

Senator Harry Byrd, Jr., NTU Legislative Director Don Baldwin, and Senator William Roth discuss legislative matters at NTU dinner.

NTU Chairman, Ernest Fitzgerald, Mrs. James Olmsted, Mrs. Harry Byrd, Jr., and t.v. commentator, James J. Kilpatrick enjoy a joke.

Governor Walker meets Congressman Steve Symms (on right).

NTU Chairman, Ernest Fitzgerald, makes a serious point - that 44% of the average man's income is taken by taxes - more even than was lost by serfs in the Middle Ages.

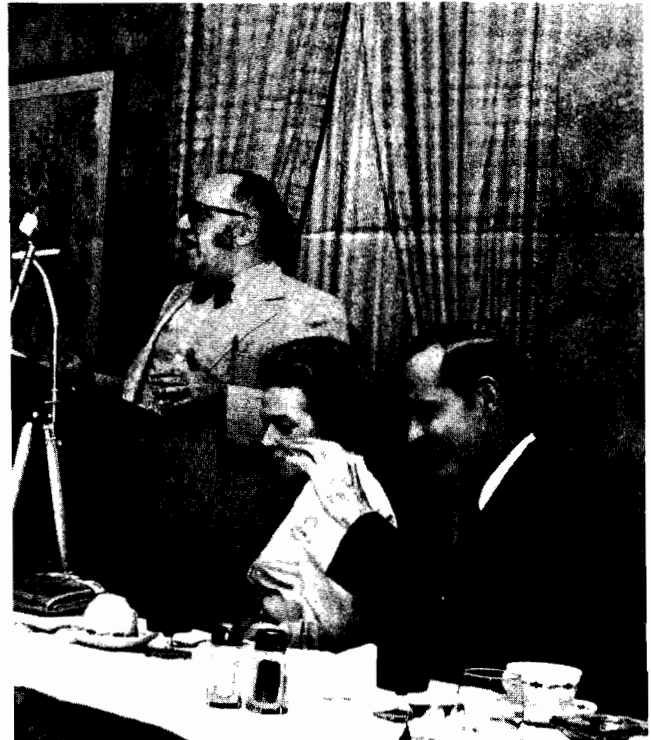

Congressman Steve Symms praises NTU's effort to eliminate foreign aid.

James Davidson and Senator Bill Proxmire discuss need for more pressure to reduce spending.

Murray Rothbard, Congressman Symms and his wife discuss economics.

Professor Rothbard doubts that new taxes, as proposed by Arthur Burns, are the solution to our problems.

Guests at headtable enjoy a fine meal, made possible by a special private contribution to NTU.

NTU Advisor, George Judd of Florida, recalls his long friendship with Senator Harry Byrd, Jr.

Senator Byrd receives NTU's fiscal integrity award from Mr. Judd.

Senator Byrd speaks out for a renewed effort to restrain government spending.

Senator Roth and James Davidson discuss need for increased productivity by American industry.

Senator Proxmire calls for continued NTU efforts on behalf of the American taxpayer.

NTU Advisor Hon. Louis Jenkins member of the Louisiana legislature, tells what "Cajuns" think of bureaucrats.

Governor Walker calls for special session to repeal laws.

NTU's honored guests applaud Governor Walker's call for reduction of state spending.