Red Raven Blue

Cold fire and the melting ice
We drift through our many lives
Free hearts on this endless road, carry your memories
And never let go
Hear me callin out to you
Through midnight
And the morning dew

My red raven blue, I'm so lost without you
My red raven blue, there's no world without, my red raven blue

Rainfall through the morning sun, come to shine on another days begun
Cold winds have begun to blow, over changes I've come to know
They carry me through, over and over, let me come back to you

My red raven blue, I'm so lost without you
My red raven blue, there's no world without, my red raven blue

Fly away on your restless wings
May time lead you straight back to me

Drifting the hands of fate, time is a driftin babe
May it carry you back again

My red raven blue, I'm so lost without you
My red raven blue, there's no world without,
My red raven blue
Waiting for you, my red raven blue
My red raven, red raven, red raven blue

Rememberin

Old heart, hear me callin, through the years, long ago
Let a smilin face of an old friend come to let me know
That all is not forgotten, all we gave and all we let go
Will live forever beyond heaven
It's the only world we've known

Oh rememberin all we had done
Oh rememberin all we've been through
Oh rememberin the last fading son
Who looked up to you

Old friends we are reunited through God's good fortune
It's shone in our eyes
True blood brothers sharing a memory
Of the ones we left behind

Oh rememberin all we had done
Oh rememberin all we've been through
Oh rememberin the last fading son
Who looked up to you

And if tomorrow father time takes me please remember how I feel
For all my pride was standing by your side
And with this I'll say farewell

We will remember all you have done
We will remember all you've been through
We will remember your forgotten sons
Who looked up to you

Always rememberin
Always rememberin
Always rememberin

Matter of Time

So cold in the face of your fire, so cold was your heart
Like ice in the desert babe, like some passionate frost
The minstrel who sang for you, now so lost in the stars

Then the rain came a thundering down on my love
My desolate soul believing in trust
Till the wind changed direction, a change of the heart

It's a matter of time till we all fade away
It's a matter of time till we go our own way
It's a matter of time

The wind at my back again and the sun in my eyes
Over sands of a million miles I have traveled to find
One touch from the silent night let me still feel the sound

When the sun falls against the midnight sun
I think of my love, yesterday in her eyes
She gives me no answer, no reply

It's a matter of time till we all fade away
It's a matter of time till we go our own way
It's a matter of time

I gave to you and you gave to me but our rivers have all run dry
And I hear the sound of the rain fallin down
On your last goodbye

It's a matter of time till we all fade away
It's a matter of time till we go our own way
It's a matter of time

Gone But Not Forgotten

Young man runs under fire

Down the blood red road walkin the wire
Cat with nine lives might go insane
To be that soldier in the bullet rain
Nobody hears him when he cries; out in the field he's left to die
Unknown hero on the line

Oh he's gone, but not forgotten, oh he's gone, but not forgotten

Photograph of daddy's boy, lay beside a loaded 45
Anger screams in his head, his boy was young now his boy is dead
Bitter are a father's helpless tears; his boy is gone before his years

Oh he's gone, but not forgotten, oh he's gone, but not forgotten

It's like a ghost town, with a million empty faces
Momma don't you cry, he's like a full moon in sun that never dies

Names etched in stone on the wall of lost souls
I hear voices in the night, ghost and a tear frozen in time

Oh he's gone, but not forgotten,
oh he's gone, but not forgotten

Run Wild, Run Free

Run to me on your field of forever, run to me in your field of dreams
You were so scared and alone on Solitude Street
That's where I found you together we'd be
Two lonely soldiers in one empty night

We'd race down our dreams till they all came true
Now I need to hold you and tell you I love you
But things are all different now
I've got to learn somehow to let go

Brother run wild, brother run free
Brother run wild, just run back to me
You gave me no goodbye; you just closed your eyes, and drifted away

Run to me for it's you I still remember, run to me on the wings of a prayer
And together we'll ride to the end of our rainbow
Through battles and glory we both came to know
I've got to learn somehow to let go

Brother run wild, brother run free
Brother run wild, just run back to me
You gave me no goodbye; you just closed your eyes, and drifted away

Now I dance in the darkness and try to pretend
I can still hear the sound of my old best friend
Till time put him down so cruel that day
Oh my kindred spirit, I feel you slippin away, I feel you slippin away
You gave me no goodbye; you just closed your eyes, and drifted away
