

SPARE YOUR RELATIVES NEEDLESS GRIEF

Numerous hoax calls to relatives of personnel serving in Vietnam have been reported in recent weeks. These hoax calls have caused considerable anguish and discomfort to the next of kin who are unaware of Department of the Army notification procedures. The hoax calls are malicious and relate primarily to false reports of death, missing, absence without leave, desertion, or other related matters concerning personnel status. The adverse and traumatic impact on the unwary is obvious.

SPARE YOUR RELATIVES THIS GRIEF. Advise them now that they may be the recipient of such a contemptible call, and that any such telephone call concerning your status should be immediately recognized as a hoax.

If your status requires notification to your loved ones, your Army does not use the telephone. Notification is made by a personally delivered message by Army representatives, where identity can be immediately verified; or, by a Western Union telegram which can be verified with the Western Union office from which received; or, by correspondence directly from the Department of the Army. The purpose for notifying your next of kin determines the means used.
