

NATIONAL WOMEN'S POLITICAL CAUCUS • 1302 18th Street N.W., #703 • Washington, D.C. 20036 • (202) 785-2911

Dear Friend,

Does politics turn you off? If so, that might be because you feel excluded from it, especially if you're a woman.

Did you know that

We have one Congressman to represent every 132,000 men, and one Congresswoman to represent every 6,000,000 women?
Of the thousands of capable women lawyers, only three are State (!)
Supreme Court Justices?
There is no woman U.S. Senator?
no woman Governor?
no woman Lt. Governor?

Turning your back on the political scene won't make it go away. Government (that means politics) gets into every pore of our daily life--the prices we have to pay for food and gas, the quality of the air we breathe, the amount we take home in our paycheck, our power (or lack of it) over our own futures.

Now's our chance for change. It's 1974, the Year of the Political Woman... if you will help.

We need you to join with us. We can't do it alone. It takes women together to make a difference.

The National Women's Political Caucus is a non-partisan, multi-party organization dedicated to the idea that women should be equal partners in the political process.

Every day more capable women are surfacing to answer the charge that "there are no qualified women". The N.W.P.C. is the only organization with the focus and numbers to help them into political positions.

At-Large membership in the National Women's Political Caucus costs $15.00 a year. You'll receive a membership card, information on your state caucus, and the NWPC Newsletter (10 issues yearly). Learn what's going on in the brave new world of Women in Politics, at the same time you're helping us help them get elected! Help make that world brighter, braver by your support.

1974 is our Year. This is the big beginning. We'll all win when women win.

Thank you, for all of us.

P.S. Send $15.00 for a foot in the door. But please send more if you can: we can get a handle on that door if we really try.
