Dear Len:

The letter of thanks for your great hospitality in Saigon is long overdue. On the way home, my luggage was lost in Paris and only reached me yesterday. Therefore, it was only this morning that I could give Phyllis the rubbing. Also in the bag were some photos of you, which illustrate your multifaceted personality.

It occurs to me it would be great fun to know where Jeanne can be located. I would love to show her my pad and the area where I live. Also, Al Baron wanted to get in touch with her the other day, and I couldn't tell him where she might be located.

Please drop me a line at your convenience as to how things are going.

Again, I really much appreciated your kindness in Saigon and hope I was not too much of an imposition. Here each weekend I rush off to West Virginia and become more enthralled each time.

With best regards,

Sincerely,

Ogden Williams
