SECRETNARRATIVE SUMMARY

GENERAL. HMM-162 was in place and fully operational at the beginning of the reporting period. Continued emphasis throughout the month of April was placed on camp improvement with all hands participating. Department tents, ready room, gally and messing facilities were hard backed; officer and SNCO tents were provided with wood decking; heads were relocated and improved; and personnel trenches were dug within the camp area. An RAR program was continued on a personnel percentage commensurate with operational commitments.

In anticipation of this squadron's relief by HMM-161, on 28 April, and because of limited living space, personnel were rotated to MCAF Futema as HMM-161 advanced personnel arrived. This rear echelon was gradually increase to 19 officers and 32 enlisted by 25 April. The governing criteria was that sufficient crews must be available, utilizing HMM-161 personnel, to man each assigned aircraft. On 25 April this squadron was notified that the scheduled relief by HMM-161 would not take place. On 26 April all HMM-161 personnel were returned to MCAF Futema. On 27 April HMM-162 squadron personnel were returned from MCAF Futema. A few remained at Futema on R&R.

On 13 April, as directed by 9th MEB, a detachment consisting of 10 aircraft, 24 officers and 33 enlisted was established at Hue Phu Bai. Once again this squadron was confronted with setting up a camp including working areas, living quarters and messing facilities. In addition to support of the 9th MEB and RVN operations, daily flights were scheduled to support the detachment.

LOGISTICS. Initially, there was no aviation fuel available at Hue Phu Bai to support the detachment. This necessitated refueling at Hue Citadel approximately 15 miles to the North. A tactical airfield dispensing system has since been set up at Hue Phu Bai and is now fully operational.

One mighty mite and one C-120 were airlifted to Hue Phu Bai. Both vehicles have been replaced at Danang. In addition, two M422 trucks which had been dead-lined for transmissions were put back in commission bringing our motor transport up to full strength. There were no significant material shortages.

ADMINISTRATION. On 1 April squadron strength was 235 distributed as follows:

Marine Corps-Officers 57, Naval Aviators-54
-Enlisted 175

Navy-Officers-1
-Enlisted-2

During the month personnel were dispersed between Danang, Hue Phu Bai and Orinda as indicated earlier. One enlisted man was transferred to CONUS on PCS emergency leave orders during April and three other enlisted men were transferred to MABS-16 (-). Total strength as of 30 April was 231. Health and morale of squadron personnel is still considered to be excellent considering the deployments and commitments this squadron has had since its arrival in West Pao in May 1964.

A/C MAINTENANCE. The month of April started with the squadron continuing to operate with 23 aircraft. On the 5th and 6th, we received 2 new A/C; and; on the 6th, we sent one to overhaul. On the 13th, we lost one due to engine failure. This was replaced on the 21st.

7 engines were lost this month for failure or high time causing our availability to drop from 23 to 21 A/C per day.

ENCLOSURE (2)

SECRET

Although emergency aircraft ready was 92 % for the month, a prime factor effecting aircraft availability was the lack of replacement engines and engine parts. On 30 April we were AOCIP for 30 items. This is the highest number at any one time since beginning our WESTPAC Deployment.

OPERATIONS. See enclosure (1).
