The Vietnam War: Lessons
from Yesterday for Today

"... a widely praised academic curriculum on Vietnam."

Time Magazine

"Today, teaching about the Vietnam War is taking a step forward with the introduction of ... the first comprehensive curriculum ... The Lessons of the Vietnam War."

The Washington Post

Senator John F. Kerry

"As a Vietnam Veteran and United States Senator I believe this textbook will provide an essential educational resource for the next generation of Americans."

General John H. Johns, National Defense University

"A balanced, dispassionate assessment of the very emotional controversial events that occurred."

Donald H. Bragaw, President, National Council for the Social Studies

"A fine contribution... based on the war as it was lived and experienced, reflecting the pride, the horror and, indeed, the shame that many felt about this episode in our history."

Thomas Lickona, author, Educating for Character

"The most comprehensive Vietnam War curriculum ... meticulously developed ... representing a wide range of views on the war."

Peter Frost, Professor, Williams College

"This is more than the core of a good high school course. It is first-rate stuff and it qualifies for college-level study."

Mary Stout, President, Vietnam Veterans of America

*"We lost more than 58,000 people in Vietnam and many of them were these kids' fathers.
American students deserve a solid, objective textbook explaining why we went there and what happened."*

Jan Scruggs, Founder, Vietnam Veterans Memorial

"A serious and thoughtful attempt to bring an understanding of that war's history and impact to American youth."

John Jay Bonstingl, author, Introduction to the Social Sciences

"I wholeheartedly recommend the entire Lessons of Vietnam War program to all social science educators."
