

An integral part of the duties of the USMILGP to Colombia's Army Section Advisors is that of making periodic visits to Colombian Army units throughout the country. These visits are made on the average on every two weeks, the other week being spent in Bogota on operational, administrative, and training duties as well as visiting Army units and schools within the city.

One such normal advisory visit was made recently to four posts by the USARSEC Mechanized Cavalry Advisor, LTC ~~Andrew~~ <sup>ANDREW L</sup> J. Wetherington, and the Infantry Advisor, MAJ LTC Wetherington is also the OIC of Military Assistance Program Training. Felix Vega. ~~The four-day trip took the two officers to the cities of Popayan, Cali, Pasto, and Ipiales. Part of their training duties includes~~ <sup>US Army School for Americas</sup> to 150 ~~student~~ Colombian Army EM and Officer-students to the Canal Zone and the States (Ref DCS 300-4/67, 1st shipment). The four-day tour took the two Advisors to the cities of Popayan, Cali, Pasto, and Ipiales. Travel utilizes ~~ARSEC~~ <sup>ARSEC, AFSEC, and</sup> Navy Section aircraft, as well as Colombian aircraft and Colombian commercial airlines.

Arriving in Popayan, the two Officers were greeted by the Commanding Officer of the Junin Battalion, LTC Florentino Diaz Villate, and the Bn S-1, Captain Guillermo A. Quinones Delgado.

The purpose of these visits ~~is~~ <sup>is</sup> to discuss with ~~battalion~~ <sup>unit</sup> commanders their operational and maintenance problems covering MAP-supplied equipment and spare parts as well as Colombian equipment. <sup>2nd</sup> The party went directly from the airport to a briefing conducted by LTC Diaz and attended by ~~his~~ <sup>his</sup> company commanders <sup>and staff.</sup>

The next stop ~~for the~~ was Cali, headquarters of the 3rd ~~Bde~~ <sup>Bde</sup> and the Pichincha

Pichincha

Bn. Here, the two Officers made a ~~protocol~~ visit to the brigade Commander, COL Bernardo Sanchez Salazar and his Executive Officer, COL Jaime Sarmiento Sarmiento.

Though the visit was ~~of a protocol nature~~ <sup>short</sup>, problems in general involving the ~~infantry~~ <sup>inf and mech</sup> brigade were discussed. This discussion/such areas as the pending reorganization of the Grupo Cabal (Ipiiales) to ~~make~~ <sup>covered</sup> better utilize forthcoming MAP equipment (certain equipment had been cancelled), as well as the Commanders hope of seeing the early arrival of support vehicles for the Group to make it more self-sustaining ~~while on~~ <sup>during</sup> field operations.

The ~~Cali headquarters~~ 3rd Inf Bde ~~has~~ is headquarters for three infantry battalions in Popayan, Pasto and Cali; one artillery bn in Buga; one cavalry group in Ipiiales; and one engineer bn in Palmira. Geographically, it covers roughly from the 4 degree latitude north, 76 degree longitude west, to the Pacific coast.

From Cali, the two Advisors ~~journeyed~~ <sup>by air</sup> flew to Pasto, home of the Boyaca Battalion, where they met, ~~with~~ and toured the nearly empty post with Rear Company Commander, Captain Ernesto Arteaga L. ~~Currently, the post is home of the battalion minus~~ <sup>the</sup> ~~training and administrative detachment and a training company~~ <sup>1</sup> is on Orden Publico assignment in southern Colombia. Here, the visitors watched some of the 126 new recruits in part of their training and they inspected the motor pool as part of their duty to check on MAP equipment maintenance.

From ~~Cali~~ <sup>Pasto</sup>, A Colombian staff car took the Officers south to the 3rd Mechanized Cavalry Group in Ipiiales/to which LTC Wetherington is advisor. ~~The Bn Group~~ <sup>Grupo Cabal</sup> Commanding Officer (LTC Hugo Alfonso Gamboa Ramirez) conducted a briefing for the visitors. Discussion here ranged over problems in operations, training, MAP equipment maintenance as well as the current disposition of the unit and support problems, ~~The commanding Officer was told the USARSEC would give as much emphasis as possible to the earliest delivery of support vehicles. As MAP equipment~~ <sup>and other needs.</sup> ~~arrives in Colombia, ARSEC Chief and his advisors, in co-ordination with the Colombian Army Commander and staff, make recommendations as to distribution of such materiel.~~ <sup>Pending MAP</sup>

These ~~discri~~ recommendations are based on the Public Order situation in the country at the time.

The briefing was also attended by USARSEC Ordnance Supply Advisor, SFC Fermin in Apodaca who was/Ipiales ahead of the Officers to gather lists of needed MAP supplies and parts. This is accomplished in meetings with motor sergeants and ordnance supply sergeants. SFC Apodaca ~~is also responsible~~ <sup>also coordinates</sup> for signal supply when <sup>actions</sup> the Advisor ~~(0881)~~ <sup>Signal</sup> is not available. <sup>is not on the trip</sup>

Following the briefing, the three US Army advisors <sup>cel Gamboa, the Sp Condor invited</sup> were invited to attend what is called a 'Carousel'. This is a sort of jeep rodeo <sup>or</sup> ~~and/or~~ demonstration of ~~driving skill~~ <sup>used</sup>. This was followed by a demonstration of field expediency <sup>in</sup> ~~in~~ vehicle recovery.

From there, LTC Gamboa and LTC Wetherington went on to review and watch some other demonstrations. The first ~~one~~ <sup>review</sup> was a ~~vehicle inspection~~ <sup>review</sup>, again part of the MAP equipment maintenance inspection

As SFC Apodaca returned to the motor pool, the Three Officers reviewed a lineup <sup>of the groups</sup> of ~~combat dressed troops and their~~ vehicles set up on the battalion <sup>Sp</sup> parade grounds. This, again, was part of the inspection of MAP equipment maintenance.

Later that day, LTC Gamboa <sup>and</sup> conducted an additional tour ~~for LTC Wetherington~~. ~~the two officers first~~ visited a firing range on the post where they watched a demonstration of the unit's capability to apply rapid fire in case of ambushes or during route control patrols. The jeeps and machine guns are MAP supplied.

The next, and last stop of the four-day trip, and the Ipiates visit, was a drivers training class, including concurrent training <sup>on the Carburetor</sup> ~~in basic jeep mechanics~~. This class was conducted by a civilian mechanic. One of the aims of USARSEC in Colombia is to eliminate the requirement for hired civilians through the use of MAP courses in the Canal Zone and the states and by advisor efforts to integrate such courses into the Colombian Army school system. This goal is <sup>on its way</sup> ~~near~~ completion.

When it becomes necessary for USMILGP, USARSEC Advisors to meet with commanders of Colombian Units in different locations throughout the country, the Army's sections airplane is put to good use because of its flexible schedule.

On April 12th, three USARSEC Officers made a one-day trip to hold the first of a series of meetings designed to initiate cross-training, with US Advisor involvement, between two Colombian Army schools. The Officers making the short trip were the US Army Section Chief, COL William H. Niland; USARSEC Airborne Infantry and Ranger Advisor, MAJ Frank T. Rievera; and USARSEC Personnel Advisor, CPT Charles H. Cagle.

USARSEC Aviator MAJ Anthony R. Miklinski first flew the group to the town of Melgar, some 50 miles south-west of Bogota where they picked up ~~Colombian~~ LTC Carlos E. Leano, Commander of the Colombian Army Ranger School which is located in the Tolimaida Military Post. From there, the party flew directly east to the small community of Apiay, in the Department of Meta. Apiay is about 50 miles south-east of Bogota and is the home base of the Colombian Airborne Battalion. The Airborne Bn. is adjacent to the Gomez Nino AFB.

In the ~~Battalion's~~ headquarters building, the visiting party met with the Battalion Commander, LTC Gustavo Moure R. to discuss the purpose of the visit: that of getting the two Colombian Battalion commanders together to co-ordinate training and operations programs and to initiate cross-training between the two units. (The ABn Bn is in the Colombian Army 7th Brigade area, the Ranger School is in the 6th Brigade area.) The Airborne Battalion is ~~azfully supported~~ fully Military Assistance Program (MAP) supported while the Ranger school is supported (by MAP) only to the point of Advisor Assistance, Training Aids, and a few pieces of materiel.
