PART II

NARRATIVE SUMMARY

In comparison with recent months, April was a relatively quiet month in terms of firing for the 2d Battalion, 12th Marines. 2,501 missions and 32,812 rounds (29,649 105mm & 3,163 4.2") were fired in support of the 9th Marines, the 2d ARVN Regiment, and U.S. Army forces in the Khe Sanh-VCB-Rockpile-Mutter's Ridge-C2 area of operations. In addition, the 2/12 FDC received 8,512 rounds of all calibers from GS/R units to support the above units. Surveillance of the missions fired by 2/12 batteries included 16 KIA, 4 probable KIA/WIA, 1 NVA POW, 17 bunkers destroyed or damaged, 48 secondary explosions, 2 mortars silenced, and 1 automatic weapon silenced.

At the start of the reporting period, 2/12 had OPCON of its three light batteries and Mortar Battery. The 3d 155 Provisional Battery (2/12) was OPCON to 3/12 throughout the reporting period, supporting 4th Marines operations south of the western portion of the DMZ. On 29 April, the battalion took OPCON of B/1/12 for the purpose of effecting a relief in place of Battery D at C-2, after which the latter was moved to VCB for air movement to a new AO. Only four battery displacements, all by road, were made during the reporting period: two involving Batteries B and D for the relief in place, and two by Mortar Battery. On 15 April, Mortar Battery displaced from the Rockpile to MAI LOC to support a limited 9th Marines operation in that area. The operation was terminated on 21 April and Mortar Battery displaced back to its position at the Rockpile.

Three significant contacts with the enemy developed during the reporting period which involved 2/12 support. At 0400 21 April, an estimated enemy company attacked the night defensive position of G/2/9 at YD 041627, northeast of FSB FULLER. Batteries D and E fired 310 ILLUM and 174 HE, and the attack was repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy. After the attack and continuing until daylight, Battery D fired a platoon mission surrounding an area where it was believed some of attackers might be trying to escape. At daybreak, one NVA emerged from the area to surrender. He stated that he had not been able to escape because of the artillery fire, so the infantry commander credited Battery D with 1 NVA POW.

POW's captured after this action stated that only 100 NVA were involved in the attack on G/2/9 because they had underestimated the size of the Marine unit, and that there were 400 more NVA around FSB FULLER, with a mission of attacking U.S./ARVN installations and of interdicting Route 9. This confirmed other information concerning the infiltration of NVA through the central DMZ, and accounts for the increased level of enemy activity against convoys on Route 9 during the reporting period.

The other two significant contacts involved attacks on the night defensive positions of U.S. Army mechanized forces operating adjacent to the 9th Marines AO, at Khe Sanh and southwest of C-2. 2/12 fired organic and GS/R units in support of those forces.

At the close of the reporting period, a net gain of one light Battery (B/1/12) had been realized as a result of OPCON changes. Two special projects of operational importance were completed in April--the review and improvement of special protective measures against sapper attacks at all battery positions, and an FDC/firing battery inspection of all batteries by the 12th Marines.

PART III

SEQUENTIAL LISTING OF SIGNIFICANT EVENTS1. 2d Battalion, 12th Marines.

- a. Combat Mission Assigned. Direct support of the 9th Marines
- b. Significant Operations Conducted. None..
- c. Displacements and Changes in Operational Control.

15 APR W/2/12 moved from the ROCKPILE to D-5 MLI LOC (YD 0851)

21 APR W/2/12 moved from MLI LOC : to the ROCKPILE

29 APR Assumed OPCON of B/1/12

30 APR B/1/12 moved from the ROCKPILE to C-2

30 APR D/2/12 moved from C-2 to VANDGRIFT COMBAT BASE

d. Casualties Inflicted on the Enemy. 16 KIA (Confirmed), 4 Probable KIA/WIA, 1 POW

e. Casualties Sustained. 2 WIA

f. Logistics. The only significant logistic occurrence in April was the relocation of the battalion LSA operation at Vandegrift Combat Base. Due to the destruction of the LSA facilities at VCB, heavy lift operations, particularly Class V resupply, was initiated at Quang Tri LSA. The 12th Marines organized a Regimental logistic operation from there with all direct support battalions contributing personnel and equipment. 2d Battalion positioned three men and one vehicle as its contribution. 2d Battalion continued its LSA operation at VCB with four men and three vehicles under the direct supervision of the 12th Marines representative there.

Only Battery "E" on FSB FULLER, and C/6/33, a GS/R unit on FSB CATES under 2/12 control, required helicopter resupply.

Battery D, F and the Mortar Battery were in road-bound positions, taxing the battalion's motor transport capability for the first time since December 1968. The Mortar Battery made two motor marches, displacing from the Pockpile to Mai Loc and back, gaining experience that had been denied them since November 1968.

Other S-4/Logistic activity was normal.

g. Civic Action. During the month of April, the Battalion S-5 held Med-caps for the following number of civilians: 31 children, 5 male and 9 female adults. The 2/12 BAS innoculated 105 civilians with their second series of Bubonic Plague shots.

The 2/12-4/12 messhall continues to haul its wet garbage to Thiet Trang for the villagers' use, as a supplement to feed their livestock. The garbage dump area near the hamlet is inspected once a week and continues to be in a good state of police.

The refugee hamlet of Troung-Xa, which was located adjacent to Thiet Trang, has been moved back across the Gua Viet river to an area close to the original location of the hamlet.

The civilian shops at the gate to 2/12 have been reopened under new management. A new building was built to house the laundry and gift shop, and another barber has been employed, for a total of 2.

h. Personnel.

(1) Strength and shortages. The battalion was at 95% of manning level for both officer and enlisted strengths during April. However, the manning level contains no personnel authorization for the 155mm Provisional Howitzer Battery (Towed). This has caused all firing batteries to be manned at approximately 75% strength to compensate for the additional battery. Significant shortages exist in occupational fields 08 and 35.

(2) R & R. Forty six personnel of the battalion participated in out of country R & R during April and 8 men went on in-country R.. & R.

(3) Promotions. One Gunnery Sergeant, two Sergeants and seven Corporals were promoted to the next higher grade during April. 26 Privates First Class were promoted to Lance Corporal during April as additional promotions authorized by CG 3d Mar Div. In addition, 6 Privates First Class were promoted to Lance Corporal under meritorious promotion authorities.

(4) Award Recommendations. A total of 41 recommendations for awards were forwarded during April, 1969. These included 7 Bronze Star Recommendations, 5 Navy Commendation Medal recommendations, 22 Navy Achievement Medal recommendations, and 7 Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry recommendations.

(5) Legal. During April a total of 5 Battery Commanders Office Hours were held. One man was referred to Battalion Commander and was subsequently awarded a Summary Court-Martial. Four CID investigations for possession of marijuana were initiated and three informal investigations were conducted.

i. Communications. During the month of April, the Communications Platoon supported the battalion at Quang Tri, Dong Ha and Vandegrift Combat Base. At Dong Ha, work was completed on the communications bunker which houses the switchboard, radio watch and message center. The old message center area was remodeled into a crypto repair area and a communications supply area where all communications supplies are stocked. A Conex box was obtained and is now used to store all the battalion's crypto graphic equipment. At Vandegrift Combat Base, the CP area was completely rewired and a color-coded wire system was installed. Five new PP 2953 power supplies were acquired through the supply system and two were put to use powering bench mounted cipher sets at Dong Ha and Vandegrift.
