SECRETPART TWO: NARRATIVE SUMMARY

April saw a great change in MAG-13 as the Group became MAG-13 (Reinforced) on 15 April when it was chopped to the Ninth Marine Amphibious Brigade. The early part of April saw a very busy two weeks of activity as preparations were made to take on the new responsibilities. One squadron (VMFA-314) joined the Group and replaced another (VMFA-115) which rotated to RVN. One squadron deployed to NAF, Naha (VMFA-323) for training in ordnance delivery and one squadron detachment returned from Cubi Pt.

VMFA-314 returned to MAG-13 on 13 April 1966 from DaNang AB, RVN. In this period the Black Knights under Major Charles A. SEWELL flew 287 combat sorties in 361.4 hours and delivered 630,422 pounds of destruction to the Victor Charlie (Viet Cong).

Training operations were begun on 15 April and the 38 training sorties flown brought the total sorties to 326 and the flight hours to 420.0 for the month of April. Accidents on 25 and 27 April claimed two (2) aircraft, both on training flights.

VMFA-323 deployed to Naha AB, Okinawa on 1 April with nine (9) aircraft for training in bomb delivery and to requalify experienced and initially qualify new aircrews in Sidewinder and Sparrow III Missile firing. The Death Rattlers flew 301 sorties and 477.6 hours under LtCol A. W. O'DONNELL.

H&MS-13 continued a normal busy routine under LtCol K. G. FIEGENER. Two (2) TF-9J aircraft were deployed to Naha AB to support VMFA-323 by flying as bogies for the Phantom Flyers air-intercept work. The squadron has continued support of the Shudoin Orphanage, Hiroshima for ten (10) months to date. Much has been accomplished in building & repairing of the orphanage grounds.

MABS-13 has continued work on the MAG-13 section of the air field at DaNang. The tropical hut program has progressed steadily. Support of the units within MAG-13 has been a common task of MABS-13 with the detachments at Cubi Pt, Naha AB & the advanced echelon at DaNang.

VMA-214 spent the month training pilots joining from CONUS in day/night ordnance work, aerial refueling & instrument/familiarization hops in preparation for their entry into combat. The Black Sheep under the direction of their new skipper, LtCol D. L. DAVIS showed much progress in this area with the detachment at Cubi Pt. flying 222 sorties and a total of 245.3 hours. When the squadron departed for Chu Lai on 29 April they showed 362 sorties and 493.8 hours flown for the month. On 15 April, six officers and twenty enlisted departed Iwakuni on the advanced echelon to Chu Lai.

SECRETPART THREE: SIGNIFICANT EVENTS1. Sequential listing of significant events.

- a. Personnel/Administration. None.
- b. Awards. VMFA-314 crew-members received a total of 48 air medals for action in Viet Nam.
- c. Casualties. On 27 April 1966, 2ndLt R. L. ROBINSON sustained minor injuries when he ejected from a VMFA-314 F-4B.
- d. Civic Action. None.
- e. Morale/Welfare Programs. MAC-13 continued the Red Cross Drive with the addition of VMFA-314 to the fold. Good results have been obtained with early May as the cut-off date.

Both MABS-13 and H&MS-13 continued to support the Shudoin Orphanage in Hiroshima with H&MS-13 ending its tenth month of work for the orphanage. Philanthropic works have expedited building and repairing of grounds while "odd jobs" and child companionship have shown very self-rewarding results.

g. Intelligence/Counterintelligence.

(1) Ground Training in various units continued to stress familiarization with Vietnamese customs, traditions for all personnel. The Vietnamese Language School at Camp Sukiran, Okinawa should prove beneficial along these lines. The first class commenced on 2 May with four (4) persons attending from MAG-13, including an S-2 officer and S&C clerk.

(2) One officer attended the Jungle Survival School at Cubi Pt. which now offers training in escape & evasion.

h. Air Operations.

(1) VMFA-323. The squadron deployment to Naha AB, Okinawa reaped 301 sorties for 477.6 hours, including 122 air-to-ground, 81 air-to-air and 40 aerial-refueling training syllabus flights. All pilots fired one (1) Sidewinder and one (1) Sparrow III missile at F8 towed TDU 22 targets. Bombing patterns were practiced religiously in preparation for the squadron's rotation back to RVN. Good maintenance and planning resulted in completion of 262 syllabus sorties out of 297 scheduled for an 88% completion. For the 12 aircraft deployed, the average flight time per aircraft was 39.8 hours.

(2) VMFA-314. 325 sorties and 420.0 flight hours were flown during the reporting period with 287 sorties and 361.4 hours being flown under combat conditions. On 25 April 1966 an F-4B left the runway at Iwakuni while on final landing rollout. Then, on 27 April, another F4 crashed in Hiroshima Bay following unsuccessful airstart attempts. A deployment to Naha AB, Okinawa is planned for 12 May-15 June to provide training in weapons delivery techniques for aircrew members without combat experience and in advanced tactics.

(3) H&MS-13. Three (3) pilots qualified as first pilots in the TF-9J. Two (2) TF-9J aircraft deployed to Naha AB in support of VMFA-323.

(4) VMA-214. The detachment at Cubi Pt. flew 245.3 hours in day/night ordnance delivery techniques, aerial refueling and in familiarizing freshly acquired pilots with the A4. Total hours through the 29th was 493.8 with a sortie total of 362. On 11 April, three (3) A4's performed a fly-over for the MAG-13 change of command ceremony.

i. Training/NBCD.

(1) Special Weapons. The MAWTUPAC Detachment conducted refresher training for 9 Delivery Pilots and for 3 officers and 15 enlisted loading team members. (See Appendix 1).

(2) Ground Training. Training was conducted mostly on squadron level emphasizing small arms, code of conduct, counter insurgency/guerrilla operations, and physical fitness for all hands. Correspondence by H&MS-13 with Fort Bragg produced field manuals, lesson plans on the entire Special Forces Course. These should prove most beneficial. NBCD School conducted on a Group level produced 17 students. VMA-214 conducted a gas chamber exercise on 23 April for all hands. Maximum possible use was made of the rifle range to requalify 50 personnel. Seventeen (17) enlisted attended the NCO Leadership School at Okinawa.

SECRETj. Logistics.

- (1) Commencing on 4 April 1966 and terminating on 15 April 1966 the S-4 assisted in the rotation of VMFA-314 and VMFA-115.
- (2) LST 399 departed Iwakuni on 14 April 1966 with 825 measured tons of general cargo and vehicles, including 63 pre-fabricated tropical shelters and 15 MABS-13 enlisted men.
- (3) MAG-13's headquarters were relocated on 15 April 1966 with the logistic support and supervision of the S-4.
- (4) The advanced parties of VMA-214 and VMA-224 were exchanged on or about 18 April 1966 in preparation for the forth coming rotation of these squadrons in May of 1966.
- (5) The S-4 attended a supply and fiscal conference held by the Ninth MAB on 30 April 1966. The conference provided the answers to pending supply and fiscal questions resulting from the reinforcement of MAG-13.
- (6) The ComNavAirPac/CG FMFPac supply assistance team arrived at MCAS Iwakuni to inventory the Group Supply Officers stores and to up-date the stock record cards held by the aviation supply officer.
- (7) An auxiliary store was established at MCAF Futema for the support of the tenant HMM. Subsequently, however, this store is in the process of being dissolved and the Supply Department of VMGR-152 has been directed to provide direct supply support to all Okinawa based air units.
- (8) During the past two weeks all squadrons have been preparing to turn in material designated as Non-Mission. This material consists of Class II, Type I cold weather gear. MWSG-17 holds this material in a protective capacity; however, the accountability is still retained by Marine Corps Property, MAG-13.
- (9) MAG-13 currently holds a mount-out in the following areas:

- (a) Class II, Type I
- (b) Class II, Type II
- (c) Communications Repair Parts
- (d) Small Arms Repair Parts
- (e) Engineering Repair Parts
- (f) Blank Forms

This represents over 6 months effort to reconstitute a mount-out in these areas.
