As friendly positions were marked with colored smoke, identical colored smoke appeared in the enemy positions. #2 Effective counter measures must be employed to thwart this type of deception for example color of smoke used should be identified fr the air and confirmed by the marking unit, also pannels should be used in lieu of smoke when feasible. #3 The enemy's capabilities of monitoring friendly radio traffic also enables him to employ other deception techniques, ie requesting fire on friendly positions. Stringent authentication must be used to counter these techniques.	BTOC-Andres	SJ
