Part II

a. During the month of October, HMM-165 supported no operations against the insurgent Viet Cong forces. Flight operations were held to a minimum, due to the fact that the CH-46A aircraft in RVN was restricted to emergency missions only.

b. HMM-165, in their usual professional manner, kept an average of 6 aircraft up per day during the month, an outstanding record in view of the fact that the squadron possessed only 9 aircraft, the remainder being at/enroute modification or PAR. The squadron logged 109.3 hours for the month, and since arriving in RVN in September 1966, the squadron has logged a total of 14334.1 flight hours.

1-13 October 1967. No flight operations.

14 October 1967. A flight of 5 BUFFALO CITY aircraft, led by squadron Executive Officer Major J. J. THARP, departed KY HA on an emergency troop lift in support of a reinforced Recon Team, which had come under heavy enemy fire. The flight proceeded to the troop pick-up zones, where 3 BONNIE SUE aircraft joined BUFFALO CITY, and the troop shuttle was commenced. 5 DEADLOCK UH-1E gunships escorted the flight into and out of the drop zone.

A DREAMHOUR O1-E was on station throughout the lift, with 2 MISS MUFFET A-4's in case any enemy fire was encountered. Such was not the case for BUFFALO CITY, however, in spite of the fact that one BONNIE SUE aircraft had incurred extensive battle damage earlier in the day. Near the end of the lift, Major THARP demonstrated airmanship of a very high order, by making a hoist extraction of 2 KIA's, 3 WIA's and an attending corpsman. The lift complete, the flight proceeded to MARBLE MOUNTAIN to drop the casualties and refuel. Enroute to KY HA, the flight encountered bad weather, and the formation was forced to break up. Major THARP and 2 other aircraft returned to MARBLE MOUNTAIN, where they remained overnight, returning to KY HA the following morning.

The 2 remaining aircraft, led by Captain D. B. MCDYRE, proceeded toward KY HA as a section. Enemy fire was encountered from the ground, southeast of MARBLE MOUNTAIN, and although Captain MCDYRE's section was at 1000 feet, due to weather, the enemy snipers were skillfully evaded. The section then proceeded uneventfully to KY HA.

15-29 October 1967. No flight operations.

Part III

1. Personnel. During this reporting period, BUFFALO CITY joined 2 new officers and detached 1, for a total officer strength of 33. 7 enlisted joined and 55 were detached, for a total enlisted strength of 149.

2. Casualties. During this reporting period, Lance Corporal C. L. HUGHEANKS was wounded on 12 October while flying with HTM-263.

3. Awards. During this reporting period, BUFFALO CITY pilots were awarded 2 Air Medals. Sergeant M. PRUITT was awarded the Good Conduct Medal.

4. Civic Action. Lieutenant R. F. ROMFH USN(MC), the Squadron Flight Surgeon, continued to devote his spare time to the MEDCAP team on their program in the village of SAM HAI.
