NARRATIVE SUMMARY

1. The 3rd Battalion, 7th Marines, continued during October to conduct aggressive saturation patrolling throughout its assigned TAOR, with particular emphasis on those areas lying within the rocket belt which could serve as possible enemy rocket launching sites.
2. In the vicinity of Hill 55 AF9661 and within the Zone of Action assigned to Company "F", there was increased enemy activity in the form of ambushes against military vehicles moving singly and in convoy, and in contacts made by patrols in the same general area. These enemy actions were largely ineffectual from a military standpoint and served more to harass than to inflict significant casualties or equipment losses on U.S. forces. Intensive patrolling was conducted to deter enemy ambushes directed against motor vehicles, and to close with and destroy his military forces in the area. Frequent small unit contacts with the enemy continued in this area as of 31 October.
3. Company "M" continued to conduct less than company size operations in the western portion of the battalion TAOR, with frequent contacts with small numbers of VC harboring in the mountains to their north and crossing the SONG VU GIA river to their south.
4. Company "I" conducted a three day operation in the ARIZONA area immediately following the flood conditions of 8-10 October. The operations resulted in only limited enemy contact.
5. In response to a Bald Eagle requirement, Company "I" on 14 October was helo-lifted to the northern portion of the 1st Marine Division TAOR to extract a reconnaissance team in heavy contact with the enemy. The mission was successfully accomplished although the enemy withdrew resulting in only minor contact. On 17 October Company "I" again responded to a Bald Eagle requirement, this time in Elephant Valley, to extract a reconnaissance team which had suffered 3 KIA's and 9 WIA's. This mission resulted in the successful extraction of the team, 4 enemy KIA's and an additional 15 probable enemy KIA's. The same afternoon still another Bald Eagle for the extraction of reconnaissance team "Petrified" was levied on Company "I". This mission was also successfully accomplished.
6. Company "I" participated in 7th Marines Operation KNOX with only limited enemy contact resulting. A requirement to recover crew member's bodies and critical equipment from a previously downed "Spooky" C-47 located in precipitous terrain was completed successfully.

b. Significant Operations Conducted. None.

c. Casualties Sustained

d. Logistics(1) Flood Damage

(a) Bunkers. Numerous bunkers within the SOR were severely damaged or destroyed by the flood conditions of 9 October. The platoon combat base at AT 969585 was completely inundated and required evacuation. All bunkers were damaged beyond use. Similar conditions existed at low lying bridge defensive positions as well as Combined Action Platoon positions. All other combat bases fared well through the high water period.

(b) Bridges. Five bridges in the TAOR were washed out, two were destroyed and three had the adjacent roadbed washed away. The bridges at AT 924606, 915593 and 913589 were repaired by the end of October. The bridge at AT 943582 is scheduled to be repaired by 6 November; however, the bridge at 926581 will require approximately eight months of labor before it will again be usable.

(c) Roads. All roads were inundated by the flood but stood up well against erosion. One culvert at 969584 was washed out but repaired within three days. Route 44 was the only MSR within the TAOR open to full use immediately following the flood.

(2) Monsoon Preparation. Logistic emphasis during October was directed toward preparation for the monsoon season. Company "K" and the battalion ammunition dump shared the priority for construction. The Company "K" main base was 80 per cent completed during the month. In the battalion ammunition dump one bunker was torn down and rebuilt, one bunker was reroofed, and a new bunker was constructed. A more thorough drainage system at Hill 37, the Battalion CP, was also installed. Continued effort with high priority engineer assistance requested remains for completion of the water damaged combat position guarding the bridge at AT 969606. All other combat bases continued improvements through a self-help program.

(3) Supply. Monsoon equipment continued to arrive during October. Fighting hole covers, shower shoes, rainsuits, space heaters and 12 general purpose tents were received.

(4) Motor Transport. Spare parts continued to be in short supply. No new M274A2 parts were received. A new grease rack for the motor transport maintenance area is fifty percent complete.

(5) Mess Services. Company "M" mess facilities were improved by the acquisition of a 460 cubic foot refrigerator. Fresh food and A-rations may now be kept on the combat base for use between helicopter resupply missions. Mess services remained at a high level at all other positions.

e. Civil Affairs

(1) Flood Relief. On 9 October, Vietnamese Nationals were forced from their homes by the rising flood waters. One hundred and fifteen people were transported by USMC MTF's to the Battalion CP, where they were given shelter, food and water until the flood waters receded the following day. Flood victims in the Dai Loc District were provided with food provided by GVN sources with the battalion contributing transportation and manpower to aid in its distribution.

(2) Materials Distribution. Approximately 5,500 ammunition boxes were provided local villagers for the improvement of housing. Some 1,500 pounds of rice captured by Company "M" was delivered to local GVN authorities for redistribution.

(3) MedCap/DentCap Programs. The MedCap and DentCap programs of the Command resulted in the treatment of 3,007 persons during the month.

f. Administration. No significant problems other than continued lack of skilled clerical personnel are present.

g. Personnel. Replacement personnel have been sufficient to maintain the battalion at the C-2 level. The total strength is 37 Marine Officers, 996 Marine Enlisted, 2 Navy Officers and 53 Navy Enlisted.

h. Normal Training

(1) Orientation. All newly arrived personnel receive intensive orientation and indoctrination, which includes care, maintenance and familiarization firing of the M-16 rifle.

(a) NCO Leadership (Okinawa)	5
(b) Infantry Weapons Repair (Okinawa)	2
(c) Vietnamese Language (Danang) (III MAF)	2
(d) Land Mine Warfare (Danang)	46
(e) Personal Response (Danang)	2 Officers
	1 Staff NCO

i. Communications. Satisfactory communications have been maintained for the Command for the month of October with the exception of malfunctions in two Off-line Encryption machines, depriving the battalion of its off-line encrypted reception capability.

j. Weather

(1) General. The weather conditions in the area during the month of October had a significant effect in hampering military operations. On the 8th of October, a tropical disturbance moved toward the southern coast of I Corps. Low ceilings, heavy precipitation and gusting winds caused extensive flooding throughout the area occupied by the battalion. Due to the heavy rainfall and its effects on bridges, MSR's and combat bases under the battalion's purview, higher headquarters directed that a scheduled battalion-sized operation be postponed. From the 18th of October to the 14th of October visibility increased and ceilings rose, although widely scattered showers briefly hampered air operations in the late afternoons.

(2) Statistics

(a) Maximum temperature:	85
(b) Minimum temperature:	75
(c) Mean temperature:	76
(d) Average humidity:	86%
(e) Rainfall:	16.45 inches

k. Intelligence

(1) Enemy situation during the period 1-31 October. Low-level agent reports continued to indicate the presence of battalion-size enemy units within the 3rd Battalion, 7th Marines TAOR. The R-20 Battalion (LF) is reportedly located in and moving throughout the south and southwestern sectors of the TAOR. Elements of the 402nd Sapper Battalion (MF) are reported located out of our TAOR to the north, but moving on occasion within our northern sector. The V-25 Battalion (LF) operates on the eastern portion of the TAOR, while the Q-14 and Q-15 Companies (LF) are accepted in the central part of the TAOR.

(2) Significant trends noted. The enemy decreased his use of anti-personnel and anti-vehicular mines and increased the intensity of small arms incidents, particularly vehicular ambushes. The majority of the small arms, sniper and ambush activity occurred in the eastern sector of the TAOR around the Hill 55 and Liberty Road area. The enemy is believed to be employing children for tactical purposes namely, to obtain information about Marine combat bases and to plant mines along the Main Supply Routes.
