On 19 December a new IOD site was established on H-218 (BT028373) and the I/3/5 element which had provided security for H-425 assumed the security mission for H-218.

A Black Hammer operations conducted between 190015H and 190430H engaged two small groups of enemy with gunship on board ordnance and accounted for six enemy KBA.

On 19 December a CH-46 carrying an element of K/3/5 crashed into its landing zone (AT983363). The crash and subsequent fire were not the result of enemy action. Eighteen USMC, 1 USN, and 1 KCS were medevaced.

2/5 Forward CP and H/2/5 were inserted into a small AO in the western Que Son Mountains on 20 December. The CP was co-located with a 1st Reconnaissance Battalion PPB on H-510 (AT954405). H/2/5 was inserted via H-848 (AT979409). E/2/5 was chopped opcon to 2/5 at this time.

2. INTELLIGENCE

a. General: During the month of December the S-2 Section continued to collect, evaluate and disseminate intelligence concerning VC/NVA units in and around the 5th Marines AO.

(1) The continuing effort to identify and destroy the Headquarters Forward Element One Front Four met with success when on 24 December 1970, Company "L", 3rd Bn, 5th Marines located the Headquarters. A large quantity of documents and communications equipment were located in a base camp/cave complex. This has proven to be a most significant Intelligence find.

(2) Continued use and emphasis on recon team employment, working from Company Patrol Bases, Special Intelligence, exploitation of Chieu Hoi's and POW'S air reconnaissance and agent reports enhanced the acquisition of Intelligence.

(3) The armed VR concept during darkness employing Night Observation Device and Infra Red has proven most adequate in locating and destroying enemy movement.

(4) The most effective means of locating the enemy and his base areas continues to be the individual Marine.

b. Cumulative enemy losses during the month of December:

(1) NVA KIA-13 / VC KIA-62 / KBA-28

(2) Detainees:

c. Significant aspects of enemy, weather and terrain

(1) Enemy:

(a) Enemy initiated action continued at a low level during December. NVA and VC Main Force Units were reported pulling back to Base Area 112 for refresher training and political indoctrination in preparation for a new offensive.

(b) The majority of enemy activity was centered around food procurment and combating low morale.

(2) Weather: Heavy continuous rains during the month prevented enemy movement and destroyed many of his rice storage areas and bunker complexes. It was also effective in restricting friendly movement especially employment of the rapid reaction force to exploit enemy sightings and intelligence in and around the Que Son Mountains where visibility was often zero.

(3) Terrain: The thick canopied jungles and mountainous terrain of the Que Son's continued to favor the elusive enemy.

(4) Intell Support: Agent reports from 3rd CIT team on a timely basis and the interrogation of detainees along with processing captured documents have been a valuable asset to this Regiment. The Recon Liaison team in the Regimental COC added to the collection of intelligence and cooperation and coordination between units.

Forklift Op Scol	9
Landmine Warfare Scol	38

4. OPERATIONS. Fifth Marines operations during the month of December consisted primarily of small unit saturation patrolling in the Operation Imperial Lake A. O. located in the Que Son Mountains. Emphasis was placed on thorough, systematic searching of the rugged terrain features which characterize the Que Son Mountains. The success of the patrolling is evident in the large amounts of enemy materiel captured during the month.

Lowland operations reflected the predicted increase in enemy activity during the communist holidays. G/2/5 OUPP, operating aggressively in the heavily populated areas of the AO, inflicted substantial losses on the enemy during numerous small unit contacts. G/2/1, opcon to 2/5 from 4 to 17 Dec, participated successfully in lowland/QRF operations.

Both lowland and mountain operations were supported by QRF launchings and Black Hammer flights.

Fixed installation defense commitments changed during the month in that 11th Marines assumed the mission of defending H-425 (AT 998463) on 18 Dec. On 19 Dec an element of I/3/5, opcon 11th Mar, assumed the defense of the new IOD sight on H-218 (BT 028373). On 24 Dec. 3/5 was relieved of the mission of providing security for H-119 (AT 988508).

5. FIRE SUPPORT. (See Enclosure (5))

6. AIR SUPPORT. During the month of December, the 5th Marine Regiment was supported by 193 medevac missions evacuating 320 U.S. personnel and 86 allied personnel from the field. The medevac package consisted of 2CH-46s & 2AHLGs prepositioned at Buldy Combat Base from 0730 to 1800 daily. Resupply was accomplished with 2AHLGs, 2CH-46s, & 1CH-53 utilized daily moving an average of 65,000lbs of cargo to 9 fixed positions and 18 LZs in the field. 47 tactical airstrikes and 16 beacon missions were flown in support of the troops in the field. Aerial observers flew 49 missions for visual reconnaissance, control of air strikes, artillery spotting, convoy escort, rocket site survey, and support of ground troops in contact. The 5th Marines conducted 22 tactical troop lifts and 22 administrative troop lifts, with the Quick Reaction Force (QRF) exploiting 13 different targets. Special packages consisted of 1 Basketball Flareship and 9 Black Hammer Flights. Tactical air and helicopter escort accounted for 27 KBA's. Small arms anti-aircraft fire was reported 6 times with 5 aircraft receiving hits resulting in 3 casualties (WIA).

7. LOGISTICS, EQUIPMENT, AND SUPPLY

a. Base Development. On the 14th of December base wide water service was restored to Buldy Combat Base. All water from 20 November until the 14th of December was transported by tank truck or water trailer from the tactical water point. Water piped from the tactical water point still continues to be non-potable due to lack of chlorine content and the high percentage of rust content. Dismantling of all buildings within that portion of Baldy Combat Base previously occupied by 2nd Battalion, 7th Marines has been completed with the exception of the portion now occupied by the Quick Reaction Force.

b. Preparation For Embarkation. During the month of December particular interest was placed on Embarkation readiness by the 5th Marines. An embarkation readiness center was established at Hill 34 in Da Nang by the 5th Marine Regiment in order to provide a central source of embarkation supplies and to provide covered storage. In addition, at unit level, all cargo manifests were up-dated, requisitions for embarkation materials were researched and requisition priorities re-established. All embarkation containers on hand were P. M. U. inspected and remarked. Seven combat loads of salvage and unservicable equipment were retro-graded to FLC. Embarkation readiness will continue to be a high-priority project during the month ahead.

c. Supply. During the month of December continuous bad weather hindered the re-supply effort from Baldy Combat Base to units being supported in the field. Both re-supply by helicopter and by vehicle was affected. In addition to foul and unpredictable weather, the effort was further hindered by a shortage of aerial cargo nets. At times a total of 26 tactical positions were being re-supplied from Baldy Combat Base. During the month of December the following quantities of supply were issued by LSU-3 at Baldy to units within the 5th Marines AO.

Class I	- A Rations	96,735 lbs
