B. SUMMARY OF EVENTS

1. This month was highlighted by three main events. The first event came in the second week of the month when the Midshipmen stormed ashore to taste the life (and chow) of a Marine grunt. They received crash courses in the siting and organization of a defensive position and in night patrols. It was a challenge to both the Marine instructors and the Midshipmen students. Spirit and eagerness carried the day. The operation succeeded in producing fun and excellent training to both Marine and Navy units.

2. During the third week, 2/27 massed its forces to aggress the Marine Reserves on operation Beat Tempo. Hotel Company received excellent training in camouflage and concealment from both ground and air desclosure. Since most of the training for Hotel was to be conducted at night valuable lessons were learned in night navigation, picking of ambush locations, control of men at night, immediate action, and ambushing of both motorized and foot movements.

3. The third event was the parade held 27 Aug 1969 in honor of the change of command in this battalion.

4. The month was characterized by a great deal of field work and practical application on a basic level where the most learning and unit pride can be achieved.
