B. Administration. February was a routine month with primary efforts directed to inspection and upkeep of service records and preparations for the forthcoming A&M Inspection in March. Lt G. O. JENSON engaged in an active campaign to promote the Overseas Savings Plan and Savings Bond Program, and the squadrons participation in respect to MAG-13 showed significant increase.

C. Awards. Members of VMFA-323 received a total of 27 decorations in February. Lt HANSEN received the Purple Heart Medal for wounds sustained in combat while 23 Air Medals were awarded to various flight crews. In addition, three enlisted members received the Good Conduct Medal.

D. Flight Operations. Flight operations were restricted somewhat by the Vietnamese New Year (TET) Truce and reoccurrences of the monsoon weather. (Squadron pilots flew a total of 76 actual instrument approaches in February). Nonetheless, a total of 562.4 hours (548.8 combat) and 451 sorties (440 combat) were flown in support of III MAF and 7th Air Force. Squadron pilots averaged 20.8 combat sorties; squadron NCO's averaged 20.2 combat sorties, while nine Group and associated pilots flew 47 combat sorties for an average of 5.2. The high day was 3 February, with 28 combat sorties and 31.9 hours.

1. Significant Missions

a. On 13 February a flight led by Capt WILLIAMS (RIO-Capt MCKINLEY, WM-Lt QUILTER/Lt JENSON) in support of an amphibious landing in Operation Deckhouse VI resulted in 10 structures destroyed, 5 damaged, 5 bunkers destroyed and 50 meters of VC trenchline destroyed.

b. On 14 February Maj ANDREAS (RIO-Lt CLOHESSY, WM-Capt RIDER/Lt MIGLARESE) led a flight through very foul weather in hilly terrain to cover the emergency retraction of a Marine Reconnaissance Team being attacked. The retraction was successful and the flight was credited with 6 KBA(Conf) and 10 KBA(Prob).

c. Major WUERTZ (RIO-Lt ALLEN, WM-Capt LUHMAN/Lt BRANDON) commanded a mission giving very close air support in connection with Operation Desoto. While Marines waited to sweep into two adjoining VC infested villages, the two Phantoms bombed one village then the second as Marines moved into the first. The runs were further complicated by friendly artillery firing in the area. The resultant BDA was 14 structures destroyed, 10 damaged and as yet an undetermined number of KBA.

d. On 4 February VC logistic transport was dealt a blow by LtCol KELLER (RIO-Lt ALLEN, WM-Lt GRIFFANTI/Lt RAMSDELL) when his flight accounted for 1 elephant KBA and 3 probable.
