PART II

OPERATIONAL SUMMARY

During August the Battalion's mission remained unchanged. The Battalion continued to defend key terrain, conduct extensive patrolling and night ambushes, and defend assigned sectors of the KHE SANH Combat Base.

Operation ARDMORE continued throughout the month of August. Search and clear, search and destroy, reconnaissance in force operations, and road security operations were conducted in conjunction with Operation ARDMORE.

During the reporting period enemy activity in the KHE SANH operating area continued to be light.

During August the Battalion completed the Battalion (-) road clearing and security operation along Route 9 which commenced on 31 July 1967. The Battalion also conducted three company size search and destroy operations. The company defensive positions and Combat Patrol Bases on Hills 881S and 861 continued to be improved. The defensive positions and Combat Base located at XD 912400 were disestablished as a result of the removal of the 11th Engineer Battalion bridge at XD 912403.

Company A continued to occupy a defensive position and Combat Patrol Base on Hill 881S.

Company B relieved Company D on Hill 861 on 4 August.

Company D returned to KHE SANH Combat Base on 4 August and conducted Battalion Reserve missions.

Company B occupied the Battalion's assigned defensive sectors of KHE SANH Combat Base on 14 August relieving B&S Company.

Company C disestablished the defensive position and patrol base at XD 912400, returned to KHE SANH Combat Base on 15 August, and was assigned the Battalion Reserve missions.

Company C relieved Company D and occupied the Battalion's assigned defensive sectors of KHE SANH Combat Base on 31 August.

HIGHLIGHTS

On 7 August the Commandant of the Marine Corps visited Company A on Hill 881S.

PART III

SEQUENTIAL LISTING OF SIGNIFICANT EVENTS

1. Combat missions assigned. During the period 1 August to 31 August the Battalion's mission was to occupy key terrain features to prevent enemy movement into vital areas; to conduct extensive patrolling to detect and destroy enemy forces and interdict enemy routes of approach to the KHE SANH area; to maintain one Company as Regimental Reserve; to provide forces for local security operations in support of KHE SANH Combat Base; and to provide screening/concealment operations in support of reconnaissance insertions.

2. Significant operations conducted.

a. Participated in Operation ARDMORE during the entire month. Operation ARDMORE continues.

b. Battalion (-) road clearing operation employing Company C (-) and Company M, 3d Battalion, 26th Marines along Route 9 from XD 919403 to XD 950427 which commenced on 31 July was terminated on 4 August.

c. Company D (Rein) conducted a 5 day search and destroy operation commencing 8 August 1967 in an area bounded by XD 790460, XD 790480, XD 820460, XD 820480, XD 830420 and XD 840420.

d. Company C (Rein) conducted a 6 day search and destroy operation commencing 25 August 1967 in an area bounded by XD 770390, XD 770430, XD 820400, XD 820380, XD 800380, and XD 800390.

e. Company D (Rein) commenced a search and destroy operation on 31 August 1967 from XD 770400, XD 770430, XD 800390, XD 800400, XD 820390, and XD 820405. Operation continues.

3. Casualties inflicted on the enemy.

a. Personnel: None.

b. Weapons captured: Two (2) individual weapons.

4. Casualties sustained. None.

5. New techniques employed. Long Range Patrol Rations were used on the three company sized operations during the month. The use of these rations enabled company sized units to carry five (5) days of Class I supplies and yet carry a relatively light individual load. A result of the utilization of Long Range Patrol Rations is that helicopter resupply was not required and units were, therefore, not restricted to operations in areas where LZ's were available and the unit's locations were not compromised by the conduct of resupply operations. The only disadvantage of the utilization of Long Range Patrol Rations is the requirement for an abundant natural water source in the operating area in order to prepare the meals and to combat the lingering after thirst.

1. SUMMARY OF ENEMY SITUATION.

a. There is no indication that the enemy is now operating in this specific AO. However, the enemy has in the past used the valley area for infiltration and built positions from which to mortar and rocket the airfield. Recently signs of heavy enemy activity have been observed to the northwest vicinity (XD 8649). Company M, 3rd Battalion, 26th Marines made contact with a platoon size force on the 18th of July 1967. Reconnaissance team insertion on Hill 1371 within the last week found signs of heavy enemy activity on the forward slope of the hill. A trail runs up to a possible observation post and a 50-60 man harbor site was found.

b. The enemy has the capability of taking the offensive with up to a battalion in the AO, however, the probability that he will do so is small, as he would expose himself to Hill's 861 and 950. Further, the enemy has the capability of defending several small hill masses in the AO, Hill's 632, 635, and 527 with up to a battalion. Probability again is small as no new bunkers or other emplacements have been observed. The enemy lines of communication to the AO runs generally from East to West along trails located at (XD 849490) to (XD 819485) and Northwest to Southwest from (XD 798506) to (XD 805476).

2. ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS OF INFORMATION.a. GENERAL.

- (1) Determine the most likely routes of approach and withdrawal into the AO.
- (2) Determine if the enemy has built any new emplacements in the AO, if so, where, what type?
- (3) Determine suitable helicopter landing zones in the AO.
- (4) Determine if natural water sources are being used for resupply for enemy units operating in the AO.

1. SUMMARY OF ENEMY SITUATION.

a. Enemy activity within the AO has been limited to 2-3 man reconnaissance teams. However, the enemy has used HILL 689 in the past as an observation post from which to mortar and rocket the KHE SANH AIRFIELD. Companies I and L, 3rd Battalion, 26th Marines made contact with a estimated NVA company occupying HILL 689 and the area to the west on the 27th of June 1967. Company I operating in the vicinity of HILL 689 from 6-10 August 1967 found a harbor site at XD 802408.

b. The enemy has the capability of taking the offensive with up to a battalion in the AO. The possibility that he will do this is small. Further, the enemy could defend HILL 689, as he did in the past and also HILL 557 to the west of the AO. The probability that the enemy would take this course of action is small as he would expose himself to HILL 881 SOUTH. The enemy lines of communications in the AO run generally East to West along trails located at XD 801408 to XD 784398 and a two foot wide trail at XD 776425.

2. ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS OF INFORMATION.

a. GENERAL.

- (1) Determine the capability of the enemy defending HILL 689. If so, with what forces?
- (2) Determine if the enemy has build any new emplacements in the AO. If so, where, how where they constructed?
- (3) Determine suitable helicopter landing zones in the AO. What size, any obstacles in zone, how many CH-46's can land?
