6. COMMAND RELATIONS The 3rd Marine Division continued to exercise administrative control of the Battalion for the entire period. This Battalion's administrative rear is located at Quang Tri, RVN; with alternates located at Dai La Pass, Danang, RVN and An Hoa Combat Base, RVN. The 27th Marine Regiment exercised operational control from 1-6 June, the 7th Marine Regiment from 7-16 June, the 1st Marine Division from 17-19 June and the 26th Marine Regiment from 20-30 June 1968.

7. EQUIPMENT The shortage of 19 AN/PRC-25's materially affected the operational capability of this Battalion for a short time during June; causing a drop to C-3 on a special operational status report. This deficiency was corrected on a very timely basis.

8. LOGISTICS During the month of June the supply situation was adequate. Normal resupply was conducted by CH-46 to the Battalion in the field. However bayonets, scabbards and first aid kits were in short supply.

9. CIVIC ACTION During the month of June this Battalion conducted no major civic action services, primarily because this unit operated entirely in VC/NVA controlled areas. However, numerous women and children were treated for wounds and disease and if necessary, evacuated.

10. ADMINISTRATION Company administrative rears were maintained to provide administrative services to personnel of the command. It is noted that the physical distance between the Battalion in the field and the administrative rear at Quang Tri has presented problems that greatly restricted the administrative services for the members of this command.

12. INTELLIGENCE

a. Summary of known enemy activity

DECLASSIFIED

DECLASSIFIED

1. Although large enemy unit contact continued in the ALLENBROOK area, the enemy made no attempt to counterattack. Thus indicating a definite lack of ability to react quickly to the tactical situation. He continued to indicate his fanatical desire to hold certain positions in spite of overwhelming fire power and to die in place if ordered.

2. During operation MAMELUKE THRUST contact remained heavy as the Battalion uncovered numerous bunkers and cave complexes, particularly on operations in the Happy Valley complex, many of those sites were of Regimental size and showed evidence of recent occupation. This indicated again the ability of the enemy to fight at a time and place of his choosing and an ability to make large unit withdrawals if the tactical situation does not present favorable conditions for success on the battlefield.

b. Enemy use of Supporting Arms In the ALLENBROOK and MAMELUKE area of operations no heavy artillery was encountered; however, the NVA made use of 60mm and 82mm mortars. Most mortar fire appeared to be unadjusted and was not on target. During ALLENBROOK this unit was exposed to numerous and accurate rifle grenade fire.

13. INFORMATIONAL SERVICE A total of 177 individual Fleet Hometown news releases were forwarded during the month.

14. COMMUNICATIONS

a. A high standard of radio communications prevailed throughout the month of June. No enemy jamming or deception was confirmed during the period. Frequency changes were necessary because of friendly interference; these were made smoothly.

b. During June 19 radios AN/PRC-25 were received on temporary loan from FMFIAC (FLC). The arrival of these radios greatly enhanced the communication ability of this unit.

c. Critical communications equipment presently on requisition: Seventeen (17) AN/PRC-25; Seven (7) TA-312's; Eleven (11) TA-1's; Seven (7) PSR-1's and one (1) SB-22.

15. WEATHER The month of June was generally clear with many afternoon and evening showers. It is noted that rice paddies have started filling thus hampering troop and heavy vehical movement in certain localities within the ALLENBROOK and MAMELUKE THRUST AO's.

16. FIRE SUPPORT AND FIRE SUPPORT COORDINATION During this period the Battalion was under the operational control of three Regiments. Fire support and coordination provided excellent fire and coordination.

17. AIR SUPPORT The Battalion was supplied in the field exclusively by OH-46's with good results. Medical evacuations were handled most expeditiously by OH-46's and UH-34's. Close air support was utilized continuously by this Battalion. In many situations the employment of this most valuable supporting arm allowed tactical movement which otherwise may have been impossible. On several occasions artillery, close air support, gunships and tactical movement were used with outstanding results. On the 7th and 20th of June the entire Battalion was moved from secure base camps into offensive landing zones in a smooth, efficient manner.

18. MEDICAL During the month of June, 792 Marines were seen and or treated. Of these, 10 Marines were wounded by hostile action with none requiring medical evacuation. There were 20 nonbattle injuries, 3 of which required medical evacuation. Total immunizations for the month were 413.

19. CHAPLAIN AND MORALE WELFARE The Battalion chaplain conducted daily services during the month of June until he was wounded in action. As of 10 June no replacement for the chaplain has reported to this unit.
