PART II

NARRATIVE SUMMARY1. PERSONNEL AND ADMINISTRATION

a. During the month of April, the enlisted strength remained approximately the same and the officer strength increased by 1. The turnover is as follows:

	OFF	ENL
Joined	7	487
Dropped	6	460
Total	+1	+27

b. Casualties caused by hostile action during the month totaled 290. Additionally there were 231 cases of miscellaneous non-battle casualties.

c. The average rifle company strength remained approximately the same. The present effective average rifle company strength is 6 officers and 180 enlisted.

d. Administration. Administration for the month included processing 23 meritorious combat promotions; 171 personal awards (an increase of 17 from the previous month) and 25 six month overseas extensions. The reenlistment rate for April was 55.6%. Savings bonds percentage was 78% and there were two Special Courts-Martial for the month of April.

2. ENEMY, WEATHER AND TERRAINa. Significant Reports.

(1) During April 1969, 7th Marines S-2 received, processed and disseminated 141 low level intelligence reports, 49 of which concerned enemy rocket units, firing sites or attack plans.

(2) During the same period, there were 108 reported instances of Vietnamese Nationals volunteering information and materials to 7th Marine units.

b. Significant Enemy Activity. A total of 550 incidents involving enemy forces or activity were reported. Of these, 198 were enemy initiated. The enemy continued to concentrate his effort on implanting mines and surprise firing devices (117 incidents) and harassing friendly forces with small arms fire (60 incidents). These statistics reflect a general increase in enemy activity when compared to 68 mining/surprise firing device incidents and 46 harassing fire incidents reported during March 1969. There were no rocket firing incidents initiated from within the 7th Marines TAOR during this period (as compared to seven rocket firing incidents during March 1969).

c. Analysis of Enemy Situation. The increased number of enemy initiated incidents is attributed to the pressure exerted on the enemy by Operation OKLAHOMA HILLS. The enemy in his attempts to avoid decisive contact has been forced to initiate harassing and delaying tactics. These small and limited actions have allowed him time to make a limited withdrawal of his units, evacuate, sick and wounded from hospitals and to remove or conceal some of his caches. While suffering casualties from these engagements, the enemy has reportedly received replacements and managed to maintain his troop strength at a fairly constant level. These replacements were sent in as reinforcements for the February TET Offensive but arrived too late. The suddenness with which Operation OKLAHOMA HILLS began did not allow the enemy time to make detailed preparations for defensive or offensive actions. He has increased his mining efforts along Route 4 in an effort to delay and harass convoys moving supplies and munitions to fire support bases in the southern portion of the AO.

UNCLASSIFIED
Enclosure (1)

d. Enemy Capabilities and Vulnerabilities.

(1) Capabilities

(a) Attack. During the reported period the enemy's capability to launch a significant attack has been greatly reduced. Operation OKLAHOMA HILLS has successfully denied him at least temporary access to his base camps, caches and hospitals. He has been forced to split his forces into small groups in order to avoid contact and destruction at the hands of FWMAF. This fact is substantiated by Chieu Hoi MSgt Hoang Hai, Assistant Platoon Leader 3rd Platoon, 23rd Transport Company, 141st Regiment, who rallied to FWMAF DAI LOC (D) forces on 23 April 69. Source stated that the 141st Regiment was ordered to break into small units of platoon size to avoid contact and that if they were to mass for an attack, runners from Hq 141st would contact them. The enemy's ability to rapidly mass his units has been decreased by their dispersion and loss of communications equipment as shown later in this report. The 7th Marines since 22 February 69 have captured or destroyed five of the 12.7mm anti-aircraft machine guns of the C.21 Anti-Aircraft Company of the 141st NVA Regiment. Due to the loss of these weapons the company is assumed to have become ineffective in its assigned mission, and without Anti-Aircraft fires the remainder of the 141st Regiment is more vulnerable to air attacks or helo operations and must rework existing tactics and plans. The loss of four 122mm Rocket launchers by the 368B Rocket Artillery Regiment on 18 April 1969 may have to some extent reduced the rocket firing capabilities of this regiment. (COB for 368B lists a total of 50x122mm launchers, 18 per battalion). The loss is probably not serious as many of the rockets have recently been fired from makeshift mud ramps. The number of 82mm mortars and 82mm ammunition captured during Operation OKLAHOMA HILLS together with those captured earlier should significantly reduce the mortar capability of the 141st Regiment. The offensive capability of the enemy also has been reduced to some extent by malaria as is reflected by Chieu Hoi MSgt Bui Van Tri, 8th Company, 2nd Battalion, 141st Regiment. This Chieu Hoi stated he had malaria 5 months ago and that about 50 men of his unit has had malaria. Interrogation reports of PW's and Chieu Hoi's indicate that most of the units in the Operation OKLAHOMA HILLS AO are short of rice and a great deal of manpower is being used in an effort to overcome this shortage, thus denying him use of these personnel in offensive actions. Loss of his ordnance caches will cause a delay in any planned attacks due to the time required to replace them. In view of the 141st and 31st Regiments loss of material, sickness and reported fragmentation; it is considered unlikely that these units will launch an attack of significant size against 7th Marine elements.

(b) Defend. The enemy has reduced his own capabilities to defend

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

by dispersing his units in small groups as mentioned earlier in this report. He does, however, still possess the ability to harass and delay FVMAF as he has demonstrated during the reporting period. His capability to defend is enhanced somewhat by his ability to direct rockets, mortar and recoilless rifle fire on FVMAF fire support bases and troop concentrations. He has demonstrated his ability to effectively employ mines/SFDs and ambushes as a tactic of harassment in and around his base camp areas.

Having abandoned his prepared positions the enemy now has no other choice but to continue his withdrawal as the pressure being applied by FVMAF is denying him the time required to prepare new defensive positions.

(c) Withdraw. During the reporting period the enemy has adopted this capability and dispersed his troop strength in small groups to avoid detection and contact. As stated in paragraph 2. above, he is being denied the opportunity to establish defensive positions and therefore can only be expected to continue his withdrawal from the area. The enemy possesses the capability to go underground in previously prepared caves and tunnels. However, he has not done so and if he did choose the option it could only be for a very short time.

(d) Reinforce. What was possibly an enemy attempt to reinforce was successfully blocked by B Company, 1st Battalion, 7th Marines squad ambush and supporting arms on 13 April 1969 in the vicinity of AT845555. This engagement resulted in 71 enemy KIA. On 30 April 1969 B and D Companies, 1st Battalion, 7th Marines, engaged an estimated 2 companies of enemy in the vicinity AT861545. This action resulted in 74 enemy KIA. It is significant to note that all bodies found had either been stripped of all identifying features and/or the enemy had entered into battle free of all documents.

(2) Vulnerabilities. The enemy still, as in the past, remains vulnerable to FVMAF supporting arms. During the reporting period he has become susceptible to psy-ops activities due to the shortage of rice, lack of rest, increase in incidents of malaria, and the constant pressure being applied against him by FVMAF. The dispersion of the enemy's units in small groups has reduced the control normally exercised over the political thinking of the enemy troops. These conditions have resulted in an overall deterioration of morale and fighting spirit.

(4) Facilities Uncovered/Destroyed. 24 base camps consisting of a total of 612 huts, 592 bunkers, and an undetermined footage of tunnels and trenchlines. 3. ORGANIZATION AND OPERATIONS

a. Operations. During the month of April the 7th Marine Regiment was involved exclusively in Operation OKLAHOMA HILLS, a multi-battalion operation conducted in cooperation and coordination with the 51st ARVN Regiment. OKLAHOMA HILLS commenced on 30 March and was still underway on 30 April. The operational area is located to the NW of DANANG in the HAPPY VALLEY-WORTH RIDGE-CHARLIE RIDGE area. The mission and concept of operations for Operation

OKLAHOMA HILLS is contained in part IV (7th Marines Operation Order 1-69). During April the 7th Marines had operational control of SLF "B", BLT 3/26. There were four Marine battalions engaged in the OKLAHOMA HILLS area of operations; the three subordinate battalions of the regiment and 3/26.

b. Fire Support

(1) Artillery

(a) The Third Battalion, Eleventh Marines was in Direct Support of the 7th Marines in Operation OKLAHOMA HILLS. The following units were assigned the mission of Reinforcing and General Support/Reinforcing during the period indicated.

First Platoon, First Armored Amphibian Company 1-20 Apr (Rein)
 "K" Battery, Fourth Battalion, Eleventh Marines, 1-30 Apr (GSR)
 Second Platoon, Third 8" How Battery (SP) 1-30 Apr (GSR)
 Detachment "A", First 175 Gun Battery (SP) 1-30 Apr (GSR)
 "C" Battery, First Battalion, Thirteenth Marines 1-30 Apr (DS)
 "W" Battery, First Battalion, Thirteenth Marines 1-30 Apr (DS)
 "M" Battery, Third Battalion, Eleventh Marines 23-30 Apr (GSR)
 "B" Battery, First Battalion, Eleventh Marines 26-30 Apr (DS)

(b) During April 22, 783 artillery rounds were fired on 1958 targets.

(2) Naval Gunfire

(a) During April 1969 the following ship supported the 7th Marines on Operation OKLAHOMA HILLS.

USS Newport News

2 April 1969

(b) A total of 40 rounds of Naval Gunfire were fired on 7 targets.

(3) Air Support. Fixed wing and helicopter missions flown in support of the 7th Marine Regiment were exclusively in direct support of Operation OKLAHOMA HILLS. There were 132 close air support missions scheduled and 111 flown. There were 146 helicopter missions scheduled and 140 flown. There were 3 add-on helicopter missions and 9 missions cancelled; 1 for weather, 5 for aircraft availability and 3 by the user. Helicopter support moved 3,081,284 pounds of cargo, 5895 passengers and 656 med-evacs. There were 107 emergency med-evacs and the average emergency med-evac mission took 44 minutes. There were 32 command and control missions flown, 203 AO missions flown, 15 flareship missions flown, 310 med-evac missions flown in addition to the 55 logistic and 40 troop transportation missions flown. The OKLAHOMA HILLS Operation has effected a number of significant air supported events. Early in the operation fire support bases (FSB's) RATTLESNAKE (ZC 123650) and BUCKSKIN (AT 832660) were emplaced utilizing helicopters exclusively for emplacement of bulldozers, guns, ammunition and resupply. In addition to the initial helicopter assault by the 3rd Battalion, 26th Marines, there were subsequent battalion lifts of significance. On 21 April 1969 the 2nd Battalion, 7th Marines and "H" Battery, 3rd Battalion, Eleventh Marines were withdrawn from their positions on FSB BUCKSKIN and simultaneously the 1st Battalion, 51 ARVN and its direct support 105mm howitzer battery were moved into and reoccupied the 2nd Battalion, 7th Marines positions. The Commando Vault helicopter landing zone clearing weapon was used on three of the six proposed targets with only one of the cleared areas being suitable for landing zone development. Target accuracy was not sufficient to use the other two areas. The three proposed targets which were not used were rejected due to the tactical movement of troops in close proximity to the target areas. Logistic resupply and troop movement was accomplished using the LSA principle which was very effective. Helicopter movement was very efficient with little wasted time due to traffic tie ups in loading and unloading.

4. TRAINING. Attendance at various schools during the month was as follows:

Basic Infantry Weapons Repair Course	(2)
Basic Ammunition Technician Course	(2)
III MAF 16mm Projectionist School	(3)
Basic Organic Supply Accounting Course	(2)
Embarkation School (Enlisted)	(1)
Organic Supply Accounting Course	(1)
Career Planning Course	(2)
Registered Publication Custodian Course	(1)
Scout/Snipers Course	(2)
Personal Response Instructors Course	(2)
TSIC/KW-7 Maintenance Course	(1)
Embarkation School (Officer)	(1)
Land Mine Warfare Course	(43)

5. LOGISTICS

a. During this month the Regiment was involved in Operation OKLAHOMA HILLS. The logistics concerning this operation were planned and supervised by the Regimental S-4. The Logistical Support Area at Hill #55 provided logistical support for all classes of supply. First Shore Party Battalion; Force Logistic Command; 1st Engineer Battalion; and 1st and 11th Motor Transport Battalions provided the needed service units to cover all aspects of logistical support.

b. Supply. The supply situation throughout the Regiment has continued to improve since last month's report, with only one unit reporting a decline in supply support. Certain specific items continue to be in short supply and must still be considered noteworthy problem areas. The lack of sufficient quantities of the below listed items adversely affects the combat readiness of units within this organization:

Helmets complete
 Body armor (upper torso)
 Field protective masks
 Compressor, flame thrower
 Rifle, sniper, M700
 PU278 generator

UNCLASSIFIED

Enclosure (1)

SECRET

Grenade Launcher M79
 Rocket Launcher 3.5 inch
 Mortar 60mm
 AN/PPS-6 radar set
 M274A2 repair parts
 M119 400 gal water trailers

c. Miscellaneous. The improvement and upgrading of cantonment living and mess areas is considered a critical problem. Although valid requests have been submitted, response has been extremely slow. Messhalls are operating from 100% to 150% over capacity at each meal. Troop billeting spaces are inadequate with many troops throughout the Regiment living in homemade strongbacked tents and/or "Ammo Box Hootches". ~~Camp habitability~~ has a direct affect on troop morale and should therefore receive the highest priority and consideration.

6. CIVIC ACTION

a. During the month of April, the 7th Marines Medical Civic Action Program (MEDCAP) treated a total of 2067 Vietnamese people. The Dental Civic Action Program (DENCAP) had a total of 17 Vietnamese treated in the 7th Marines TAOR.

b. The 7th Marines utilized the HB#12 team for a total of 3 1/2 hours. The main themes being broadcasted were Rewards, Chieu Hoi, Pro GVN, and Civil Information.

c. A total of 92 routine PsyWar Sorties ~~were requested for this month of~~ which 7 were cancelled. The total number of leaflets hand distributed throughout the 7th Marines TAOR was 3,614 with the main themes being Rewards, and Pro GVN.

d. During the period the 7th Marines have continued to maintain an active civil affairs program. The civic action projects are under the supervision of the Battalion S-5's and are of the nature of agricultural, economics, education, and community development.

7. COMMUNICATION

a. During the period 1 April to 30 April 1969, the communication platoon, Headquarters Company, 7th Marine Regiment operated and maintained the communication system. Normal training was conducted throughout the period.

b. Support of Operation OKLAHOMA HILLS was the paramount task of the communication platoon and attached and supporting personnel. In support of OKLAHOMA HILLS a communications insert was placed on RC BANA (ZC 205703). On D+1 1 April a total of eight radio nets were set on automatic retransmission or extended remote using the AN/TRS-27.

UNCLASSIFIED

Enclosure (1)

8. MEDICAL. A total of 439 military patients, 412 Marines; 4 Navy, 11 ARVN, 2 Army personnel and 10 PW were treated at the Regimental Aid Station during the month of April. This is an increase of 28 over the month of March. During the month there were 7 cases of FUO, 2 cases of upper respiratory infection, 10 cases of gonorrhea, 2 cases of urethritis, and 4 cases of gastroenteritis. A total of 342 Vietnamese civilians were seen at MEDCAP, a decrease of 33 from the month of March. A total of 131 injections were given during the month.

 (b) 1st MarDiv (Rein) FMF, Special Study "NUI MANG, NUI BA NA, CHARLIE RIDGE; Period 01 Jan to 05 Mar 69"

1. Mission. Commencing H-Hour on D-Day, 7th Marines (-) (Rein) in cooperation and coordination with 51st ARVN Regiment, conducts multi-battalion operation in the WORTH RIDGE-CHARLIE RIDGE-HAPPY VALLEY area to destroy enemy forces, caches, installations and fortifications.

2. Enemy Situation

a. Characteristics of the area of operation

(1) Military Geography

(a) Topography. The area of concern is bounded by coordinates (ZC 0773), (AT 9373), (AT 9360), (ZC 2154), (ZC 0754), and is characterized by steep, rugged mountains. The CHARLIE RIDGE complex situated in the southern portion of the area of operations, the BA NA mountains located in the north, NUI MANG mountains to the northwest, THO THENON Mountain located in the south central section and the high ground overlooking THUONG DUC VALLEY constitute dominant terrain features. These features rise sharply from adjacent river valleys with rough dissections scarring the densely vegetated slopes. In sharp contrast to the otherwise mountainous terrain is HAPPY VALLEY, centrally located in the operational area. Local relief generally ranges between 500 and 1000 meters. The maximum elevation within the AO is 1487 meters (R. C. BA NA, ZC 196705). The minimum elevation is 10 meters in the alluvial plain situated in the southwest. The floor of HAPPY VALLEY is approximately 350 meters above sea level.

(b) Hydrography. Rivers providing principle drainage media for the area are the SONG VU GIA, SONG CON and SONG YANG Rivers. The upper courses of these rivers flow swiftly over steep irregular gradients and run off very rapidly during periods of heavy rainfall (May - November). Only the VU GIA and CON Rivers are suitable for significant river traffic. The SONG VU GIA forms the southern boundary of the area while the SONG CON coincides with the southwestern boundary. The SONG YANG flows south from the western end of HAPPY VALLEY to the SONG CON, thus forming the western boundary.

SECRET(c) Climate and Weather.

1. General. The climate of the area is monsoonal in nature. It is characterized by two major seasons; the southwest monsoon from mid-May until late September, and the northeast monsoon from early November until mid-March. Separating these major seasons are two rather short transitional periods.

2. Temperatures. The warmest temperatures in this area occur from April to September while the coolest temperatures occur from December through February.

	Mar	Apr	May
Record Maximum	103	105	102
Mean Maximum	81	88	91
Mean Monthly	77	80	83
Mean Minimum	70	73	76
Record Minimum	59	62	71

3. Humidity. Early morning relative humidities are normally above 90 percent. During March and April the afternoon humidities are relatively low, then begin to rise again in May.

4. Precipitation. The rainy season begins in May and extends through December with maximum precipitation occurring September through November. Annual precipitation throughout the area ranges from about 110 to 115 inches. Thunderstorms frequently form along mountain ridges, and thunderstorm clouds often obscure ridges. Precipitation data for the area follows.

	Mar	Apr	May
Highest Total (in)	5.7	7.6	16.6
Mean Monthly (in)	0.9	1.3	2.6
Mean days w/Precipitation	4	5	8
Mean days w/Thunderstorms	1	5	11

(2) Transportation

(a) General. Lines of communication within the area are identified below. It is significant that regardless of their degree of trafficability, All remain under constant threat of interdiction by the enemy.

(b) Roads

1. Route 4 enters the area from the east and parallels the SONG VU GIA River to THUONG DUC District Headquarters (ZC 1453). Branching to the northwest, Route 4 then parallels the SONG CON River to ZC 0257 where it becomes no more than a trail. A recent visual reconnaissance of the route by an aerial observer revealed that the bridges at ZC 185555, ZC 192559 and ZC 209554 are out but can be by-passed.

B-1-2

UNCLASSIFIED

2. Route 14 commences at THUONG DUC District Headquarters (ZC 123514) and goes southwest for approximately four kilometers where it leaves the area of interest.

3. Route 540 extends from (AT 899774) to (AT 913577) bounding the area on the east. An unnamed road extends west from Route 540 at (AT 944664) to (AT 893662) and is trafficable by vehicles. Route 540 is open to traffic.

(c) Inland Waterways

1. The SONG YANG River on the west will accommodate only canoes or shallow draft boats.

2. The SONG VU GIA and SONG CON Rivers on the south and southwest can accommodate significant river traffic.

3. Helicopter Landing Zones (HLZ). Reference (b) applies.

4. Telecommunications. No telecommunication system exists within the area other than those systems established to support operations.

5. Politics. Reference (b) applies.

6. Economics. Reference (b) applies.

7. Sociology. Reference (b) applies.

b. ENEMY MILITARY SITUATION

(1) Strength

141st Regiment	900-1,000
Battalions: (3)	200-250 Each
368B Arty Regiment	1,200-1,250
Battalions: (3)	400-450 Each
31st Regiment	800-950
Battalions: (2)	300-350 Each
21st Anti-Aircraft Company	40-60

(2) Composition

Prior to the "post-TET Offensive", the following major NVA units were located in the area of operations: 141st Infantry Regiment (ZC 1859) with three infantry Battalions and supporting companies, the Headquarters of the 368B Artillery Regiment located in the vicinity (ZC 1461) with three Battalions displaced generally from vicinity (AT 8060) to (AT 8283), the 31st Infantry Regiment of the 341st Division vicinity (AT 8165) (Headquarters). The two Battalions of the 31st Infantry Regiment were located in the same general vicinity as the Headquarters. (A prisoner captured on 26 February 1969 placed the 21st Anti-Aircraft Company of the 111st Regiment in the vicinity of (ZC 2060)).

(3) Disposition

(a) Geographical location of enemy units in this area prior to the "post-TET Offensive" (22-23 February 1969) was a concentration in vicinity (ZC 1859) north to (ZC 1865) and east to the (AT 83) grid line.

(b) Tactical Deployment of enemy units is suspected to be presently on a north/south axis rather than an east/west axis as they were reported prior to 22-23 February 1969.

(c) There has been little confirmed movement of the enemy units in this area since the "post-TET Offensive".

(4) Equipment(a) 111st Regiment

1. Each battalion has 5 companies (3 infantry, 1 support and 1 weapons).

2. Organic weapons for infantry companies are as follows: RPD (light machine gun), RPG (rocket launcher), 60mm mortars; the remaining personnel are armed with AK-47's predominantly and some SKS's.

3. Weapons organic to battalions weapons company in addition to personal weapons include the following:

Ø1x82mm mortar platoon
Ø1xHMG platoon
Ø1xB-41 platoon

Ø4-Ø6x82mm mortars
Ø4-Ø6x12.7mm HMG
Ø4-Ø6xB-41 rocket launchers

4. The battalion's support company is primarily administrative and includes the medical, transportation, and signal sections.

5. The Regiment's support companies are as follows: RR Company (Ø6-Ø8x57mm/75mm RR's), mortar company (Ø6-Ø8x82mm mortars), signal company, engineer company, medical company, anti-aircraft company (Ø4-Ø6x12.7mm HMG's), transportation company, recon company, chemical company, sapper company, (bangalores, satchel charges, RPG's and AK-47's) and a casual company.

6. There have been unconfirmed reports of a 4th Battalion Cadre whose mission is training replacements.

(b) 368B Arty Regiment

1. The two battalions in the regiment have Ø4 companies each with organic weapons of RPG, RPD, AK-47, and SKS in addition to rocket launchers.

B-1-4

2. Each battalion has three companies with $\phi 6$ gun sections per company making a total of 18x122mm rocket launchers per battalion. 140mm rockets are sometimes used which have been launched primarily from mud ramps.

3. This regiment has three support companies: Recon and Signal, Medical, and Transportation.

(d) Recent and Present Significant Activities

1. Prior to the "post-TET Offensive" these units moved east and north to mount the attack on DANANG City.

2. Since the offensive there have not been any significant activities in this area.

(5) Reinforcements

The 2nd NVA Division generally located south and south east of the area of operations is considered the principle external reinforcing command. The 2nd NVA Division consists of the 1st VC Regiment, the 21st NVA Regiment, and 31st NVA Regiment. Its strength is placed at 7,400 and would be considered capable of reinforcing units within the AO within 24 hours.

(6) Strengths and Weaknesses

(a) The enemy's primary strength lies in his knowledge of the area. Secondly, he could defend and/or attack upon terrain of his own choosing.

(b) It is believed the enemy has several harbor sites, supply caches, hospitals, assembly area command post sites, and permanent fortifications in this area. He will have to return to this area for logistical reasons.

3. Enemy Capabilities. The enemy has the following capabilities:

a. Attack: The enemy can feasibly attack in units up to regimental size. His probable objectives would include fire bases and helicopter landing zones. Presumably, the enemy holds the high ground and has the option of being able to attack down hill if he so chooses. He has the additional capability of directing 122/140mm rocket, recoilless rifle and mortar fire on firebases, helicopter zones and troops.

b. Defend: The enemy is known to possess extensive fortifications within the area of operation. During past operations he has opted to briefly defend on such terrain features as Hills 502 and 1025. It is generally held that his defenses are primarily oriented against an attack from the east. Additionally by initially controlling the high ground overlooking proposed LZ's in the HAPPY VALLEY area, he could briefly defend that area against helicopter borne assault.

c. Reinforce: Within the area of operation there is an identified enemy force of between 2700-3200 not including organic support units and local VC forces. The enemy's thorough knowledge of the terrain and trail networks in this area theoretically allows him to reinforce any unit within the AO at any time. Enemy units outside the area of operation that could normally be considered capable of reinforcing enemy units within include the 21st NVA Regiment of the 2nd NVA Division on the south and southeast.

d. The enemy possesses the capability of directing 122/140mm rockets, recoilless rifle and mortar fire on our forces in conjunction with any of capabilities (a) through (c).

e. Withdrawal: The enemy has continuously demonstrated his capability to withdraw either partially or completely (partial withdrawal includes going underground as well as withdrawing from the immediate area of operation with the intention of returning immediately upon removal of our forces).

4. Analysis of Enemy Capabilities.

a. Relative order of probability of adoption by enemy (in increasing order of probability)

(1) 3c (reinforce)

(2) 3a (attack)

(3) 3b (defend)

(4) 3d (withdrawal)

b. Rationale for probability of adoption

(1) 3c - Reinforce. Possible but not very likely. The enemy units within the area can reinforce internally at will. This presumably would be attempted only if the enemy intended to attack or counter-attack within a zone of action. External reinforcing units would become involved only if the NVA leadership determined that a successful conclusion could be predicted. Units capable of reinforcing would probably be assets of the 2nd NVA Division (i.e., 21st and 31st NVA Regiments and the 1st VC Regiment). The 2nd NVA Division has an area and mission of its own and it could be assumed that the NVA Command (MR-5) would hesitate to commit any or all of these units unless victory were assured.

(2) 3a - Attack. Not considered likely. Conflicting reports on the number of casualties suffered by the 141st NVA Regiment have been circulated. However, in any event, that Regiment, and particularly that units 3rd Battalion and C-17 mortar company, suffered substantial casualties during the period 22-23 February. It is a matter of speculation as to the presence of 800 reported replacements received jointly by the 141st and 31st NVA Regiments during the later part of February. It is doubtful whether either of these two units would become engaged in a set-piece battle with a numerically superior force with more than adequate firepower unless the enemy fully believed a victory could be obtained

(3) 3b-~~defend~~. Probable. The enemy in its present location is capable of initially defending against the entrance of friendly forces into the area of operations. His defense would most likely be to that extent necessary to delay and harass the advance of our forces. Further defense by the enemy would then probably be centered about key cache and headquarters installations where it would be anticipated that he would strongly resist our approach.

(4) 3d-Withdrawal. In light of the 7th Marines mission and scheme of maneuver (i.e. attacking towards the center of the AO from the periphery in three directions simultaneously), the enemy's capability to execute a partial or complete withdrawal must be seriously considered as the probable course of action. Again, the enemy's thorough knowledge of the area enables him to move rapidly towards egress points. Once the enemy has determined: (a) the general concept of the operation, (b) the deployment of our forces and (c) our inability to seal all exits simultaneously, he most likely will endeavor to avoid contact and commence a partial withdrawal from the immediate area of operations. In view of the enemy's avowed intentions regarding the DANANG vital area, complete withdrawal can most likely be discounted. Upon departure of our forces, he probably will attempt to reoccupy and maintain the area as his base.

5. Conclusion

The enemy will initially defend against the entrance of friendly forces into the area of operations to that extent necessary to delay and harass. He will then withdraw his forces to defend those cache areas and installations he deems valuable. Ultimately, he will withdraw or go underground avoiding detection of involvement in major engagements.

- Ref: (a) Maps: Vietnam 1:50,000 Ams Series L7014 Sheets: 6540 I (THUONG DUC), 6541 II (BACH MA), 6640 IV (DAI LOC), 6641 IV (DANANG).
 (b) 1st MarDiv. (REIN) FMF Special Study "NUI MANG, NUI BA NA, CHARLIE RIDGE; Period 01 January to 05 March 1969".

1. Targets are listed in three sections; Pre D-day, D-day and Post D-day. Targets are serially numbered utilizing a five (or six) character alphanumeric numbering system and listed by north-south grids. Targets within a specific north-south grid (ie. AT87, ZC07) maintain the same basic numeric designator regardless of whether targeted for Pre D-day, D-day or Post D-day.

2. Targets are further identified by classification and priority. The following code is utilized:

a. Classification (A, B, C, D)

- A - Targets which are a threat to air operations
- B - Targets which affect friendly forces by threat to helo landing zones or initial maneuver into the area of operations.
- C - Targets which facilitate the enemy's continued resistance or which are a threat to friendly forces or in opposition to maneuver.
- D - Restricted targets will not be fired unless approval is received from this headquarters.

b. Priority (I, II, III, IV)

- I - Targets capable of preventing execution of plan of attack.
- II - Targets capable of immediate serious interference with the plan of action of the landing force and its elements.
- III - Targets capable of ultimate serious interference with plan of action.
- IV - Targets capable of limited interference with plan of action.

3. Target list is based on data contained in reference (b) and subsequent reconnaissance and intelligence reports.

1. CONCEPT OF FIRE SUPPORT

a. Initial fire support will consist of preplanned air strikes, AN/TPQ-10 and Beacon drops, artillery and naval gunfire to harass and interdict possible enemy forces and installations in the area of operations as much in advance of D-Day as possible. Special attention will be applied to insure that a pattern is not established to indicate friendly intentions. Subsequent fire support will be provided by air, naval gunfire and artillery from fire support bases established in the area of operations.

b. COMMANDO VAULT weapon system will be used in the preparation of FSB's, COB's and LZ's.

2. AIR

a. Preplanned air strikes will be used to the maximum extent possible.

b. CAS will be requested as the tactical situation develops.

c. AN/TPQ-10 strikes will be available before, during and after D-Day. Units submit their AN/TPQ-10 targets to 7th Marines FSCC prior to 1100 each day. These targets should be sent to the FSCC listed in the priority that the units desire they be engaged.

d. Beacon strikes will be available to augment AN/TPQ-10 drops. Targets will be selected from the daily AN/TPQ-10 target list.

3. ARTILLERY

a. Artillery will provide direct support as required. Preplanned fires and H&I fires will be fired as far in advance of D-Day as possible, commensurate with fire capabilities and security considerations.

b. Submit night defensive and night H&I fire plans to the 7th Marines FSCC by 1800 daily.

c. Units should thoroughly evaluate intelligence and target sources to determine which targets would be more suitable as ON-CALL targets rather than as H&I targets. This selective process will enable the most effective fires to be delivered at the time deemed most appropriate by the requesting unit.

UNCLASSIFIED

d. Preparation fires normally will be scheduled to commence as close as possible to H-Hour/L-Hour commensurate with the duration of the preparation and safety considerations. Preparation fires will be based on specific target analysis and not on a statement regarding an arbitrary number of rounds.

e. Requirements for artillery for reconnaissance inserts will be submitted over the Northern/Southern Recon Artillery Net as appropriate.

4. NAVAL GUNFIRE

- a. Allocation: One (1) CA
- b. Naval gunfire will be used for destruction, neutralization and prep fires on D-1 and D-Day.
- c. Naval gunfire will fire in support of units insofar as range permits.

5. COORDINATING INSTRUCTIONS

- a. Fire support planning will be in accordance with FMFM 7-1.
- b. Requests for and recommendations on use of COMMANDO VAULT will be submitted to this headquarters to include 8-digit target location, approximate time of drop and purpose.
- c. Requests for unusual ordnance or method of attack should include sufficient information to allow proper evaluation of requirement.
- d. Priority of fires will be to units in contact.
- e. Fire plans to support initial daytime activities will be submitted by battalions to the 7th Marines FSCC as early as possible the night before, thus allowing for scheduling of adequate fire support for all maneuver units.

3. LOGISTIC OPERATIONS CENTER. The LOC is located at the Logistic Support Area (LSA) at Hill #55 and will be in direct support of Operation Okla-hona Hills. The LOC coordinator will coordinate the helicopter re-supply of all units from the LSA at Hill #55. The layout of the LOC bunker at Hill #55 is illustrated in Appendix 1.
4. COMMUNICATIONS. The LOC will maintain a radio net with the LSA tower, transmitted into the LOC via speaker, to enable battalion representatives to advise battalions that aircraft are enroute to their respective LZ's. Trunk lines will be available to 7th Marines switchboard. "Hotlines" will be available between the LOC and LSA tower, the LOC and the FLC LOC, and the LOC and 1st Marine Division LOC (G-4).
5. BATTALION S-4 REPRESENTATIVES
 - a. Each battalion being supplied from Hill #55 LSA must maintain an S-4 representative in the LOC to coordinate resupply between the LSA and battalions in the field. Adequate communications between representatives and battalions in the field, on an admin or logistics net, is mandatory. Each representative must monitor his net in order to ascertain and disseminate the following information:
 - (1) LZ conditions (Clear, ready to receive aircraft).
 - (2) HST on net and correct frequency.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

- (3) Correct coordinates, call sign and frequency of LZ EST.
- (4) Notify battalion that supplies are enroute to LZ.
- b. Each Battalion representative will make out resupply request form Appendix 2, break requirements into loads, draw supplies from LSU, stage loads at LSA, set priorities, and submit requests to the LOC coordinator.
- c. Each Battalion representative will provide sufficient personnel to draw and stage resupplies at the helo pad.

6. PRIORITIES

- a. Emergency Resupply. Requires immediate delivery without which the mission cannot be accomplished and loss of life would probably result. The request must be approved by the regimental commander, in the case of separate battalions by the battalion commander, or by the regimental commander exercising operational control.
- b. Priority Resupply. Resupply requests for the next day will be scheduled and dispatched as requested consistent with aircraft availability, emergency and priority requests and weather conditions.

7. REQUESTS

- a. Requests will be submitted to the LOC coordinator no later than 1500 on the day prior to the requested resupply, utilizing the format contained in Appendix 3. The frequencies, call signs and coordinates submitted must be correct to reduce delay in resupply delivery.
- b. Emergency or priority resupply requests may be submitted at anytime.
- c. When cargo has been staged, unit representatives will submit an illustrated listing of lifts in the format contained in Appendix 4.
- d. Cancellations will be accepted at anytime. Cargo that has been staged prior to cancellation should be promptly removed from the LSA.

8. STAGING CARGO

- a. Supplies being helicopter lifted from the LSA must be staged in lanes designated by the Officer in Charge (Shore Party) of LSA Operations at least four hours prior to scheduled resupply. In case of lifts scheduled prior to 1200, supplies will be staged in nets and/or cabled before 1800 on the day prior to the scheduled lift. Water cans, containers and supplies returned to the LSA

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

from Battalion positions will be removed from the LSA ramp as expeditiously as possible to eliminate the possibility of injury to personnel or damage to aircraft. Loads scheduled for the next day will not be staged on the LSA until the scheduled and add-on lifts for the current day have been completed.

- b. Units requesting helicopter lifts from positions other than a designated LSA will be responsible for the timely staging and netting of cargo.
- c. Altitude, weather conditions, temperature and landing zone conditions will determine the weight of lifts. 7th Marines S-4 will provide guidance as required.

9. LSA/SHORE PARTY

- a. The Shore Party company commander is responsible for the operation of the LSA.
- b. The LSA is divided into nine lanes. Staging lanes will be assigned to units resupplying from the LSA. The layout of Hill #55 LSA is illustrated in Appendix 5.
- c. Unit representatives will avoid contacting Shore Party personnel in the LSA tower. Requests concerning lifts will be submitted to the LOC.
- d. The Shore Party Landing Zone OIC at the LSA is responsible for inspection of loads in nets, sling lifts and will assist battalion representatives in staging cargo.

10. MONITORING

- a. The IOC will monitor, by radio, operations at the LSA and will forward information to the LSA tower concerning emergency, priority, add-ons or changes in daily scheduled lifts.
- b. The LOC coordinator will provide, daily, to the LSA a consolidated schedule of resupply lifts in the format contained in Appendix 6.
- c. The LOC will maintain a status board displaying the following instructions:
 - (1) Aircraft availability
 - (2) Cargo staging
 - (3) Cargo netted and/or slung

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

(4) Lifts completed/lifts remaining

(5) Unit location, call sign and frequency

This information will be obtained from the Shore Party LSA radio net monitored in the LOC, and from unit representatives.

d. The LOC will provide daily, to pilots fragged for the resupply mission, a sheet showing LZ coordinates, call sign and frequency (dream sheet). This facilitates passing destination information to aircraft without compromise. A sample format is illustrated in Appendix 7.

11. INCOMPLETE MISSIONS. Any mission that cannot be completed due to nonavailability of aircraft or below minimum flight conditions will be rescheduled by the LOC.

12. PASSENGERS. All troops requiring transportation will report to their unit representatives at the LOC. Unit representative will maintain a log of personnel by name, rank, serial number, unit, and destination utilizing the format contained in appendix 8. The number of passengers and destination will be entered on a status board in the LOC bunker. The LOC coordinator will determine when passengers will be lifted, based on load limits and flying conditions. Upon approval of passenger lift, the unit representative in the LOC will stage personnel and check their names off the manifest after the aircraft has departed.

13. BILLETING AND POLICE. Unit rears will billet, when possible, all passengers not lifted out during the day. Working parties will report to regimental representative (by 1600) who will be responsible to see that the area is clean.

- b. Second priority of effort will be assistance in clearance of FSB's in accordance with the criteria contained herein.
- c. Maneuver elements of the Regiment will be provided with normal close combat engineer support.

2. PRE D-DAY REQUIREMENTS FOR LANDING ZONE CLEARANCE

- a. Coordination. It is mandatory that close coordination and cooperation be established at the earliest possible time between the Engineer commander and the infantry commander and HST personnel.
 - (1) Immediate notification by the infantry commander to the engineer commander in direct support of the proposed operation.
 - (2) The engineer commander records pertinent information concerning the mission to include:
 - (a) Time and place of operation.
 - (b) Size of the area to be cleared.
 - (c) Size and composition of the unit to occupy the area, (If artillery is to occupy the proposed site, plans should include provisions for it to be in position and prepared to fire by the end of D-day when feasible. The quantity of growth will be final determinant on the feasibility.)
 - (d) Maps and aerial photos of the area.
 - (e) All reconnaissance information obtained from previous inserts, if any.

C-1-1

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

- (3) Engineer commander, with infantry and air representative, makes an overflight of the proposed LZ to determine:
- (a) Area of plane surfaces suitable for helicopter landings.
 - (b) Extent of foliage, underbrush and other growth present on the site.
 - (c) Approximate number and average diameter of trees on the site.
 - (d) Tactical suitability of the site in relation to other contingent sites.
 - (e) Any other information germane to the site clearance/preparation.
- (4) Engineer and infantry commander jointly decide:
- (a) Exact location of the proposed LZ.
 - (b) Appropriate dimensions of the proposed site.
- b. Estimate. The engineer commander is now prepared to estimate his requirements to support the mission.
- (1) Engineer personnel required to clear the site.
 - (a) Two engineer squads, composed of 13 personnel each (1371's) are capable of clearing 100' x 100' area of dense growth and trees in a period of about 12 hours.
 - (b) The assistance of a 20 man working party equipped with hand tools will reduce the clearance time for an area 100' x 100' to about 8 hours.
 - (2) Engineer equipment required.
 - (a) Six chain saws with spare parts.
 - (b) Two Pioneer Toolkits, TAB A.
 - (c) Saw sharpening tools.
 - (3) Determine what field fortification material will be required. TAB C.

UNCLASSIFIED

~~UNCLASSIFIED~~

(4) Definitions required

- (a) For purposes of computing Class V materials required to clear an area 100' x 100' is listed. Variance in size and quantity of growth on the specific site will be the final determinant of the Class V required (may be adjusted by Recon.). See TAB D. These materials will be helicopter lifted into the proposed site with the engineer personnel.

- 1 2000 lbs. composition 4 (C-4)
- 2 40 each 40 lb shape charges
- 3 5000 ft detonation cord
- 4 500 ft timefuse
- 5 300 nonelectric blasting caps
- 6 100 fuze lighters

- (b) The engineer commander will make direct contact with the supported unit logistics officer to ensure that proper supplies and back-up supplies, such as field fortification materials listed in TAB C, are available and staged prior to D-day.

- (5) Use of requirements for clearing a site 100' x 100' in a period of 8 to 12 hours as a standard will facilitate determination of requirements for clearing of larger or smaller sites.

3. D-DAY REQUIREMENTS FOR LANDING ZONE CLEARANCE

- a. Preparation. The infantry organization commander will ensure that the proposed site receives preparation fires, to include heavy artillery, napalm, Daisy Cutters, combat traps, etc., prior to insertion of personnel.
- b. Engineer Activity. Engineer personnel with initial equipment and supplies will be inserted into the proposed site as early as possible to begin clearance operations.

- (1) All underbrush, foliage, and dense growth will be cleared immediately upon entry into the designated area. Such clearing is given first priority as it renders ease to movement and emplacement of trunk lines and tree charges. Four man engineer teams will work toward this end.

- (a) Forty pound shape charges, when laid on their sides provide an excellent means of clearing thick growth, roots and small trees.
 - (b) Brush hooks and machetes will be used to clear the remaining growth.
 - (c) Axes, chain saws, or demolitions will be used to clear trees.
- (2) Two 4 man engineer teams will concern themselves with setting tree charges and laying trunk lines following in trace of the brush clearers.
- (a) Using the formula $F = D^2 / 40 \div 1.34$ (where F = lbs of C-4 needed and D = diameter of the tree), these engineer teams will place appropriate charges at the base and rig for nonelectric blasting.
 - (b) Trees will be blown in groups of 10 to 15 as the situation demands. Detonation cord will be used in connecting charges for group blasting. Where possible, the tree falling should start at the outer edge and work toward the center of the area to be cleared.
 - (c) As the trees are downed, axes, chain saws, and/or demolitions will be used to section the timbers. At this time the 20 man infantry working party will assist in removing the debris from the site. Such timbers will be stored in a designated area for construction uses in later development. Mini-dozer should be on a standby status for on call lift-in, if required.
- (3) The engineer squad will maintain a continuous work schedule until the site is completed.
- (4) Clearance of a 100' x 100' LZ site will be completed by approximately H+8 (approximately 12 hours without the assistance of the 20 man working party.

4. PRE D-DAY REQUIREMENTS FOR FIRE SUPPORT BASE CLEARANCE

- a. Coordination. When a requirement exists to establish a fire support Base the combat engineer plays a major role in accomplishing this mission. However, it is mandatory that close coordination between the engineer commander and the infantry/artillery unit assigned the FSB mission be established at the earliest.

C-1-4

~~UNCLASSIFIED~~

UNCLASSIFIED

- (1) The engineer with the artillery commander will determine the following:
 - (a) Number of gun positions planned.
 - 1 Normally a total of 6 positions.
 - 2 Each position should have 30' diameter dimensions with a 3' high berm in horseshoe surrounding the position.
 - (b) The approximate location of each gun position.
 - 1 Determined from visual reconnaissance of the area.
 - 2 Determined from aerial photos and map study.
 - (c) The total number of personnel who will be living on position.
 - (d) The bunker requirements necessary to accompany occupying personnel.
 - 1 Normally a temporary FSB will need only 2 bunkers: 1 COC and 1 FDC.
 - 2 8' x 12' TSFC bunkers, which sleep 6 men each can be constructed to fit the more permanent needs of such combat units in the most difficult terrain.
 - (e) The degree of permanence in the facilities required.
- b. Estimate. The engineer commander will evaluate the gathered data and formulate a tentative plan of action to meet all requirements.
 - (1) Plans will be tentative relative to the accuracy of his data in reference to the actual terrain of the designated area.
 - (a) Normal size for a FSB is 250' x 250' and when feasible the artillery commander should use minimum figures at all times.
 - (b) The engineer will base his estimate on these dimensions.
 - (2) A bill of materials for the required installations will be drawn up and forwarded to the regimental engineer.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

(3) The increased engineer personnel/equipment requirements will be resolved. The experience gained during the development of LZ's will assist the engineer commander in making this estimate. Under normal conditions one engineer platoon with 20 man working party will be required to effect FSB development.

- (4) Helicopter transportable tractors (M-450 and M-580) will be staged at the rear supply point for ready access when required.
- (5) Class V materials based on the amount used for a 100' x 100' LZ will be fraged for delivery. The following will be added to the demolition requirements:
 - (a) 30 - 40 lb cratering charges
 - (b) 30 - 40 lb shape charges
- (6) The engineer commander will make proper coordination with the supported units logistics officer to ensure the pre-staging of all supplies and resupplies required to accomplish the mission.

5. D-DAY REQUIREMENTS FOR FIRE SUPPORT BASE CLEARANCE

a. Engineer Requirements. The engineer requirements in developing the FSB on D-day are as follows:

- (1) At about H+8 hours (in heavy canopy only) the LZ clearance project will be completed and the FSB development will begin.
 - (a) A reinforced squad of engineers will join the 2 original squads at the operational site and begin demolition work.
 - (b) Underbrush, trees, and other obstacles will be cleared as in LZ clearance until a large enough area is cleared.
 - (c) Once the site is cleared the engineer personnel will concentrate their efforts toward developing the gun positions.
 - (d) The standard gun position requires a 30' diameter hole with a 3' high berm (horseshoe shaped) surrounding the position.
 - 1 Four 40 lb shape charges placed 15' apart in a square formation and detonated simultaneously will render 4 holes approximately 10' deep and 2' in diameter.

C-1-6

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

- 2 A 40 lb cratering charge will be placed in each resulting hole and tamped with dirt. The four charges will be detonated simultaneously and will render an approximate 30' diameter hole.
 - 3 With the assistance of tool equipped infantry troops the loosened soil from the resulting hole will be shoveled along the banks of the hole to form the 3' high berm.
- (e) The helicopter transportable tractors M450 and M580 can be introduced at this time to assist in digging and back-filling requirements.
- (f) The estimated time required to develop an FSB is proportionately dependant on the number, size and type of bunkers needed on position and the quantity of growth found on the specific site.
