[REDACTED]

b. General situation briefs with emphasis on the Danang TAOR were given weekly to the officers and enlisted men of the squadron by the S-2 sections of the squadron and MAG-11.

c. Briefings on SAR, SERE, and MIG activity were continued for selected aircrews. An additional DMZ brief was initiated, presented on a map of the DMZ TAOR and up-dated daily.

5. (C) Photo.

a. There were two hundred and seven (207) photo sorties flown, completing forty-one (41) tasks, with eighty-six (86) tasks pending including continuous coverage tasks.

b. Monsoonal weather greatly hampered the squadron in completing its assigned tasks. Seventy-one (71) sorties were cancelled due to weather. This is exclusive of airborne aborts because of weather.

c. Laboratory Data:

Number Negatives Printed	110,194
Feet 9" Paper Used	122,154
Feet 5" Paper Used	15,715
Feet 5" Positive Film Used	50,641

d. The Ashau Valley Road and enemy enroachment route continues to be the number one day priority mission. During the reporting period coverage of the Ashau Valley was obtained twenty-three (23) times, confirming enemy activity and the numerous gun positions. On 29 February a mission flown in Ashau Valley revealed six (6) new occupied LAA positions and confirmed a suspected enemy supply route by obtaining 100% coverage of a new road leading east from Ashau Valley to Hue.

e. Night Infra-red missions also continued to dominate the priority list. Twenty-three (23) sorties were flown during the reporting period, producing 5,258 nautical miles of coverage. Results of infra-red missions produced as many as one hundred, fifty-five (155) emissions. The detection ability of this sensor coupled with the capability of hot read out, enables the gathering within minutes of intelligence data on the enemy when he is most secure in his environment. VMCJ-1's infra-red capability is recognized as one of the best sources of enemy detection at night.

6. (S) Electronic Warfare.

a. During the month of February, operations continued in support of Navy strikes in North Vietnam route packages IV and VI-B. There were a number of cancellations by the Navy due to bad weather. Support for Marines in the DMZ and Air Force coordinated Rolling Thunder operations were continued, although strikes were fewer in number than previous months. Coverage of the DMZ was continued as in previous months. PECM missions were periodically scheduled during the day to scan for select enemy signals. The new EA-6A's with the AN/ALQ-86 gear proved to be an improvement over the AN/ALQ-53, and the AN/ALQ-76 pods have proved to be better than the U Packs. VMCJ-1 received delivery on three (3) modified EF-10B aircraft near the end of February, bringing the inventory up to eight (8) EF-10B's.

b. Through the month, the following emitters were jammed in support of Rolling Thunder Operations and on the DMZ:

Fansong	77
Firecan	120
Whiff	1

c. The following emitters were intercepted and reported on but not jammed:

Firecan	15
Flatface	7

7. (S) Air Operations.
