid-month, the northeast monsoon became weak and gradually disappeared; by the end of the month, traces of the southwest monsoon began to appear bringing clear weather and higher temperatures. Average temperatures for the month was 75°F. Average humidity was 81% and the total rainfall received was 1.3 inches.

The weather at the beginning of the month adversely affected friendly operations forcing postponement or cancellation of aerial reconnaissance, med-evacs, and resupply missions.

Ground observation was also hampered enabling the enemy to move personnel and supplies without detection.

However, the weather for the last half of the month enabled 3d Marines to employ all its capabilities to the maximum extent.

O. Fire Support1. Significant Events

a. Operation north of CAM LO supported by four artillery batteries in a direct support role. Two batteries of 105's and two batteries of 155's.

b. On 1 March, A/1/40 (USA) displaced from Camp CARROLL to the "gravel pit" (YD 0657) to support the operation north of CAM LO.

c. On 4 March, F/2/12 displaced from DONG HA to Camp CARROLL. B/1/12 displaced from Camp CARROLL to DONG HA to await transportation for rotation to Okinawa.

d. On 5 March, F/2/12 displaced from Camp CARROLL back to DONG HA. B/1/40 (USA) displaced from DONG HA to Camp CARROLL.

e. During the period 1-5 March, artillery was used extensively. The artillery fired close in defensive fires, countermortar fires, live missions on NVA units, and many prep fires. The artillery during the period was excellent and in many instances was the saving factor in intense fighting. The Battalion Liaison Officers and Forward Observers did a fine job on the coordination and control of fires.

f. At 062358H March, B/1/40 (USA), M/4/12, C/1/40 (USA), and K/4/12 fired countermortar and rocket fire during the attack on Camp CARROLL. Crater analysis and actual findings of mortar sights showed that the artillery units were on target in many of the areas from which the mortars were coming. The batteries did a fine job in returning fires and help suppress the fires.

g. On 9 March, A/1/40 (USA) displaced from DONG HA to Camp CARROLL. B/1/40 (USA) displaced from Camp CARROLL to DONG HA.

h. On 10 March, F/2/12 displaced from DONG HA to CAM LO to support 3d Marines operation north of CAM LO.

i. On 12 March, W/1/12 displaced to vicinity (YD 149404) in support of K/3/9's long range patrol.

j. On 14 March, two platoons from M/4/12 displaced from Camp CARROLL to the vicinity of the "ROCKPILE" (XD 983542) to support the engineers on Route 9 between CA LU and KHE SANH.

k. On 16 March, one platoon of M/4/12 displaced from Camp CARROLL to (YD 095518) to support a company size operation southeast of D-5. The platoon returned to Camp CARROLL on 18 March.
