f. Medical.

- (1) A total of 929 patients were treated during the month. There were 352 patients treated at Quang Tri B&S and 92 patients were treated at VCB B&S. A third B&S was established at Cam Lo. A total of 485 patients were treated.
- (2) The Dental facilities of 3rd Dental Battalion and 3rd Medical Battalion saw 71 patients 1st Battalion, 9th Marines.
- (3) During the month of April 3rd Medical Battalion treated 14 hostile battle casualties and 41 non-hostile casualties. The hospital ships treated 2 hostile casualties and 11 non-hostile casualties of this total 16 required medivac to Pacific Area hospitals.
- (4) The immunization of the battalion was begun in April. A total of 437 individuals were immunized in the field. The total number of immunizing inoculations was 1457. This will be continued thru May. The main difficulty encountered was adequate troop participation.

During the month of April 1st Battalion, 9th Marines conducted 3 med-caps at the following grids: YD 096517 and YD 117536. The med-caps treated a total of 110 adults and 225 children, before running out of medical supplies.

The mission of S-5 is to train a group of people in this area and to equip them with adequate medical supplies to treat their own people, instead of waiting for U.S. or Allied forces to conduct a med-cap in the area. This would solve two problems: (1) people in the area would be able to help themselves; (2) U.S. and Allied forces could use their med-cap personnel for operations against the enemy.

9. Intelligence.

On 1 April 1st Battalion, 9th Marines continued their assigned mission in the Con Thien, Can Lo, and Mai Loc area.

During the month of April, the battalion has been plagued with civilian activities between C-2, C-3 Bridge, and the bridge near Will 37, where Company A is located. The activities have endangered the security of the battalion's positions, since it is nearly impossible to tell whether VC/NVA observers are among the civilians. CJT and TTT have been assisting the battalion to rid a portion of such activity but is unable to fully control the direction and flow of the civilians; since the population in this area is so great. Because of this hazard, 1st Battalion, 9th Marines found many mines planted along Route 9: a bridge was blown near Company A's position; there has been a constant flow of VC/NVA into villages; the companies have received incoming rounds in and around their positions, and sporadic sniper fire throughout the TAO.

During the first period of April Company B received sporadic sniper fire from YD 153610, 151609, and 154613. Company B also received small arms fire with 60mm mortar rounds at YD 131640. Company D received mainly incoming 82mm mortars from YD 155665 and 18 rounds of 122mm rockets from YD 05604678. Companies C and D found a total of 2 anti-tank mines and 1 booby trap at YD 073575 and 110696. The mine found by Company C was detonated. Company C also found a bag of TTT. Company A made contact twice with an estimated squad at YD 087605 and 092600 resulting in 2 enemy kills. Companies A and B received small arms fire from local PF's shooting at YD 146604 and 085603.

During the middle of April Company A received a total of 20 rounds of 60mm, 82mm mortars, and artillery, plus automatic rifle fire from the following grid: YD 093603, 083605 and 085605. Company A also found a total of (1) M-26, spider hole with communications wire, (1) M-47 magazine, 1 sniper grenades, 2 poncho, 1 poncho liner, and (1) 61mm mortar round. Company B received sniper fire from YD 150608 and 144608, and small arms fire from YD 114542 and 095545 from a phantom motorcycle. Company C found parts of 122mm rockets and a heavily used trail at YD 907025, which was later destroyed by air.

During the end of April the enemy increased their minings, snipers, and contacts with the U.S. and Allied Forces in the battalion's TAO. On 21 April a total of 16 anti-tank mines were found by Company B at YD 080571, 077571, 077571, 064571, 066571, and 096603. (1) mine was detonated by a duster. Company B also received small arms fire and mortars and returned fire with organic weapons resulting in 2 enemy kills and capture of (1) AK-47, (1) SRS, (1) AK-47 magazine, 4 cans of M&M's and primers, 10 lbs. of TTT, 1 bag of wheat, and 10 bunkers. Company B also found the bridge at YD 078571 destroyed. The way in which the bridge was destroyed indicates the use of a sapper team. On 21 and 23 April Company B received 8 rounds of sniper fire from YD 146608 and tripped (1) M-26 booby trap at YD 112538. Company C captured 1 NVA/VC killing 2 and capturing 1 NVA. Company A captured 1 M-47 magazine, and 2 Chicom grenades.

On 27 April Company D received 12 rounds of 122mm rockets at UD 132645. Company D also observed (1) personnel carrier receive (1) BFC or mortar round at UD 133663.

The first part of April to the end of April shows a significant increase of enemy movement, minings, and contacts, which possibly suggests that the enemy is attempting a new offensive or trying to lure more U.S. and Allied Forces from other areas. An agent report that 1st Battalion, 9th Marines received also suggests this possibility. The battalion has also received other agent reports of infiltration routes at UD 099600 and 079592. The reports also stated that Ba Thung and Bac Binh have been VC/AVN hiding places.

The weather throughout April was unrestricted with winds 4-8 knots and temperatures varied from 100 to 85 degrees.

10. Air Support.

- a. Fixed Wing Support: During the month of April 1968 the following fixed wing support was utilized by 1/9.

Date	No. of Flights	Grid	BD Results	A/O Support
20 April	1	088611	100/100. 1 bunker dest. 5 bunkers damaged	Noon Watch "W"

21 April	1	057586	95/95. 9 Secondaries	Noon Watch "W"

- b. Helicopter Support: During the month of April helicopters were utilized only for medical evacuation and C&C missions. No helo-lifts were conducted during April.

c. Personnel and Equipment.

Personnel: The air section of 1/9 consisted of two (2) officers and six (6) enlisted for this month. No U.S.T. teams were attached.

Equipment: The only equipment utilized was the FPC-25 and the PFC-12.

11. Fire Support Artillery.

- a. General: Artillery fire support for the month of April consisted primarily of fire missions on targets of opportunity and defensive targets. Due to multiple clearance problems, not as many F&I target fires were conducted as would have been desired.
- b. Significant Events: On the 12th of April, Company A conducted a fire mission on a active enemy mortar tube. It was not determined whether or not the tube was knocked out.

On the 14th of April, the Army sensing device indicated the presence of 12 PW in the open. A fire mission was called on the indicated grid, 092712, with undetermined results.

On the 15th of April, company C conducted a fire mission on an active enemy mortar tube. One tube was silenced shortly after the mission was initiated.

On the 28th of April, the mobile construction battalion spotted 30 PW through their night observation device. 81mm mortar fire was brought to bear on the target apparently resulting in several wounded PW. Two artillery missions were initiated with adjustments being relayed by the personnel in the ICB observation tower. Before these missions could be brought to the fire for effect stage, the PW were sighted moving into the nearby friendly village and the fire missions were given end of mission.

2. Communications/Electronics:

- General: In April the battalion remained in the Cam Lo, A-4, C-2 and Mai Loc areas and the communications section continued making improvements in communications between and within these areas. Little variation from standard procedures was necessary. Backup means of communications were implemented in certain cases as normally reliable means proved only semi-reliable at times.
- Forward Center: The close proximity and easy accessibility to the battalion rear area from Cam Lo allowed a forward message center to be established and maintained at Cam Lo. A hindrance to this was the lack of an area secure enough to maintain more than a limited amount of classified material.
- Wires: The existing wire lines at both C-2 and A-4 were heavily expanded to provide better service. Switchboards were utilized at these positions. Additional wire was laid at C-2 to provide a backup employing CIDG.

- d. Radio: Radio communications in this area continued to prove erratic on VHF nets. Directional antennas were maintained at Hai Loc, Cam Lo, Sung Tai and VCB, to improve communications in these areas 292's proved adequate in other areas. Different combinations of 292's and directional antennas were utilized with best results between two vertically polarized directionals and between a vertically polarized directional and a 292. HF equipment was employed as a back up for the administrative net. ELQ-68's were employed during the latter portions of the month. There has not been sufficient time to judge their overall performance.
- e. Radio Relay. The radio relay shot was altered slightly to seek a better level of performance. The Cam Lo end continued to be furnished by 9th Marines. The Dong Ha terminal was shifted from 3rd Marines to 3rd Marine Division. This move provided two lines directly into the division switchboard.
