Memorandum

FROM Deputy Chief of Staff for Installations and Logistics

TO Chief of Staff

SUBJ Mess Contract for Camp Pendleton Refugee Center

Ref: (a) JCS msg 081946Z Jul 1975

1. Purpose. The purpose of this memorandum is to obtain a decision relative to proceeding with a mess contract award in support of the refugee operation at MCB, Camp Pendleton.

2. Discussion

a. Reference (a) provides a planning close out date for the Camp Pendleton refugee center of on or about 1 October 1975.

b. Although contractor proposals are still under review, it is anticipated that the review will be completed and a contract award can be made on or about 14 July 1975.

c. Based on the above estimate, feeding under the contract would begin approximately 28 July 1975. The overall six month cost is anticipated to be about $4.8 million.

d. Provisions of the contract include a termination clause in the event of an early close out. Best estimate of the cost of terminating the contract on 1 October 1975 is $300,000 to $350,000.

e. With the awarding of the Mess Contract, approximately 850 Marines now engaged in mess related duties will be returned to their parent organizations. Operational readiness will ~~improve~~ improve. Morale is expected to improve.

f. Adverse reaction and publicity may be anticipated due to the termination cost, should the 1 October close out occur.

g. Authority to enter into the contract agreement, to include funding authority, has been granted by the Secretary of Defense. Financial obligations incurred by the Marine Corps are reimbursable under special funding provisions for the refugee operation.

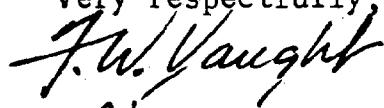

By STATE

LPP-tav-26

3. Summary. The possibility of payment of a $350,000 termination cost (22 percent of the estimated $1.6 million contract cost incurred) and resultant adverse reaction must be weighed against the availability of 850 Marines for a two month or longer period. The reliability of the 1 October close out date is suspect. It is more likely that a later close out will occur.

4. Recommendation. It is recommended that the DC/S for I&L be authorized to continue the contract review currently underway with the intent of making an appropriate contract award.

Very respectfully,

7-12-75

JCS message 282205Z June 75 contains congratulations from the Secretary of State and the Chairman JCS relative to accomplishing the draw down on Guam by the target date of 25 June. CINCPACFLT message 280504Z June 75 and CG FMFPAC message 290133Z June 75 address augmentation requirements on Guam, Operation New Life. CG MCB Camp Pendleton message 262308Z June 75 contains the unprogrammed obligations report to the Fiscal Director for the period 19-25 June 1975. CINCPAC message 280500Z June 75 sets forth a plan for the phase down of the PACOM refugee centers. First priority will be shift to Guam from Subic, Clark and Wake those whose ultimate destination is CONUS. These refugees would then be trans-shipped to the CONUS camps by 13 July. Next priority will be movement to Guam of all refugees from PACOM who seek third country resettlement or repatriation (estimated total is 7,000). These refugees would be processed out from Guam and not via CONUS. Close out for Subic is estimated at 6 July 75. Close out for Wake is estimated at 24 July 75. Clark would be at zero strength on 6 July but would retain capability. Thailand would be at zero strength on 9 July but would retain capability. Hickam would retain capability indefinitely because of hospitalization requirement at Tripler. Impact of above plan is that refugee flow into Camp Pendleton from PACOM would be terminated on 13 July 1975.

- from consideration should be brought in for discussions and given an opportunity to correct deficiencies in their proposals.
- Five firms previously eliminated will be notified by letter of the deficiencies which led to disqualification and given opportunity to correct.
- In addition, a cancellation clause will be added since the probability of cancellation short of 6 months seems to be increasing.
- Oral negotiations will be held with all firms, and new "best and final" offers requested.
- After "best and final offers" business clearance approval from NAVMAT will again be sought.
- NPD also requires that a "Contract Announcement" go to Navy CHINFO. Announcement can be accelerated for urgency and DIVINFO and Navy CHINFO have pledged cooperation.
- Additional negotiations will add to time required for award - probably 10 days to 2 weeks.
- Renewed negotiations will preclude full-scale operation on 1 July. More likely a phased start-up during latter part of July.

CURRENT STATUS:

- ARA, one of the firms with whom negotiations were conducted, has also protested reopening of negotiations. Counsel for the Commandant has met with this firm to explain reasons for change.
- *- ARA protest resolved for the time being. Company agreed - to withdraw pending further developments.

POINT PAPER

Subj: Phasedown of Operation New Arrivals

1. Phasedown Plan

a. A phasedown plan for Operation New Arrivals, initiated by the JCS J-4, was forwarded to the Inter Agency Task Force (IATF) on 19 June 1975 via SECDEF. The IATF is an organization, appointed by the President, to coordinate all government actions concerning evacuation and humanitarian assistance to Vietnamese and Cambodian refugees. The IATF operates under the overall cognizance of the Secretary of State. The point of contact on refugee matters for SECDEF is Mr. Von Marbod, who is the Principal Deputy to the Assistant Secretary of Defense, Comptroller.

b. This plan provides target dates for the close out of the four CONUS refugee centers and the establishment of a HEW administered refugee center. The plan is currently being evaluated by Ms. Taft, Head, IATF and is tentatively scheduled to be announced by 3 July 1975. The announcement is expected to include site selection of the HEW camp.

c. The phasedown schedule for each refugee center is included in this plan; however, the calculated dates are based upon the continuation of the present refugee processing-out rate and the establishment in August of the HEW camp, which is designed to receive refugees from the other centers. Planned capacity for the HEW camp is 15,000. The plan, in its present form, provides for the refugee center at Camp Pendleton to be phased down and closed out by 1 September 1975. However, Vice Admiral Weschler, J-4 JCS, has informally advised that a more realistic close out date for Camp Pendleton is 1 October 1975.

2. Messing Contract at Camp Pendleton

a. Action has been taken by the I&L Department to modify the refugee messing contract proposal to include a cancellation clause covering the contingency for early phaseout. Bidding negotiations will now be reopened. It is anticipated that the earliest the contract can be awarded is 8 July 1975. Messing service by the contractor would commence in late July.

b. With the announcement by the JCS of a firm close out date for Camp Pendleton expected by 3 July, an evaluation can be made at that time to determine if the actual awarding of the contract is desirable. If, for example, the close out date is 1 September 1975, the cancellation penalty for a one month operation (August) may be excessive and unfavorable publicity may result.

3. Guidance to the Field

a. On 6 June 1975 CG FMFPac sent a message to this Headquarters which discussed the impact on readiness of the operation of the Camp Pendleton refugee center. He requested that a target date for close out be provided so that training and personnel planning could be adjusted. A CMC reply provided a target date of 11 August 1975, which was based upon the best information available at the time.

b. Plans and informal discussions, referenced in paragraph 1 above, indicate that Marine Corps involvement in the operation of the Camp Pendleton refugee center will be extended up to 60 days beyond the 11 August date provided to CG FMFPac.

4. Summary of Planned Action

a. Prepare, staff, and forward for Chief of Staff release a CMC personal message to CG FMFPac (info: CG I MAF and CG MCB Camp Pendleton) which would explain that the 11 August close out date for the Camp Pendleton refugee center does not appear to be valid in view of plans now being finalized at higher governmental levels. The September/October planning dates would be provided. A "personal" is recommended because of the sensitivity of these close out dates.

b. Prepare, staff, and forward for Chief of Staff release a CMC message to the JCS requesting necessary phase-down information and the close out date of the Camp Pendleton refugee center, if this notification has not been received by 3 July 1975.

c. Prepare, staff, and forward to the Chief of Staff a recommended position on awarding of the refugee mess contract based upon the phasedown/close out dates provided and the economic feasibility of this action.

Very respectfully,

E. W. VAUGHT

Narrative

The number of refugees with completed security clearances at MCB, Camp Pendleton is 10,026. The number with sponsors is 1,968. The number with both is 1,735. Additional statistics relative to processing of refugees is contained in Military Installation Commander and Civil Coordinator MCB, Camp Pendleton joint message 060146Z June 75. ASD (I&L) Memorandum for the Commandant of 4 June 1975 confirmed authority for entering into a contractual agreement for the feeding of refugees at MCB, Camp Pendleton. CG, MCB, Camp Pendleton was advised by CMC message 060713Z June 75. Statistics on cumulative departures, numbers of refugees with clearances, numbers with sponsors, and numbers with both have been corrected by the Civil Coordinator Camp Pendleton from what has been previously reported. Particularly significant is that the quantities reported on the last three statistics have been reduced, from yesterday, by approximately 1,000 each. This means that the "savings account" of personnel "eligible" for release has been significantly reduced. This could, in the future, affect the capability of Camp Pendleton to continue to process refugees out at high rate, and could necessitate a reduction in input. These statistics will be monitored carefully. DC/S for I&L memorandum LPP-23-kcn of 6 June 1975 provides information to the DC/S for Manpower concerning sponsorship of refugees.

Around 15,000 Refugees Expected To Settle In State

By DONALD H. HARRISON
Staff Writer

The San Diego Union

CAMP PENDLETON — John Eisenhower, chairman of President Ford's special commission on refugees, predicted yesterday that no more than 15,000 refugees, if that many, would settle in California.

Eisenhower was asked following a tour of Tent Camp 8 — the same visited recently by First Lady Betty Ford — if he agreed with Mario Obledo, California secretary of health and welfare, that as many as 80,000 Vietnamese and Cambodian refugees might settle in the state.

He replied that he and Nick Thorne, head of the civilian Interagency Task Force at Camp Pendleton, estimated that 15,000 refugees in California "would be on the high side" and 10,000 "on the low side."

VISITS NIXON

Eisenhower toured the camp for two hours then went across Interstate 5 to the residence of former President Richard M. Nixon where, Eisenhower said, "dinner is at 8:30." Eisenhower's son, David, is married to the former president's daughter, Julie.

Asked if Nixon had made any unannounced visits to the Camp Pendleton refugee camp, Eisenhower said he did not know. The turnoff from Interstate 5 to the Nixon compound is the same as the one for the refugee camp — El Camino Real.

Eisenhower, son of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, said he regretted a statement he made shortly after being appointed to the commission to the effect that some refugees might have to spend the rest of their lives in camps.

CLARIFIES REMARK

He said he was referring to only a very small number, persons who are identified by immigration officials as undesirables but who cannot be repatriated to Vietnam.

Eisenhower said acceptance of the refugees by Americans has improved since President Ford denounced persons who expressed dissatisfaction with their presence here.

"Especially after Mr. Ford's statement," Eisenhower said, "people have come to their senses and it (reaction to the refugees) couldn't be more favorable."

Eisenhower was escorted through Tent Camp 8 by Brig. Gen. Paul Graham, commanding general of Camp Pendleton. He was shown a library by its organizer, Tran Tung Thanh, who told Eisenhower he hoped to continue law school in this country.

Then he stopped in a classroom where children were learning English, and paused briefly at a recreation area where Mark and Chris Landgreen, Encinitas residents who are YMCA volunteers, were supervising a basketball game.

ANOTHER VISITOR

Hoang Ha Thanh, elected Vietnamese camp manager for Camp 8, asked Eisenhower to accept the gratitude of Camp 8's 5,000 residents for visiting the camp, and added that thanks should go also to the Marines and the American people.

Another visitor yesterday was George Elsey, president of the American Red Cross, who After a tour of the camp, he quipped "Either things are going very well or no one is speaking honestly to me."

He said this was his first tour of a refugee camp because "in the beginning people from headquarters is the last thing that is needed." He said he was pleased with the Red Cross operation which like the refugee camp itself will mark its first month anniversary today.

Elsey said he believed some Americans were under a "misapprehension that 130,000 refugees will be negative for the economy."

"We have 400,000 immigrants coming to this country every year and we never think anything about it. I think the idea that these refugees will be a drain on the country is exaggerated, a myth."

'Bump' Bridges Cultural Gap

By SAUL SHAPIRO

Staff Writer

CAMP PENDLETON — Fallbrook High students visiting teenage Vietnamese refugees here Tuesday afternoon found a way to bridge cultures.

The students communicated through a dance called "the bump," which the Fallbrook students taught their Vietnamese counterparts.

But the Americans also discovered certain things that they probably didn't know about the Vietnamese youths — specifically, that rock music is a mainstay with them, too.

Several Vietnamese youngsters picked up instruments during the afternoon's festivities and played rock music familiar to most Americans, including a Vietnamese guitarist doing his impression of the late Jimi Hendrix.

The Fallbrook students found the afternoon a highly-rewarding experience.

Kathleen Lawler said that she was "impressed" by the affection that the Vietnamese people showed for one another.

"It inspired me," stated Kris Spanjian. "There should be more Americans like them."

Debbie Drew recalled that the feeling of friendship between Americans and Vietnamese was mutual.

"A little kid said, 'You're not what I thought you'd be.' I said, 'Why?' He said, 'You're friendly,'" she recalled.

War Criminals Among Refugees?

A national magazine has reported a group of notorious former South Vietnamese officials and CIA-trained assassins are among the 18,000 refugees at Camp Pendleton.

New Times magazine, in an article entitled "A Rogue's Gallery of Refugees," cites the presence of prominent Vietnamese officials who derived considerable wealth from the narcotics trade, CIA-trained agents from Opération Phoenix, and members of the Saigon government's secret police among the refugees.

"The vast majority of Vietnamese here or still on Guam are war victims rather than war criminals," the article states, before listing the names of the infamous figures believed to be in this country.

The article cites a San Francisco Examiner report that the Central Intelligence Agency aided the evacuation of 5,000 trained assassins from Operation Phoenix to this country.

Phoenix squads reportedly killed

20,000 South Vietnamese civilians during the war.

The CIA is also reportedly expediting the processing of these individuals out of the refugee camps, avoiding normal lengthy processing.

The magazine story substantiates earlier reports to The Blade Tribune by refugees on Camp Pendleton, who have declined to talk about certain matters or to give their names because, they said, they feared reprisals from CIA-trained agents at Camp Pendleton.

Besides the agents said to be on the base, other notorious individuals, according to the article, include Gen. Trang Si Tan, former Saigon police chief, who was said to be at Pendleton having meals brought to him in his tent while others wait in line.

Tan reportedly had a reputation as a torturer exceeded only by Colonel Nguyen Mau, also said to be at Camp Pendleton.

A former director of a special branch of the national police, Mau, according to Johnson administration official Robert Komar, was involved in Operation Phoenix.

A French schoolteacher named Jean Pierre Debris stated that in July 1970 he witnessed Mau's men bind a Vietnamese prisoner hand and foot to a bench, tie a rag over his nose, and pour soapy water and crankcase oil down his throat.

Debris, once a political prisoner, said that Mau also ordered other such tortures as needles put under the nails of prisoners and electric shock.

Colonel Nguyen Minh Chau, warden at the infamous Con Son prison, is reportedly at Pendleton, too.

The jailer gained infamy by putting five inmates — male and female — into tiger cages, five by nine feet, and refusing food and often water.

Others who have been reported seen at Camp Pendleton include General Huynh Thai Tay, chief of the special police branch investigating Viet Cong suspects, and Brigadier General Tran Van Giau, who conducted surveillance on opposition South Vietnamese politicians.

Gen. Tay, reportedly was processed in Guam under the name Truong Bay. Gen. Giau, described as "one of the most hated figures in the deposed regime," identified himself as an infantry colonel.

One of the most notorious of all South Vietnamese officials was General Nguyen Ngoc Loan, who gained infamy by executing a Viet Cong suspect with a bullet to the head in front of United States television cameras during the 1968 Tet offensive.

Loan, according to New Times and also a former Vietnamese journalist interviewed by The Blade-Tribune last week, was seen among the refugees on Guam, although his present whereabouts are unknown.

Loan, the magazine article states, "acted as then-Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's bagman and enforcer, collecting kickbacks from the opium trade."

He reportedly ordered the assassination of an opposition legislator during the 1967 Vietnamese election.

The presence of CIA-trained assassins had previously sparked some concern in Washington.

Sen. James Abourezk (D-S.D.) had attempted to introduce legislation in Congress forbidding the CIA to hire any Vietnamese who participated in the Phoenix program.

But Abourezk doubted the effect of such a bill.

"I seriously doubt whether the CIA will identify its hand-picked murderers," he said.

Salvation Army Aids Refugees

CAMP PENDLETON — The Salvation Army staffs from San Diego and Oceanside have been busy assisting the Vietnamese refugees since their arrival at Camp Pendleton.

According to Major Harland J. Hall, director of the Salvation Army Men's Social Service Center of San Diego, "The 275 volunteers have worked hundreds of hours in the past two weeks and had distributed more than 52 tons of clothing and shoes."

"In addition to the clothing and shoes," he added, "they have purchased and distributed over 22,000 disposable diapers and hundreds of toys which were donated by private citizens and local stores."

Most of the newer toys such as baseballs, bats, etc., are given to the International YMCA (also working with the refugees at Camp Pendleton), to be used for organized recreation for the Vietnamese.

Although a great quantity of clothing items have been distributed through the efforts of the volunteers, the Salvation Army officials say they need more volunteers to work in the afternoon to aid in the distributing.

Anyone interested in volunteer work or donating to the Salvation Army may contact the Salvation Army Regional Office in Oceanside at 757-7011.

Pendleton Confirms Officials' Presence

CAMP PENDLETON — The presence of South Vietnamese special police chief Gen. Huynh Thai Tay in the refugee camp here has been confirmed by officials.

Tay, who was in charge of the investigation of possible Viet Cong suspects while in Vietnam, was recently cited by a national news magazine as one of a group of notorious South Vietnamese government officials who had been evacuated to this country.

New Times magazine also reported the presence of Gen. Trang Si Tan, former Saigon police chief, and Brig. Gen. Tran Van Giau, who oversaw the surveillance of opposition South Vietnamese officials, at Camp Pendleton.

Officials at Camp Pendleton said that Tan and Giau were both released on May 10 under the Immigration and Naturalization Service's "High Risk Category 2." INS public information officer Janet Gordon in Washington said today that Category 2 was instituted just prior to the downfall of the South Vietnamese government. It relates to past and present Vietnamese who were employes of the U.S. government, U.S. firms, and volunteer agencies.

There were no records regarding the presence of Colonel Nguyen Mau, a former director of the special branch of the National Police who allegedly tortured prisoners or Col. Nguyen Van Giau, who issued a directive that the government disregard provisions of the Paris Peace agreement regarding political prisoners.

Lt. Col. Arthur Brill, Marine Corps spokesman at the base, stated "All the refugees are being treated the same with the exception of the two gentlemen who were exceptions because of the agreement with the INS."

The New Times article charged that the former officials were receiving favorable treatment.

Dorothy McCurley, left, and Le Thi Phuong prepare dinner to be shared by their two families at home last night after the first day of adjustment and getting to know each other.

RICE AND HAMBURGERS

Chula Vistans Host Family Of Refugees

By CAROL OLTER

The bags of belongings carried from a Camp Pendleton bus into the closet, but already the Harold McCurley residence shows evidence of a warm settling in. A bottle of Vietnamese fish sauce stands on the kitchen cabinet. Mrs. McCurley — Dorothy — and Le Thi Phuong smile as a child plays with a new Raggedy Ann doll. Outside in a peaceful Chula Vista backyard, Nguyen Long Phuong helps McCurley — "Mr. Bill" — hammer the dents out of a 1970 Renault.

FIRST DAY

The Phuongs and their two children spent their first day yesterday at the home of their sponsors, a Rohr employee and his wife. Both families reviewed the day as one being "wonderfully caught up in the spirit of adjusting."

The Phuongs arrived at their sponsor's home, a modest white stucco house which McCurley said seemed to grow too large after their own two daughters married, late Thursday afternoon.

Friends and neighbors of the McCurleys served them a Cantonese dinner, and they settled in an 1850 house at Mrs. McCurley's grandparents.

"I was so happy to see such a large house — and an electric blanket," said Mrs. Phuong. "The nights were cold at Camp Pendleton."

CHURCH AID

Yesterday morning began with a bacon and eggs breakfast and a visit to the Chula Vista First Presbyterian Church which is helping the sponsors with financial assistance for the refugee family.

The church provided them with additional clothing and the Phuongs enrolled their children in Sunday school. Then, they went shopping at Sears & Roebuck in Chula Vista. Purchases included denim levis and a plastic dump truck for Hung, 3, and a doll for Duyet Nhung, 9.

The children greeted McCurley with their toys at the front door upon his arrival home from work.

Last night, the two families planned a quiet dinner at home with meat loaf and rice with fish sauce among the items on the menu.

After dinner, they intended to watch color television, a pastime which the Phuongs have not enjoyed before.

ADJUST TO LIFE

The McCurleys have asked the Phuongs to stay as long as they wish to become adjusted to American life.

"But we don't want to trouble them more than necessary," said Phuong, 33, a former typewriter salesman in Saigon. He hopes to find work in the San Diego area so that "when we leave Mr. Bill's we will be able to come back and remember their kindness to us."

"We were just sitting here and these people have a need," said McCurley. "And we're hitting it off just lovely. If they can fix rice, we can fix hamburgers."

Refugees cut donated clothes down to size

By PATRICIA DIBSIE

TRIBUNE Staff Writer

CAMP PENDLETON — Seven sewing machines hummed at a steady pace. Seven women sat bent over the machines with steady concentration.

There was no small talk — it was all business.

Then it happened. A machine went on the blink.

The two women on either side of the crippled machine stopped working and a conference ensued among the women.

When the problem was solved, the women smiled at one another and went back to their work.

The women, Vietnamese refugees, find the machines to be among the most useful things at this camp.

Most of the clothes donated to the refugees are many sizes too big. A Vietnamese woman who wears a size 10 is large by their standards.

Before the alterations are accomplished on these machines, the women look like youngsters dressing up in their mothers' clothes.

One girl was able to make two skirts from one she was given.

Most of the clothing donated is made with warm fabrics — and for this the recipients are grateful. "Being cold is hardest for the children," Thao Do Thi Dong said.

She was making long pants for her 5-year-old daughter from a pleated wool skirt.

Mrs. Thao did have some time to go home and pack a few articles of clothing for herself and her daughter before the two fled South Vietnam. "But I didn't know where we were going — what the climate would be like — so I guessed about what to pack," she said.

Mrs. Thao guessed wrong. The clothing she packed would be great for Chicago in August.

The temperatures here fall to the mid-30s in the night. "It is very cold here in the early morning," she said. "Just when it begins to get warm the night begins to come and it gets very cold again."

Dao Thi Ngoc Thuy recalled having second thoughts about the clothing she had packed in Vietnam while waiting for an airplane to take her family out. "We had been waiting at the airport for a day and my younger sister wanted to go home and get some rest," she said. "She was going to bring back some warmer clothing for the children after she took a nap. But right after she left we were told to board a plane. I never saw her again."

Mrs. Dao was making long pants here for her son, 4, and her daughter, 6. The material selected was thick wool.

Mrs. Dao's husband is a flight surgeon. The family will soon move to a small community in Nebraska. "I ask the Americans here about the weather there," she said, "and they tell me if I think it's cold here just wait till I get there."

The sewing-machine center was the idea of several Marine Corps officers and the Assistance League of Laguna Beach.

Some of the machines are old and some are very old. "We brought one machine here that was made in the early 1900s," said Mrs. Carroll Clampitt, a member of the league. "One of our members' grandmother insisted that we bring it here for these women."

No two machines thread or operate the same way.

At one time, several out-of-order were on the list. Several women were at each machine talking very fast and looking very puzzled. Two of the machines had the same problem. The thread from the bobbin was bunched up and tearing the material.

The women had just about decided to give up when Sgt. A.C. Clausell entered the small Quonset hut.

He had been assigned to escort a reporter around the camp. Clausell approached the women to find out what was wrong. Soon they talked him into sitting down and playing repairman. "All I can do is fail," he told the women, "so I might as well give it a try." The women didn't understand English but they were jubilant.

Sgt. Clausell was busy for the next hour, going from one machine to the next with the same results each time — success.

It was obvious the women had found a hero. "I enjoyed helping them," Clausell said. "But I'm glad I'm getting out of here — would you believe I don't know a thing about fixing a sewing machine?"

The women waiting for their turn to use the sewing machines were talking, knitting and playing games with the children.

Tran Huong, 17, sat off in a corner reading a book. "It's 'Huckleberry Finn,'" she said. "I laugh much."

Miss Tran was waiting her turn for a machine to get an early start on next fall's school wardrobe. "We will be living in Escondido," she said. "I hope the public school will accept me to study there."

Miss Tran had planned to come to the United States in July as an American Field Service student. "I came early and instead of just a visit I will live here," she said. "I am glad."

There are 18 machines in the eight tent camps here. The machines are used from sunup to sundown — even a few men come to alter pants or shirts.

Much of the used clothing being ripped apart to be remade into something smaller was donated by the Salvation Army.

So far, nothing donated has lacked a willing new owner.

In fact, some of the resewn clothes come out looking so good that a fashion show might be in order.

TOUCH OF CLASS IN TENT CITY

Blind prince feels for refugees

By ROBERT DIETRICH
TRIBUNE Military Writer

CAMP PENDLETON — "I was a penniless immigrant 11 years ago," explained Dr. Wilhelm De Nijs, 58, once an Indonesian prince, as he navigated the main street of refugee tent city No. 5.

He walked rapidly, using his white cane to feel for guy ropes and tent stakes.

He has been blind since the last months of World War II.

The blind, deaf, mute, retarded and emotionally disturbed among the 18,000 South Vietnamese and Cambodians here have been his special concern for the past 10 days.

"I would like to help them do as I have done," he said, suddenly stopping his walk, "to help them pull themselves away from pity to accomplishment."

He stopped because he sensed Le Phu Quy, a 13-year-old boy blinded in a Saigon accident four years ago, stood before him confidently holding a small white cane. De Nijs gave him the day before.

"How are you Quy?" the doctor asked.

"Hello sir," the boy replied. "I am fine, thank you. How are you?"

Those are among the first English words Quy spoke in his life.

"He has a 40-word English vocabulary now, my own knowledge of Vietnamese is limited to five words," De Nijs said.

The ex-prince, now a U.S. citizen who directs Services for the Blind in Santa Ana, volunteered to help teach English to refugees unable to attend regular language classes here.

LEARNING — Le Phu Quy, 13, blind Vietnamese refugee, learns from Dr. Wilhelm De Nijs, blind former Indonesian prince, to use braille type writer. De Nijs helps refugees at Camp Pendleton.

The American Red Cross team here arranged for De Nijs to hold classes in a tent twice a week and will have a trailer schoolhouse ready for him next week.

Quy, already able to write Vietnamese on a draft typewriter, is building up his English vocabulary through an interpreter who follows De Nijs' lesson guides.

Quy's new white cane, coupled with orientation lessons, allows him to walk to the camp washhouse now without the aid of an escort.

The circumstances that led De Nijs from his once royal birthplace on the Indonesian island of Java, started with duty as an intelligence officer in the British army, exile by the Communist former Indonesian President Sukarno and elevation to the Hindu Brahmin priesthood.

"I am the second son of the last king of Surakarta," he said.

He lost his eyesight while on a sabotage mission behind enemy lines in World War II.

After his exile, friends brought him to Santa Ana and helped him start a program for aiding low-income blind persons.

"I did not want to live out the rest of my life in a rocking chair."

He later expanded his project to include retarded and emotionally disturbed youths and teen-agers from minority ghettos.

"We also began working with the hopeless elderly."

"Our aim is unique," he said. "We are not seeking to find employment — they would be the last in the pecking order and the first to be fired."

"We want to encourage entrepreneurship — starting a business on a small scale. Our market place is the swap meets."

"I think we can do the same with some of the Southeast Asians resettling here. Some of them, I am sure, can be valuable in working with Americans."

"They will not take jobs away from Americans, but, perhaps, create new industries," he said. He decided to work with disadvantaged Americans after realizing how the Communists exploited peasant classes in Asian revolutions.

"Communists exploit people without hope. They know people like that have no fear of losing what they do not have. When your home is nothing more than a slum, you are willing to lay down your life for something better."

"I predict that if we do not counter this trend of hopelessness among our American disadvantaged, we will be fighting Communists in this country."

De Nijs says he will sponsor as many Indochina refugees as possible.

Taels of gold brighten the pockets of refugees

By SCOTT STEWART

CAMP PENDLETON — A Vietnamese refugee haltingly enters the trailer, flashes a nervous smile and pulls a small package wrapped in crumpled paper from the pocket of his Marine fatigue jacket.

"I bring you this from Vietnam," he said as he handed the package to the gold dealer.

Inside the package was three taels of nearly pure gold.

As he left the portable office of Deak and Co. here, relieved of his gold but with $534 in his pocket, the refugee passed a long line of others waiting to dispose of the gold they took with them when they fled South Vietnam.

"We haven't had anyone come in with sacks of gold to sell," Yves Gandillon said, as he adjusted the scales to weigh a 1.2-oz. tael of gold.

The people in Saigon who had the means to accumulate that much gold would have established Swiss bank accounts long before the country fell.

"Most of the people who come to us want to sell a few taels so they can buy shoes, warm clothing and other supplies on the base. I'm sure they have more gold with them, but are waiting to see how the price goes."

A tael is made up of two wafer-thin sheets of gold which, when wrapped in a covering paper, is roughly the size of a package of cigarette papers.

The gold sheets are marked with stamps and the names of the four cities in which they are produced — Saigon, Hong Kong, Hanoi and Phnom Penh.

"Many people in the Far East have gold because, like in most troubled countries, gold and jewels are the only forms of barter you can depend on," Gandillon said. "Most of the people here are upper income Vietnamese who probably bought the gold on a hedge against their country falling."

The Deak office here also exchanges foreign currency. Unfortunately for some of the refugees, one of the currencies the firm doesn't exchange is the Vietnamese piaster.

"This man has 10 million piasters he wants to sell," Gandillon said, breaking off his conversation in French with the refugee. "About all the piaster is good for now is papering a room."

At the time Vietnam fell, the exchange rate was 3,000 piasters to the dollar — or $3,333 for the refugees' 10 million piasters.

But the exchange rate a few months ago was 400 to 500 piasters to the dollar," Tom Kelly of the Deak office said, which would have brought the man with the now worthless, piasters $20,000 to $25,000.

"We deal in 120 different currencies," Gandillon said. "The only ones we don't handle are from Vietnam, Burma, Chile and Cyprus. The governments in those countries are just too unsettled."

Unable to sell his piasters, the refugee reaches into his pocket and produces five taels of gold.

Taking the $890 payment in the form of a check, he inquires how he should go about having the money deposited in his account in a North Dakota bank.

The gold price, based on the New York gold exchange price, changes daily. It is currently on the upswing, moving from $175 a tael to $178 yesterday.

"We are gamblers, as we have no machines here to check purity," Kelly said. "Pure gold is .9999 — there is no such thing as 1.000 as gold has to have some compounds in it to keep it together. We have no way of checking to see if the gold we buy is .95, .96, .97 or more. We can only hope."

Currency is also a gamble.

"A couple of days ago, if you had French francs you would have a good deal," Gandillon said. "Today, you would take a bath. It's a gamble but the advantage we have is that we can wait longer to sell since we're a large company."

Most of the refugees here didn't arrive empty handed. They come to the gold office daily to exchange French francs, Hong Kong dollars, Thai bahts, a few gold coins, British pounds and U.S. dollars.

Some, who worked for the United States in Vietnam, have arrived with U.S. Treasury checks to cash.

Cubans Share Roles With Vietnamese

CAMP PENDLETON — A group of 60 Cubans who came to the United States as refugees in the '60s drove here from Los Angeles yesterday to tell hundreds of Vietnamese that a good life awaits them in the United States.

Their spokesman, Jose Marrero, president of the Cuban Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles, also told the Vietnamese refugees they shared a common bond as victims of communism.

'KNOW EMOTION'

"We know the emotion and sadness you feel when you leave your country and can't return," he said. "No one else can understand what it is like to be an exile unless he goes through it."

"Like us, you have lost maybe the battle but have not lost the war against the enemy of freedom, communism," said Marrero.

"We have to keep this country for freedom," Marrero added with emotion.

Maj. Louis Andrews of the refugee affairs office said Marrero's speech was strictly impromptu. When Marrero started talking about joining us in the fight against communism," Andrews said, military authorities asked him to tone down his political remarks.

Marrero complied, telling reporters later he was not talking about a "fight" in a military sense, but rather about resisting "movements in Congress to bring this country to a Socialist-Communist situation."

Andrews said the Cubans requested permission about 10 days ago to distribute clothing and toys to the Vietnamese refugees. He said with the Americans when their request was approved you first came over?" asked one Vietnamese.

"No," said Reyes.

"What about difference in race?" asked another. "Will we have problems because we are not white?"

"No," said Reyes, "tell the people that you are Vietnamese. They will be sympathetic. They will help you."

"What if we cannot get a job?" asked another.

"The government will help you find one, and it will give you some money while you are looking," Reyes said.

"This country is the best." Elsewhere in the camp

Hoang Kiem Nam, a former journalist in Vietnam yesterday, told American newsmen he was glad the Cubans came.

"We do not feel so lonely anymore," said Nam. "We see they went through the same thing. They talked to 15,562

MANY QUESTIONS

Marrero delivered his speech to about 300 Vietnamese refugees seated in bleachers near Tent Camp 8. When he finished, the Vietnamese surrounded him and others in his party and plied them with questions about the United States.

George Reyes, a Cuban who now owns a sewing factory in Los Angeles, was one of those questioned. There was the following exchange:

"How long do you have to wait until you can become a citizen?"

"About five years," said

Reyes. "First you will become permanent residents."

"Did you have a sponsor?"

"Yes, a relative."

"Did you have problems us like brothers and it causes a warm feeling?"

Ngo Khac Thuat, a former lieutenant colonel in the Vietnamese air force, said of the Cubans. "I think we are on the same side, fighting against the Communists. We are from different countries, but we had the same experience."

'HAPPY IN AMERICA'

"Like them," Thuat added, "we are happy in America but we will dream of someday going back to Vietnam when the opportunity is right. We should never lose our tradition."

"This country is the best." Elsewhere in the camp

Hoang Kiem Nam, a former journalist in Vietnam yesterday, told American newsmen he was glad the Cubans came.

"We do not feel so lonely anymore," said Nam. "We

U.N. OFFICIAL WILL MEET REFUGEES

FT. CHAFFEE, Ark. (UPI)— Vietnamese refugees who want to return to their homeland will meet with a U.N. official today—the deadline they set for avoiding a peaceful demonstration.

Post officials said a U.N. official from Geneva will visit the fort to meet with the 207 refugees who said they want to return to Vietnam. Le Minh Tan, leader of the refugee group, said they will protest the delay unless some action is taken by today.

Chief Army spokesman Col. Joe Rogers said post officials were notified Tuesday about the visit of the U.N. official, but did not have the representative's full name or time of arrival.

Helping the refugees who want to return to Vietnam has developed into a problem for relocation officials because they want assurances the refugees will not be harmed or punished if they return.

Tan said that the refugees are thankful for the help they received from the Americans but that they wanted to return to their homeland. He said most of the refugees who want to return to Vietnam left members of their family behind during the evacuation.

Meanwhile, officials at the University of Arkansas medical center at Little Rock announced that a 10-year-old refugee girl from Ft. Chaffee underwent surgery for removal of a tumor from her abdomen. Hospital officials said Huyen Le was in fair condition following removal of the 6.7-pound tumor.

The child visited with her parents following the surgery and was communicating with nurses through an interpreter. Hospital officials said a pathology report on the tumor was expected later Wednesday.

The refugee flights to Chaffee are expected to resume today. The flights were postponed Monday because the refugee population exceeded the 24,000 ceiling set by the Pentagon. There were 24,651 refugees at the post Tuesday.

Post officials announced during Tuesday's briefing that 170 refugees completed processing and left the post during the previous 24-hour period. Officials said 2,544 refugees completed processing since the relocation center was opened earlier this month.

States Agreeing to Aid Refugees

WASHINGTON (UPI)—States and cities as well as thousands of persons across the country are volunteering to help resettle displaced Indochinese refugees, the chief spokesman for President Ford's refugee task force said Wednesday.

Elmer Green of the Interagency Refugee Task Force said thousands of refugees being brought into the United States from Vietnam and Cambodia need have no fear of being sent back home through lack of charity on the part of Americans.

"I can say firmly that we are not going to run out of sponsors, whatever else happens," she said.

Washington state, under the aegis of Gov. Dan Evans, is taking 500 families and another state has also expressed interest in taking between 3,000 and 4,000 refugee families, she said.

Another four states and at least two cities have shown interest, Miss Green said. But she declined to name the cities and states concerned.

She said the sponsorship program has received a big boost as a result of state and municipal interest and has resulted in a change allowing state and local governments to receive up to $500 for each refugee resettled.

There has been no shortage of sponsors offering either to take whole families to live with them or provide jobs.

Vietnamese Refugee Population at Eglin Now Stands at 4,822

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (UPI)—The refugee population of the Vietnamese relocation center here now stands at 4,822 but a base spokesman said officials had decided not to fill the camp to its 5,000 capacity.

"It has been decided that the total will never be allowed to reach that figure," the spokesman said, after another plane load of 165 refugees arrived at the camp from Guam aboard a DC-8 flight.

An additional 684 refugees have been processed out of the camp for new homes in the United States and Canada. Twenty-four left the camp Monday.

An Atlanta representative of a soy sauce manufacturer called the refugee camp to offer to donate 100 cases of the product to spice the bland Air Force diet being fed to the refugees. The spokesman said procedures for the shipment were being checked out.

However, the spokesman said no source has been found for "Nuoc Mam," the spicy, fermented fish sauce Vietnamese love and use on most of their food. "Apparently most of the Vietnamese already in this country make their own," he said.

Refugees at the camp are also doing without chopsticks.

341 Viet Refugees Arrive at 4th U.S. Military Base

Ft. Indiantown Gap, Pa. - Becomes Temporary Home for Group. Navy Officer Thanks 2,000 Welcomers

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — The fourth U.S. military base picked to handle Vietnamese refugees got its first arrivals Wednesday when a plane load of Vietnamese arrived here after a 12-hour flight from Guam.

This initial group of 341 refugees made their temporary home at Ft. Indiantown Gap, a military base in the rolling farm hills of Pennsylvania.

"We hope we'll have a good life here," said Chu Yuan Dinh, a telephone technician from Saigon. "I hope we'll have many things better."

The refugees, mostly middle-aged parents and their children, wore American clothes and smiled at the 2,000 persons who greeted their arrival at Harrisburg International Airport.

They continued in chartered buses to Ft. Indiantown Gap, a 200,000-acre military reservation about 25 miles northeast of Harrisburg.

Elderly-eyed children stared at their new surroundings. Their parents carried small packages of belongings and treated gawking Americans with quiet courtesy.

"Please me to thank you for your hospitality," said Ian Nguon Tant, a former South Vietnamese navy of-icer who spoke at an airport welcoming ceremony. "We are grateful to you."

Ft. Indiantown Gap is the fourth military base in the country to be pressed into service as a temporary home for refugees. Federal officials said there now are 24,700 refugees at Ft. Chaffee, Ark., 18,000 at Camp Pendleton, Calif., and 4,822 at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

Army and civilian authorities at Ft. Indiantown Gap said they expect a total of 15,000 refugees to arrive from the Pacific in the next 10 days. They said they had no idea how long the people would remain.

They are quartered in the same wooden barracks that housed World War II troops on their way to Europe. Army and civilian carpenters built partitions in dozens of the two-story buildings to add some privacy for families.

Volunteer groups, most with religious affiliations, are coordinating efforts to find jobs and sponsors for refugee families.

Gov. Milton J. Shapp led brief welcoming ceremonies. The crowd cheered once as the refugees left their plane and again when the eight buses pulled out.

Refugee Education Planned

The federal government will probably contract with schools and universities for education of Vietnamese refugees, a federal official said here yesterday.

Kathy Doolin, planning administrator for the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), said officials are negotiating with a national educational agency which would subcontract with individual schools such as San Diego State University for refugee educational programs.

She did not identify the agency but said a broadly written contract would be completed in a week or so.

SOME CONFUSION

Meanwhile, local school officials are confused about their responsibility for educating refugee children at Camp Pendleton.

County school administrator Gilbert Stuve told board members yesterday that estimates on the average stay for refugees at Camp Pendleton range from as little as 90 days to as long as 18 months.

"We're not in a position to finance educational programs for them," said County Schools Supt. M. Ted Dixon.

Stuve said many more refugees than anticipated are expected to settle in California instead of being relocated throughout the nation. He said as many as 70 per cent of the 60,000 refugees at Guam, Wake and Camp Pendleton are expected to remain in California. However, some federal officials say no more than 15,000 will settle in the state.

County Board of Education members yesterday were concerned over what to do about it.

$100 MILLION

Dixon estimated it might cost more than $100 million to educate refugees if most of them settle in California. He said the federal government has a responsibility to help pay the cost. Board members agreed to contact area congressmen to seek federal funds to defray the cost of educating refugees in local schools.

Board member Amy Villobos said, "Knowing the way the military operates, I imagine they won't give us the apple until the apple is rotten."

The present refugees at Camp Pendleton are not expected to be as much of a problem for educators as the ones who are coming. There have been persistent reports that while those who were flown out of the country were well educated, those who were picked up in Navy ships were principally uneducated fishermen and farmers.

Earlier this month, San Diego State officials expressed an interest to the State Department in a contractual arrangement to teach the refugees English. Yesterday, Robert McCoy, assistant to San Diego State President Brage Golding, said HEW officials had acknowledged an interest in cooperation and the school is ready to gear up for it.

FACILITIES NOTED

McCoy said the university could use classrooms and dormitories which are vacant during summer months or the classes could be held at Camp Pendleton. Two San Diego State officials attended a seminar in San Francisco on the linguistic problems of the refugees.

SPONSORS VOLUNTEER

States and cities as well as thousands of persons across the country are volunteering to help resettle displaced Indochina refugees, the chief spokesman for President Ford's refugee task force said in Washington yesterday.

She said a total of more than 18,000 sponsorship offers had already been received.

The tired group of 841 refugees made their temporary home at Indiantown Gap, a military base in the rolling farm hills near Annville, Pa.

The refugees, mostly middle-aged parents and their children, wore American clothes and smiled at the 2,000 persons who greeted their arrival at Harrisburg International Airport.

New Refugees Claim They Escaped Death

FT. INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. (UPI) — For Nguyen Quang Vinh and many other refugees, escape from South Vietnam was not only a flight to freedom but also an escape from execution.

Vinh's fears were echoed time and again Wednesday by the 519 Vietnamese refugees arriving at the nation's newest refugee camp after a 20-hour flight from Guam.

They are the first of 15,000 expected in a 10-day period and seemed more like tourists than refugees running for their lives.

Most of them had western-style hair cuts and wore sports clothes and blue jeans. Only a few were barefoot. Many of the children wore shorts and tennis shoes.

Most had small suit cases, flight bags or pillow cases in which, officials said, they carried about everything they had. They were middle and upper class: businessmen, U.S. employees, officials and military officers. There were few who looked like farmers or fishermen.

They told of narrow escapes and loved ones left behind.

Vinh, 40, who worked for the U.S. Agency for International Development in Saigon, said he dodged bombs and Viet Cong rocket fire at the Saigon airport to get his wife, three children and two nephews out of the country.

"The Viet Cong don't like Vietnamese who worked for the Americans. I'm sure I would have been killed because I worked for the Americans," he said in halting English.

Diep Uuan Thong, 40, a Navy officer, said he escaped with his wife and three children by commandeering a naval vessel.

"If I had stayed in Saigon I would have been killed, and I think that my family would have been killed, too. So I had to leave," he said.

A woman cradled a baby in her arms and said her husband forced her to leave without him. She said she did not know if he got out.

Two Refugee Groups Separated In Camp

FT. INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. (UPI) — Cambodians and Vietnamese have been enemies for centuries.

But American officials at the nation's newest refugee camp hope the common bond of having lost their homelands will prevent confrontations between the Vietnamese refugees and the Cambodians who arrive today.

Richard Friedman, civilian coordinator for the refugee camp, said the 480 Cambodians arriving today make up the first large group of Cambodian refugees to reach the United States.

"I have spoken to our Vietnamese hands and I understand there has been a long and continued history of antipathy between the Cambodians and Vietnamese," Friedman said Thursday.

An American military officer who served three tours in Vietnam put it a little more bluntly: "The Cambodians and the Vietnamese hate each other with a passion."

Friedman said officials have been alerted to the possibility that problems between the two groups could develop, but will make sure the Cambodians and Vietnamese know it is in their best interests to get along.

He said the Cambodians will be housed and fed in an area apart from the Vietnamese refugees but the only barrier between the two groups will be a thin white tape that anyone could jump over or crawl under.

There was no problem between the Cambodian and Vietnamese refugees during the weeks they lived on Guam, Friedman said.

"In fact, I understand that on Guam the Cambodians and Vietnamese have organized a volleyball league. I am confident that we can emulate that here," he said.

"You have to remember that the Vietnamese and Cambodians have a common bond as refugees. They are in the same boat, and I hope this bond will override any basic enmity that they had back home."

Friedman said he will not place extra military policemen to watch over the Cambodians.

The arrival of the Cambodians presents other problems, Friedman said. All of the signs in the barracks are in Vietnamese and there is no one on the base who speaks Cambodian.

Ky Says U.S. Asked Him To Rule 2 Weeks Before Fall

By JAMES CARY
Washington Bureau Chief
Copley News Service

WASHINGTON — Former South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky said yesterday that two weeks before his country fell to the Communists, U.S. Ambassador Graham Martin asked him to take over the government.

Ky said he agreed and Martin said he would need a few days to make the arrangements.

Instead it took 10 days for President Nguyen Van Thieu to decide to resign, Ky reported, and by that time it was too late to rally the dwindling and demoralized forces of the south.

VISITS FAMILY

Ky flew here from Camp Pendleton last Saturday to visit his wife and 13 other members of his family, including his six children, who arrived in the Washington area a month ago.

In an interview at the rented suburban home where they are staying near Fairfax, Va., the former air marshal and commander of South Vietnam's air force also:

1. Predicted that Thailand would fall to the Communists within two years.

2. Said he has an offer from a publisher and will begin writing a book soon on the "facts" of what happened to cause the collapse in South Vietnam.

3. Said there will not be a bloodbath in South Vietnam right away, but one will come quietly later, "once they get all of the foreign press out of Saigon." Former South Vietnamese military officers will be sent to re-education centers, he said, then disappear.

4. Refused to blame the U.S. Congress for the collapse in South Vietnam despite a turndown on promised one-for-one replacement of ammunition and equipment.

"At the beginning of the final Communist offensive we still had enough ammunition to resist the Communists for at least three months . . . he said. "We could have had a good show for three months."

FALLOT RIGGED

There is no doubt South Vietnam could have been saved, Ky said, if there had been a change in command and leadership earlier. He called Thieu's election in 1971 "100 per cent rigged. After that, South Vietnam began sliding toward defeat, he said. This was the turning point.

Ky is the most prominent of the 131,000 South Vietnamese and Cambodian refugees who have fled to the United States since the fall of their government early in May.

He is now trying to fashion a new life for himself, his wife, and family in a strange new land he simultaneously admires as the freest of all nations, and yet one he said must ask itself if it wants to be the leader of the free world.

"If you accept it then you must fulfill your responsibilities . . . he stated.

"You claimed it (before) and we accepted it. Now it is time for you to think about it, whether you want to be a leader, and if you want to be leader then you have some responsibilities you have to. Ky said he tried to talk to Thieu when the collapse in fulfill."

Ky Tells Of U.S. Bid For His Rule

That was as close as he came to a rebuke toward the switch in U.S. policy, that at first helped create South Vietnam, supported it for 20 years, and ended up refusing to provide requested amounts of aid or the "vigorous" reaction to a Communist offensive promised by former President Richard Nixon.

Ky spoke almost bitterly of Thieu, a political rival who ousted Ky from the 1971 presidential race.

"I said then that if Thieu stayed and continued his policies we would lose South Vietnam within two years. I said there would be a debacle . . . it happened."

In Ky's view, Thieu became more and more isolated from the people after 1971. Ky said that only a government that brought in leaders from many factions could have marshaled enough popular support to save South Vietnamese independence.

He rejected the idea that communism is the wave of the future.

To see your standard of living, your way of life, Americans really cherish their freedom. Little things in daily life . . . you really are a free people. I was surprised when I discovered there was no curfew here."

82 Cambodians decide to return

ARANYAPRATHET, Thailand (AP) — Eighty-two Cambodian military men, most of them flyers, voluntarily returned to Cambodia today after six weeks of exile in Thailand. Many said they were going back because they had left their wives and children behind.

"We're not afraid to go back to be ruled by the Khmer Rouge, even if we have to be forced to work in the jungles," said Capt. Kong Lach, who served in the Cambodian air force for 14 years before the country fell to the Communists. "Everyone has to go April 17."

Kong Lach, the highest ranking officer returning today, said he could not sleep since arriving in Thailand. "Most of us do not know the fate of our families, and if our families were with us we would not return to Cambodia," he told news men at the border bridge linking Thailand and Cambodia.

Chai Suwan, the chief Cambodian immigration officer at the border village of Poipet, said all of the returnees would be taken to Phnom Penh by truck for what he called "Khmer Rouge-style indoctrination."

"Everyone has to go through this before we let them see their families and then go to work for our country," he said.

Refugees Tied With Red Tape

By CAROL OLSEN

The 600 tomato plants, bean patches, pepper bushes and peach, plum and apricot trees sit in the shadow of San Diego Stadium, their leaves a little dusty and their blossoms wilting.

Even Tom Hall and his 20 or so employees who planted them this spring and watered them faithfully admit they need some tender loving care (TLC).

The TLC, Hall said, will be provided by a Vietnamese refugee and his family who want to learn how to become good American farmers and, perhaps, someday be the esteemed purveyors of a 100-acre estate of fruits, vegetables and flowers running in and out of the urban development of all of Mission Valley.

Meanwhile, Hall has about two acres, the plants which were donated by a nursery after being damaged in an early spring deluge, a tractor, house, a sort of barn and a probable cow awaiting the refugees.

Can't Find Any Help

He can't, however, find any refugees to take the job and, he says, he's been looking since the fall of Saigon.

"I don't understand," he said. "There are 130,000 people with no place to go and it's a problem to find a farmer."

Hall has written or telephoned almost all of the seven voluntary agencies engaged in the placement of refugees supplied to him by Operation Newlife, the State Department's interdepartmental task force at Camp Pendleton. Some have replied with form letters thanking him for his interest and promising, "We will be in touch."

Monday, Hall decided on a more immediate approach. With some of his employees at A-1 Soils Co. who assisted on the planting project, he drove to Camp Pendleton.

"First I had to fill out a form for the guard at the gate to get in," Hall recalled. "Then they directed us to a trailer. I think it was the Red Cross trailer. I told the lady there I wanted to interview some farmers. She said, 'You can't do that, you have to wait for the State Department and the agencies to call you.' I said, 'But lady, I have 600 tomato plants and they need a farmer.'

No Luck At Camp

Hall had no luck, however, and returned home again to tend his own plants.

"Hall views the potential farm as 'a great opportunity for someone to live their own way in the great American tradition of self-sufficiency.' His farmer, he says, will have to be willing to sweat.

"We need to beautify this valley," he said. "Get rid of the weeds and plant some flowers. There are a hundred acres here that could be beautified. You could put flower beds on the hillsides with pictures of the California Bear or the U.S. flag. Five thousand Christmas trees along Murphy Canyon Road. There is so much potential because the water is only 10 feet down." He doesn't own all the land, but he's sure the rest of the Valley tenants will cooperate. They are, he says, longtime friends.

Hall, 69, came to the valley about 30 years ago. He set up his soil company which distributes topsoil, sand, gravel, fill, sawdust and fertilizer around the county and now pulls in up to $2,000 a day. He dreams of franchising his dirt sometimes like Kentucky Colonel chicken but his most immediate dream is that "the valley will help a refugee like it helped me."

"We are all refugees from something," he said. "I'm a refugee from senility and old age. But I help someone."

Student To Help Refugees

Hall is working with San Diego State University to find an interpreter for his Vietnamese farmer if one is needed. His dispatcher and office helper, Sharen Stenn, a senior at Kearny High School, will chauffeur the family around and teach the Vietnamese how to run a tractor, he said. Other employees are putting their peer money into a trust fund for the refugee farmer.

Hall, himself, is moving out of his three-bedroom house on Mission Village Drive and into a mobile home at the site of his company so the house will be ready for the refugees.

"He'll keep looking," he said, until he finds them.

Morale had become a problem among Vietnamese refugees at Camp Pendleton. The full impact of severing ties with their homeland — possibly forever — was getting to them.

For many, days had dragged into weeks without sponsorship.

Yesterday their morale got a boost.

For the first time since evacuees began arriving at the camp April 29, Vietnamese music, played live, swept across the rolling countryside and into the tents. A crowd of more than 3,000 persons gathered to listen.

"We thought it would do them good," said Chieu Pham, one of the musicians. He is a student at San Francisco State University, majoring in chemistry.

GOOD VIBRATIONS

In the American idiom, the chemistry on this occasion — with three talented Vietnamese songstresses sitting in with the band — was fine.

Two of the girls are refugees. The other is a professional vocalist from San Francisco who left Vietnam seven years ago to appear on the Ed Sullivan Show and remained in the United States to achieve success.

The professional vocalist, Bach Yen has been featured with Liberace and Bob Hope among other celebrities.

She, along with refugee sisters Vyen and Kim Anh Ly, sang mostly sentimental melodies.

LOVE SONG

"That song told of a loved one who is left behind going down to the dock on a cold winter night and looking out across the waves," Vyen Ly, the elder sister, explained to an American listener between numbers.

Another lyric, she said, told of the actual separation.

Still another, she said, spoke of love of country.

She said "Raindrops on the Trees" would be the English equivalent to the Vietnamese title of one particularly haunting melody.

The Ly sisters, both now with Los Angeles sponsors, formed two-thirds of a trio called the Three Cats that sang in Saigon theaters and nightclubs after office hours, they said. The girls are clerks.

SPONSORS FOUND

"The Vietnamese songs symbolize their sentimentality," Marine Sgt. Douglas Wynn, listening nearby, commented. "But they also like slow rock."

The band consisted of three guitarists, a drummer and a couple of sound effects men working electronic bass. All are Vietnamese students enrolled in San Francisco area colleges.

"This is probably our last appearance here at the camp," Pham said. "We're just amateurs and we paid our own way, including renting the sound equipment."

He motioned to a nearby truck, saying:

"It cost us over $600 and students don't have that kind of money."

Vietnam Orphan Gains New Home

"We receive you into the household of God."

With these words the Rev. David Laird Barclay announced the baptism of Stefan Jacob Nam Bean, adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Bean, into the Christian church and the congregation of St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church at the 10 a.m. Eucharist yesterday.

Five-year-old Stefan, whose Vietnamese name is Le Thanh Nam, arrived in the U.S. from Vietnam on April 6, in one of the first orphan airlifts. The Beans adopted Nam through the Holt Adoption Program of Portland, Ore. after 4  $\frac{1}{2}$ years of waiting.

During the sermon before the baptism the Rev. Mr. Barclay likened the ceremony of baptism to adoption. "Adoption was very common among the Greeks and Romans. It assured the continuity of family worship and the inheritance of property," he said.

The Rev. Lawrence Bausch, curate, assisted at the baptism and celebrated the Eucharist.

When Nam, who suffers from the after effects of polio, first arrived in San Diego with his new family he was missing his braces and crutches and couldn't stand.

Today he was able to stand on his feet and hold up his arms to his new mother.

"He goes three days a week to Children's Health Center for therapy and can move around pretty well on his crutches," said Bean.

"We had been worried that the language barrier would be a problem, but have found that we can fill in with gestures," he said.

"He has learned the words for banana and airplane. He loves bananas," said Mrs. Bean.

"We talk to him all the time and he learns fast. We usually call him Nam, even though his formal name is Stefan," she said. "He is getting stronger every day."

The Beans have three other children, Lauren, 9, Darrin, 8, and Martin, 6, all of whom have taken well to their new little brother.

"Stefan (Nam) Bean will go through another ceremony next Sunday when he is consecrated in Our Redeemer Lutheran Church, the parish of the Rev. H.W. Mutschke. He and Mrs. Mutschke are Nam's godparents. Mr. and Mrs. James Kent are also godparents for the child.

"We were married in the Episcopal church 11 years ago but attended the Lutheran Church for many years," said Mrs. Bean.

"We transferred here because it was closer and the children can walk to rehearsals and meetings," she said.

Baptized in the same ceremony with Nam was Benjamin Aaron Rodriguez, a week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rodriguez.

Ford Refugee Panel At CamPen

CAMP PENDLETON — The chairman of the President's Special Commission on Refugees will arrive at Camp Pendleton today as the base prepares to receive another 250 immigrants.

Chairman John Eisenhower is scheduled to arrive at the base at 3 p.m. and, after a briefing with senior officials, will tour the camp.

As of 8 a.m. today, there were 17,095 refugees at the base, including 1,365 Cambodians. A spokesman said a plane carrying approximately 250 was expected between eight and 10 p.m., but its point of origin was not immediately known.

Eisenhower's appearance coincides with an appeal to his office from California Health and Welfare Secretary Mario Obledo.

Obledo said in a telegram Tuesday that interviews with 4,138 refugees indicated that approximately 18,000

Vietnamese will settle in California.

"America's 655,000 unemployed Vietnam veterans should not be forced to compete with refugees for scarce jobs," Obledo said. He also charged that U.S. State Department sponsorship programs will "eventually result in the majority of refugees receiving welfare assistance."

Obledo said the state interviews indicated one per cent of refugee children speak even limited English and few refugees have substantial assets (97 per cent had less than $4,000.)

A state department spokesman said it was not known how many of the refugees were employable, but that few interviewed had skills presently in demand.

Obledo's charges were refuted by Robert Carleson, federal commission of welfare and former state director of welfare in the Reagan administration, who castigated Obledo and Gov. Brown for failing to welcome the refugees.

Carleson accused Obledo of sowing fears that welfare rolls would be expanded by unemployed Vietnamese, and said there were probably more persons receiving welfare aid in California who were not entitled to it than there were refugees who could be expected to settle in the state.

Meanwhile, at Fort Chaffee, Ark., 207 refugees will meet with a U.N. official from Geneva Thursday regarding their demands to be returned to Saigon.

A spokesman at Camp Pendleton said today that 39 persons there had made similar requests and would discuss their problem with the U.S. consul's office.

Refugee Military Service OK Urged

Special to The Herald-Examiner

CAMP PENDLETON — Vietnamese and Cambodian refugees should be allowed to enlist in the U.S. armed forces, provided strict security checks are used in screening, an Inter-Agency Task Force official has said.

Nick Thorne, chief of ITF, said yesterday he expects many of the hundreds of refugees still on Guam to request to enlist.

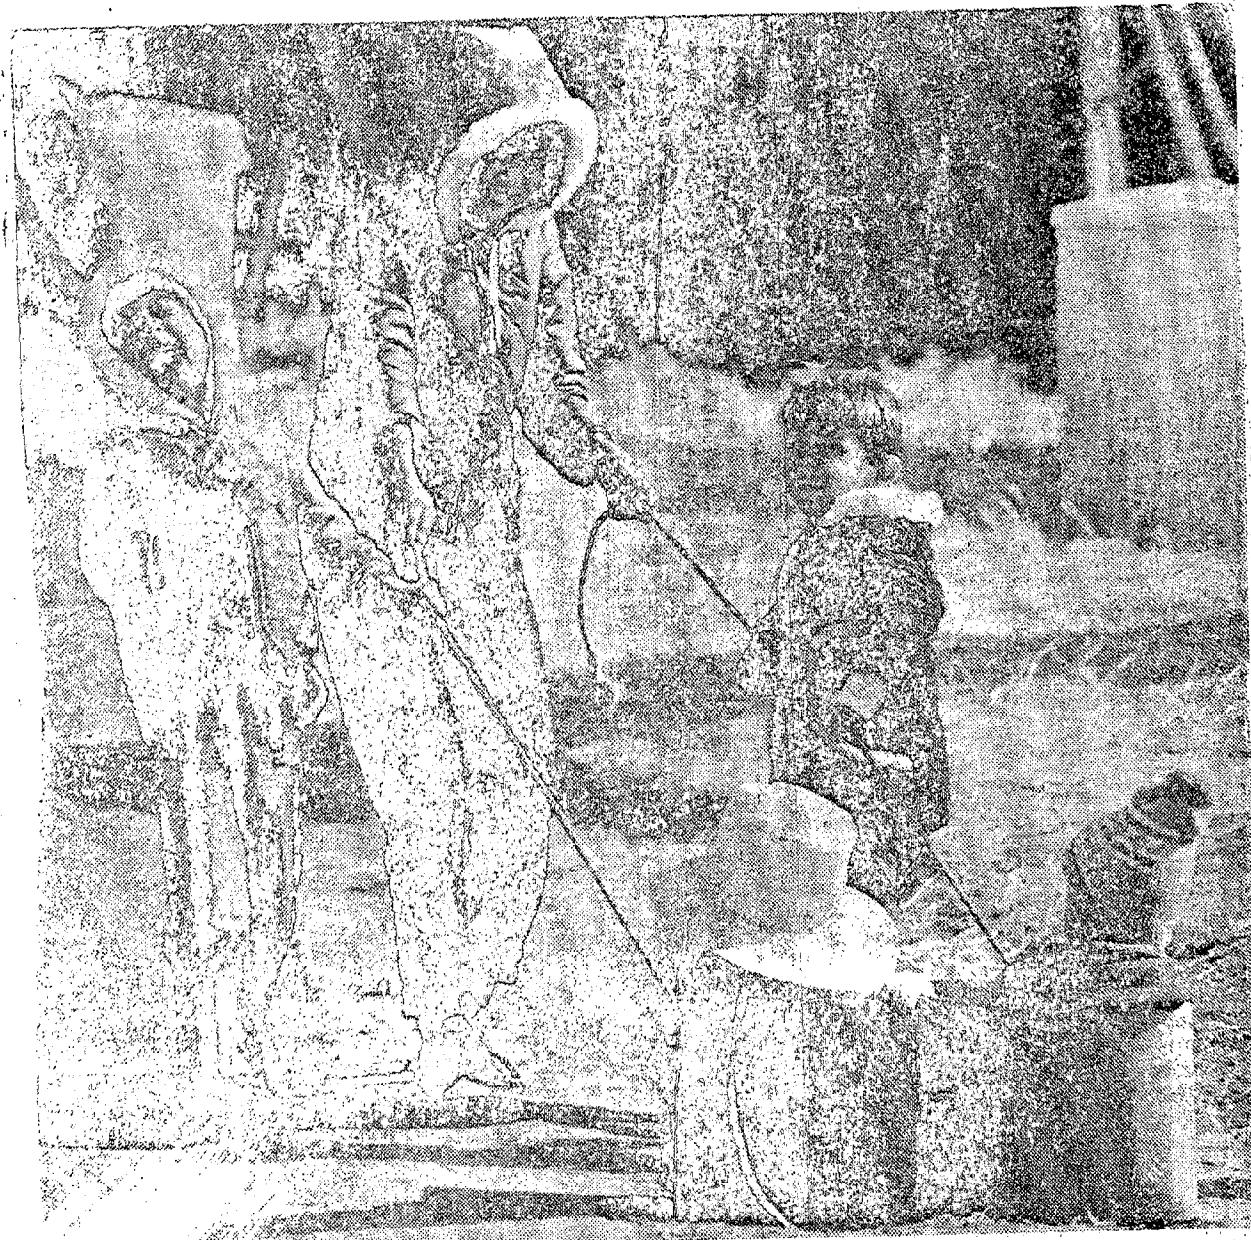

Thorne recommended that Congress should consider allowing refugee enlistments after he briefed Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., during a tour of the camp here. He said a large number of former South Vietnamese naval personnel "who took to their ships and kept going," were among the Guam refugees.

Van Deerlin visited the refugee camp here with his daughters, Vicki, 24, and Susie, 21, and son, Jeb, 20. Van Deerlin agreed that allowing refugees to enlist would be a good idea, but added that security procedures must be flawless.

Thorne said Hungarian and Cuban refugees have been allowed to enlist in the U.S. armed forces in the past and the task force was investigating whether congressional approval was needed to allow Southeast Asian refugee enlistment.

He said he doubts whether there would be a need to isolate refugees in an Indian-reservation type facility as was suggested by a civilian official at the Ft. Chaffee, Ark., refugee center, and feels they can be absorbed into American society with little difficulty.

Van Deerlin said his mail is running 11 to 1 against bringing refugees to California, adding that many of the letter-writers are people once in favor of continuing the Vietnam War, but who now resent the refugees as "a reminder of the failure of U.S. foreign policy."

Enlistment of refugees into U.S. armed forces urged

CAMP PENDLETON (AP)—Congress should seriously consider allowing Indochinese refugees to enlist in the armed forces, said Nick Thorne, chief of the civilian Inter-Agency Task Force.

Thorne, who briefed Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., during a tour of the sprawling refugee camp at the Marine base Monday, said enlistment requests are expected in great numbers from refugees still on Guam.

Thorne said a large number of former South Vietnamese naval personnel "who took to their ships and kept going" were among the refugees on Guam.

Van Deerlin visited the refugee camp here along with his daughters, Vicki, 24, and Susie, 21, and his son, Jeb, 20. The congressman said the idea of refugee enlistment is good "providing we have an airtight screening system."

"I wouldn't want any bad apples like the guards at Kon Sanh," said Van Deerlin, referring to a notorious prison where the South Vietnamese government imprisoned its political opponents in tiger cages.

Thorne said Hungarian and Cuban refugees in the past had been allowed to enlist in the U.S. armed forces and his agency was investigating whether congressional approval was needed to allow Indochinese refugee enlistment.

He said he believed the Indochinese refugees could be absorbed into American society and there would be no need to isolate them in an Indian reservation type facility, as has reportedly been suggested.

Kim-Anh Nguyen, one of Huntington Beach's newest residents, watched during the 1968 Tet offensive in Vietnam when the Viet Cong buried her husband and 65 others alive.

So did her seven children.

Two months ago, as the Viet Cong neared their home in Hue again, she gathered her children — aged eight to 18 — and made a 500-mile trip on foot to her sister's home in Saigon.

Her sister-in-law, Bach Mai Nguyen, 37 and pregnant, recently carried her one and two-year-old children on a mountainous 100-mile trip on foot from Viet Cong surrounded Pleiku to Saigon, dodging bullets all the way.

And Thuong Nguyen, 40, a Viet namese Air Force major, put his wife and five children on a plane out of Saigon in late April, not knowing if he would ever see them again.

Today, 21 members of the Nguyen family are making new lives for themselves in Huntington Beach — where a whole neighborhood has adopted them.

They are all staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Young, 17272 Avalon Lane. Young's wife, Marianne, is Bach Mai's sister, and sister, sister-in-law and aunt to the others staying in her home.

"Some people might think we are crazy to put 21 people in here," Young said Friday. "But we needed to. The help from the neighborhood has been amazing."

All 12 children in the Nguyen family have been attending school the past week at nearby Lark View School, where Principal Stanton Burrill has arranged an emergency English language tutoring program and put two adult family members to work as instructional aides.

The students, age five to 18, are being tutored by their volunteer classmates at Lark View, and families throughout the school area have donated clothing, food, and even offered to take them in to their homes.

"It's amazing how quickly the kids are learning," Burrill said of the Vietnamese.

And, he noted, the American volunteer youngsters are learning Vietnamese words from their new friends as well. "It's a tremendous enriching experience," he said.

School officials have been scrambling throughout the area searching for special instructional aides to help.

During the day, the children learn English, then at night they teach it to the adults and preschool youngsters at home.

Young, a third generation Chinese-American, met his Vietnamese wife, while employed as a Rand Corporation consultant in Saigon. He noted the relatives all escaped with only what they could carry.

All the family members have not yet gathered. The husband of one of the sisters still is at Camp Pendleton with members of his family, awaiting processing.

Two days ago, Bach-Mai learned that her husband and three other children are safe in Guam.

Young said he hopes to keep all the family members together awhile "to give them time to acclimate."

Thuong said he isn't sure what the future will hold, but he is grateful for the chance to begin again here.

"When I sent my family out of Saigon, I didn't know their destination, and I didn't care. I wanted them to live, and if they hadn't left, they wouldn't have lived," he said.

After he escaped by ship a week later, then found them in Guam he said he'd experienced "a miracle."

"I didn't use to believe in miracles," he noted happily.

A FIRST . . . Chri Chin Tri, a 9-year-old Vietnamese refugee, experiments with a coin telephone for the first time. The youngster's home formerly was in Saigon, but like thousands of other Vietnamese who have been bivouaced at Camp Pendleton, he is learning to cope with a new way of life. Vietnamese are making about 2,500 long distance phone calls a day from their temporary home; most calls are to friends or sponsors in the United States, but none are to Saigon; long distance calls are not being accepted in Saigon from the U.S.

REFUGEES FIND HOMES

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department reported yesterday that almost 20,000 refugees from Indochina have completed processing and have gone to new homes in the United States.

A Pentagon statement said 130,073 refugees were in or have passed through the system. It said 663 were still between Indochina and U.S. bases in the Pacific. It gave this breakdown:

— 62,542 at U.S. bases in the Pacific, — 24,851 at Ft. Chaffee, Ark., — 17,530 at Camp Pendleton, Calif., — 4,780 at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

Pennsylvania-bound Refugees due in new camp

AGANA, Guam (AP) — The first refugees headed for the new evacuee camp at Indiantown Gap, Pa., will come from Guam, authorities announced today.

Adm G. Steve Morrison said a flight carrying 340 Vietnamese would leave Guam early Wednesday Guam time. A second flight of 179 refugees is scheduled to follow within several hours and more will leave daily until June 1. A total of 1,779 are scheduled to be transferred to the Pennsylvania camp.

But this was not expected to make an appreciable dent in the size of the refugee population still on Guam. As of Tuesday, 47,081 remained on the island, with 37,631 jammed into sweltering "Tent City."

Morrison said he is not optimistic about the prospect of flights resuming at a faster pace. A month ago, when refugee flights began to the mainland, thousands were being moved out of Guam daily. But the flow has decreased to a trickle, and on Monday only 262 refugees were flown out in 24 hours.

"When we first started, they were leaving at 6,000 a day," said Morrison. "I thought that would go on forever. But now I realize it was just until they filled up the camps back there."

The admiral noted that more ships carrying refugees are expected here—two of them with 355 aboard are scheduled to arrive May 31. And another 6,100 Vietnamese are at Subic Bay in the Philippines awaiting transfer to Guam.

"A certain number who left Singapore are unaccounted for," he noted. "...they may even have gone back to Saigon." Morrison continued to express concern about the potential for bad weather on Guam while the refugees are camped here.

Persons who fled Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cubans who streamed here after the takeover of their country by Fidel Castro in 1959 are assisting many Vietnamese refugees who have arrived here.

Wilfredo Acosta, a Cuban exile, worked at Eglin Air Force Base processing Vietnamese refugees; Jose Menendez provided rent-free housing in a duplex apartment house for two Vietnamese families; Gladys Victores brought canned milk, ham and soup to 31 South Vietnamese refugees who arrived in South Florida after flying 12,000 miles in five days.

"I heard on the radio about these people, and it just broke my heart," said Mrs. Victores. "We Cubans have to help."

Acosta, Menendez, Mrs. Victores and others said they provided a help for some of the thousands of refugees because they have not forgotten how this country welcomed them a decade ago.

At first the Cubans came by regular commercial airliners, with American visas in their passports. They stayed by claiming political refuge. After the U.S. and Cuba broke off diplomatic relations in 1961, it became more difficult to leave the Caribbean island, particularly for the poor. Then, it became impossible.

, helping Viet refugees

The Cuban exodus had a rebirth in December 1965, when President Lyndon B. Johnson took up a Castro challenge and established the Cuban refugee airlift between the island and Miami.

In seven years of operation, the Freedom Flights brought in some 270,000 Cubans. Approx-mately 400,000 other Cubans got here on their own. Philip A. Holman, acting director of the Cuban refugee program, told Congress last week that the government had spent more than $1 billion to aid the 670,000

Cubans.

The Cuban program, under the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, is being phased out, but it is still costing some $90 million a year.

Cubans were resettled throughout the country, but the majority — more than 350,000 — are in Miami. Most of the others are in the New York City area, in New Jersey and California.

Although many have assimilated and become part of the American mainstream, many others still live in their own colonies, virtually apart from any American influence.

In Miami, their activities range from bank presidents — seven — to laborers holding down two or three jobs.

Indians Claim Ownership

EDITOR:

Many of the negative comments by your educated readership are made as if only "they" are natives of this land. The facts are that all of us, either our parents or their parents or their parents, were relocated in the United States from around the world. Only the Indians can claim ownership of "our land."

These are days for caring, for accepting and utilizing the many resources of the displaced Vietnamese. This country is a world power and can remain so as long as we continue to maximize the human potential of all those who come to the United States. Good people and some not so good have been the fiber which has welded us across race, religion, ethnic background and minority status into a nation which has pride in its achievements and its people.

We shall continue to have respect for the dignity of each person and his ability to contribute to the richness of the United States of America.

Refugee Opinion Attacked

EDITOR:

I have just completed reading this evening's edition of The Blade-Tribune and the statements in the letter regarding the refugees now at Camp Pendleton.

It is hard for me to understand how a man could have such a twisted mind and soul.

In the first place, I very definitely and sincerely doubt he was asked by a group of staff non-commissioned officers to speak for them, for I am sure anyone of them could have written a much more intelligent letter than the one composed by him.

I have had almost daily contact with all the refugee camps for the past two weeks and I have not witnessed one of the facts so stated. I am sure the commanding officer and his many staff personnel and the very many outstanding staff NCO's who are in all the camps daily would in no way tolerate, or let their troops be abused in any way as stated.

And as for his statement which is so stupid for an adult, with any compassion or feeling in his soul (that a bunch of boozed-up marines from Oceanside, would hold bed-check with an M-16 rifle). All I can say, buddy, what kind of brain or soul do you possess. I can't bring myself to imagine any responsible person writing such a statement.

There are many retired professional marines residing in this area who I know, if they read your comments are surely wondering what kind of staff NCO's are they producing in today's Marine Corps.

Yes! Buddy! I retired in 1962, and I have more purple hearts than your so called group of former associates that you represent if the number you so stated was three.

I feel sorry for you, for your heart, and your soul and your mind appear to me to be twisted and full of condemnation for people far less fortunate than yourself.

Letter Writer Criticized

EDITOR:

If Mr. Henry McCary will continue to blaspheme the good name of his native country, suggesting there should be some way of telling President Ford or President Nixon to go shinny up a tree, then why not suggest that McCary write his letter to the President, as he has written it and sent it to the local news here? Word for word.

If this be his native land then he'd better produce, rather than offer such severe criticism with no constructive suggestions for improvement which is what America is all about. People working together all the time, that's democracy.

As we are well aware, Mr. McCary, Mr. Ford was put into his present job and not elected for it by the majority. We are exceedingly fortunate to have had a person of his fortitud, patience, integrity and at the same time determination, ready to fill the job of the Presidency, just when badly needed.

There has been a lot of 'brain-washing' going on here in America in just recent years, particularly from the young and directed towards you and I. "Let the Communists have Vietnam," or "get out of Vietnam" — and are you for this train of thought, Mr. McCary — to allow the Communists to control peoples and mold them to their thinking? Or, are you very pessimistic during times when all the world needs reassurance and optimism?

These Vietnam refugees are going to show up you "so-called Americans." The Orientals are not prone to the laziness and indifferent attitudes of so many Americans. They have to offer us an attitude of hard work, a sense of realistic and practical application to whatever they do, with a sense of gratitude. We must try to watch, and listen and then begin to learn from these people.

Mr. McCary, your letters point up that you don't know the difference between a Communist and a Christian — thinking person. It wasn't Communists who settled America many years ago, but decent God-loving persons. You can't change it, Mr. McCary, and there are too many people here who know and remember all of it, America is still receiving the world's destitute in the true spirit of Democracy!

OPERATION NEW ARRIVALS
I & L LOGISTICS ACTION SUMMARY

0600 16 May TO 0600 19 May

OPERATION NEW ARRIVALS
LOGISTICS ACTION SUMMARY
16-19 MAY 1975

1. The purpose of this summary is to provide information to the Staff on the on-going actions concerning OPERATION NEW ARRIVALS.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACTIONS/EVENTS

a. A query was received from Mr. Bratton, International Committee for European Migration, regarding the use of MCAS, El Toro for the movement of 1,000 refugees to France. Mr. Bratton was specifically concerned with landing rights and refueling of aircraft from either World Airways or Overseas National Airways. After coordination with Major Jackett at MCAS, El Toro, it was determined that El Toro facilities could be used only in connection with refugee movement in Military Airlift Command (MAC) charter flights where costs were paid by Secretary of State under OPERATION NEW ARRIVALS funding. Maj Jackett added that Civilian charters were not eligible to use MCAS, El Toro facilities. Mr. Bratton was so advised.

b. CMC msg 172239Z May 75 provides an OPERATION NEW ARRIVALS impact statement on personnel, training and readiness for a JCS response to Congressman Sikes. Copy is attached.

c. An Environmental Assessment is being prepared at Camp Pendleton in response to Secretary of State msg 170013Z May 1975. The assessment will emphasize factors affecting the ability of Camp Pendleton to support the refugee facility and will include impact on water supply, sewage disposal, solid waste disposal, transportation requirements and pesticide use. An original submission date of 19 May 1975 was subsequently changed to 21 May 1975.

d. The Secretary of State has provided the following guidelines and procedures concerning sponsorship of Indo-Chinese refugees.

(1) With certain exceptions, refugees require sponsors to assist in insuring that the refugees do not become public charges and to help each refugee make the transition from refugee status to status as a self-sufficient member of his community. Sponsorship can take the form of an offer of support, employment or both. However, the sponsor must also be ready to help the refugee with some of the less tangible aspects of resettlement such as adjustment to a new culture and acquainting the refugee with American law and requirements.

Sponsorship is not a formal, legal commitment. However, the sponsor undertakes a clear moral commitment to help the refugee to the best of his ability.

(2) A sponsor, in conjunction with an appropriate Volunteer Agency (VOLAG) will be expected to:

- (a) Receive the refugee and his family;
- (b) Provide shelter and food, until the refugee becomes self-sufficient. Shelter need not be in the residence of the sponsor but must be adequate;
- (c) Provide clothing and pocket money;
- (d) Provide assistance in finding employment and in school enrollment for children;
- (e) Cover ordinary medical costs or medical insurance. Once employment is obtained, the sponsor will assist the refugee to locate permanent housing, acquire minimal furniture and arrange for utilities. Offers of sponsorship should be made directly to one of the Volunteer Agencies listed below:

U.S. Catholic Council for Migration and Refugee Services

International Rescue Commission

Hebrew Immigration Aid Service

Church of Latter Day Saints

Christian and Military Alliance

North County Child Care Council

Lutheran Immigration and Refugee Service

Church World Service for Immigration and Refugees

e. The following distinguished visitors were received at MCB, Camp Pendleton to observe processing procedures: (Since Friday, 16 May 1975).

(1) The Honorable D. S. Potter, Under Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Potter.

(2) Mr. Eric Von Marbod, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense, Comptroller.

(3) Mr. Tom Tincher and representatives of the League of California Cities.

f. CG, MCB, CAMPEN msg 190026Z May 75 advised that outward flow of refugees and conditions at Camp San Onofre would permit receipt of 300 Cambodians after 0800 PDT, 19 May 1975. JCS, SECSTATE, and CINCPACAF were advised. Additional information concerning capability to receive Cambodians at MCB, CAMPEN will be reported on an "as occurring" basis.

HOWEVER, ADJUSTMENTS FOR THE SHORT TERM DO NOT HAVE A SIGNIFICANT IMPACT ON READINESS. A. SHORT TERM. THE EFFECT OF ASSIGNMENT OF PERSONNEL REFLECTED IN PEARA 3 BELOW IS NOT AND WILL NOT BE SIGNIFICANT IN TERMS OF A

SOME TRAINING SCHEDULE ADJUSTMENTS HAVE ALSO BEEN MADE. THESE RESCHEDULINGS ARE NOT THE RESULT OF UTILIZATION OF FACILITIES REQUIRED BY THE RC, BUT RATHER BECAUSE OF THE DRAWDOWN OF SUPERVISORY PERSONNEL FROM THE FMF UNITS. HOWEVER, ADJUSTMENTS FOR THE SHORT TERM DO NOT HAVE A SIGNIFICANT IMPACT ON READINESS. IN FACT, THERE HAVE BEEN SOME BENEFITS IN THAT THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE CAMP WAS A REALISTIC TEST OF LOGISTIC RESPONSIVENESS UNDER EMERGENCY CONDITIONS. MILITARY PERSONNEL WITH LOGISTIC MILITARY OPERATIONAL SPECIALTIES, SUCH AS COOKS, ENGINEERS, MEDICAL AND MOTOR TRANSPORT HAVE RECEIVED EXCELLENT TRAINING.

B. LONG TERM. IF THE OPERATION OF THE RC EXCEEDS 90 DAYS, THE IMPACT ON MILITARY ACTIVITIES MAY BECOME SIGNIFICANT AND POSSIBLE DEGRADATION OF MILITARY CAPABILITIES WILL HAVE TO BE REASSESSED AT THAT TIME. THE FIGURES STATED BELOW DO NOT INCLUDE THE MAN HOURS BEING DEVOTED TO NEW ARRIVALS BY LOCAL MILITARY AND CIVILIAN PERSONNEL OVER AND ABOVE THE NORMAL COURSE OF BUSINESS OR AS AN ADDITIONAL DUTY. THE DEDICATION OF TIME, ENERGY AND RESOURCES OVER THE LONG TERM TO RC PROBLEMS WILL EQUATE TO A REDUCTION OF DEDICATION TO THOSE ISSUES WHICH INSURE MAXIMUM COMBAT READINESS. IN ADDITION, THE EXTENDED ABSENCE OF THE PERSONNEL LISTED BELOW FROM THEIR ASSIGNED UNITS, BOTH AT CAMP PENDLETON AND ELSEWHERE, WILL HAVE A DETRIMENTAL EFFECT ON THE READINESS OF THEIR PARENT UNITS. UNIT TRAINING DELAYED AS A RESULT OF THE SHORT TERM WILL HAVE TO BE DELAYED AGAIN, WHICH WILL CREATE A DEGRADATION IN COMBAT READINESS THAT SHOULD BE AVOIDED.

OPERATION NEW ARRIVALS
I & L LOGISTICS ACTION SUMMARY
0600 6 May TO 0600 7 May

OPERATIONS NEW ARRIVALS
LOGISTICS ACTION SUMMARY
6 - 7 May 1975

1. The purpose of this summary is to provide information to the Staff on the on-going actions concerning OPERATION NEW ARRIVALS.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACTIONS/EVENTS

a. Senator HUMPHREY requested through OJCS, J-4 information concerning the refugee capacity at Camp Pendleton and procedures utilized in feeding of the refugees. The data is being compiled.

b. MGen CASEY, OJCS, J-4 levied a requirement for information concerning refugee impact on Reserve training and Camp Pendleton capacity to process an increased number of refugee arrivals as long as the 18,000 capacity was adhered to. The following information was provided:

(1) By shifting the Reserve units to other camps the impact on Reserve training will not be significant. CMC has provided an impact statement to SECDEF to this effect.

(2) Since Camp Pendleton is quickly reaching its 18,000 person refugee capacity an increase in refugee input is really OBE; however, the throughput number could be increased if the refugees were processed in the following priority (i.e., Category I consisting of refugees with stateside relatives, Category II consisting of sponsors other than relatives, Category III consisting of all others).

c. DC/S for Manpower (Code MSPA) advised that the Office of the Secretary of Defense will dispatch an officer to Camp Pendleton to locate the Vietnamese members of the Four Party Negotiating Team.

d. Former Cambodian Premier SAKUM PHOY departed UTAPAO via World Airways for El Toro and Camp Pendleton.

e. The Commandant, 11th Naval District (COMELEVEN 062211Z May 75) is requesting subordinate commands to provide Camp Pendleton with 20 additional cooks, for a total of 60 from the 11th Naval District Commands.

f. MGen VAUGHT, ADC/S for I&L, discussed the rapid approach of the 18,000 capacity at Camp Pendleton with VAdm WESCHLER, J-4 JCS. VAdm WESCHLER indicated that there was no planning in process at the present time to increase input beyond the scheduled 18,000 capacity at Camp Pendleton. VAdm WESCHLER further indicated that a message was being prepared to appropriate addressees that he hoped would assist in speeding up the refugee processing procedures at Camp Pendleton.

g. MGen VAUGHT, ADC/S for I&L, spoke with BGen MILLER, Deputy CG, FMFLANT, concerning CG, FMFLANT msg 052029Z May 75. BGen MILLER advised that the intent of the message was to respond to a planning directive of CINCLANTFLT (CINCLANTFLT 011750Z May 75) in which, for planning purposes, CINCLANTFLT subordinate type commanders are to provide support to COMNAVBASE Charleston. BGen MILLER further stated that he did not know, at the present time, exactly what CG, FMFLANT would be tasked to do, but HQMC would be kept advised. MGen VAUGHT further advised BGen MILLER that MCSC, Albany was inappropriately tasked in CINCLANTFLT 011750Z May 75, that all supply requests would go to DSA or appropriated Integrated Material Managers. RAdm GRINSTEAD, OP-41 has been so advised.

h. Capt MILLS, JCS, J-4, requested some general background information for MGen CASEY, Deputy J-4, JCS, concerning transportation, subsistence, billeting, medical support, and the latest base loading statistics on the refugees at Camp Pendleton. Information was provided. MGen CASEY is testifying before the House International Committee on the morning of 7 May.

9 - 12 May 1975

1. The purpose of this summary is to provide information to the Staff on the on-going actions concerning OPERATION NEW ARRIVALS.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACTIONS/EVENTS

a. CMC message 091920Z May 75 was released advising CAMPEN, El Toro, JCS, CINCPAC, MAC and 22nd AF of reinitiation procedures once CAMPEN is able to take more input (CAMPEN is presently over capacity).

b. LtCol Jones (LPP) contacted Capt Williford (C/S COMNAVBASE Charleston) who agreed that a correction would be made to COMNAVBASE Charleston msg 081400Z May 75 relative to tasking of MCSC, Albany for security support.

c. During the period 1800 - 2100, 9 May 1975 MGen Casey, Deputy Director, J-4, BGen Graham, CG, MCB CAMPEN, Col Realson, C/S MCAS, El Toro, and LtCol Jones coordinated procedures for MCAS, El Toro to accept two flights totaling 539 refugees to be held at El Toro on a temporary (24 hours) basis. This coordination included procedures to insure that no additional flights would be diverted to El Toro. At the direction of MGen Vaught, appropriate message traffic was readdressed to ALCON to conclude action on closing down the flow into El Toro. Departure of these refugees for Fort Chaffee, Arkansas was scheduled to commence at 0300 PDT on 11 May 1975. This departure was subsequently changed to 13 May 1975.

d. Col Rose from Sec State Inter Agency Task Force along with HEW and INS representatives visited Camp Pendleton on 10 May 1975 to investigate processing problems with particular attention to the backlog of refugees (approx 8000) awaiting NAC and financial investigation of sponsors. Visit was appropriately coordinated with CG, MCB Camp Pendleton.

e. A request was received from the Logistic Coordination Center, OJCS for a five day projection of numbers of refugees to be released from Government control (0200 to 0159 PDT). Col Woodham, C/S Camp Pendleton advised that this projection could not be realistically made until the Civil Coordinator could provide reliable estimates. The reliability is directly related to a determination/resolution of the NAC problem mentioned above.

f. The JCS Logistic Coordination Center requested that Camp Pendleton retain interpreters and their families (totalling 112) ultimately destined for Eglin AFB until further notice. Duty officer (Lt.Cunningham was advised and confirmed that this would be done.)

g. Cdr FRIES, JCS J-4 watch officer was advised in response to questions concerning projection of flights into El Toro that the Camp Pendleton capacity is 18,000 and that capacity has been exceeded causing considerable overcrowding. CMC position is that no more can be accepted at Camp Pendleton until the present level is reduced below 18,000.

h. Immediate threat of Dengue fever appeared on 9 May on Guam with one death and three suspected cases among refugees. All Pacific commands responded to provide Malathion spray liquid and ground spraying equipment. Spray equipped aircraft is available CONUS for positioning on Guam 20 - 23 May. CG, FMFPac has located four A-4 a/c with capability that can respond in 36 hours.

i. Various messages from JCS, CINCPAC, and MAC indicated approaching saturation of CONUS camps and required slowdown of flow from WESTPAC. Last message (JCS 101827Z May 75) indicates incoming flow to CONUS camps will not exceed 1000 per day from 130359Z to 160400Z May 75. Additional guidance will be given by JCS at 1500 EDT 12 May 1975.

j. CG FMFLant continues to plan in support of COMNAVBASE Charleston.

OPERATIONS NEW ARRIVALS
LOGISTICS ACTION SUMMARY
12-13 May 1975

1. The purpose of this summary is to provide information to the Staff on the on-going actions concerning OPERATION NEW ARRIVALS.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACTIONS/EVENTS

a. A call to MCAS, El Toro (Maj JACKETT) confirmed that five C-141's are scheduled to begin transferring 539 refugees at 0945 PDT from MCAS, El Toro to Fort Chaffee. This group arrived at El Toro as a temporary measure on 10 May 1975.

b. ComNavBase Charleston issued a message correction regarding the tasking of MCSC, Albany in support of a contingency plan.

c. CG, MCB, Camp Pendleton has requested a temporary ceiling increase of 60 civil service billets to support refugee center operations and expressed a requirement for 40 enlisted TAD personnel to support security operations. Additionally, CG, MCB Camp Pendleton has requested that two colonels 9906/9907 and two LtCols 9910 be assigned MCB, Camp Pendleton for duty with OPERATION NEW ARRIVALS for the duration of the operation.

d. At Camp Pendleton the U. S. Catholic conference has registered 1447 heads of families. This equates to about 6500 refugees. Of this group, 2300 have sponsors. The Lutherans have registered approximately 1000 individuals but have sponsors for only 300 Cambodians included in that total. Other agencies have been less active but have been registering refugees and obtaining sponsors. Based on these preliminary figures, it appears that the half way mark is being reached in terms of registration of refugees at Camp Pendleton. Identification of sponsors appears to be moving.

e. JCS message 122238Z May 75 indicates that Eglin AFB will increase their capacity to 5000 refugees over the period 16 to 20 May 1975. To insure time for preparation and smooth input, evacuee input flow will be reduced to 600 per day commencing 16 May 1975.

f. At Guam, the early deployment of an USAF aerial sprayer equipped C-123 is being requested in order to suppress the Dengue fever mosquito. Ground mounted spraying operations are currently being conducted.

g. As part of a GAO review of budgetary, legal, policy and related matters concerning the evacuation of Vietnamese nationals from South Vietnam, GAO auditors Harry J. HEDRICK and Thomas F. DAVID will visit the Civil Coordinator at MCB, Camp Pendleton on 13 May 1975.

Additionally, CG, MCB Camp Pendleton has requested that two colonels 9906/9907 and two LtCols 9910 be assigned MCB, Camp Pendleton for duty with OPERATION NEW ARRIVALS for the duration of the operation.

d. At Camp Pendleton the U. S. Catholic conference has registered 1447 heads of families. This equates to about 6500 refugees. Of this group, 2300 have sponsors. The Lutherans have registered approximately 1000 individuals but have sponsors for only 300 Cambodians included in that total. Other agencies have been less active but have been registering refugees and obtaining sponsors. Based on these preliminary figures, it appears that the half way mark is being reached in terms of registration of refugees at Camp Pendleton. Identification of sponsors appears to be moving.

e. JCS message 122238Z May 75 indicates that Eglin AFB will increase their capacity to 5000 refugees over the period 16 to 20 May 1975. To insure time for preparation and smooth input, evacuee input flow will be reduced to 600 per day commencing 16 May 1975.

f. At Guam, the early deployment of an USAF aerial sprayer equipped C-123 is being requested in order to suppress the Dengue fever mosquito. Ground mounted spraying operations are currently being conducted.

g. As part of a GAO review of budgetary, legal, policy and related matters concerning the evacuation of Vietnamese nationals from South Vietnam, GAO auditors Harry J. HEDRICK and Thomas F. DAVID will visit the Civil Coordinator at MCB, Camp Pendleton on 13 May 1975.

OPERATIONS NEW ARRIVALS
LOGISTICS ACTION SUMMARY
8 - 9 May 1975

1. The purpose of this summary is to provide information to the Staff on the on-going actions concerning OPERATION NEW ARRIVALS.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACTIONS/EVENTS

a. Col WOODHAM, Chief of Staff, Camp Pendleton informed Col NELSON that the projected refugee population would exceed the 18,000 capacity by 082130 PDT. Based upon this and earlier projected population data, MGen VAUGHT contacted VAdm WESCHLER, Director J-4, OJCS. VAdm WESCHLER agreed to initiate action to cease refugee input to MCAS, El Toro and Camp Pendleton with the flight due to arrive at MCAS, El Toro at 2130 PDT 8 May. Action was initiated with JCS J-4 LCC, Camp Pendleton, El Toro, CINCPAC and CINCPACAF to stop the incoming flow.

b. Col NELSON, LPP-1, advised that MGen CASEY, J-4 JCS, had requested BGen GRAHAM, CG, MCB Camp Pendleton, to accept a DC-10 at El Toro (for Camp Pendleton) with 380 aboard at 2200 PDT. BGen GRAHAM accepted. After the arrival of the aforementioned DC-10 at 2200 the total aboard count at El Toro and Camp Pendleton was 18,840. Col WOODHAM, C/S, Camp Pendleton advised that the processing out "slow-down" was because of new INS instructions that require a NAC on each refugee and a financial status investigation of each sponsor. At Camp Pendleton there are now over 7,000 refugees who have been processed for everything except NAC, and over 1,000 that have been processed for everything except financial investigation of sponsors. Camp Pendleton is to advise PACAF and all concerned of when and how many can be received once processing has reduced the numbers on hand below capacity.

c. CG, FMFLANT continues to plan in support of COMNAVBASE Charleston as directed by CINCLANTFLT.
