ABOUT-FACE: Last week we spent a great deal of time and space talking about the apparent rut the floor show scene at the Battalion Enlisted Men's Club had fallen into.

The rut disappeared in a hurry last Wednesday night when a group calling itself "The Debutantes" presented what was by far the best show since the club opened in February.

Apparently "The Debutantes", a four-girl group from Green Bay, Wis., have developed quite a reputation for themselves in Vietnam where they've presented 261 shows in four months.

The largest crowd ever to appear for a floor show was on hand at the club and it wasn't to be disappointed.

Despite obviously being tired after playing four shows in one day, the group electrified the gathering with a combination of beauty, musical talent and off-beat humor.

Adding to the popularity of "The Debutantes" was their manager, a cigarette-smoking gentleman who looks like he joined the group after being cut from the Green Bay Packers' defensive line.

His impromptu comments and slick microphone work added a certain polish to an already professional performance.

Probably the highlight of the evening came when the group invited Battalion Personnel Clerk SP4 Tim Langness on stage to hold the lead singer on his lap during a number.

"I don't remember too much about it", Langness said later. "But I know one thing. She can sit on my lap anytime she wants."

If you missed "The Debutantes" they're under contract with Roprise Records and have an album on the market. If you don't feel like shelling out four dollars, they'll be appearing on "The Tonight Show" in early November.

Regardless, all four girls are still in their late teens and chances are we'll be hearing from them in the future.

VOLLEYBALLERS SCORE TWO WINS

The 1st Bn., 82d Artillery's entry in the newly-formed Chu Lai Inter-service Volleyball League wasted little time moving to the top of the loop's standings.

The Artillerymen racked up a pair of two-match victories over MAG-13 "B" and the 16th Aviation Bn. before entering last evening's road contest with Americal Division Artillery. Results of that match will be reported in next Monday's edition of the Pan-Tell.

The 1/82d had little trouble in either of the first two matches. After breezing past MAG 13, 15-3 and 15-5, the Artillerymen lashed out against the Aviators, 15-5 and 15-8.

In that second contest, the winners did without the services of two regulars, LTC Alan McCuiston and CPT Michael Yap, both of whom were on leave.

The 1/82d returns home Wednesday for a match with MAG-13 "A". Next Sunday they take to the road to face the NSAD Officers. Both tilts begin at 6 p.m.

CAMERABUG?

If you have a camera and are willing to give up a little of your spare time to develop an interest in photography, you may be the man we're looking for.

The Battalion Information Office is in need of a photographer to cover such events as promotions, dedications and awards ceremonies.

If you supply the camera and the initiative, the battalion will chip in with the film and printing materials.

If you'd like more details, call either CPT John Newton or SPl Dick Shearer at the Battalion S-1 Office.

PROTECT YOUR FILM FROM VIETNAM HEAT

Almost everyone who comes to Vietnam plans to take some pictures before they go home.

But Vietnamese weather, complete with all its heat and humidity, poses some critical problems for the photographer who wants to keep his film in top shape.

Film, especially color film, can easily be ruined by prolonged exposure to intense heat which of course means the longer you keep film in Vietnam, the less likely the chances of it maintaining its full-color characteristics.

If you must keep film for more than a few weeks in Vietnam, store it in the small metal container it was purchased in and pack the container with a drying agent (silicon gel).

It is also advisable to shoot 20 rather than 36-frame rolls of 35mm film because it will shorten the length of time the film will remain in the camera.

Remember that when sending 35mm film out for processing the cap of the aluminum can should only be tightened far enough to prevent it from falling off.

A final point to remember, if you have film in your camera, keep it out of direct sunlight as much as possible. The longer the film stays inside the camera body, the greater the chance of damage to its color properties.
