

THE THIRD WORLD

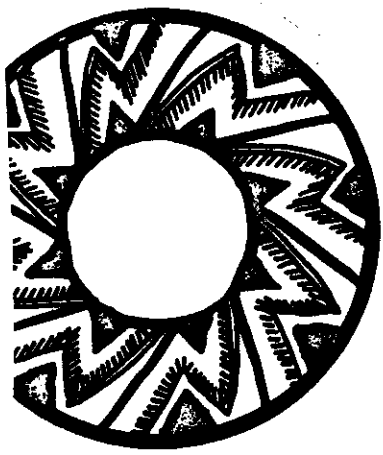

The French colonialists, around World War II, conceived of the First World as the US and its allies and the Second World as the Soviet Union and East Europe. The THIRD WORLD was seen as the "non-aligned," non-industrialized, "underdeveloped" countries of Asia, Africa, and Latin America.

In recent years, the THIRD WORLD has also come to include those groups of people who are not geographically THIRD WORLD but who are exploited e.g. American Indians, Blacks, Appalachian whites, Chicanos, among others.

Still more recently, others have begun to include themselves as THIRD WORLD people because they too have been oppressed or have come to identify themselves with the other THIRD WORLD groups. These people include women, youth, and those in solidarity with the oppressed masses throughout the globe.

THIRD WORLD READER SERVICE which sends out a monthly packet of reprints is an attempt:

To more broadly expose the realities of the THIRD WORLD

To present facts and views on injustice and justice oppression and liberation development and radical change

To present suggestions for support of justice, action involvement, and alternatives to further aid the liberation of all peoples from those that oppress

To further education in understanding the forces of power in the world today and the struggles of the oppressed peoples toward liberation

To become more aware of the interplay of events, ideas and people that affect today and shape the future development, Palestine, women, Vietnam, Appalachia, economic oppression, prisons, Latin America, racism, Africa, the Military Industrial Complex, Asia, the liberation struggles across the globe.

Some of the topics handled in our reprints are:

Sources for reprints vary as much as the topic areas:

- Familiar periodicals are read and culled for their best.
- Small circulation publications dealing with oppression and liberation are also read and used.
- Articles documenting the action of the struggle in various countries and with different groups are the main focus for our selections.
