b. Narrative Summary.

(1) General

Operations during the month of June consisted primarily of consolidating gains made the previous month. The development of the LE MY security complex was continued throughout the reporting period to include the improvement of defensive positions there. This is reflected in the construction of sandbag bunkers, the laying of protective wire and the emplacement of traps at the nearby bridge sites. Defenses at Iron Bridge Ridge (894801) were improved in a similar manner, as were those of the Mountain Defense Company. Defensive improvements continued in the Battalion CP itself with the digging of trenchlines and bunkers. Individuals were assigned specific missions and locations in the event of enemy attack in order to enhance the organization of the command post defense. See Enclosure (2).

Efforts were directed toward the establishment of a Main Line of Resistance extending from the Mountain Defense Company's positions northeast to the ocean. However, when this defensive line proved unrealistic to construct, the Main Line of Resistance was adjusted to run North and South with strong points at LE MY, Iron Bridge Ridge and at coordinates 913763 and 902776.

There were considerably fewer large scale operations (company size or larger) conducted in June than during the previous month. The major operation during this reporting period involved three companies and was conducted to provide security for Vietnamese civilians who wished to move out of the NAI YEN/PHO NAN village complex. The second large scale operation included units from First Battalion, Ninth Marines and a company, reinforced, from this Battalion which swept a major portion of the TAOR to kill or capture Viet Cong.

While the number of large scale operations decreased in June, the number of small unit patrols (normally squad size) increased. The patrols were used in short range reconnaissance and as ambushes to harass the enemy at night. Those patrols also made a valuable contribution to the "People-to-People" program. Corpsmen accompanying patrols often treated villagers as the unit moved through hamlets and Marines distributed extra food and candy to the people.

The use of mobile combat outposts which had proven successful in May was continued in June. Two such patrols were active during the reporting period. The patrols operated self-sufficiently for periods up to three days and were characterized by a high degree of mobility and combat firepower.

(2) Narrative

Company "E" relieved Company "G" at Iron Bridge Ridge June. Company "G" displaced to LE MY Fort that afternoon to assume security responsibilities and free "H" Company for operations the following day. Company "F" began deploying as Mountain Defense Company by placing squads on hills 312, 368 and in the pass at 937755. The reconstitution of the

CONFIDENTIAL

Mountain Defense Company was completed on 2 June with the Third Platoon of "F" Company establishing positions at 902773 and the First Platoon and Company CP moving to coordinates 913747. See Enclosure (3).

On 2 June Company "H" swept through a fishing hamlet at coordinates 922840 to capture any Viet Cong in the area and clear the town of Punji traps or mines. Company "H" found the hamlet clear of Viet Cong and booby traps. See Enclosure (4). The Third Platoon, Company "E" moved with "H" Company during the day and dropped off, after dark, into the high ground at coordinates 901864 to become a "layout patrol". Company "H" returned to the battalion CP following its sweep to become Battalion Reserve.

On the evening of 3 June the "layout" patrol encountered several Viet Cong. In the ensuing firefight two Viet Cong were killed - one at 901844, another at 895845. One automatic machine pistol was recovered. The following morning the "layout" patrol killed one Viet Cong at 897835. Two members of the patrol were wounded at approximately the same location - one by Viet Cong rifle fire, the other by a tripped booby trap. The Third Platoon, Company "E" returned to the Battalion CP on 4 June for debriefing and rejoined the remainder of the company on 5 June. See Enclosure (5).

Units of Third Platoon, Company "G", defending the bridges at 899811 and 900806, were attacked by approximately fifty Viet Cong before first light on 4 June. The Marines repulsed several attacks between 0300 and 0530 before the Viet Cong eventually withdrew. One Marine suffered leg wounds and required evacuation. Four Viet Cong were killed during the prolonged engagement and one Vietnamese woman was captured. Shortly after first light on 4 June, Company "H" conducted a search and clear operation from the MSR at coordinates 915791 to the northern bridge at 899811. The company attempted to capture wounded or dead Viet Cong that might have attempted to withdraw to the South or West following attempts to seize the southern bridge. No Viet Cong were located during the sweep.

Battalion units commenced rotation on 6 June with Company "H" relieving Company "E" as Patrol Company. Company "E" then moved to LE MY Fort and Company "G" became the Battalion Reserve. "F" Company remained in position as the Mountain Defense Company. A light section of Antitanks moved to LE MY on 6 June to strengthen the defenses at the fort.

During the period 6-12 June units remained in position and conducted patrols from Company combat bases. Permanent defensive positions were begun at Fort LE MY and at Iron Bridge Ridge, particularly at the two bridge sites. Bunkers were constructed at each bridge, wire was laid in adjacent rice paddies and a mine network was placed in the paddies near the wire. In addition to the daily reconnaissance patrol, ambush patrols operated nightly around each of the battalion's forward units. On 10 June the Patrol Company assumed responsibility for defense of the Southern Bridge.

Two Vietnamese boys were killed when they accidentally discharged an M-79 dud at coordinates 903806 on 12 June. The round was one of several fired by units of "H" Company the previous night when their position was probed. A third villager was treated at the BAS (forward) when he suffered fragment wounds from one of the M-79 rounds.

On 13 June two mortar rounds, suspected to be .60mm rounds, landed in a rice paddy approximately seventy-five meters southwest of the bridge at coordinates 899811. No injuries resulted and patrols both West and East of the bridge sites were unable to locate any mortar positions. Company "G" conducted a search mission in the vicinity of grid square 9377 on this date. The purpose was to kill or capture any Viet Cong hiding in the thick brush on the hills on each side of the valley. Two platoons swept from the high ground to the valley floor and one platoon situated in the low ground acted as a blocking force. No Viet Cong were contacted during the operation.

A reinforced platoon from "H" Company swept the area at 883788 the morning of 14 June where intelligence reports indicated a Viet Cong base camp was located. No Viet Cong were located during this search although there were evidences that the area had been occupied.

Viet Cong infiltrators probed the battalion CP prior to first light on 17 June. A reinforced platoon from Company "G", in CP security, opened fire during the probe and suffered one casualty from gunshot wounds. The unit moved off the high ground after first light and swept the area to the northeast for Viet Cong. No enemy contacts were made.

On 16 June the Fourth Platoon, Company "B", Third Amtrac Battalion relieved the Fourth Platoon, Company "A" at LE MY. Units of "A" Company, First Battalion, Third Marines relieved "F" Company on 16 June to free Company "F" for operations in the PHO NAN area. Company "H", also participating in this operation, was relieved at Iron Bridge Ridge by "B" Company, First Battalion, Ninth Marines. The operation began on the evening on 17 June with "F" Company establishing blocking positions along the road from LE MY to PHO NAN. Company "G" set up platoon strong points at coordinates 853850, 854851, and 856847 before first light on 18 June. "F" Company sustained one casualty when a member of "G" Company fired at what he suspected was an enemy. Company "H" moved to PHO NAN at first light in LVT's and swept the town. Shortly thereafter, ARVN units were helilifted to NAM YEN and cleared the village from South to North. "G" Company suffered two casualties during the operation. One was killed by sniper small arms fire and the other was wounded by a short artillery round. An Army advisor with "G" Company was also killed by the short round. Once "H" Company had completed its sweep the villagers who wished to leave the area were transported South to LE MY. Meanwhile, Company "G" swept the village of TRUONG DINH from West to East with negative enemy contacts. Following this operation, Company "G" moved into the high ground at 872825. "H" Company conducted a search and clear operation on 20 June in the area generally covered by grid squares 8582 and 8583 sweeping from the northwest to the southeast. "G" Company provided fire support for Company "H" from its high ground positions. No enemy contacts were made by either unit during this operation. Following this sweep company "H" became the Battalion Reserve and "G" Company moved to Iron Bridge Ridge. See Enclosure (6).

Responsibility for the pass at 939754 ended about 20 June when the southern border of Battalion TAOR was moved North. The disposition of the Mountain Defense Company was further altered to meet requirements for the Main Line of Resistance. When "F" Company relieved "A" Company, First Battalion, Ninth Marines on 19-20 June, it assumed new positions. The First Platoon placed squads at coordinates 933762, 933782, and 907778. Second Platoon established positions at 913763 and the Third Platoon set in at 902776. See Enclosure (7).

On 21 June two squads, reinforced, from Second Platoon, Company "G" were ambushed by an estimated force of eight Viet Cong at coordinates 876797. In the ensuing firefight four Viet Cong were killed. One Marine died of gunshot wounds and three others suffered fragment wounds from an enemy grenade. On 22 June Company "G" was relieved by "H" Company at Iron Bridge Ridge. That afternoon two platoons from "G" Company provided security for three artillery vehicles bogged down in mud near MY SON (878764) until they were freed.

On 24 June Company "G" began construction of defensive positions in the salt flats in grid squares 9480 and 9379 as part of the MLR. The planned position was disbanded on 26 June because continuous security was required to prevent stealing of construction materials.

Company "G" participated in a joint operation with First Battalion, Ninth Marines on 27 June within this battalion's TAOR. All units were heli-lifted into position along North-South grid line 85 and swopt East to North-South grid line 90. First Platoon, Company "E" acted as a blocking force to the North at coordinates 875825. There were no enemy contacts made during the operation. However, approximately eleven Viet Cong suspects were taken into custody during the day. See Enclosure (8).

On 29 June a reinforced platoon from Company "G" moved into position at 878804 as a mobile combat outpost. Its mission was to provide security against probes on company combat bases along the MLR. The patrol was also responsible for providing early warning of any large Viet Cong force massing for an assault against the MLR. At the end of this reporting period the mobile combat outpost had made no enemy contact. See Enclosure (9).

1. Information derived from Squire Echo 3 layout patrol is as follows:

Designation of Patrol: Squire Echo 3 Layout

A. Size and Composition of Patrol. One rifle platoon.

B. Mission. Kill VC and conduct area reconnaissance.

C. Time of Departure. 2130, 1 June 1965.

D. Time of Return. 1000, 4 June 1965.

E. Routes out and back. See Enclosure (1)

F. Terrain and Chronological summary of Events: Patrol left IE MY fort (899821) at 2130, 1 June 1965 crossing CA DE river by rubber boat. At 0100 2 June 1965, patrol moved in trace of H-2-3 to 915855 and continued on route shown in enclosure (1) to 903863 where they spent the night. At 0610, 3 June 1965, patrol moved to logging road, vicinity 905865. Found water point in ravine. Noted heavy foot traffic from early morning till noon on logging road. Road block was established but proved ineffective as no interpreter was available. Trails were poor and no signs of VC noted. At 0730 patrol moved along logging road to 900868. Area covered with woodcutters.

(1) Woodcutters:

(a) Move at first light.

(b) Mark their trails with logs pointing in the direction they are moving.

(c) Trails short and erratic.

- (d) Carry machetes.
- (e) ID Cards dated 1962.
- (f) Used ox to haul cut timbers down road.
- (g) Paid little attention to the patrol.
- (h) People of all ages and sex are woodcutters.
- (i) Many clearings for burning charcoal.

At 1000 patrol moved to vicinity 898863. (Good observation, fairly clear area, possible use as Helo landing site). Trails poor, no contact. Noted forked log against tree which could be used as aid in climbing tree for observation. At 1200 patrol moved to 891858 where a well used primary trail was found running on a 300° azimuth from the CA DE river mouth. Trail did not seem to have been used since the last rains. At 1630, patrol stopped at 904855. Found water on both sides of finger with best water at 905855. (water normally found around banana trees). From this position three men were seen at 909845 talking to people yet keeping their distance from same. People pointed and 3 men looked toward position of patrol - (3 men believed to be VC). At 1730 moved to water point and then along high ground of old village site of THUY TU with one squad on line and two squads in column. Patrol sighted 3-4 VC at 906845 who moved behind finger. Just prior to sighting, noted people and animals running from area. One squad moved to finger at 904845 and made contact with VC, who were in column from 902844 to 901844. One squad acted as blocking force at 907847 and one squad moved along trail to ridgeline at 903842 and up to high ground. One VC confirmed KIA at 901844, (back of head blown away - rifle wounds in left leg - cheeks of buttocks torn). Captured weapon (Chinese K50 auto wpn) with 2 magazines and extra rounds wrapped in cloth taken from body. No documents, equipment or food were found. VC WIA at 900846. Patrol observed WIA take hits in the leg and upper part of body. Blood trail found, but no body, documents or weapon in area. VC confirmed KIA at 899845 (one chest wound and one in each leg). No weapon found. VC KIA's and WIA taken under fire by M79's and rifles at ranges of 50 - 300 yards. Believed that 6 VC encountered in all. Search for other bodies ended at nightfall with negative results.

Patrol set up perimeter defense at 898844. At 0530, 4 June, patrol moved to valley (Grid Square 9084) and found it void of people or animals. One squad moved on high ground from 907841 to 898835 while rest of platoon moved around base of mountain. No trail present as shown on map. Squad moved from high ground to 897835 where VC contact was made by point element at range of 25 yards. VC confirmed KIA (upper body hit by M79 grenade wounds and bullet wounds. Wounds too numerous to count).

PFC NICK WIA (gunshot wound on side of torso). Squad continued movement on trail and tripped VC booby trap (half of chinese frag grenade found). PFC BLUM WIA (minor facial scratches) by booby trap. PFC NICK evacuated by LVT at 0900. Patrol crossed river (via LVT's) to LE MY at 895826 under cover of friendly mortar fires. Minefield sign was found at ruins vicinity 898835.

G. Enemy. Approximately 6 VC operating in low ground, wearing indigenous in full attire and armed with automatic weapons.

H. Results of Encounter.

- (1) 3 confirmed VC KIA. 1 suspected VC WIA.
- (2) 2 Friendly WIA (one minor, one requiring evacuation).

I. Conclusions.

- (1) Move at night on high ground to conceal movement.
- (2) Patrol should stay in high ground, out of contact with population for at least 24 hrs.
- (3) Observe lowground with glasses before moving down to low lands, into water points or villages, or setting up ambushes.
- (4) After contact has been made. Move to high ground. About 200-300 yds. up.
- (5) On mountain trails contact would probably be made on well used trails. Contacts most probable in mornings or evenings.
- (6) Speed and flexibility are of prime importance when contact is imminent or made.
- (7) Move on the high ground. Ambush on the low ground.

J. Recommendations.

(1) That platoon size patrols are advisable although hard to maneuver in the high country. They give flexibility in the low ground where VC are usually encountered.

- (a) 4 man point with a grenadier as the third man.
- (b) Point man should be a squad leader with shotgun or thompson sub-machine gun with safety off.
- (c) Second man should be automatic rifleman with safety on.
- (d) Third man should be grenadier.
- (e) Fourth man should be a rifleman with safety on.

(Note) The point should only be concerned with what is in front of him and finding the trail. The other three will observe right and left.

(Note) If trails have to be blazed enemy contact is unlikely.

(2) That Platoon Commanders, Platoon Sergeants, right Guides, and Squad leaders should carry shotguns (M97 riot guns) or 45. caliber thompson sub-machine guns.

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

(a) Each patrol should have one rifle equipped with a telescopic sight.

(b) Minimum of two handgrenades per man.

(c) M79 can be used for an area weapon at close range.

(3) That choice of equipment for use in RVN reflect consideration of following comments:

(a) Helmet too heavy, hangs up in bushes, gives poor ventilation and impairs hearing.

(b) Packs should be of new army type. Current back packs hang up in the brush. Army packs would also free arms and shoulders.

(c) 3-4 canteens should be taken per man.

(d) Rifle should hang so that it is parallel to the deck and waist high.

(e) Tracers should be every second or third round, because of great difficulty in locating targets.

(f) 200 rds. per rifleman. 300 rds. per A.R. 30 rds. per M79.

(g) Jungle utilities should be worn. But it is essential that they fit properly.

1. No underclothes should be worn because of heat.

2. 2 pair of socks should be carried in pack. Feet are of prime importance.

(h) Standard machete should be carried (one per fire team).

(i) One entrenching tool per squad.

(j) One sandbag for trash for each meal for the platoon.

1. Trash should be discarded at least 5 ft. off of trail and away from bivouac area.

(k) 150 yds of $\frac{1}{4}$ in. nylon rope.

(l) 3 combat stretchers.

(m) 1 poncho per man.

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

- (n) Smoke should be taken for emergencies.
- (o) Hard candy (mints) life savers, raisens, dried fruit, dried meat. Minimum of one meal a day. Salty food should be avoided, it makes you thirsty and water is of prime importance.
- (p) One radio battery for every 36 hours. Make transmissions 2 to 3 times a day. (AN/PRC-10)
