Dear Friend,

What sacrifice would you be willing to make to save the life of one of your children who was threatened with an agonizing death? Many parents and grandparents would sincerely and without hesitation reply that they would willingly sacrifice everything they possessed including their own lives. This is no idle boast as parents demonstrate when a child contracts a deadly disease. We are inspired but not surprised when a mother demands that she be permitted to give both her kidneys to twin sons who need them.

This question faces millions in the United States today as another disease threatens. The evidence accumulates that the communists are conquering the world, and their conquest of this country would result in agonizing death for millions of America's sons and daughters.

How difficult it is to believe this! However massive the evidence of relentless communist advance, we cling to the conviction that something will stop them before they reach their goal of establishing their dictatorship in the United States. We persist in believing that if the impossible should happen and they did conquer this country, the dictatorship they would install would be benign and that the tragedies experienced by other nations and peoples following communist conquest would not take place here. We might face economic hardship but surely not physical extermination.

It would be wise to confront two possibilities which must be considered probabilities:

1. Communist conquest of the United States is entirely possible. The amazing growth of world communist power affirms this. The number of communists in the world has increased from 25 in 1903 to more than 60 million today while the number they have conquered has grown from zero in 1917 to more than 1-1/4 billion. They are conducting successful offensive operations in every corner of the world. As world communist power grows, the internal demoralization within the United States increases and the will to resist weakens. A willingness to surrender to communism is already apparent within some segments of the United States Congress.
2. Class liquidation would follow communist conquest. How can we expect the communists to behave as non-communists if they do conquer the United States? For many years they have been waging a fierce struggle which has demanded tremendous sacrifices. They have willingly sacrificed blood and treasure so that they could attain the position that would enable them to scientifically "regenerate" mankind. Conquest would present them with a glorious opportunity to carry out their program without restraint. They sincerely believe that human regeneration can be achieved by destroying the "diseased" capitalist class and by creating the environment which will generate a new character and personality in the coming generation. "Liquidation" of the capitalist class is an essential step on the communist path to the "regeneration" of mankind.

Even those who are familiar with communist doctrine find it difficult to believe that such a liquidation will actually be carried out. This same skepticism has prevailed in other countries under communist control until dissipated by harsh reality. Solzhenitsyn states in the second volume of "The Gulag Archipelago" that the Russian people could not believe that the communists intended to carry out mass killings. He states:

"No matter how clear-cut the declarations of the class teaching, openly displayed and proclaimed everywhere, that the sole fate the enemy deserves is annihilation--still, it was impossible to picture to oneself the annihilation of each concrete two-legged individual possessing hair, eyes, a mouth, a neck and shoulders. One could actually believe that classes were being destroyed, but the people who constituted these classes should be left, shouldn't they? The eyes of Russians who had been brought up in other generous and vague concepts, like eyes seeing through badly prescribed eyeglasses, could in no wise read with exactitude the phrases of the cruel teaching. Not long before, apparently, there had been months and years of openly proclaimed terror--yet it was still impossible to believe." (Page 46)

Certain American communists make no secret of the fact that communist power here will be associated with killing. Ted Zierins is a personal friend whom I have known for many years. He is a sincere anticommunist of transparent honesty and lives in Chicago. He was born in Latvia and fled the communist terror there 31 years ago and has resided in the United States for 24 years. He is an anticommunist activist. Having taught himself to read and write English after his arrival here, he constantly writes letters to the editors of American newspapers to draw attention to the communist tragedy. He drapes himself in chains and pickets communist gatherings. In a letter to the Southwest News Herald of Chicago, October 30, 1975, he reports this experience:

"Last summer on the anniversary of my arrival in America, the Communist Party U.S.A. had its convention at the Ambassador Hotel in Chicago. I was standing there alone with a sign in front of the hotel, asking America to wake up and see that the real Communist contributions to humanity are chains, slavery and death. A woman delegate told me: 'With my own hands I will wrap the chains around your neck and hang you on the lamp post when we come to power . . . and that will be soon.' "

Antisubversive Seminars

We are honored that the Soviet Communists are paying attention to our antisubversive seminars. They were discussed in a long article in PRAVDA, January 10, 1976. When student leaders learn the truth about communism, the communist leaders are concerned. Portions of a translation of this article will be published in the April 1 newsletter.

The Bicentennial Antisubversive Seminar of Indiana will be held in the Holiday Inn Northeast, 6990 Pendleton Pike, Indianapolis, April 23-25. The faculty includes: Dr. Walter Judd, M. Stanton Evans, Dr. Charles Rice, Dr. Joseph Dunner, Herbert Philbrick, Reed Irvine and Dr. Fred Schwarz.

We offer full scholarships to teachers, students, clergy and peace officers. Each scholarship grants free tuition and $35 towards the cost of accommodation and food. Full scholarship holders must attend every session.

Tuition scholarships are granted on request. Each is valued at $20.

Washington D.C. Antisubversive Seminar

We hope we will be able to conduct an antisubversive seminar this summer in Washington, D.C. However, we are faced with a problem. This is the year of the Bicentennial and the hotels of Washington D.C. have doubled the prices they are charging. We will need to increase the size of our scholarship grants substantially. You may vote for a Washington D.C. Antisubversive seminar by sending a substantial gift.

Literature Distribution

The newsletter is as up-to-date as tomorrow. Research in the communist and radical press gives early warning about communist plans and activities. This advance information is most valuable to those forming national policies. This newsletter is sent to the President, the members of the Cabinet, all members of Congress, governors, many state legislators, newspaper editors and columnists, news directors of Radio and T.V. Stations, College and High School Libraries and concerned citizens. The newsletter is absolutely free to the recipient. This distribution is made possible by the gifts we receive. Help us continue this service.

The testimony on Urban Guerrilla Warfare, published by the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee is also distributed free. The number of copies sent to schools, police chiefs, sheriffs, mayors, judges and civic leaders approaches half a million. We wish to continue to supply copies as requested.

Our task is difficult. We must battle against an inborn unwillingness to accept incontrovertible evidence when this evidence leads to conclusions which are intolerable. In her book, The Hiding Place, Corrie Ten Boon tells how difficult it was to believe that the Nazis were engaged in mass extermination even when in a concentration camp and eyewitnesses reported how crowds were herded to the gas ovens.

We must continue to present the evidence of communist activity, relate their history, and make logical deductions from their doctrines. We must pray that God will grant us and our readers perceptive and receptive minds and resolute wills to make the necessary sacrifices.

The Crusade needs your financial help now. Gifts of $1000 as well as gifts of $1 are welcome. Regular monthly contributions are particularly valuable. This is an appropriate time to give stock.

We must not, through our own default, cause our children to become the victims of communism.

With Christian love,

Fred Schwarz

P.S. I look forward to fellowship and discussion with those who can attend the Christian Anti-Communist Cruise of the Caribbean, April 5-9, aboard the Monarch Sun. It will be a great learning experience. Attendance will help the Crusade financially as 20 percent of your fare will be a tax-deductible contribution.

Time is short but for last minute reservations, contact Christian Anti-Communist Cruise, 515 North Harbor City Boulevard, Melbourne, Florida 32935; or phone (305) 254-6366.

P.P.S. Gifts are Tax Deductible.
