To Whom It May Concern:

Unlike the opinion of some government officials, I do not feel that "The Wall" is complete. Our fathers, husbands, sons and loved ones that have died since their return from Vietnam, due to their service there for this country, suffered just as much pain and deserve just as much tribute as their comrades whose names are listed for all to see.

Before my husband's death in 1981, I promised him that I would try to continue his fight for recognition of the health problems of the Vietnam Veterans. That is why it is so very important to myself and my family to help in building our "IN MEMORY" monument to honor all those fallen heroes. Then the Vietnam Memorial section of the National Park in Washington, D.C. will truly be complete.

Sincerely,
