PART II
NARRATIVE SUMMARY

During the reporting period 3 September thru 30 September 1968, HMM-362 operating from Marble Mountain Air Facility, was under the operational control of Marine Aircraft Group 16. The primary missions assigned HMM-362 during this period were day and night medevac, VIP chase and Administrative tasks. Operations supported this period Dragon Palace and Victory Dragon. Both operations were under control of the Republic of Korea Marine Corps.

During this period it has been recognized by the pilots of the squadron that units in the field are not properly equipped to handle aircraft that will be entering their landing zones. Frequently the units in the field have no signaling devices whatsoever. It is highly recommended that commanders in the field be equipped with proper signaling devices. Our recommendation for signaling devices is a signal mirror or smoke for daylight operations and a minimum of three strobe lights or flashlights for night time operation. It has frequently been the case where units in the field were not equipped with proper lighting at night. This causes undue delay in recognizing the zone. During daylight operations it has been found that controllers on the ground have been describing the color of their smoke before the pilot or his crew have noticed it. It is recommended that pilots "Tally-Ho" the smoke and its color and the controller in the zone acknowledge the pilots statement.
