LTC SKAER "NEW PAPA BEAR" BRAVO
FINDS CACHE!

The new Battalion Commander, Lieutenant Colonel Kenneth L. Skaer (Spokane, Wash.), recently received the proud colors of the 4th Battalion, 31st Infantry from Lieutenant Colonel Cecil M. Henry (Rome, Ga.). LTC Henry has taken a position as senior advisor with the 5th ARVN Regiment of the 2nd ARVN Division.

LTC Skaer on taking command commented, "This is a fine battalion with an excellent record of achievement, and I am proud to become its commander. I will endeavor to carry on the great Polar Bear tradition as the leader of this outstanding fighting unit. I ask only for the support of everyone in the battalion."

LTC Skaer entered the Army in 1952 as an enlisted man and graduated from Officers' Candidate School in 1953.

He served with the 45th Infantry Division and the 3rd Infantry Division in Korea for 18 months. After being stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington, he began a three year tour of duty in Europe in 1958 with the 3rd Battalion (Mechanized), 51st Infantry ARB.

LTC Skaer graduated from the Career Officers' Advanced Course at Fort Benning, Georgia, in 1961. After an assignment at Fort Lewis, Washington, he attended the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Before his next assignment in Thailand for a year, he graduated from Language School. Upon his return from Thailand, he became an instructor at the Command and General Staff College.

LTC Skaer was Deputy Commander of the Chu Lai Defense Command until he assumed command of the 4th Battalion, 31st Infantry on December 27, 1969.

LOWER LEVEL CHANGE OF

COMMAND

In a brief ceremony held on LZ Siberia, Lieutenant Colonel Kenneth L. Skaer (Spokane, Wash.) gave Lieutenant Armand M. Darrin (Selden, N.Y.) command of Charlie Company. The company's former commander, Captain John R. Thomas (Fort Washington, Pa.) is now the battalion S-1 in Chu Lai.

While on a routine sweep of an area two miles northwest of LZ West, Bravo Company of the 4th Bn, 31st Inf came across a tunnel entrance hidden in heavy foliage.

As the Infantrymen searched the tunnel complex, they uncovered a variety of equipment including an M-60 machine-gun with 400 rounds of ammunition, an AK47 rifle, and an M16 rifle. Another area of the complex contained thirty-nine 82 MM mortar rounds and fourteen 60 MM rounds with three large sealed boxes of mortar fuses and a 250 lb bomb.

Captain William Mercado (New York City), the battalion S-2, commented, "This find is in a heavily infiltrated section which we have been trying to clear. We have had several Chieu Hoi's from this area recently and the denial of this cache to the enemy will further establish our security there."

DELTA TAKES SEVEN RE-UP?

"Everybody's very happy about it," said CPT Thomas J. Lynch (Boston). "This is the kind of thing that makes our operations so infinitely worthwhile."

CPT Lynch relayed the mood of Delta Company following a cordon and search that snared five suspected VC guerillas and received two Hoi Chanh ralliers - one of them a girl of twenty who told the Americans of her long separation from her family.

Delta captured the suspected VC squad after the men ducked into a hootch as the point platoon passed. The company was operating inside hilly An Son Village, five miles northwest of LZ West. The Polar Bear unit searched the five and found a Chicom grenade and packs containing medical supplies, fishnet, hammocks, and NVA propaganda leaflets.

"While we were securing the detainees a man and a woman stepped out of a hut," said CPT Lynch. "They said they wanted to "Chieu Hoi." The man handed me an AK-47 rifle and shook my hand."

The detainees and the two Hoi Chans were helilifted to LZ West. There, the young woman gave an interesting account of her decision to defect. Her two older brothers had left the VC earlier this year and are now attending the Americal Division's Kit Carson Scout School in Chu Lai. Hearing of their good fortune, she made her choice.

"She wanted to be with her brothers," said Captain William Mercado of New York City, S-2 (Intelligence) Officer, who spoke with both Hoi Chans. "Apparently, they are the only family she has left."

The man who came with her is a 25 year-old VC.

"He's been trying to come over since last year," said CPT Mercado. "He wrote a letter to the district chief at Hiep Duc, offering to come in, but got no reply."

Hesitant when he received no answer, he stayed with his unit for another year, afraid American soldiers would shoot if he approached them.

The retention of qualified, competent enlisted personnel is vital to the success of the Army's mission. The development and maintenance of a well-trained, professional Army is the responsibility of each commander. The success of the Army Reenlistment Program depends upon effective leadership and an aggressive reenlistment program at all organizational levels. The degree of success achieved in this program can be directly related to the quality of leadership exhibited by officers and noncommissioned officers.

JUST ASK YOUR RED BLOOD CELLS.

A TRUE LOVE STORY

I was reading a history book in the 7th Grade when I first noticed her, and I suddenly felt a bit of childish passion. By the time I graduated from high school I had fallen in love.

She may be a little on the large size, but who cares? To me, she's the most beautiful thing on earth. I love her for many reasons and one of them is her compassion for others. She's always thinking of someone else. Always giving of herself. When I stop to think of the numerous people she has helped when they needed her I can't find the words to express myself.

No, she's not perfect by any means—but then, who is? All I care is that she tries hard to be just what I want her to be. How many others can say that? Not many. I know. I've been around.

She's gentle and kind, and gives with her heart. And, when I see anyone trying to take advantage of her, it makes my blood boil. I guess I'm just jealous. Haven't I the right to be? I'd never stand by and see anyone try to take her away from me. She's too precious; besides, she depends on me too much. I'll go on loving and protecting her to the day I die.

Of course, there are times when I tell her of things that are wrong. But, after I've told her, she always does her best to change them for me. I'm proud of her for that. I've only to let her know how I feel and be a little patient. No one can change things in a day, can they?

It's when I've been away for awhile that I miss her and realize how much I long to get back. What's that saying, "Absence makes the heart grow fonder"? As I near home, she's waiting there with outstretched arms to offer me all of the wonderful things I have never been able to find in this cockeyed world. I know; I've been around.

Everywhere I've traveled I've made the comparison and could not find one who could compare. I never have; I never will. I'm convinced, after all these years.

When I go to sleep each night I rest peacefully knowing that she is there, belonging to me. And, in my heart, I'll always keep her precious name - America. There's not another beauty like her in all of God's world. I know. I've been around. (AFS)

FORCES CONDUCT JOINT SINEEP

Vietnamese Popular Force Units in Que Son District are progressing steadily toward increased responsibility in the pacification of the valley area northeast of LZ West.

With the insertion of a liaison team from the 4th Bn, 31st Inf. into the district, the opportunity for joint operations with U.S. Infantrymen and PF's became possible. The Battalion's Recon Platoon and a platoon of PF's from Son Hoa Village recently worked together in smoothly conducted operations that demonstrate the effectiveness and compatibility of joint allied operations.

In a sweep of rugged Hill 441 north of LZ West, the forces combined to search for enemy fortifications, eliminate enemy supply sources and remove possible centers of enemy operations. The two forces set up ambushes together, conducted patrols and pulled guard jointly.

Second Lieutenant William K. Rapp (Glen Ellyn, Ill.), Recon Platoon Leader, remarked, "The PF's are very good to work with and they like working with us. They are dedicated fighters who don't turn and run from a fire-fight."

On one of their operations the combined forces took along a Hoi Chanh from the village who lead them to several enemy hiding places. He also identified VC occupants in several of the hooch areas the element swept through.

By working with them the Infantrymen learned to respect these people. They found that they do some things differently from the Americans, but they learned much about the Vietnamese themselves.

"They are an aggressive, well-trained and disciplined group, and we are happy to be working with them," 2LT Rapp added.
