

Dear
Just a short note before I collapse into bed. We came in last on inspection so it's been hell around here trying to get everything done so we can improve tomorrow. Also, got little sleep last night because I had outdoor fire guard from 3-5. Boy, I'm brushed. At least the weather stays nice. In the 50's today + promised again tomorrow. Maybe if I get a little sleep tonite, it will be better tomorrow. Food is better.
At least they didn't run out all day today,
so maybe that will go better. All kinds of rumors on assignments. And they are just that - rumors. Latest is that Jan. is Viet Nam month
but Feb. is Sr.
Well, well see, but

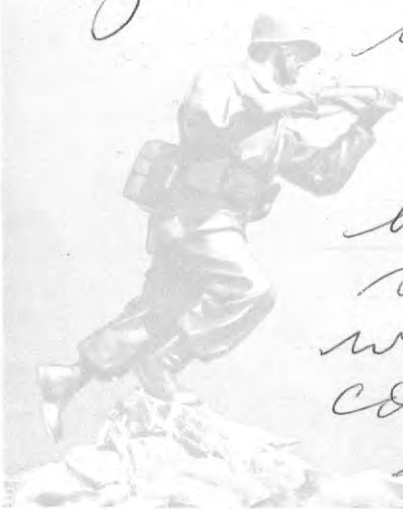

like to dream, anyway,
Some lately have even gotten domestic assignments. One group a while back all went to Ft.
Carson.

Hope the paper is flying.
Wish I could be there to keep you from getting frustrated. You always seem to hit a pt. where you almost give up before it begins to flow forth & get done. Anyway, just cry it out as if I were there & then remember to just get it done & hope for the best & probably it will come off. All's not lost anyway - you could really care about it - but it's just isn't that important.
Haven't had time to miss you today, hazy so in a way. Have been rather bored, tho. Well, this stuff just isn't that thick + so it just flows by. Anyway, time seems to be picking up speed. May have a pass in 2 weekends from this coming one + at least I can get away - with you or not. And post privileges should start right away - so may get to see a show + grab a drink

as a change of pace.

I love you + need you and there may be hope of a pre-shipment leave it seems to be an unknown now (at least that's better than a down right no). So hope we will. As I
collapse I can just say I love you

and am thinking + pulling for you extra hard this week. We'll make it, we have to.

Love,
Lynn
