Dear Library Subscriber,

Several libraries have notified us that they have not received their copy of the ACLU Policy Guide and various materials to which they are entitled as members of the ACLU Library Subscription Service. In checking our records we find that these materials had been sent as part of a large shipment, which may have gone astray. According to our records your materials were posted on the same date, and may have been included in the shipment. We hope that the materials reached you, but if yours were among those lost in the post we ask that you notify us promptly so that a duplicate copy can be sent. We thank you for your interest in the cause of civil liberties and regret the inconvenience.

Sincerely yours,

Betty Goff
