S-1 Matters

1. Personnel and Administration.

This Battalion has maintained an operational level of approximately 92% of the authorized T/O strength during the month of July.

	T/O	O/H	Percentage
Officer	45	42	93.3%
ENCO's	50	30	60.0%
Enlisted	580	561	96.7%

This Battalion joined six Officers and 36 Enlisted personnel of various ranks and MOS's while rotating three Officers and 32 Enlisted to CONUS. This Battalion further transferred one enlisted to Okinawa, and one enlisted to 4th Battalion, 12th Marines. There were three enlisted KIA's, four MIA's during the month of July, and one non-hostile death due to a vehicular accident.

2. Morale and Discipline

The state of morale has remained at a high level. The supply of beer and soft drinks has been adequate and ice for cooling purposes has been available on a daily basis. Both in country and out of country R&R continue to be a factor influencing the high state of morale. Increased emphasis has been placed upon procurement of special services items and a vigorous special services program has been initiated. The Battalion Enlisted Recreation Council and Enlisted Recreation Committee met during the month and acted upon proposals submitted by representatives of the recreation program. Although the Battalion does not have a medical officer or Chaplain assigned, both medical facilities and church services are available through the Fourth Marines Regiment.

There were a total of 12 office hours held during the month for the following violations:

- (1) Article 92 UCMJ - eight (8)
- (2) Article 86 UCMJ - Two (2)
- (3) Article 121 UCMJ - One (1)
- (4) Article 134 UCMJ - One (1)

In addition two violations of Article 113 UCMJ were referred to trial by Special Court Martial. There were no General or Summary Court Martial

ENCLOSURE (6)

S-2 SECTION

1. Enemy Activity- The enemy has concentrated most of their activity around the river routes within the TAOR. Both the Song Bo and My Chanh rivers have been utilized as either a method of transportation or the river banks as concealment for movement of enemy troops and equipment. Most of the significant contacts have been north of the My Chanh River and in the "Street Without Joy" area.

2. Enemy Intentions- The enemy seems to be concentrating on the reorganization of their combat maneuver elements. Even though significant contacts with USMC forces were light the mortar attacks on the Phong Dien, and Hai Lang District Headquarters and the coordinated ground and mortar attack on the Navy Hydrographic teams indicates larger sized maneuver elements. The intelligence report from MACV involving the reorganization of the 5th NVA regiment seems to coincide with the general trend of reorganization and refurbishing of these maneuver elements.

S-3 Section
OPERATIONS and TRAINING SUMMARY

During the month of July 1967 an aggressive training program was started with the publication of a new battalion training SOP. This training program emphasises MOS training to insure each Marine's proficiency in his MOS.

For this operation 21 enemy killed confirmed and 124 enemy killed probable were credited to this battalion. Operations Cumberland and Fremont which started on 9 June 1967 and 10 July 1967 respectively have resulted so far in five (5) KIA confirmed for Cumberland and eight KIA probable for Fremont during the month of July 1967.

On 5 July 1967 the 1st platoon of the 1st Searchlight Battery was attached to the battalion. The searchlights were employed on the perimeter of Camp Evans and on Hill 51 to help detect and locate enemy movement.

COMMUNICATION - ELECTRONICS

1. During the month of July, the Communications section continued normal operations in support of the Battalion, located at Camp Evans.
2. A new Battalion Communications Officer, 1/LT G. E. CADMAN, joined the Battalion on 6 July.
3. The Battalion received a new Communications Chief, CYBOT R. FRANCO, on 14 July.
4. A rigorous preventive maintenance program has been instituted in compliance with the 3d Marine Division Communications SOP. Preventive Maintenance records are now held on all Communications and Electronics items. First and second echelon maintenance programs are being followed on all vehicular radio gear.
5. The Communications section is in the process of relocating in a Communication bunker. When complete, the Message Center, Crypto Center, Tech Shop and radio central will be located in the bunker.
6. A radio central, utilizing AN/GRC-125's and a PP-388, has been established in the Comm bunker. This enables the Radio Section to use camp power for 19 hours and battery power for 5 hours daily. Batteries, BA-386, are used during the evening to prevent overloading the camp generator during this critical period.
7. A trunk line was installed to 2d Battalion, 4th Marines FSCC. This line provided more reliable means of communications between The Battalion FDC and 2/4 FSCC. It parallels the Battery "H" conduct of fire net and supplements the Battalion Fire Direction Net.
8. Local Lines were also installed to support the section of 1st Searchlight Platoon that is OPCON to this Battalion in support of the Camp Evans Complex.
9. Reconciliation was made during this period with Battalion Supply on all outstanding requisitions.

Enclosure (11)

7. Intelligence.

a. Enemy Activities. The enemy has been concentrating his efforts in the rice paddies mainly to the east of Highway #1. Almost all contacts have been small unit contacts with four to ten max units of VC. During the latter part of June and in early July, the general movement of the enemy forces has been west. Also, both Reconnaissance patrols and AO's have reported the movement of sampans along the rivers bordering Base Area 114 and the Hai Lang National Forest. Patrols, AO sightings, and intelligence reports have noted new bunkers and A-A positions in the vicinity of YD 5825, YD 6023, and YD 5940; and indications are that a rebuilding program is in progress.

b. Enemy Intentions. During the initial phases of Operation CHOCTAW, the enemy forces were concentrated in the rice-producing areas, attempting to procure rice. During the last few weeks, the general movement of the enemy westward and the utilization of sampans is an indication that the enemy is moving captured rice and supplies back into the base area.

8. Concept of Operation. 4th Marines units were to continue aggressive small unit activities throughout the assigned areas of operation as well as providing screening forces and artillery south of Quang Tri.

9. Mission. 3d Battalion, 12th Marines (-) (Rein) was to provide direct artillery support to the 4th Marine Regiment.

10. Execution.

a. See Enclosure (1) for a daily chronology of significant events.

b. Survey. All positions were surveyed from a common Battalion Survey Control Point (SCP). This SCP was located at a map inspected road junction.

11. Results. Total confirmed KIA for the operation was 21. Total probable KIA was 124.

12. Communications. During this operation, all firing batteries, the Regimental Liaison Officer, and the Battalion guarded the Battalion Fire Direction Net. Battalion FDC also monitored the Division Reconnaissance Net and the Rough Rider Net as required. Radio was the primary means of communications with the forward observers, and land lines the primary means with the firing batteries and liaison officers. Radio was used as a supplementary means for the land lines. The 4th Marines maintained the Comm and Crypto guard for the Battalion with courier service between the two GP's. No unusual problems were encountered during the operation.

13. Supply.

a. Overall Class I, II, III, and V support was adequate.

b. Class IV support was adequate except for a serious shortage of sandbags and bunker material. Although this organization has been in the Camp EVANS area for over five months, it has not received any bunker material.

14. Commander's Analysis.

a. Operation CHOCTAW was essentially of the same purpose and nature as Operations CHINOOK and BIG HORN.

b. On several occasions during this operation, Marine infantry companies have operated in areas outside the range of the artillery located in the Combat Base area at Camp EVANS. Rather than displacing Marine artillery and the requisite security for it, Vietnamese artillery located in ARVN compounds near the areas of the planned operations has been used for direct support. As a coordinating element, a Marine artillery liaison team has been sent to the participating ARVN compound to monitor the Marine company's Conduct of Fire Net and insure that the ARVN Fire Direction Center receives the call for fire. It is recommended that maximum use be made of ARVN artillery when available in the support of company and smaller sized units.

c. There have been numerous night spottings of groups of up to fifty (50) VC operating around and within the TAOR by the AN/TPS-21. With the information obtained from the radar set, fire missions have been conducted with what seemed to be good success. However, on searching the impact areas the next day (some four to six hours after the fire missions) little evidence of kills has been found. It is recommended that the impact areas be checked out for possible enemy casualties immediately after sufficient artillery has been fired on TPS-21 sightings.
