

Eight Provocative Books for Spring

ZIONISM: ITS ROLE IN WORLD POLITICS

by Hyman Lumer

In his new work, Dr. Lumer investigates and analyses the roots and nature of this potent political force, its past and present. The burden of the book demonstrates that Zionism is a ready ally of world imperialism and that its present policies do great harm not only to the people in the Arab countries, but to peoples of Israel as well.

A sorely needed book for Americans who are probably aware that the biblical Armageddon was located somewhere in the Middle East. Paperback $1.95

ELEANOR MARX: VOL. 1, FAMILY LIFE 1855-1883

by Yvonne Kapp

A work of outstanding scholarship on the life of the whole Marx family in London and on the famous father's struggle, while plagued by ill health and grinding poverty, to complete the writing of Capital.

It is also the very readable story of Eleanor, the youngest daughter of Karl Marx, who was born and lived all her forty years in England, where she played a significant role in the British working class movement. Rated one of the best books published in 1972 by the (Manchester) Guardian. Cloth $12.00

NEW MASSES: AN ANTHOLOGY OF THE REBEL THIRTIES

Joseph North, Editor

Through the poetry, essays, fiction, reportage, and literary criticism appearing in these pages are reflected the great peoples' unity of the Thirties that surged forward to build the C.I.O., to fight racism and fascism.

Paperback $1.95

THE REVOLUTION IS TO BE HUMAN

by Walter Lowenfels

Prose vignettes and essays by this outstanding poet and anthologist are nuggets of humanistic wisdom from a mind that has adopted the whole cosmos as its university. Making poetry out of the key words of our time, the book conveys the philosophy that sustains the poet's own buoyancy, hope and humanity.

"The Revolution is to be Human is in Lowenfels' best vein. He is the Walt Whitman of our time."—Roger Asselineau. Paperback $1.50

MARK TWAIN: SOCIAL CRITIC

by Philip S. Foner

Based largely on unpublished manuscripts, the book traces Mark Twain's progress as a social critic. He emerges not only as the incomparable humorist that he is, but also as a profound thinker with great compassion for all oppressed humanity.

Paperback $1.95

BEETHOVEN AND THE AGE OF REVOLUTION

by Frida Knight

An in-depth look at Beethoven and his works specifically in the context of the revolutionary times in which he lived.

Of special note—the author has drawn freely from the newly discovered Conversation Books of 1817 to 1823 to bring the great composer vividly to life. Cloth $7.50

THE POLITICAL WRITINGS OF WILLIAM MORRIS

A. L. Morton, Editor

In this new volume, William Morris (1834-96) English poet, decorative designer, painter and essayist reveals his Marxist theoretical grasp of all the essential questions of his day, most of which have a contemporary ring. Morris, a superlative craftsman in all he undertook, writes with directness, passion and inspired imagination. Paperback $1.95

THE REBEL GIRL: MY FIRST LIFE (1906-1926)

by Elizabeth Gurley Flynn

The first part of the autobiography of one of the greatest American woman advocates of Socialism of this century. Covering scenes of her youthful activities—textile towns of New England; Lawrence, Massachusetts, Patterson, New Jersey, Homestead in Pennsylvania, Minnesota's Mesabi iron range, Missoula in the Rockies and Spokane of the Pacific Northwest—the book is an epic of U.S. labor history.

Her mass and legal defense battles to free hundreds of framed I.W.W. organizers, including Joe Hill, anti-war fighters such as Eugene Debs, and radical foreign born working class martyrs like Sacco and Vanzetti made "Gurley" a legend in her own time.

Cloth $12.50

Paperback $3.95

INTERNATIONAL PUBLISHERS, 381 Park Avenue South, New York, NY 10016